Twenty ERC Men Called To Active Duty April 2

Special Bus Chartered to Take Men, To Leave Center at 8 P. M.

Twenty Hunt men will report to Fort Douglas, Utah for their active duty assignment, Monday, April 2, according to Mrs. J. Alexander, assistant relocation adviser. A special bus will be chartered that evening and will leave the main gate at 8 p. m.

Those who will report for duty are Sadaki Akiyama, Jimmie Akizuki, Walter T. Fukuyama, Tom Hisata, Yoshi T. Imai, Henry I. Kagawa, Thomas Kitajima, Paul H. Morita, Hiroshi H. Nakata.

Tick Season At Height Warns Neher

During the next two months there will be more ticks than in any other season of the year, according to Dr. L. M. Neher, principle medical officer.

The tick and the tick bite is relatively harmless, however. Some of the ticks carry the germ of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever and this can be transmitted to humans during the period in which the tick is sucking blood. For this reason extraordinary precautions should be taken during the tick season.

These precautions should include the wearing of socks outside the trouserleg to prevent the tick from gaining entrance to the body at the ankle, and also the wearing of a tight belt with the shirt or blouse tucked inside the waist to prevent the tick from gaining entrance to the body.

In addition to these routine precautions of clothing, all persons who have been into the sagebrush area should thoroughly examine their bodies for ticks as soon as they return to their homes. This should be done because the ticks usually do not bite and embed themselves for an hour or two after gaining entrance into the skin, and during this preliminary stage they can be brushed off the skin without difficulty. However, if this is not done and the tick cannot be easily removed, it is recommended that the individual report to the Hospital Out-patient Department for assistance.

Due to the fact that this area has a low percentage of cases and comparatively mild cases, it will not be possible to immunize the project residents. Since precautionary immunization is not possible, it is important that each individual take all the necessary precautions for his own safety, Dr. Neher concluded.

Two Issei Men In Chicago Killed In Fall, Robbery

Two Issei residents of the Chicago area, one an evacuee and the other a long time resident of Chicago, were found dead or dying in widely separated sections of the city on March 15, reported Miss Prudence Ross of the WRA office here in a teletype received here.

Huysa Fujii, formerly of the Granada Relocation Center, was found unconscious near his home, 3646 Lake Park Avenue, apparently a victim of hold-up men or hoodlums. Rushed to the county hospital, Fujii died the following day without regaining consciousness.

Because of the lack of evidence, the inquest into the killing has been postponed, but Chicago police are continuing their investigations on the case.

Robbery was given as the apparent motive in the killing, and the report stated that the death was not related to Fujii's national origin. The Chicago office of the WFA has offered its services to the family and is continuing to cooperate with the police in the investigation.

Rev. Kitagawa Here To Consult on Property Storage

With the arrival of the Rev. Daisuke Kitagawa from Minneapolis a meeting is being held tomorrow evening at 9 p. m. at Rec. 22 for the benefit of those who have stored their properties at either St. Peter's Mission in Seattle or St. Paul's Mission in Kent, Washington.

Those attending this meeting are requested to bring a list of all the articles which have been stored at either Mission.

WRA Releases Report On War Casualties

According to reports received from Robert B. Cozzena of the San Francisco WRA, a total of 111 men from all the relocation centers have been killed in action, 359 wounded and 18 missing as of January 25, 1945. (Official reports of Hunt men who suffered casualties on both the Italian and French fronts include 29 killed, 72 wounded, three German prisoners-of-war and one missing in action.)

Rev. T. Matsumoto Discusses Church Role to Evacuees

Concluding his visit to this center with a Sunday morning sermon in Rec. 8, the Rev. Toru Matsumoto of New York City, left that evening for Heart Mountain. He arrived in this center on March 15. During his visit he emphasized the fact that it will be the aim of the future of the Home Missions Council of North America to put the emphasis on educating the general community on Christianity and its workings rather than concentrating on evangelizing the minority groups only. He stated that up to this point most churches had concentrated on evangelizing the minority groups without taking into consideration the needs of the world, politically and socially.

Rev. Matsumoto has been working with a committee on resettlement of Japanese Americans which was jointly sponsored by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America and the Home Missions of North America for the past two years. At present he is working under the Home Missions Council.

While on his visit here Rev. Matsumoto explained that the churches on the outside were all vitally interested in the evacuees and in most cases were actively engaged in giving material aid to them.

Pvt. K. Nakamura, 442nd Veteran, Returns for Visit

"People here should be proud of their sons, husbands and brothers who are overseas for they deserve respect and admiration for their heroic and untiring action," declared Pvt. Kay Nakamura, a veteran of the 442nd, while here on a short visit. He came here on March 14 and left Friday.

