Leave clearances are no longer a problem at Manzanar, announced Walter A. Heath of the Relocation Office this week in reporting that only 16 Manzanar residents are now waiting Washington action. All other Manzanar residents have been granted leave clearance, have been denied leave clearance or have been placed in a deferred file for consideration at a later date. At one time, Heath recalled, hundreds of Manzanar residents were unable to make plans for the future because their status was not settled by the Washington office. Clyde Simpson, Manzanar grade school principal, has just returned from Washington where he has assisted the leave clearance committee to make recommendations to the director as to whether or not individuals should be granted leave clearances. It is thought that action on the 16 cases will be forthcoming in the immediate future and that a few cases waiting action at Manzanar will also be cleared soon.

"They were first to take German prisoners, first to destroy a German tank, and the first to charge and take a German position with bayonets."

Describing Mac Yazawa, who had stopped a lot of shrapnel in the Volturno River Crossing, Casey declared, "He is an American kid with an unruly look and black hair that hung down over his forehead, and he is still young in his ideas, even though he has been sobered by a big hunk, of war."

Loss Of A True Friend

With the death of Tom Treanor, killed in action near Paris recently, evacuees who read his column in the Los Angeles Times will realize that they have lost a true newspaper friend. His straightforward and unbiased reporting of the news had won him many friends among the Japanese American evacuees. His death is a truly great loss to them.

Treanor died fighting for the liberty he believed in; for the freedom of allmen, regardless of race or creed. He died for the same principles for which men of the 100th infantry battalion and the 442nd combat team have been fighting and dying, for the same liberties for which the peoples of half the globe are yet struggling.

Before the war is over many more like Tom Treanor will have died. These men died for US; they are true friends of ALL the people. It is our duty to make sure that they have not died in vain.

Not Race Question

Following excerpts were taken from an editorial which appeared recently in the Republic, a newspaper in Mitchell, South Dakota-Editor).

The question of whether or not we acted wisely in uprooting these thousands of Japanese Americans from their homes following Pearl Harbor as a means of segregating the loyal from the disloyal is aside from the point. The problem which must be faced now is that of restoring to these citizens, whose loyalty cannot reasonably be questioned, the rights to which they are entitled.

If we are to live up to the ideals of democratic equality and freedom which we are fighting to preserve, race prejudice mus have no place in the consideration and solution of this

The part which loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry are playing in the prosecution of the war has been pointed out time and again particularly the case of those who fought at Cassino

Cassino.

Still another example of this loyalty was provided on Memorial day when tre Honolulu Advertiser printed the names of honored war dead from the islands. Of 240 names, 163 are unmistakenably Japanese, Like the men of Irish, German, English, Italian and Scandinavian ancestry who have given their lives for this country, those 163 Japanese Ameri-cans died for the United States.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE LAUDS YOUNGSTERS

CASPER Wvo.-After CASPER, Wyo.— After two years in confinement at the Heart Mountain Relocation Center, Japanese American boys and girls are "still as American as apple pie," asserted Boy Scout Executive M. L. Johnson, the Pacific Citizen reported.

youngsters." Johnson said. "But no one who would be with them

would be any thing but true Americans."

"They laughed at American jokes, and behaved just like any other American youngsters would behave," he added.

CAMPING TRIPS

The camping trips were spon-sored by the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Campfire Girls, the WRA and the National Park Service.

The youngsters lived in an ab-andoned CCC camp. Activities in the park followed the usual pro-gram for such trips including hikes, nature study, bridge-build-ing by the boys and classes in scouting, it stated.

Anniversaries are times when we are apt to look back over the past and take pride in our material accomplishments, check the past and take pride in our material accomplishments, check our errors and make plans for the future. It is a time when we stop to take a brief mental inventory of ourselves and our work and try to make our personal balance sheets.

Living as we are, in a world at war, we have found this new way of living in a camp a difficult and strange interlude in our lives. One of the major adjustments that we have had to make is the learning, building and operation of community cooperative enterprises. Starting out with a handful of helpers, a few shelves of merchandise and much courage, the people in the relocation centers have built businesses which can now adequately courage, the people in the relocation centers have built businesses which can now adequately take care of the needs of the residents. To those of us who have chosen to remain in camp thus far, September 5, will mark, the second anniversary of the incorporation of our Cooperative business: The Manzanar Cooperative Enterprises, Inc. It will certainly mean a time for us to strike a balance and plan for the future, uncertain as it may seem.
The Cooperative, which we have now come to take for granted, was originally required to serve the needs of about ten thousand residents in this camp.
Records show that it has seen better monthly figures.
In 1943, the average monthly sales were about $75,000 but this figure has gradually declined since February of this year when since February of this year when so many of our member left for Tule Lake.

Tule Lake.

With the loss of about two thousand Tule-bound residents in February and with the gradual loss of many more hundreds who will be leaving the gates of this center, the directors of this organization find it necessary to modify the present business policy. How then have the managerial staff and directors decided to modify the policy of the cided to modify the cided to the cided to modify the cided to the cided to the cided to modify the policy of the cided to modify the cided t managerial staff and directors de-cided to modify the policy of the cooperative? The major steps un-dertaken are briefly: reduction of purchases, lowering of inven-tories and declaration of div-idends.

The purchasing agents have met with considerable difficulty in the past in obtaining the type and grade of merchandise required at reasonable prices. They had hopes of getting a good orders for many things have had to be placed well in advance of the shipping date. In one instance many orders for summer clothing had to be placed last year for easons of better relations and future considerations, it would not have been wise to cancel orders which were being made at the factories for our specific use. However, reductions and cancellations were made whereever possible. ever possible.

The plan for lowering our inventories will be affected by the plan for reducing purchases. At one time the warehouses and stores were burdened with a mechandise inventory of about $100-000 but through the cooperation and efforts of the buyers, clerks and customers, it has been reduced considerably.

and customers, it has been reduced considerably.

Now with the plan to further lower the inventory to the $50,1000 mark, we are assured of early payment of rebates for the last quarter of 1943.

It may be well to state that since the announcement in this column a few weeks ago regarding the payment of the rebates to the Tule Lake center people, the checks have been mailed reglarly and sometimes during the early part of this month payments will have been completed. There is yet another thought in the minds of the managorial staff when speaking of reducing the inventory. The reduction of the inventory, the reduction of the inventory to $50,000 will mean that our cash assets will be intereased proportionately and the cooperative will be in the posit-

As you well know, the life of the cooperative in camp is limited: we must govern our policy with that of the WRA. We should all like to see ourselves in a position where all transactions can be carried on swiftly, efficiently and with no material loss if possible.

When following such a modified policy for the operation of this business it will be necessary to have the cooperation of the residents of the center.

In the second quarter, with the Knights in possession of the ball, yoshindo Shibuya, hard-hitting fullback plunged and ran the ball to the 45 yard line. Then he attempeted to pass whereupon he was overcome by a swarm of Timber linemen who swept into the ball as it was being passed and it was partially blocked and right out of nowhere young Haru Nojima ran up and caught the ball and kept going on until he was stopped.
