

Army Extends Opportunity for Qualified Nisei to Enlist

Pleased with its success and with the high calibre of nisei recruited at the relocation centers for special training, the Army is again planning to select for its Army Language school at Savage, Minnesota, an additional class of 250 enlisted men. The excellent performance of the men who volunteered for this service from the relocation centers during the past year justifies the Army's plan to enlist an additional class of nisei for a new course of specialized Japanese language instruction beginning July 1.

This further opportunity for voluntary enlistment of American citizens of Japanese ancestry into the Army for training as Japanese language specialists is being extended to nisei who can meet the following qualifications. Both single and married men are eligible.

1. Applicants must be male citizens of the United States, of draft age and physically fit for induction into the United States Army.

2. While applicant should preferably be a graduate of either an American high school or of a Japanese Middle School (Chugakko), he must possess a fundamental knowledge of both the English and Japanese languages. Candidates must be conversant with both languages. He must have adequate command of the Japanese language, both oral and written. He should have facile use of "Hiragana", "Kata-kana", and a good number of "Kanji" normally used in written Japanese.

Men meeting the above qualifications will be given the opportunity of volunteering for enlistment in the United States Army. Interviewing teams will be visiting this center in the near future, and further detailed information may be had from them.

Men found linguistically qualified will be given a cursory physical examination by the project doctor and if physically qualified he will be instructed to appear before a local board for voluntary induction into the military service. On arrival at the Army Language school, Savage, Minnesota, the candidate will be given an intensive but complete six months' language specialist course, and upon completion of the course will be sent out into the field with combat troops. The duties are definitely not of "espionage" nor "secret agent" type of work. A limited number of students who show special aptitude and temperament for teaching will be retained at school as enlisted instructors with rating of sergeants or better.

All interested applicants are requested to fill out a qualification form at the project director's office prior to the arrival in your center of the interviewing team. Men who have filled out the form will be instructed to present themselves for interview at the time of the interviewing team's visit. Successful candidates will be processed at an armed force induction center in time to assure their assignment and arrival at the Army Language School, Savage, Minnesota, not earlier than June 25, nor later than July 1.

Ban Kite Flying in Dangerous Areas

Robert Busted, chief electrician, warned the public again Wednesday of the danger involved in flying kites near high voltage wires.

"Besides the expense of replacing burned-out fuses and the work involved, flying kites near these wires is extremely dangerous," he said.

"If the kite string becomes wet a perfect conductor is formed that will carry a death dealing jolt", Busted added.

School children and adults as well, are being appealed to in an effort to avoid a tragedy. Enthusiasts were urged by Busted to fly their kites in either the hospital or warehouse areas.

Police chief Rosie Matsui has been asked to have police officers stop all kite flying in dangerous areas.

Firemen to Pick Up Rubbish During Clean-up Week

All waste material gathered during the clean-up campaign next week should be deposited by the street for disposal by the fire department, announced Jess. E. Mason, fire department head. Trucks will pick up the refuse for burning at the dump grounds. Residents were asked by Mason not to burn the rubbish as it would endanger life and property due to the highwinds at Heart Mountain.

Domestic Positions Available in Indianapolis

Concerning domestic positions in Indianapolis, Ind., Elmer L. Shirrell, relocation supervisor, in a letter to Project Director Guy Robertson, wrote as follows:

"Many requests have been received by this office from families in Indianapolis wishing to employ domestics. A large number of these persons, who are the social, religious and business leaders of the community, have been contacted and the salary offers are good and usually include private room and bath as well as meals with entertaining privileges.

"The two camps, Camp Atterbury and Fort Benjamin Harrison, are near Indianapolis and these arrangements would provide an excellent means for married couples to be together and at the same time furnish employment for the wife. Will you please have any interested woman contact this office at once and enclose with her letter a copy of her WRA form 26. When possible we will see that specific offers are made to them by return mail."