Pvt. Nakamura, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Itouki Nakamura, 10-5-B, volunteered in May, 1943, while working on a railroad in Montana. He is a member of Co. E of the 442nd Central Postal Directory. He has served in Italy and in Southern France.

Pvt. Nakamura received concussion wounds while his unit was just entering Florence. He has the Purple Heart, Combat Infantryman's Badge, European campaign ribbon with two battle stars and two overseas stripes.

After concluding his visit to the project Pvt. Nakamura returned to Wakeman General and Convalescent Hospital at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

According to a recent report from Washington, D. C., Edward Huberman, former assistant project director in charge of community management, was reported to have arrived here on March 22. Huberman was taken ill on the trip, causing the prolonged delay of his arrival, according to Bert Weston, hospital administrator and present assistant project director.

OMAHA—T/Sgt. Ben Kuroki, native of Herabey, Nebraska, and veteran of 36 heavy combat missions in the Mediterranean and European war theatres, is now in action with the U. S. Army Air Forces "somewhere in the Marianas," according to the World Herald.

Believed to be the first Japanese American to serve in combat with the Air Forces in the Pacific war, Sgt. Kuroki has won two Distinguished Flying Crosses and an Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters for his services as a Liberator bomber against the Germans.

The World Herald quoted portions of a letter from Sgt. Kuroki to C. F. Mulvihill, judge advocate of an Omaha VFW post.

Project Quarterly Census Will Be Taken Thursday

Census Takers Meeting Scheduled For Wednesday 3 p. m. at Council

Starting promptly at 6 p. m. next Thursday evening, March 29, the first quarterly census for 1945 will be taken by census takers who will be assigned by block commissioners, according to Miss Marian H. Covington, statistician. "At least one member of the family should be present between 6 and 8 p. m. on that day," Miss Covington stated. The census will be conducted in the same manner as the last time.

ASTRP Tests Will Be Held On April 12

Qualifying tests for young men anticipating a training from the Army Specialized Training Recruiting Program will be held on April 12, 1945, at 9 a. m., at the high school, according to Helen Amerman, student relocation advisor.

Boys who are interested in taking this test will be subject to the following age requirements: 17th birthday must fall between Oct. 1, 1944 and Aug. 31, 1945, and person will have graduated from high school by July 1, 1945 or will have completed one term or one semester of college by July 1, 1945. Students who will graduate from high school or will complete one term or semester of college during July or August are also eligible if they are not older than 17 years 9 months on the first of the following month.

It is extremely important that candidates report for the tests on time as those who do not take the test at the scheduled time will not have another opportunity until it is again administered on a national basis.

The ASTRP has been in operation since August, 1943, and has provided college training for young men of 17 in anticipation of their active duty. Its purpose is to enhance the students value to the Army by instruction in an academic curriculum of subjects selected for their importance to the Army. This curriculum includes college courses in English, geography, history, mathematics and physics.

Those desiring complete details are advised to see Miss Amerman at the Guidance office in Rec. 23.

Judge Refuses to Dismiss Nisei Case

OGDEN—Declaring that "a case of this kind must be tried," Federal Judge Tillman D. Johnson on March 12 denied a motion to dismiss the case of Mrs. Verda Hulise and George T. Sugihara against officials of the city of Ogden, according to the Pacific Citizen.

The Ogden officials are charged by the plaintiffs with depriving them of their citizenship rights by refusing them a business license because of Sugihara's Japanese ancestry.

The City of Ogden has maintained a policy of refusing to grant business licenses to persons of Japanese ancestry. Arguments on an order to show cause why Ogden City refuses to grant business license to Mrs. Hulise and Sugihara were continued until the next session of the court in Ogden.

New Governing Body

Hunt Red Cross Drive Starts March 26-31

No Definite Goal Set; Hunt Chapter Retains $1000 for Ensuing Year Work

As a part of the nationally conducted 1945 Red Cross Membership Drive, it was decided at a meeting of the Welfare Committee of the Community Council on March 21 that the local unit will stage its drive from March 26 to March 31, announced Roy I. Akiyama, recently appointed chairman of the committee.

Although a definite goal has not been set for this year's drive, $1000 will be retained by the local Red Cross for carrying out the work of the ensuing year.

Nisei Lose Court Fight On Test Case

SALT LAKE CITY—The test case of Dr. Ochlubo, Elmer Yamamoto and Kiyoshi Shigekawa, who were contesting the right of the military to exclude persons of Japanese ancestry on an individual basis, was lost in the decision of the lower courts. It will be appealed to the United States Supreme court by the A.C.L.U., according to Saburo Kido, national president of the JAACL.

