WRA Digest of Current Job Offers For Period of Jan. 11 to Feb. 1, 1944
Investigated And Approved By This Office

SUMMARY OF CURRENT JOB OFFER SITUATION

Since our last report covering the month of December, job offers have been few. The following list of offers you will find are practically the same as the previous month, except for an additional farm offer. We feel some progress has been shown in that on a job request for one person, they now employ two, and the third has been accepted to start on the 15th of the month.

SUMMARY OF CURRENT HOUSING SITUATION

As there has been no check up on the housing situation throughout the state since the last report, it is reasonable to assume that conditions still remain a problem. Because of the fact that housing is difficult in this area, resettlement should not be discouraged, as housing is acute in any industrial center. Here in the city of Indianapolis, although housing is short, our committee is active and willing to assume this obligation as people arrive.
