Citizenship Status in Japan

For Nisei Explained by Opler

A particularly significant question that was asked at the public forum held recently discussing the subject of repatriproblems. The question is, "I am a nise who is not a dual citi-cen. If I divest myself of Ameri-can Citizenship or expatriate my-self, what is my legal and prac-tical status in respect to Japan?" Dr Opler's answer, which fol-lows, fully explains the situation. NATIONALITY LAW

According to the Japanese law of nationality now in effect a person born in the United States In autonality now in effect a person born in the United States of Japanese parents becomes a citizen of Japan by birth only if the parents register the child at the Japanese consulate before the child as more than 14 days old. Over two-thirds of the parents of the Nisei did not register their children in this manner and so their children, as in the case of the young lady who asked the guestion, are not, and never have been, citizens of Japan. Citizenship is obtained by birth or by naturalization. There are a pood many people of Japanese ancestry who think that if they divest themselves of American Citizenship they automatically (Continued on Page 2)

It Doesn't Jibe-

A fuller understanding of the characteristics of nisei la bor than is now prevailing, we believe, will be made available to the American public in the near future, probably by the end of this year's critical harvest season. Some aspects of it are favorable, others not so good.

How are we, how is the American public, to reconcile facts concerning the Japanese labor with such views as this appearing in a leading labor publication: "-organized labor does not consider the Japanese 'fair competition' in the labor market"? Emanating from California as it does, it might be unfair to expect labor leaders there to ever understand the Japanese, having been too close, perhaps, to our people,

How are we to reconcile facts and such statements as these when carefully prepared surveys of Japanese labor, or rather nisei labor, in the Midwest, indicates that their employers are unhappy because our boys demand too much? Evacuse furlough workers last season, for instance, demanded bathroom facilities. They actually wanted to feel clean after a day's work in the beet fields. Of all things!

The nisei laborers ask for no more than a fair break. They do not ask for luxuries. Above all, they would like to ask the labor leaders and the employer-farmers of the midwest to use our boys and to form their own conclusions and to give these workers honest appraisal and corrective criticisms where warranted. Above all, we would ask the midwesterners and easterners not to take for granted the often biased views of California labor groups and farmers. The American people have many cobyels of pre-war misconceptions that need to be swept away. One of them has been the tendency to form their opinion about the evacuees almost solely on the basis of these often biased anti-Japanese views of the Californians,

Confab Ends Today

A meeting of projects school superintendents and members of the Washington staff, which be-gan on April 5, will end today after six days'[conference at Denver. The purpose of this meeting is to give the education staffs at the center some greater knowledge of the relocation program and to plan for the coming school year. The president of Colorado State College of Education, the chan-teelor of the University of Den-ver and the head of the Educa-tion Department of the University of Colorado were speakers on the first day of the conference. On the second day, WRA Director Dillon S. Myer addressed the su-perintendents. Mrs. Lucy Adams, acting head of community serv-ices at this center, Philip Glick, solicitor, John Provinse, chief of community services, Davis Mc-Intire, assistant chief of the em-ployment division, and John Em-brece, community analyst, were also present to discuss various; phases of the program. The remainder of the confer-nece will be devoted to curricu-lum planning, school costs, and procurement problems.

CO-OP OFFICE TO CONSOLIDATE

demonstrate to the Japanese gov-ernment that he is self-sufficient economically. My answer to the young lady and to any others in her position therefore is this. If you were born in the United States and are not a dual citizen the only nationali-ty you possess is United States citizenship. If you expatriate and divest yourself of that you will be without nationality until you acquire Japanese nationality or some other nationality. The only way you will be able to acquire Japanese citizenship will be to become naturalized in Japan. The main requirements of the Japan-ese naturalization law which you would have to meet have been given above. Both children and parents should think over these facts carefully, for few parents when they understand them will want their children to be men and women without a country for a long-period after the war. Issimen are not made American cilizens as soon as they come to this country, simply because they are Caucasians and look like a good many white Americans. They have to go through the long process of naturalization like anyone else.

Not knowing their father's intentions, handback each shipe a shipe a now too knowing their father's intentions, so the familiar story goes, they looked at each other with amaze-ment. The boys were asked to break the arrow in two. This was accomplished with ease. Expres-sion of pride appeared upon them. With a grin, the father then brought forth three arrows and asked the youngest to break them in two iat one time. His smile had disappeared and the arrows were passed to the next and finally to the eldest. All of them failed.

Having his three sons realize the impossibility of breaking the three arrows explained the im-portance of unity. "The strength of three cannot be conquered by one, The strength of three ar-rows may be divided equally and broken by three brothers."

