The 100th Battalion, composed mainly of Americans of Japanese ancestry from Hawaii, was recently incorporated into the 442nd Combat Unit.

"Your record in battle has been marked by one outstanding achievement after another," Gen. Clark stated. "You are always thinking of your country before yourselves. You have never complained through your long periods in the line. You have written a brilliant chapter in the history of America's fighting men."
Gen. Clark announced on July 20 that the War Department had awarded a citation to the 100th Battalion. This citation was given for action by the Japanese American unit in the vicinity of Belvedere and Sassetta on June 26 and 27.

The Associated Press reported on July 20 that the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, composed entirely of Japanese American volunteers, protected the flank of units which entered Livorno, and then proceeded northwest several miles. Later reports placed the 442nd Team in the vicinity of Pisa.

S. Attorney Mildred Kluckhorn and signed by Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick.

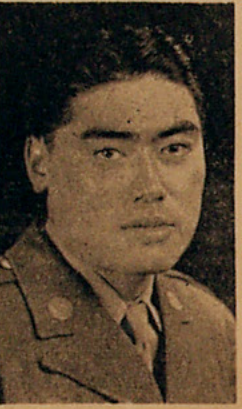

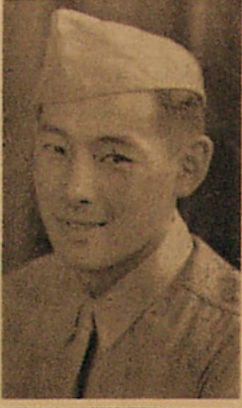

The suit has been filed by the American Civil Liberties Union in the names of Mrs. Shizuko Shiramizu, wife of Sgt. James Shiramizu, who died of wounds received in Italy; Masaru Baba, honorably discharged from the U. S. army in March, 1942, and Dr. George Ochiubo, who volunteered for the Army Dental Corps two days after Pearl Harbor.

Burial Place Desecrated

Graves, Markers, in Rose City Cemetery Ruined; Investigation On

Believing that the greater part of the Japanese cemetery desecration was preformed by adults, Geo. J. Claus, probation officer of juvenile court, announced extensive vandalism at the Rose City cemetery on N. E. 50th avenue near Fremont street, Portland, Oregon. Investigation of activities of three boys, however, is being conducted.

"There were about 200 large stones overturned and broken and other markers uprooted and burned," said Claus. "I don't believe boys alone would have been capable of reducing a cemetery to such a mess."

Boys Confess Damage
Three boys were seen leaving the cemetery July 19, and one of the lads was caught, a member of the Multnomah county sheriff's force said. Later investigation showed that they were 15, 12 and 10 years of age. Two of the boys have admitted doing part of the damage, Claus said, and he has the name of the third.

"There was some damage at this cemetery about a year ago," said Claus, "but the larger part of the present wreckage has the appearance of freshness. There are ponderous stones toppled over and broken, and some of these have been burned. A neighbor said he had put out one fire in the cemetery with a hose."

Exercise Your Rights

Hunt's second council election will be held this coming Monday. 21 candidates are running for the seven council positions to serve the next six months term beginning Sept. 1.

The Charter provides that all center residents 18 years of age or over are eligible to cast their ballots for the seven candidates whom they wish to serve the coming term. Just who will be seated in the council depends wholly upon the majority voice of the residents. The democratic form of community government provides that our system of government comes from the ballot box.

Last year, a little over three thousand ballots were cast by the residents in the general election which was about 50 per cent of the eligible electors of the center. This year, with the election "streamlined" with two recent amendments to the Charter, more ballots should be cast by the residents. The amendments now make it possible to eliminate the necessity of a run-off election so that only one election will determine the next councilmen, and registration will be open during election day.

With the polls placed in every dining hall of the center and requiring only a few minutes to cast the ballot, there is no reason that residents cannot exercise the privilege reserved for them by the Charter. Those who do not vote have no right to gripe if they don't like the way things are run. A lot of persons who never vote are the loudest belly-achers. A person too lazy or indifferent to vote makes an awfully poor critic of anything.

On the front page is a list of 21 candidates who have "thrown their hat in the ring." Out of this big field will come the seven councilmen who will hold the reins of community government for the coming six months term.