"JAACL and the ACLU are backing the case because... there are important issues involved: (1) the right of the army to exclude; (2) whether military can exercise jurisdiction of civilians when there is no military necessity; and (3) what tests of loyalty are necessary to be considered as dangerous," Kido said. "We believe this case is of great importance, at least equal if not more in importance to the Korematsu, Endo and Yasui cases."

442nd Team Fights On French-Italian Theater of War

WITH THE 6TH ARMY GROUP, Southern France—United States troops, including fighting Americans of Japanese ancestry, and some Puerto Rican units, are fighting a holding action on the important "forgotten front" along the French-Italian border, according to A. I. Goldberg of the Associated Press Foreign Staff.

In the towering mountains of the Maritime Alps, where pack mules must be used to carry supplies to outposts and maintain communications, Brig. Gen. Ralph C. Tobin commands a small army, which contains a front where a German breakthrough might prove embarrassing to American and French armies in Southern France.

Little more than an hour by jeep from the luxury of the French Riviera, Tobin's troops man mountain observation posts and engage in constant patrolling. The Italians opposite them generally are content to fight off the patrols sent out from our lines.

The Nisei—it's hard to consider them Japanese in the face of their own proud insistence they are Americans who have Japanese forebears—are small, stocky, wiry and tough, every inch fighters from their very spines, from General Tobin down.

The Nisei suffered casualties in the Italian campaign and this front is proving restful after the rigors of Italy, but if there is a scrap in sight they spoil to get in it. One measure of the worth of these troops is the amount of trouble they give the M.P.'s. The latter haven't the slightest difficulty with the Nisei, because the Nisei don't quarrel, don't go A.W.O.L., don't gripe.

It's not a question of discipline only, officers say. Their good behavior and intense effort in battle are part of their way of saying: "We are fighting for America, we're loyal to her, and this is our way of proving it."

PTA RECEIVES DONATION

The Huntville, Stafford and Hunt High School PTA's acknowledge the receipt of donations made by the Meas Hall Workers Association recently. The Association dissolved their activities and the residue of their finances were presented to the PTA's in order that that organization may be able to gain some use from the money.

Nisei With Marines On Iwo Jima Fight

Getting his baptism of fire on the volcanic terrain of Iwo Jima, Pvt. Harry Fujiyoshi, one of many Nisei now on combat duty in the Pacific area, wrote of his battle impressions in a letter received by George Nakaki, community councilman of Heart Mountain, reported the Sentinel this week.

Pvt. Fujiyoshi, who is connected with the civil affairs section of the 5th amphibious corps, stated that he was "never so scared in all his life." In reference to the actual fighting, he wrote that "we hardly get any response from the Japs... they must either be exterminated or hiding in caves. So far, we haven't captured many Jap prisoners and the few we have on the island are very friendly and cooperative.

"No doubt it won't be long before they are well and contented. All of them are thankful of being alive and receiving such wonderful treatment from the Americans." He also mentioned that he had met T/Sgt. Ben Hirano of Heart Mountain on Iwo Jima.

Another Nisei who made the news because of his participation in the famed Iwo Jima invasion was Sgt. James Yoshinobu, veteran of World War I and one of the first Americans of Japanese extraction to work with the Marines in the Pacific. In speaking of his post-war plans, he stated that he will not return to California because his house "has been stripped of everything but the walls."

Expulsion of Japanese Topic of Oregon Paper

PORTLAND—The Japanese were evicted from the west coast only on the ground of military necessity, said ex-Governor Charles A. Sprague, Salem, in addressing an estimated 500 to 600 persons attending a meeting held on March 16 at Gresham high school, according to an article written by Mervin Shoemaker, staff writer for the Oregonian.

"When that necessity ends," asserted the ex-governor, who is chairman of the Oregon Council of Churches, "there is no logical reason for denying them the right to return to their homes if they wish."

Sprague's address climaxed the program of a meeting called by a Gresham citizens' committee headed by Rev. John L. Magoon, pastor of the Bethel Baptist church, Gresham, for the purpose of spearheading opposition to activities of groups opposing return of Japanese to coastal areas.

Other speakers on the program were E. B. McNaughton, Portland banker; Dr. Norman Coleman, member of the faculty of Lewis and Clark College, and Harold E. Flister, Seattle, area supervisor of the WRA.

Magoon, after calling the meeting to order, criticized Oregon department of the American Legion for remaining silent on the issue. Making it plain that he was speaking personally and not as Legionnaire, Magoon said the only post to make a name, Hood River, "must be credited with fearlessness and honesty, even though guilty of unconstitutional conduct."

