Dear Frank,

Wonderful talking to you again, and I so hope you got to Chris Komai and J.K. Yamamoto, as the JACL shouldn't be allowed to get away feeling they've gotten the Lim issue behind them.

Another stupidity in the JACL crafted redress law (Civil Liberties Act of 1988) is that M.M. testified against allowing siblings being <sup>made</sup> heir to any of the $20,000, just parents or children, as the money (in M.M.'s reasoning) may end up in "enemy hands." He referred to the 10,000 or so Misei who got caught in Japan for the duration and some were compelled to work, <sup>right,</sup> for the Japanese. All this has caused great anguish at ORA, as daily they get letters from sisters or brothers saying that they've spent years nursing a mortally ill sibling member of the