Vote for the candidate whom you wish to serve in the council. The ballot box will then determine the seven highest votes as the people's choice and those receiving the votes will be seated as the councilmen.

ON THE CEMETERY INJURED ON ITALIAN FRONT

The probation officer was confident that the location of many graves would be lost by the random scattering of markers either toppled over or pulled out of the ground.

"They are all mixed up," he said. "I don't see how a great many of them ever can be returned to their proper places."

An estimation of the burial place showed that over 300 dead are buried there, and that a good deal more than half of the markers have been destroyed, moved or damaged.

Nisei Yanks Landed "I told one boy he ought to be ashamed of himself," Claus said, "because a high percentage of the casualties on the Salerno beachhead were Japanese Americans who are helping to fight this war. H. V. Kallenberg, radio commentator, said there has not been a single proven case of sabotage by Japanese Americans in the Hawaiian islands since the war began."

Frank S. Barret, project attorney, and several reverends of the center, are investigating all possibilities of righting the tombstones and returning the markers by taking a survey of all the residents who had their dead buried in the cemetery, and trying to contact sympathetic parties within the city.

On August 10, 1942

On August 10, 1942, the first contingent of the advanced crew numbering 213 stepped out at the spur, and swore they were at the end of the world.

The choking dust plus a steady wind often kept a thick dust pall hanging over the entire district as high as 400 feet and their vision was dimmed, but through the haze, bare skeletons of the pre-fabricated buildings were made out.

"So this is our new home," they said. The Hunt of two years later is a far cry from the Hunt Branch, Twin Falls, Idaho of then.

Industrious work and willing cooperation has transformed the powdery unrefined lady to a dignified phenomema of the war. Her diary shows exciting events... it lists the volunteer recruiting, the forming of the cooperative, the baseball games. It tells of the headaches of the administration, the evacuee readjustment to a strange life. It contains new words that were coined, "rememories and meaning. Will there be a need Every day was history. Every day was a story school children will learn and study in 1950. Every day changed their ways of thinking, speaking, acting, their mannerisms... for better or for worse...

The days flew and they dragged. People died, children were born. People laughed and cried.

And now two years have passed full of memories and meaning. Will there be a need for a third anniversary?

Desecration of Holy Laws

From the beginning of time, in war and peace, the holy rights of any people have been etched in an unwritten law. From the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier to the rugged cross of some lonely pioneer in the mountainside, countless numbers of people have bent their heads and silently offered a prayer to the dead.

On a busy street corner, a slow-moving hearse would pass, and whether it contain a black, white, or yellow corpse, hats are doffed and respects paid.

Last week we read of the desecration of a cemetery in Portland, Oregon, where the remains of some 300 Japanese were resting. Tombstones were thrown over the fence, and markers burned, making identification virtually impossible. A picture showed a turned over tombstone clearly showing the name of an aged couple, the wife passing away a month before Pearl Harbor. Questioning revealed they were childless. In all probability, they had come over to this, their foster country, engaged in some business, and finally left this life not experiencing anything other than peaceful relations between their adopted and mother countries.

When vandals stomped on their remains and scattered and burned their markers, the defenseless dead stood by and watched. Restricted from the coast, their relations in the centers, had to read and take it. If honor there be among criminals, they must have known that their cowardly and sacrilegious doings were the yellowest within the group of dastardly actions and criminal offenses. Our fight for human rights will not end with the end of war.

Ob, this week's lemons goes to go-and so... that's the term employed when handing out a non-too-gentle kick in the pants to some group... well, just to be different we're handing out not one lemon, not two lemons, but a whole bag of lemons to those few center residents who seem to have a blind sense of prestige... meaning those self-centered individuals who are eternally seeking the favor of their "high-ups" hoping to gain some prestige and responsibility by their "stooping" actions, but who in reality are gaining nothing but the contempt of their fellow-beings. To these people we have a bit of advice: "There is no room for power-seekers; cooperation and unselfishness are the only methods that can possibly be employed effectively for the good and the benefit of all."

This week's orchids goes to so-and-so in the journalistic term, we know for a "pat on the back." Well, just to be different again, we're giving out two bouquets of orchids to be divided equally between two deserving groups.