It was pointed out by Flister that after the army's decision that the Japanese could return to their homes and the supreme court's decisions that WRA could not hold Japanese of unquestioned loyalty, WRA had not authority to decide who should return to the coast, the article said.

"That decision is up to the army," he declared. "The WRA will do all in its power to protect and defend the constitutional rights of those people."

Dr. Coleman drew on his experiences with Japanese students to assure his listeners that the young Japanese quickly make adjustments to American life. "Those who come here to live on lower-than-American standards and work longer hours at lower wages are simply trying to make the adjustment," he said. "When they find others are getting more money and shorter hours and are living better, they want the same advantages."

"We are at the crossroad," declared McNaughton. "The great evil of war is not physical but spiritual; not the ruin of cities and killing of bodies but the perversion of all that is best in men's spirit to serve the purposes of destruction, hate, cruelty, avarice, deceit and revenge. . . . In the confused and dreadfully anxious post-war days ahead of us, our state and nation may face other appeals to prejudice. We know what has happened in Europe. It can happen here."

The Readers' ROSTRUM

To The Editor:

Although we are not from Hunt, Idaho, we are constant readers of the Minidoka IRRIGATOR. Your articles of true democracy have proven to be an inspiration to all of us. We were particularly interested in reading your articles about the War Department lifting the ban so that the evacuees may return to their coastal homes. I, myself, am not from the mainland but from the Island of Paradise, but my heart tells me from the expression of the mainland boys who have families from the coast that our fighting has not been in vain.

We have just completed reading your Christmas pictorial edition and like most G. I.'s have open eyes on feminine beauty. Since the majority of the outfits have a custom of picking PIN UP girls we have decided to pick one ourselves. If it isn't too much trouble we desire ten or fifteen pictures to make a choice, or as many as you can.

In closing may we wish you the best of luck and keep up the good work back home. I'm hoping that all your loved ones will return home safely.

Until I hear from you, I remain Sincerely yours,

TEST CASES INVOLVE RIGHTS OF EVERY AMERICAN--HALL

The following is a follow-up on the article reprinted last week concerning the American Civil Liberties Union and the testing of the individual exclusion orders by the three Nisei, Elmer Yamamoto, Los Angeles attorney; Dr. George Ochiikubo, Oakland dentist, and Kiyoshi Shigekawa, San Pedro fisherman, against Major General H. C. Pratt, Commanding General of the Western Defense Command.—Ed. Note.

The article from the "Open Forum," ACLU publication, follows:

After listening to arguments by A.C.L.U. and government attorneys last week, Judge Peirson M. Hall of the Federal District Court at Los Angeles postponed for decision the question of the constitutionality of Individual Military Exclusion Orders against persons of Japanese descent. In the course of the cases, Judge Hall stated that they were of great importance, explaining, "although the persons whose rights are involved in these cases are of the Japanese race, they involve the rights of every American." To this statement of Judge Hall, A.C.L.U. counsel, A. L. Wrin countered: "This is precisely why the A.C.L.U. is concerned about these cases. Long ago we have learned that unless the weakest member of our community—the poor, the defenseless, the victims of race prejudice—are fully protected, the rights of all are equally in danger."

Judge Hall, indicated, however, that he could not determine the wisdom of the military orders; that we are in a total war, and that we must rely upon the judgment of the military authorities in dealing with potential dangers from espionage and sabotage.

Seek Injunction
The foregoing took place on the occasion of the injunction suits filed by Elmer Yamamoto, Los Angeles attorney; Dr. George Ochiikubo, Oakland dentist, and Kiyoshi Shigekawa, San Pedro fisherman, against Major General H. C. Pratt, Commanding General of the Western Defense Command, seeking an injunction against the enforcement of Individual Exclusion Orders issued by the Western Defense Command against them.

Before hearing the oral arguments, Judge Hall directed Brig. Gen. William H. Wilbur to appear once more as a witness for the purpose of testifying concerning the use of force by the military authorities, first in the general evacuation and now in connection with Individual Exclusion Orders. Gen. Wilbur testified that no force was used in the general exclusion of persons of Japanese descent because they cooperated with the military authorities in preventing violence. He paid special tribute to the Japanese American Citizens League, stating that that organization had especially cooperated with the military authorities. On a prior occasion in the course of the trial, Gen. Wilbur had testified that the JACL had contested the evacuation in briefs before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Constitutionally Argued
Chief stress in the legal argument of the A.C.L.U. attorneys before Judge Hall was that the Individual Exclusion Procedure enforced by the military authorities was unconstitutional because unfair, in that subjects of the Exclusion Orders were not given an opportunity to cross examine wit-

Capt. Belvidere Post Says Prejudice Preaches Hatred

NEW YORK—Persons who stir up prejudice against Japanese Americans were denounced as "preachers of hate" serving Hitler's purposes in a letter recently received by Leo T. Simmons, acting relocation supervisor of the Middle Atlantic area, from Adjutant Marshal G. Staub of the American Legion's Captain Belvidere Brooks Post No. 450 in New York City.

