

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

This picture was taken at 2:45 on a cold winter afternoon. From the fourth floor of the Minneapolis Public Library, facing north, the camera has taken in a long stretch of Hennepin Avenue, which is lined with some of the city's finest shops. The library is at Hennepin and 10th Street. Farther down the avenue, beyond the Orpheum Theater and Schenley sign, is the eight-story Pence Building.