

Fitting memorials to America's great are the Lincoln memorial and the Washington monument in the nation's capital. Surrounding the massive Lincoln structure are thirty-six Doric columns, one for each state in the union when he died.