The first of these two cannot be called a group inasmuch as it consists of two persons, but we can honestly say that they have done immeasurable good toward "livening up" our center activities. They are the Misses Barbara Barrett and Louise Durand. Coming at a time when activities were reaching a new low, these girls literally gave a "shot in the arm" to the indifferent residents. In the short time they have been here, they have organized a volleyball league, a nine-piece orchestra, an activities council in area "A," and have conducted community sings; more activities are being planned. Nice goin' girls—keep it up!

The second bouquet goes to those groups that had the heads to see that the inductees and visiting soldiers needed some type of recreation. When these groups observed that the local U. S. O. couldn't quite cope with the situation, they rose spontaneously to the rescue, so to speak, and sponsored numerous dances and socials for these fellows... so to all "live-wires" and our C. A. staff for their fruitful labor, THANKS A LOT !!! Jm.

Browsing through the 'Gator newspaper files we chanced on a clever cartoon under the caption, "They'll Do It Every Time." Himmmmmm, we thought, this might be opportunity knocking at the impenebtrable walls of our skulls... after all, something along this line might be feature stuff! S-o-o-o, after much fingernail-chewing and black coffee, we decided on the moniker, "There's One In Every Block."

You know... those de-sha-ba-ris! who insist on getting their monstrous noses into every type of activity... their wives who strut around with their noses in the atmosphere, thinking that their honeybunches are so important... those "bottle-necks" who insist on sharpening their razor blades on the washroom mirrors, thus clouding it up for the next fellow... those "killjoys" that always forget to screw the cap back on the toothpaste tube... people who insist on using electric razors, sewing machines, etc., during our favorite radio programs, thus creating an impenebtrable blanket of static... those "queers" whose numerous eccentric acts only the Lord can explain... issei war strategists... addicts who stay up all night thinking up new rumors to scare the populace... vicious village gossips getting together under the guise of a ladies sewing circle... persons who argue for hours over pin-point technicalities... jokers whose corny puns were sneezed at even a century or two ago... over-ardent baseball fans who ridicule their Caucasian opponents... pinocchio libtizers... loudmouths who are usually the self-appointed captains of their respective athletic teams... laundry room "Romeos"...

Oh, this week's lemons goes to go-and so... that's the term employed when handing out a non-too-gentle kick in the pants to some group... well, just to be different we're handing out not one lemon, not two lemons, but a whole bag of lemons to those few center residents who seem to have a blind sense of prestige... meaning those self-centered individuals who are eternally seeking the favor of their "high-ups" hoping to gain some prestige and responsibility by their "stooping" actions, but who in reality are gaining nothing but the contempt of their fellow-beings. I know that after I have done my best to take care of myself, only faith and prayer shall guide me through the war... I am ever confident of Kaun and myself." The above missive came as a last communique from Pvt. Satoru Onodera, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Onodera of 10-5-E, who was killed in action on July 7. The telegram was received on July 27.

Influx Threat to Realty Values? Chicago Nisei Population One-Tenth of One Per Cent

A threat made by Joseph B. Ford, president of the Chicago Real Estate Board, that the Chicago real-estate values are being destroyed by an influx of Japanese Americans was discounted July 25 by War Relocation Authority, according to the July 26 issue of the Chicago Sun.

Ford declared that property values in many of the city's better residential neighborhoods are decreasing because of the infiltration of persons of Japanese ancestry.

H. C. Jacoby, acting director of the regional WRA, termed Ford's statement a typical example of "making a mountain out of a mole-hill."

"There are 4,000 to 5,000 Japanese in Chicago, about one-tenth of 1 per cent of the city's population," he said. "Surely this small number, most of whom live in transient communities, are not going to have any terrible effect on real estate values here."

Jacoby said most of the Japanese Americans were brought here from Coast areas at the request of Chicago industry when labor shortage problems became acute.

"There is nothing we can do about it, but they should stop them from moving into areas where families of servicemen live," Ford stated. "Mothers, wives and relatives of men fighting the Japs don't feel kindly toward these people."

He suggested that a special community be established to house the Japanese Americans.

Potential Railroad "Saboteurs": I.C. Union Rejects Plea For Nisei Track Workers

In a telegram to Elmer W. Henderson, regional director of the President's committee on frank employment practice, Frank L. Noakes, general chairman of the Illinois Central division of the AFL Maintenance of Way Employees, wrote, "If the Japanese American employed as track laborers by the Illinois Central railroad are loyal they should be employed in the railroad industry, where sabotage and treachery could be resorted to easily."