A few weeks ago Adjutant Staub's post invited to membership the Nisei soldiers whose names were removed by the Hood River, Ore., post from its county honor roll.

In his letter Adjutant Staub also declared that Japanese Americans "are doing their part for the nation and that their ancestry is not to be held against them."

Following are excerpts from Adjutant Staub's letter: "By our prejudice here at home we are not keeping faith with our men overseas who are . . . fighting and dying to destroy tyranny, oppression, prejudice, and intolerance. What they are fighting to rid the world of, we are building up on the home front."

"Long years before the war in Europe began, Hitler planned his conquest by technique of Divide and Conquer—a simple yet deadly means of creating internal strife within a nation. . . . With race, color, creeds and political beliefs pitted against one another, it was simple for the Nazi blitz to overrun Europe. Hitler also had plans for the United States. His preachers of hate have been working here, and his present Japanese American prejudice program could be a starting point in his plans for America, plans which cannot materialize in this war, but which could be ripe if Germany again arms."

"The United States of America was built upon the blood, souls, sweat and tears of men and women of all races, creeds and colors, each doing his part to make . . . America great and free. . . . While it is true that the Japanese Americans are a new element, it must be remembered that they are now doing their part for the nation that our forefathers built. They are Americans now, their ancestry is in the background, and not to be held against them. . . .

"If we are to survive for all time as a truly great nation both physically and morally, we must all live together as one people, as Americans, unified in equality, freedom and justice, without the shadows of prejudice and discrimination hovering above."

Army General Says Nisei Fighters "Magnificent"

WITH THE SIXTH ARMY GROUP, France—Brigadier Ralph C. Tobin, commanding general of the 44th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade, described the members of the 442nd Japanese American Combat Team who are now a part of his command, as "magnificent soldiers—among the very best."

The 442nd Combat Team is now guarding the Franco-Italian frontier high up in the Maritime Alps of Southern France. Their battle honors include two Presidential Distinguished Unit Citations, one for its 109th Battalion's action in Italy and the other for the Task Force which broke through several German lines of resistance in Northern France.

"The men always appear happy, yet quietly dignified. They give the impression that they are over here for a definite task, and that they don't expect to go home until the war is won," General Tobin added. "At hospitals, I have noticed that the men are eager to return to their unit; their morale is high and their spirit inspiring. They are grand soldiers."

Peter Yoshitomi Gets Appointment In Dental Clinic

NEW YORK—Dr. Peter Yoshitomi was recently appointed as an assistant supervisor at the Murray and Leonie Guggenheim Dental Clinic here for a period of three months after which he will become a regular instructor in June.

Guggenheim Clinic is one of the best known and outstanding clinics in the east for caring of the teeth of school children, and is under the supervision of Dr. John Oppie McCall, one of the foremost dentists in this country.

Dr. Yoshitomi has been an intern there for the past nine months, and is the first Nisei dentist to receive this honor.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Yoshitomi of Huron, he is formerly of Seattle and is a graduate of the University of Kansas City School of Dentistry.

An Appeal To Courage

When we read week after week of violence directed towards the Japanese-Americans returning to the West Coast we are apt to conclude that Caucasians are unfriendly and therefore that the relocation centers are our only place of refuge. We overlook the fact that in every case where an act of violence has been committed and the culprit caught it has invariably turned out that the act's perpetrator was a crack-pot if not an outright criminal. Unfortunately, it's these people who make the news, but comparatively little mention is made of the thousands of respectable decent citizens on the Coast whose attitude towards the returning evacuees is one of courtesy and hospitality.

Occasionally, though, the attitude of a Caucasian towards the Americans of Japanese ancestry is so outstanding that he does make the news. Such a one is Lt. Joseph Ryan of Twin Falls who commands a weapons company of the 442nd Japanese American combat team.

During the 36th Division's push through northeastern France, Lt. Ryan, under intense enemy shelling, organized litter parties to evacuate the wounded and render first aid. By his action he is credited with saving many of the wounded's lives.