The percentage of their purchases from sales. We must stand united and the willingness on our part to participate in every way possible will enable us to bring about the essence of democracy. A co-operative involves the interest of the entire community. Its advantages being ample, each individual should study and understand further the principles. Where else can an individual purchase merchandise at a lower price than that of a co-op? There were exceptions as in the case of eggs due to scarcity, but aside from a few incidents, the co-op merchandise in a large quantity is able to earn the extra discount. Goods are sold at a margin of profit, sufficient to cover expensions as eard at a margin of profit, sufficient to cover expenses es and to build a reserve for future safety. The question arises, "Why can't we do away with rebates and sells at cocusing a for a large sold at it is impossible to calculate the percentage of expense?" In one sense this does sound encouraging, but we must realize that it is impossible to calculate the percentage of expense beforehand, for it varies from time to time.

Rumors and confusions were circulating around the center ear-ly this week as mess halls were found short of rice for their daily menus.

Inquiry made on this matter disclosed that rice had been ord-ered through the Army Quarter-master Depot for the first of the month and that these overdue shipments are expected momentarily

Assistant Chief Steward M. L. Harbach announced that he is not sure as to what is actually delaying the shipments but he remarked that the delivery may have been delayed due to the un-certainty of shipments during the present war time emergency per-iod. He added, however, that the Army should not be held respon-sible for this situation since it is doing its best in trying to obtain rice for the residents with the cooperation of the Mess division. Assistant Chief Steward M. L.

Telegrams have been sent out daily to the source of shipment but no reply had been received as yet. Harbach assured the residents that if rice does not arrive here within a few days, efforts will be made to secure it from other sources.

goes nothing on a quick glance at Manzanar's first season. GOPHERS DOWNED Probably the most interesting and exciting game of the year was the first league match of the Gophers and Zeros. The Ze-ros displayed one of the smooth-est games that day and gave the Gophers a decisive 34-29 set-back and proved to the hoop fans that the Gophers were not "un-beatable." Outstanding floor work by, the Takahash Bros. meant a lot in that game but the big reason for their win was that they fought "fire with fire." Fast break matched fast break with the Zeros breaking a little faster. But you can't give the log run, the Gophers proved to be the steadier of the two teams. CREAM MATERIAL CREAM MATERIAL

CREAM MATERIAL A week or so before the Goph-er-Zero clash, you recall the Zero-Ace classic. Most Inns classed this game an "upset" but in my opin-ion, that game was far from an "upset." The Golden Aces had one of the best teams in camp. They had height, speed, reserves and experience that makes any championship team. No clicking combo was their downfall. Just give me the Hara Bros. Endow, Taketomo, and Okamoto and we'll give any team a skyrocket-ing charce. ing chance. BIG CHOICE

We if give any team a skyrocket-ing change. BICHCICE BICHCICE There's plenty of talk now a Au loops at think it high time I gamble my life so here she is: At the forward positions I tab Mas Takabi of the Zeros and Tachi Ukita of the Olivers. Cen-te spot goes to Dan Fukushima of the Gophers. Guards should be Moto Shimizu and Weesh Taka-nashi. Now. I know I left out stars like Ray Goto, George Hatteri, Isao Hara, John Endow, Dick Sakamoto, Ets Hochi, but ybu Lnow how it is, five makes a team and no more. The reasons for my selections might make this star choice a bit more impressive. The forward wall with Mas Takahashi-means a definite point-getter and one who gets them. Tachi Ukita, ball handler deluxe and the sweetest ball feeder you've ever seen on the floor. And Dan Fuku-shima at center because of his steady and accurate set ups, de-fensive and all around playing. Weesh Takahashi at guard be-cuuse of his backboard control.

Flaring out with the mighty scoring punch just acquired in his first taste of competition, George Okamuro, starring forward for the Bel Aires, hit the hoop for a total of 135 points to easily stride over his closest by a wide 65-digit mar-gin. This decisively gave him the title of BB scoring kingpin. Getting the nod for second po-sition by a bucket over his team-mate was Manzaknights' Min Imai with 70 points, while Louie Sakamoto came in with 68. GOLFERS SLATED FOR BIG LINKFEST Under the guidance of the local Player, Team GP FG FT TP 3 135 2 700 689 1 558 8 44 5 399 1 558 8 44 5 399 1 38 2 32 3 31 6 300 2 28 6 300 2 28 0 225 1 255 superb defensive play, height, and deadly one-hand potting. And of course, Moto Shimizu, to me, is definitely the most outstanding guard in the center.

The lack of equipment, particularly poles for vaulting and shorpuls, is the main obstacle in the way of making this a suc-cessful season. There MAY be a possibility of having them ship-ped into the center.
