Dear Mrs. Perry,

Hi Mrs. Perry! Here I am again and hope this finds everything okay with you.

My Dad was just over and he asked me to write you about a sewing machine.

He has a sewing machine in our house and there is two machines but the one that belongs to him is not crated. I believe it was in the Dining Room unless it has been moved elsewhere in the house.

Whenever time permits, Dad wondered if you would be able to get some repairs made on it. I imagine it's very hard to get parts if there must be any.

The main thing wrong he said was that it jumped stitches.

There is no hurry for this Mrs. Perry and Dad thought he'd like to have it fixed because he's planning on relocating in the near future.

He said he would let you know when he wanted it so not to send it until then.

Will will close here Mrs. Perry, and best of regards to everyone. Until then.

Very sincerely