It can be argued, of course, that Lt. Ryan was only doing his duty as a soldier. But Lt. Ryan's action was more than that; it was the action of an officer whose first concern is for his men. And when any officer takes the unnecessary risks that Lt. Ryan did, you can rest assured that he is a man of supreme physical and moral courage.

The point we are making is that there are millions of Caucasians in this country with courage equal to Lt. Ryan's. They may not wear uniforms and decorations but they are no less fighting for the cause of justice and freedom. Some we know, some of them we have read about. Many of them are on the West Coast, many are in positions which are continuously jeopardized when feeling runs high.

Some of these un-uniformed soldiers who are fighting for the principles of our democracy were our neighbors and friends before evacuation. They are still on the West Coast and they are still fighting for the right of people to live regardless of race or creed.

In Gresham, Oregon, a week ago 900 people gathered, despite extremely bad weather, to protest the actions of those who would keep the Japanese-Americans from returning home. Chairman of the meeting was the Rev. John Magoon, Baptist preacher in Gresham. A principal speaker was E. B. McNaughton, president of the First National Bank of Oregon in Portland.

Striking the keynote, McNaughton warned that the anti-Japanese agitators were starting a fire which could readily spread to all minority groups and burst into the flame of Fascism. Harold S. Fistere of the WRA, who also spoke, said that he hoped the people of Hood River who would deport all Japanese-Americans would permit Frank Hachiya's father to stop in the Philippines long enough to pick up the remains of his son who had died to prove he was an American.

These are not isolated sentiments. They are shared by the great majority of Americans and it is that spirit which, God willing, will ever endure to make the United States the living monument to justice and humanity.

And so, when we read of the sporadic outbreaks of violence on the outside let us pause for a moment and remember that we are reading not of the typical situation but of the atypical. It takes courage, plenty of it, to go into a community where we anticipate hostility but we must bear in mind, too, that there are millions on our side ready to stand up and be counted. They are making a fight for us because they have faith in our will to live in the United States. They are doing much for us and we cannot let them down. If the Ryans, the Magoons and the McNaughtons are willing to stake their reputations in a fight for America's principles we owe it to them to show by our attitude that we are standing with them in the front lines.

New York Opens Hostel Apartment

Families desiring to occupy the hostel apartment recently opened in New York City on a non-secular basis by the New York Church Committee for Japanese Americans may make their reservations through the Committee or the WRA relocation office in New York City.

Designed to meet the needs of large families, the hostel apartment is conveniently located in midtown Manhattan and is intended to simplify relocation for Issei and their children.

Two Project Nags Relocate Without Indefinite Leaves

On the evening of Saturday, March 3, two of the project farm horses got the whim of relocation. With thoughts of gradual liquidation of the farm and closure of this center, the horses sought new homes on the outside world rather than to spend their life in this center.

With their complete household furnishings, they scarcely weighed more than 1,000 pounds. Both of these are saddle horses. One of them wore a beautiful brown suit and the other one a sorrel overcoat.

N. Y. Committee Issues Booklet on Relocation in East

NEW YORK—The Resettlement Council of Japanese American Organizations in New York City has just issued a booklet in English and Japanese, entitled "When You Arrive in New York."

Organized in May, 1944, to aid evacuees, the Resettlement Council includes representatives of the following organizations: Japanese American Citizens League, New York Chapter; Japanese American Committee for Democracy; Japanese American Young People's Christian Federation of New York; Japanese Christian Association; Japanese Christian Institute; Japanese Methodist Church and New York Buddhist Church.

The Council and member organizations invite correspondence from Issei and Nisei planning to go to New York, the booklet points out. It explains that the Council co-operates with various agencies in aiding newcomers in finding housing, jobs and business opportunities.

The names of more than 100 Issei, Nisei and other New Yorkers who contributed toward the cost of the booklet are listed in it. Also given are the addresses and telephone numbers of the Council and its member organizations.

Photographs of New York resettlers illustrate the booklet. The cover has a map of the city which shows the location of Japanese churches and organizations; the New York WRA office and Relocation Hostel, and the railroad stations.

Esther Greiner Speaks Before Nursery Teachers and Spring came

Miss Esther Greiner, public health nurse, gave a talk before the nursery teachers recently, according to Bernice A. Batchelder, supervisor of student teaching.

The hospital has recently provided the equipment for five first aid kits for the nurseries and instruction was given to the teachers as to the best use of the materials," Miss Batchelder said.

The matter of relative nutritive values in the selection of foods for mid-morning and mid-afternoon meals was discussed with the result that wise selection of lunch items will be made.

The head teachers reported on the success of the administering of vitamin capsules. The experiment will continue through the month of March, Miss Batchelder said.

