

Bill Doi

July 11, 1975

Hi Perry,

Just checking in to inquire on how the responses to the "Reparations" questionnaire is progressing. Hope you are having all kinds of success.

Since only one chapter (congratulations Milwaukee) has sent in their responses, it must be assumed that the deadline of June 30 was too soon to do an effective job. For that reason - and also because the National Political Education Committee Chairperson has not yet called for the District data as originally indicated - the time limit is being extended to the end of July.

This time we must be hard nosed and say it is the final, irrevocable, cross-my-heart deadline. Seriously, this is a very critical issue to which we want - and need - a significant response in order to present a true Midwest position. With the additional time, won't you please put extra effort into encouraging as many more people as possible to send in their thinking on this important question of Reparations.

If you have already completed your survey, by all means send it in now, rather than waiting until July 31.

Thank you.

Best regards,

Bill

Bill Doi, Rep.
Midwest District, PEC