The telegram was sent in reply to one received from Henderson citing Executive Order 9846 stating that there should be "no discrimination in war industries because of race, creed, color or original origin."

Henderson asked Noakes to withdraw his ultimatum that "if the I. C. does not discharge 59 Japanese American track laborers recently hired, the rest of the union's 8,000 members will 'take a vacation.'" Henderson said the employees have been thoroughly investigated for loyalty and approved by the War Relocation Authority.

Noakes said he had not requested nor directed his members to strike in protest of the employment of the Japanese Americans, but "our members, individually, are refusing to work with them, and their presence on the railroad will do more harm than good. The railroad industry can best be served by their immediate removal."

It Breaks My Heart... "When I Think of..."

To the Editor: When I read that someone was trying to route excitement over the 1 per cent of U. S. Japanese "flooding" Chicago, I remembered that when an American-Japanese girl came in to work where I work, I got excited and wrote my boy friend who has been fighting in the South Pacific for two years. (Since then she has won everyone's liking.) He wrote back:

"When I think what we are going through to preserve democracy, with young boys, Americans of every race and origin dying every day, and read of you back home taking it out on innocent fellow-citizens, it breaks my heart."

Nebraska State Asks for Nisei School Teachers

Due to a teacher shortage which may reach 1,500, the proposition of the possibility of using Japanese Americans in elementary and high schools in Nebraska was well received by Wayne Reed, Nebraska State Superintendent of Instruction, according to William K. Holland, relocation officer for that area.

Because of the recent placement of Peter Ida as a coach and director of physical education in DeSmet, Nebraska, Davis feels that there would be little or no difficulty in placing several nisei as instructors in certain communities in Nebraska. On the whole salaries are relatively high.

Information should be sent directly to Holland, who will in turn pass it on to W. T. Davis, manager of a very reputable placement bureau, who will communicate directly with any interested parties.

Miss Noble Added To Great Lakes Area

To draw existing social, recreational and religious facilities into closer working contact with the relocation program in cities where persons of Japanese ancestry have settled, Miss Louise M. Noble has been appointed Relocation Adjustment Adviser in the Great Lakes Area, Robert M. Cullum, Area Supervisor, announced here today.

Rappaport Issues Request for Aides

Nurses' aides and orderlies are needed immediately at the hospital, reported Miss Josephine Rappaport, chief nurse.

"We prefer to have older persons for these positions because the younger nisei aides must leave soon when school reopens. We are willing to conduct regular classes to familiarize inexperienced persons with the basic fundamentals of this type of work. Issel applying for interpreters will be provided at the classes to explain the facts. Persons taking advantage of these classes will gain invaluable knowledge in home nursing," she stated.

Approximately 20 nurses' aides and 4 orderlies are needed. Interested persons are requested to contact Miss Rappaport or the placement office immediately.

Pfc. Hideo Yasui Writes How He Received Wound

From somewhere in Italy, Pfc. Hideo Yasui, recently wounded soldier of the Livorno attack, wrote "Here is how it happened," in a letter to his parents this week.

"As you know, I am a radio operator now. On that day, we were on a side of a hill, ready to fire on a group of Germans who were spotted coming down the valley. While our machine gun started firing on these Germans, I received an order from our commanding officer to the officer of our platoon, who was observing the enemy from a position near our machine gun. By this time the German machine gun on the hill across the valley had located us. I dashed across a little open space. Just as I was to reach the officer, the German gun opened fire. I hit the ground and started crawling flat on my stomach.

"As I had the radio in my left hand, the hand was in a position a little ways above the ground. As the bullets kicked dust all around me, one of them hit a rock right in front of me, and a piece of it glanced off and entered my left hand. It was surprising, but I hardly felt it when I was hit. The fragment was immediately removed after reaching the hospital. Now it has completely healed.

"Thanks for Irrigator."