"The teachers, parents and eventually the children themselves, cannot but feel most grateful to the hospital authorities for the excellent cooperation shown in furnishing these safeguards to safety and health," Miss Batchelder declared. "The willingness of the personnel of the hospital to give expert advice and training to student teachers who have the responsibility and care of 250 pre-school children is a great asset to the department of Student Teaching," she concluded.

Oregon Resident Comments on Racist Principles

The following appeared in the March 9 issue of the Oregonian in the "Letters to the Editor" concerning the expulsion of persons of Japanese regardless of birthplace.—Ed. Note.

To the Editor: Referring to the delegation who are asking the legislature for a memorial to congress, advocating a law to banish all Japanese regardless of birthplace. Before such a law could become legal there would have to be an amendment to our constitution and I am sure that could never be realized.

I have too much faith in the American people as a whole to believe that any such law can ever be passed through congress. I am certain that only a small minority would favor any such regulation or law.

The American soldiers of Japanese ancestry are proving their loyalty by fighting not only the Germans and Italians, but are now fighting with our own boys in the South seas and making themselves heroes by their valor.

Ex-Governor Pierce could be employing his time in a much more worthy cause than advocating such an un-American movement.

Funeral Services For Former Hunt Resident Held

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Funeral services for Mrs. Toshi Kashiwagi were held at the Grace Baptist Church on March 11, with the Rev. Clayton F. Smith, pastor, officiating. The main auditorium of the church was filled almost to capacity with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Kashiwagi, a former resident of Seattle and Hunt, came to Milwaukee six months ago from Denver, Colorado. She was taken ill after teasing homecanned mushrooms despite her daughter-in-law's warning they were spoiled. Mrs. Kashiwagi, who had been making her home with her son Rio and his family, died March 8 at the County Emergency Hospital.

Miss Gates was born in Los Angeles, attending large cosmopolitan high schools which "probably accounts for early interest in people of various national backgrounds." She studied at Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, and later spent two years at Berkeley Baptist Divinity School. She continued living in northern California as Director of Christian Friendliness for the State Convention area until 1940 when she went to Oregon to do the same job. She has had experience in the Middle West on relocation in 1943.

Biographical sketches on Dr. Roseberry and the Rev. Whaley was not available at press time.

Within the . . . SPORTS' FOCUS

As far as quality in ball playing in this relocation center goes, baseball and softball this year will not be rated as high as the baseball and softball played here during the past two years; but the chances are that it will be more interesting and entertaining than the baseball and softball playing offered in the previous years. The organized leagues, if there are such being anticipated in this center by the community activities, will present teams more evenly matched and the result will be keener competition.

There will be more "bad" plays this year than during the past two years of ball playing in this relocation center due to the fact that many of the athletic rosters have been decimated by the draft and enlistments, and with relocation taking heavy toll of the athletes. But if you remove the errors from baseball, the game will be dead within a month. The emotions of the crowds are stirred as much by errors, whether they help or hurt the cause of the home team, as by run-scoring hits and run-saving plays. Also as many philosophers have remarked, "There is nothing duller than perfection."

Thirty years ago the Philadelphia 'Athletics' had what was considered a perfect baseball team. It was a great team. It boasted the best infield and pitching staff in baseball, a brilliant outfield and a splendid catching staff. It won with monotonous regularity. Its plays were as nearly perfect as plays are likely ever to come in baseball.

During the same period Detroit, headed by the immortal Ty Cobb, was languishing in sixth place in the standing column but outdrawing the Philadelphia 'Athletics' by a three-to-two ratio in every city. Detroit was a team of individualists that played unorthodox baseball. It wasn't because it wasn't team baseball; but it was appealing baseball. It caught the fancy of the crowds. They preferred the boisterous, slam-bang style of Detroit, to the rule book perfection of Philadelphia. The customers were so tired of seeing Philadelphia win in their dull but flawless style that Connie Mack had to disband one of the greatest baseball teams in its history and begin to re-build from scratch again.

You are not going to see any baseball or softball in this center that will be great and sensational. You cannot look for perfection or near-perfection, but you will likely see the most interesting competition that this sport of baseball and softball has offered, with teams more evenly matched than they have been for some time. There is nothing exciting in seeing a stake horse beat a field of platers by thirty lengths or more; but there can be a heap of excitement in watching a field of platers come down to the wire, four or five of them fighting neck and neck. And, anyway, it will still be baseball and it should be, for all its lack of quality, a most interesting season.

SPORTS TIDBITS

Item I. Jerome Tigers gained their fifth straight boxing crown as a team. Jerome won five of the 11 individual championships. Aizawa of Jerome won from Rogers of Richfield to grab the 140-pound diadem.

