Dear Sue: I owe you a letter huh? Thanks for the pics, they were swell. Will send you some later when I write. Having a swell time, naturally, you know us. Hope you'll be coming home on furlough soon.

Love, Mary

Hello Sisie -

Just me again to let you in on the ground floor. I'm going to take it for granted that everyone enjoyed themselves cuz I haven't seen anyone as yet to learn of the aftermath of the party. We do not have the usual the-morning-after-the-night-before feeling though. Lemonade was the height of our drinking.

Leonard and Ames won the door prizes, Issa was voted the most valuable player, Betty Noriyuki won 1st in the left-handed auto-graph contest with Art Sugiyama taking the booby prize, and Harley won the musical chair contest.

You may not know some of the gang personally but when you come home you'll get to know them as we do. Satoru was here with us last night and were sending 14 of these letters to those in the service from our group.

Our best wishes -

Boce in behalf of everyone.