Five Fires Occur During Past Week

The past week was a busy one for local firemen as a total of five fires called them to active fighting duty. The first blaze occurred inside the center at the pumphouse located directly west of the sewage disposal plant. The fire completely demolished the small wood-structure which housed a gaso-line motor used as an auxiliary pump for the sewage plant. The fire started when the gasoline used to refill the engine, poured over the sides on top of a hot exhaust pipe that was underneath it. Though the cost is still to be determined, it was reported that another motor has been installed and that operations are continuing as usual.

Two of the remaining four fires that happened during the week occurred on August 3, outside the project. Approximately 100 acres of brushland was burned in a fire near the main road entrance. Twenty-seven fire-fighters responded to a call from the U. S. Grazing Service and extinguished the blaze in a matter of a few hours. Then, about 8:45 p. m. the same day, another brush fire was reported along the right side of the railroad, about a mile north of the spur. Further details on this fire could not be secured.

The last two brush conflagrations were reported on Wednesday near the camp; the first one north of the power line and south of the spur, and the second fire was reported as burning in the area between the camp and the main highway. Both of these last fires were extinguished in quick order.

JEROME NINE SNAPS HUNT'S WIN STREAK AS PARIS HURLS TIGHT FOUR HITTER GAME

The BENCH WARMER Says.....

Turning back the memory book to just about a year ago, we find that the local All-stars were on the crest of an almost continuous string of victories over local Magic Valley competition. It was just about that time that the All-stars outfit almost disbanded with the advent of the induction of local army volunteers. In comparison with this year's outfit, last year's star-studded team ranks a bit higher in standard as it was much more mature and experienced. This week the All-Stars of nearly a year later took another jolt from the army as several key players departed for active army duty. For instance, from last week's line-up which romped over Eden, we saw Minor Aono and Ace Hiromura, both classy fielding infielders and George Mamiya, regular outfielder, leave. In addition, there is Tex Irinaga who played for the locals against Rupert a week ago Sunday, who also left for G.I. service. Best wishes go from the Irrigator sports staff to those army privates who will be donning the uniforms of Uncle Sam's team for the duration.

Oftentimes, figures tell a great deal more than mere factual accounts of ball-games. Figures averaged up, tells us the relative strength of any particular ball club during a period of time. This week, then, let's analyze to a degree the scores set by the local legion nine in competition with other legion nines in our Magic Valley. The locals have played ten complete contests, winning nine of them, and have scored a total of 134 runs against a mere 20 for the opposition. Going one step further, we find that the locals have an average of 13.4 runs per game against two runs for the opponents. Therefore, the first conclusion we arrive at is that the combined earned run average, granting that they were all earned-runs, was approximately two per game which is very fancy pitching in any circuit. The most lop-sided score was made during the past week, when the Hunt outfit plastered seven Curry hurlers for 23 runs while giving up but one. The closest games, barring the 3-2 loss at the hands of the Jerome youngsters, were the 10-3 decision over the Twin Falls Legion and the 7-0 white-washing of Filer.

In any event, we can see ample reason through these figures why the five other outfits are rather reluctant in continuing the third round of legion play—they would much rather pick an all-star team from their ranks and play the powerful Hunt nine with their combined strength. At that, the game ought to be worth seeing, but still though, this column will have to string along with the champions.

Clamoring from the five other outfits in the Junior American Legion League to suspend play after the end of the second round in favor of forming an all-star team, occurred during the past week, as the local Hunt aggregation stood far ahead in the six-team loop and threatened to completely walk-away from its opponents. However, no definite word as to the suspension of the league was released as the second round concluded with Wednesday night's contests, which featured Jerome's triumph over the high-flying Hunt juniors.

In the biggest upset of the Jerome-Twin Falls Counties Junior Legion Baseball League, the fourth-place Jerome lads edged past the previously unbeaten Hunt evacuee nine, 3-2, last Wednesday evening at Jerome. With Jud

Paris, ace Jerome hurler, pitching four-hit baseball, the Hunt lads, hampered by an incomplete roster, didn't have their usual punch at the plate, and failed to support Ray Shiki's six hit twirling.

Paris, who at times has been outstanding in his hurling, had his curve ball working to excellence and struck out six local batsmen and didn't issue any base-on-balls. Seemingly, he found the key to beating the locals as he confined his pitching almost exclusively to curve-balls.

