Pay Envelopes to Be Distributed Wednesday, Thursday

The payment of wages totalling $8,823.21, for work performed at Heart Mountain in August will be made between 9 a.m.-12 M. and 1-5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 21 and 22, at 21-25, John A. Nelson, administrative services officer, announced. Workers must show their "form 402" work orders to receive pay envelopes, Nelson warned. Payments will be made according to identification numbers assigned to individual workers. The numbers will be posted above each of the six windows at 21-25.

Nelson stated division heads must arrange to release employees on one of the two days for a sufficient length of time to enable them to travel to the pay office, possibly wait in line, and return to their place of duty.

All individuals employed in August are urged to call at the pay office during this two-day period so that complete payment of payroll may be accomplished. Any delay in the payment of the August payroll will hold up the procurement of funds for the September payroll, Nelson said.

First Printed Newspaper to Appear Saturday

With this, the 28th issue, the Heart Mountain General Information Bulletin ceases publication except for an occasional mid-week announcement sheet when required. In its place will appear each Saturday morning an 8-page tabloid size weekly newspaper named the Heart Mountain Sentinel. Thus Heart Mountain will be second relocation center to publish a printed paper.

Until advertising can be built up to meet all costs the Sentinel will be sold at community stores for three cents. The price will include a Japanese edition. As the volume of advertising increases the price will be reduced and the ultimate aim of the staff is to distribute the paper without charge to every family unit in the project.

The staff is headed by Bill Hosokawa, acting editor, and includes Haruo Imura, managing editor; Louise Suski, city editor; Yas Nakanishi, sports editor, Kara Matsushita, society editor; Neil Fujita, art editor, and Mrs. Michi Onuma, business manager; all in an acting capacity.

Publication a month after the arrival of the last group of inductees was made possible through the co-operation of Community Enterprises which will assist in financing.

Second Heart Mountain Case Dismissed

The second center court case against William Ryohei Seiki, charged with assault against Seiji Shimizu on Sept. 9 was dismissed yesterday after a three-hour closed session. Seiki pleaded not guilty and asked for dismissal. A petition asking for a closed session by the public defender upon recommendation of the social welfare department was granted by the commission.

The commission returned a verdict of dismissal on the conditions that Seiki

15 Carloads of Staple Food on Way Here

Fifteen carloads of staple food are either on their way to Heart Mountain or have arrived already, according to Lundgren T. Main, senior procurement officer.

Plans are to have on hand for the duration a stock of subsistence supplies sufficient for from 60 to 90 days.

Fully-Equipped Bakery Planned for Near Future

To meet the bakery needs of this center, the building of a fully-equipped bakery on the project grounds is being contemplated for the near future, Fred Haller, chief steward, announced.

This would result in furnishing employment for colonist bakers as well as eliminate the necessity of shipping bread and pastries from other communities, Haller added.

Contract for 22,000 Tons of Coal Signed

To assure Heart Mountain residents of an adequate supply of coal during the current cold weather, a contract for 22,000 tons of coal has been signed with the Sheridan-Wyoming Coal company, Lundgren T. Main, senior procurement officer, announced.

A satisfactory method of receiving the coal has also been made with the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Need for Large Street Maintenance Crew Stressed

The condition of the streets resulting from the recent rain has created an urgent demand for a large street maintenance crew, Ben Lummis, project engineer, announced. He explained that the muddy condition was due to improper drainage. As soon as a sufficient crew is enlisted, the streets will be graded, provided with proper drainage and surfaced with crushed rock.

Seek 25 Experienced Men for Sawmill

Glen Hartman, chief of agriculture and industry division, has issued a call for 25 experienced men in logging and sawmill operation to cut trees and haul them to the mill located 34 miles west of this center. Living quarters and a mess hall will be provided for workers.

Qualified persons should apply immediately at the agriculture and industry office in the hospital building.

Colonists Work on Main Project Canal

With Neal Barnard as foreman, 22 colonists left this morning to work on the main project canal, according to Glen Hartman, agriculture and industry chief.

In a few days the crew will be enlarged to 100 with plans for completion of the work in six weeks.

General Announcements, Vital Statistics

The main post office will remain open every Saturday afternoon in order to take care of any business such as the mailing of packages, money orders, etc., according to E. T. Ebert, supervisor of mails. Many unclaimed letters are accumulating in the dead-letter department of the main post office because persons who have moved have not notified the housing department or the main post office of the change in address.

Montgomery and Ward mail orders taken at the order desks in the stores on Oct. 10 and 12 are now here for the residents.

Ben Lummis, project engineer, announced that the gravel piled near the M. P. barracks is available to the colonists but asked that the pile to the south of the administration buildings be left alone.

All mail to internees must have the return address, complete with name, shown on the face of the envelope, residents were reminded today. Numerous pieces of mail are being returned by the censor officers at alien internment camps because of incomplete return address of the writer.

Harold H. Kimura, whose name was inadvertently omitted from the city planning commission story in the last issue, will represent the public works division, announced Ben Lummis, project engineer.

Velma Berryman, registered nurse, has been added to the medical staff at the Center hospital. Miss Berryman is from Deaver, Wyoming.

Drum and bugle practice for beginners will be held Wednesday, Oct. 21 at 4 p.m. at 12-26. All those interested in learning to play are urged to turn out.

Office of Design Coordination Established

C. E. Rachford, project director, announced today the organization of the Office of Design Coordination, under the direction of William M. Friedman.

The ODC will be responsible directly to the project director, and it will advise him regarding city planning, construction and alteration of the physical facilities of the project, manufacture of furniture and equipment for the internal requirements of the community, and of goods for consumption outside the project.

The ODC will act as a liason between the work activities of the various divisions and the training for industry program, so that production capacity will be maintained without sacrificing work training and diversified work experience. It will act as a clearing agency for all orders to the manufacturing section.

The ODC will maintain a home planning clinic to provide advice regarding planning, furnishing and maintenance of living quarters.

The personnel of the ODC consists of Yukio Kato, architect; Paul Zaima, designer; Hilde Reiss Friedman, interior and furniture designer; Richard Komatsu, architect, and Eldan Ujita, administrative assistant.

Warn Against Piling Coal Close to Building

Coal haulers and residents should exercise care in piling coal, Philip W. Barber, community services head, warned. Small piles should be at least two feet from the building and the larger ones six feet away.

Due to the chemical nature of the coal used, there is always a possibility of spontaneous combustion when the coal becomes wet, Barber explained.

Colonist Teachers' Association Planned

All colonists teaching in either day or night schools are asked by Paul Nakadate to meet at 14-26 Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 7 p.m. Discussion will continue on the formation of a colonist teachers' association which will be important to the welfare of all teachers, Nakadate asserted.