Item II. The Idaho Simplots tied the high scoring mark for the national A.A.U. basketball tournament's 11 year tenure in Denver this week by swamping the Mitchell, Nebraska, quintet, 98-35, in the second round game. But in their third game of the tournament, the Simplots lost to the strong 20th Century quintet of Hollywood in the overtime game by a score of 48-47.

Item III. Gooding, one of the favorites in the Idaho State class "A" tournament, boasts one of the finest teams in Magic Valley. Twin Falls and Gooding will be carrying Magic Valley's hopes in this tournament now being held in Twin Falls. Playing on the Gooding quintet is Tom Sahara, a nisei who has made a good account for himself on the maple court throughout the season.

Item IV. In an amazing display of marksmanship, Gail Bishop of Fort Lewis, Washington, forward and the nation's top scorer this season, scored 62 points in a national A. U. tournament game at Denver this week and broke his own record of 50 points set in a game in a 1943 tourney.

Justice Dept. Attempts to Stamp Out Pro-Japanese Elements at Tule Lake

WASHINGTON—The justice department is trying to stamp out a persistent pro-Japan insurrection at the Tule Lake segregation center by moving 5,000 subversives to concentration camps for enemies, according to revelations in Washington. It was reported in a by-line story by Ray Richards in the Seattle Post Intelligencer.

Disclosure of the full text of secret testimony January 16 by Attorney General Francis Biddle before a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee shows the Japanese at times have been taking over the administration of the Tule Lake camp, cheering for the Japanese emperor, and conducting camp routine with Japanese army bugle calls.

LEADERS MOVED

About 80 of the leaders have been moved to justice department camps for dangerous enemy aliens, but the justice department is hampered by lack of room in taking at least 5,000 violently anti-American Japanese out of Tule Lake center, it was indicated by Biddle's testimony.

During his testimony, which was a request for general justice department funds for the coming year, Biddle revealed that 5,000 Japanese Americans born in this country and legally citizens of the United States—have applied for expatriation so they can return to the land of their choice, Japan.

WILL BE DEPORTED

The 5,000 will be deported after the war, Biddle promised.

Biddle told the subcommittee that shortly before the army lifted its West Coast ban on Japanese early in January, conditions had become so bad at Tule Lake that he sent an investigator to the camp. Biddle testified:

"He found quite a serious situation, which has not been generally talked about in the press as yet. We have not emphasized it

Scientist Receives Threat Notes for Hiring Evacuee

LOS ANGELES—A threatening note connected by the Federal Bureau of Investigation with his hiring of a Japanese American gardener yesterday was received by Dr. Linus Pauling of Altadena, Calif., research expert in explosive chemistry at California Institute of Technology, recently announced as the co-developer of oxy-poly-gelatin, a blood plasma substitute, according to the Los Angeles Times of March 10.

Contents of the note, received by mail, were not disclosed by Dr. Pauling or by the FBI agents on the case, who said revelations of the exact nature of the missive might hamper their efforts to learn who sent it.

The note is the second warning to Dr. Pauling in four days. On Monday a painting of a Japanese rising sun flag, inscribed "Americans die but we love Japs," was found on garage doors at his home, 3500 Fairpoint Ave., Pasadena, Calif., Altadena.

Told the painting was believed to be in protest at his employment of George Minaki of 299 N. Adams St., Sierra Madre, a native of Gardena recently released from a relocation center, Dr. Pauling then charged the vandalism was a "un-American act." He said the act apparently was inspired and carried out by "misguided people who believe American citizens should be persecuted in the same way that Nais have persecuted the Jewish citizens of Germany," the Times reported.

In the opinion of the Southern California branch of the A.C.L.U., the cases are well chosen to test the authority of the military to make Individual Exclusion Orders against persons of Japanese descent generally. According to the A.C.L.U., the military exclusion orders in the case of each one of the Nisei was "unreasonable" and without any support in the facts.

The Hazelton organization had requested action by Idaho senators and congressmen after the treasury announced the forthcoming sale of the farm equipment through dealers, its regular policy. The Lyons sought direct sale because Magic Valley farmers needed the varied equipment at once, stated the Times-News.

The Telegram from Dworshak Monday said: "Surplus property board and treasury procurement advise request for farmers' auction sale of Hunt surplus equipment refused. Although I vigorously urged exception be made in this case, they would not deviate from adopted policy of using regular trade channels through dealers. Equipment should be available soon."

T. C. Lockyear, treasury procurement division chief for this region, said requests for the Hunt machinery have come in from as far away as Arizona.
