

Correction

In some copies of The Sentinel the third paragraph in the story headlined "Segregation Will Aid Welfare of Loyal Evacuees; Says Myer," appearing on page 1, column 2, appears with misleading typographical errors. In corrected form the paragraph should read: "The War Relocation Authority has an obligation to each of these groups and it also has an obligation to safeguard the further national interest."

It is suggested that residents sending copies of the Sentinel to friends outside the center notify them of the correction to prevent misunderstandings.

Swimming Hole Calls for More Workers

More workers are asked to volunteer their services to speed completion of the swimming hole, located between the administration and warehouse area. If every block contributes its quota of volunteers the work can be finished this week, according to Ed Matsuda, Boy Scout director. The hole is being made for the community and the cooperation of every resident is being sought. All Boy Scouts are asked by Matsuda to report at the swimming hole every afternoon at 1 p.m.