Hunt scored first in the initial inning, when Machida singled, stole second and scored as Nakahara blasted out a safety. Jerome retaliated with a single run in the second, as Kober walked, stole second and ambled home as the local second-sacker made a misplay. Rhuter tallied Jerome's second run when he got a line on a straight force of Walters a second. He stole the keystone sack and scored when J. Kober singled him home.

Hunt came back to knot up the score in the last inning, the fifth, when Okita singled, stole second and came home on Van Patton's bungle of Aoki's grounder. The stage was then set for the last inning fight of the Jeromeites, as R. Scheer doubled. L. Sheer followed by waiting out Shiki. Then, the pitcher himself stepped up and slapped a single, scoring R. Local Legion Nine Takes Sunday Game From Curry, 23-1

Showing overwhelming strength in both the hitting and pitching departments, the Hunt junior legions walked over the Curry nine at the latter's diamond last Sunday afternoon, 23 to 1, to extend their winning streak to nine straight.

Ray Mitsudo, local right-hander, returned to mound duty after an extended absence from the hill, to pitch a two-hitter. His pitching opposition seven, as a parade of hurlers went to the mound for Curry in a vain effort to subdue the steam-rolling evacuee nine. During the course of the seven-inning contest, Hunt tallied 23 runs on 11 hits and were aided by 16 bases on balls and ten errors.

The hitting gun for the locals was Ray Shiki, the Hunt shortstop, who had four safeties in five trips to the plate. Ray Mitsudo, in addition to hurling his triumph,

Section 1 Takes Over Top Spot in Old-Stars League

As the local Old-Stars League entered its third week of loop-play, the powerful Section 1 Trojans took over sole position of the top spot, as its nearest rival, the Section 2 old-stars were rudely set back by a surprising Section 5 outfit.

This week, the game to watch will be the clash between the aggregations of Sections 1 and 2 as they battle on the former's diamond on Sunday evening. In the previous meeting, the oldsters from Section 2-way, came from behind to nab a very closely contested game. HUNT INVITATIONAL SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT SLATED FOR AUG. 27

Because of the interest shown in the Magic Valley in softball, the Hunt Community Activities office is sponsoring a Hunt, Idaho Open Softball Tournament on August 27, starting at 10 a. m. Contrary to reports in the Twin Falls newspapers, the tourney date has been changed from the announced date of August 13 to this later date.

General Chairman for the all-day event is Shig Osawa, C. A. official, and it was also reported that a trophy will be awarded to the winner of the entire tournament.

Osawa stated that the rules appearing in the 1944 Official Softball Guide of the Amateur Softball Association will prevail throughout the whole slate of contests, except for particular ground conditions.

The only requirement for entry in this tournament is that each team is limited to a total of 19 players.

Though invitations have already been sent out to Burley, Sun Valley, Jerome, Twin Falls, Kimberly, Eden, Rupert and Gooding to participate, any team in the Magic Valley is cordially invited to enter.

Entry deadline has been set for August 19, in order to allow time for the drawing up of team schedules.

Legion vs. All-Stars In Tilt Tomorrow Afternoon

The unofficial championship of the Hunt project will be at stake tomorrow afternoon as the center All-stars tangle with the league leaders in the Junior Legion Circuit at Central field, starting at 2 p. m. sharp.

The local ball fans who have anticipated this game will get a good opportunity to see just what the relative strength of the Hunt Legion is, in competition with teams of better caliber.

It will be Shig Sakakibara, ace of the Legion pitching staff, toling for the youngsters, stated Tak Akiyama, coach, while Hank Fukano, manager for the opponents, singled out Shig Urakawa, veteran southpaw, as his probable pitching choice. Urakawa, who formerly hurled for the Cadets in Seattle, has already registered his first triumph this season, when he pitched a five-hit shutout over the Rupert Boosters almost two weeks ago.

Followers of the hardball play in the center are expecting a close contest, now that several of the All-stars have left for army duty.

Following are the names and positions of the players who are expected to play in this contest:

Hunt All-stars—Pitcher, Shig Urakawa; catcher, Hank Ito; 1st base, Suki Hachiya or Pancho Nakashima; 2nd base, unknown; 3rd base, unknown; shortstop, Sun Tsuji or Carl Sasekawa; left field, unknown; center field, George Iwasaki; right field, George Shimizu.

The above are the probable players and there is a likely possibility that changes will be made before game-time.
