LATH HOUSES

Considerable damage was done to the west portion of the horticultural nursery lath house blown down by an unusually strong wind last night.

Experiments in hormone treatments are proving highly successful. Dr. Emerson, research scientist at Cal-Tech, will visit the local guayule nursery Thursday and Friday.

EDITORIAL

A dream of every businessman came to Manzanar last Sunday when the local store opened its doors under the management of the administration. Since private enterprises are taboo here, non-competitive and sure profit enterprises must remain a dream, so far as lining private pockets is concerned.

But to the community which needs much in the way of recreational facilities and improved living conditions in general, the benefits to be derived from the canteen are a reality.

Heretofore, the profits from the army-operated canteen went to provide recreational equipment for soldiers at Fort Ord, and we were glad to have done our share. Now it goes to the welfare of our community. Let us patronize the canteen.

THE CHURCH

REV. FERTIG SPEAKS

Guest speaker for the young people's morning service on Sunday was Rev Fred Fertig of Los Angeles who spoke on "Creative Christianity". Reverend Fertig was formerly Y. P. leader at the Los Angeles Christian church.

The speaker offered three suggestions for "Creative living": first, broad fellowship, not just among immediate groups but with issei, kibei as well as nissei and other religious groups; second, a constructive attitude and third, unity between Catholic and Protestant churches.

CLEANLINESS MEANS
GOOD HEALTH

FOR BETTER LIVING:
HOBBY GARDENS PLANNED

"Grow your own vegetables for vitamins, flowers for morale, gardening for recreation," declared Tak Muto as he completed plans for Hobby Gardens to be started immediately in the "firebreak" between Blocks 11 to 17 and 12 to 18.

Muto, experimentalist at Ohio State College, well-known San Fernando floriculturist, and specialist in crossbreeding new varieties, and seedlings, and co-director Masao Tanaka outlined plans.

Segmenting the plot into four sections will be graveled walks, with a sun dial at the intersection. One section will be devoted to experiments to raise seeds adaptable to the local climate and soil while other sections will be for families desiring to grow their own vegetables and flowers.

Lots will be allocated, vegetable and flower seeds, tools and enough irrigation water will be provided. All those interested are asked to apply at 1-15, Kenzo Kiyohiro; 10-15, Kazuko Amatsu; 11-15, Florence Ikehata; 13-15, Guichi Shimba; 15-15, Esther Naito; and 17-15, Paul Yamamoto.

Slaughter, Herman Hayes, Wado Hampton Bolton, George T. Boxley, Cleaves C. Trabert, Edward J. Lynch and Charles R. Stevens.

TO COMBAT ODOR

Several hundred pounds of chlorine are used daily at the mess halls to combat waste water odor until proper drainage is installed.

LAUD CARPENTERS

Carpenters who have been constructing office furniture were praised highly for their work by W.H. Adkins, superintendent of construction. They are now making mail racks for branch post offices.

The workers are using their own tools, including three power saws, at construction warehouse 33, but a requisition for tools has been made.

With an average of 50 members in each nursery, a call for cotton and other products was made.

"Girls of marriageable age should be taught the arts of homemaking, of living and of getting along, of shopping and cooking, of budget and child care, of fabrics and dressmaking."

So suggested Mrs. Miyu Kikuchi, director of family relations, today in pointing out that children and young people should be prepared to resume normal life again after the duration.

"For those up to ten years of age, a class in traffic education should be arranged so that children can take care of themselves when once again we return to city streets," declared Mrs. Kikuchi.

The service division here at the center is seeking to bring educational opportunities to the residents through the Los Angeles board of education. Recommendations are being made for classes in trades, in crafts and in domestic sciences.

FROM THE OFFICIAL W.R.A. CIRCULAR

"Elementary schools and high schools will be maintained by the Authority, in cooperation with the States and the United States Office of Education. You may organize and manage nursery schools, as you no doubt will wish to do."
