

Evacuees Protected by Disability Benefits

Evacuees employed by the War Relocation Authority and injured while on duty will be protected by disability benefits from the United States Employee's compensation Commission, John A. Nelson, administrative services officer, stated yesterday.

The act by which funds were appropriated for the WRA states that the provisions of the act of Feb. 15, 1934 (48 Stat. 351) as amended, relating to disability or death compensation and benefits, shall apply to persons receiving from the United States, compensation in the form of subsistence, cash advances or other allowances in accordance with regulation prescribed by the director of the WRA for work performed in connection with the Authority's program, including work performed in the War Relocation Work Corps.

Nelson added that the Washington office of the WRA is, at the present time, working on a statement of policy and procedure for the guidance of relocation centers. In the meantime, any injury which occurs must be reported to the division head and a complete record of the injury, including a physician's statement, obtained for the U. S. Employment Compensation Commission. The entire file on the injury will then be transmitted to the project director and will be sent by him to the Washington office. Until formal procedure is established, the Washington office will take up each case individually.

Offer Aid in Application for Ballots

Citizens desiring aid in applying for absent voter's ballots in the November general elections should contact Clarence Uno at the information office 21-25 or the legal aid department in the courthouse 25-25.

"If voters wish to retain their voting qualifications they should make it a point to apply for an absent voter's ballot for the coming general election," stated Jerry Housel, regional attorney.

This is especially important for Washington and Oregon voters because if residents of these states do not vote in at least one election between Nov. 30, 1940 and Nov. 30, 1942, their registration will be cancelled and it is very unlikely that voters from these states will be able to register by mail, it was said. In all evacuated states voters must be registered in order to vote in the elections on Nov. 3.

California and Arizona registered voters should apply before Oct. 29 to their county clerk, recorder or registrar for an absent voter's ballot. Those who failed to vote in the primary election this year and who have not applied for registration for the general election cannot register for that election now, as the registration period has expired.

Residents from Oregon and Washington are registered if they voted in at least one election between Nov. 30, 1938 and Nov. 30, 1940. Oregon voters who are registered should apply at once to their county clerk for an absent voter's ballot.

Washington voters must apply immediately to their precinct registrar for

Evacuee Property Now Under WRA Control

Warehouses previously under control of the Federal Reserve Bank and in which property of evacuees is stored have been assigned to WRA, John Nelson, administrative services officer, revealed.

Property stored in these warehouses is being shipped to relocation centers as rapidly as the WRA can prepare the property for shipment.

Notice has been received that two carloads of evacuee property have already been sent from the warehouses to Heart Mountain. The property, however, has not yet arrived here.

It is our understanding, Nelson stated, that the WRA will next additional receiving warehouses in centrally located cities. The location of these warehouses will be revealed at a later date. It will then be the responsibility of owners of property stored in private warehouses or other storage places to move such property from present places of storage to the central receiving warehouses.

Nelson added that the WRA will furnish forms for handling the shipment of property stored in private storage houses. Property will be shipped from the central receiving warehouses to the relocation centers at the expense of WRA.

Home-Canning Project Employs 26 Women

A home-canning project under Everett R. Lane, manufacturing plant superintendent, is now under way in the rear of the dining hall at Block 7, where a staff of 26 issei and nisei women are busily preserving apples for future camp consumption.

The "cannery" was opened on Tuesday, Oct. 6, under the supervision of Tsuta I. Takahashi and Mrs. K. Suzuki, both of whom have had years of experience in home canning. The women are putting up on a daily average 14 one-gallon jars of apple juice, 35 one-half gallon jars of applesauce and 35 one-gallon jars of apples. Approximately 380 pounds of Wealthie apples are used daily.

Although handicapped by a shortage of apples, the women are all doing splendid work, according to Lane, and that there is absolutely no waste of apples. All apples are cooked for juice. No sugar is used at all.

The present project is expected to continue until the supply of apples is exhausted. Although it might be possible to make applesauce from the remaining apples, it has not been made as yet for the canning project.

4 Mess Halls Designated for Recreation Activities

Full cooperation of the colonists was asked today by C. E. Rachford, project director, in the use of mess halls for recreational activities. It was announced that in the future, all functions under the recreation department which require the use of mess halls will be concentrated at 8-30, 12-30, 20-27 and 22-30.

Much confusion has resulted from the miscellaneous use of these buildings by persons who have not scheduled their meetings through the recreation department, it was said. All requests concerning such activities must be made through the office of Marlin T. Kurtz, recreation director.

In order to keep these mess halls sanitary, they will be equipped with screens separating the kitchen from the dining room. The recreation department will furnish for authorized activities, a work crew to clear out these halls, properly clean and replace the tables following each session.

No mess halls other than specified above, are to be used for any activity besides serving meals to the residents.

"Full cooperation will soon eliminate confusion for residential groups desiring various types of recreation," Rachford said.

Fire Damages Bedding of Resident

Quick action averted a disaster early Wednesday evening when the bedding at the residence of Fred H. Nakano, 23-13-F, was damaged by fire.

The fire was caused by the accidental flicking of a cigarette lighter in the process of refueling. Nakano dashed to the 23-30 mess hall, fetched a foam extinguisher and quickly put out the blaze.
