TODD ANNOUNCES 40 HR WEEK FOR PROJECT WORKERS

Effective Sept. 9, all workers on the project will go on a 40 hour week with Saturdays off, announced Douglas M. Todd, project director. Pay for evacuee workers will remain the same.

Some employees will need to work more than the 40 hours because of the increasing work caused by speeded relocation, the project director said.

Nisei Work As Ship Radio Men

David K. Arata, formerly of Poston and Los Angeles, is back in California working as radio operator of a tuna fleet operating from San Diego.

Another Nisei working as radio man on a ship in Barranquilla, Columbia, is a George Watanabe. His job is to copy all radio messages that comes to his ship.

Watanabe writes, "I don't know where we're bound for next, but I hope we'll be back in the states soon."

WORKERS NEEDED AT MIAMI UNIV.

Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, about 30 miles from Cincinnati, needs five housemen to take care of dining rooms, kitchens, stairways and various dormitories.

The salary is about $80 a month plus room and board and there is a furnished house available for two families with children and also accommodation for single men.

Two first cooks will be paid $110 with room and board while two second cooks will be paid $88 a month, also with room and board.

EVACUEE SEEKS BROKER'S LICENSE

A hearing called "Clearly Discriminatory" by the American Civil Liberties Union was held recently in San Francisco to question Nobusuke Nakanishi, a Japanese alien who applied for real estate broker's license, the San Francisco papers reported. San Francisco Office of State Division of Real Estate claims there was no "racial issue" in the three hour hearing, but Ernest Besig, director of the Civil Liberties Union, said there was "no other issue but race."

Nakanishi, 45, returned to San Francisco last March from Topaz Relocation Center, after three years' detention, and applied for broker's license, a procedure which usually takes about ten days. His attorney claims "Prejudice on the part of the state commission against the Japanese enemy aliens," and sought to establish how many enemy aliens of other nationalities had been interrogated on their application for a license.

Character witnesses appeared to testify to Nakanishi's loyalty to the United States and his honesty, truthfulness, and good reputation. Nakanishi has been cleared by the Western Defense Command.

Decision of the hearing officer will be announced in several weeks, it was reported.

Federal Housing Being Sought

The relocation office urges all persons who are eligible and want federal housing, to apply for it in order to show the need for more being allotted. As yet, there are not enough housing.

Labor Day Is Announced A Legal Holiday

Monday, Sept. 3, Labor Day, has been announced as a legal holiday, and office workers on the project will not be at work.

Labor Day comes on the first Monday in September, and this year falls on the 3rd.

FORMER GILAN LIKES OXNARD

Mrs. Hanako Kato, who left 46-4-A for Oxnard, Calif., describes conditions there in a personal letter. Excerpts from the letter are as follows:

"At L.A. we had first chance on the boats so we rode all the way to Oxnard in comfort, but about 15 other passengers had to stand all the way from Santa Monica.

"Some really made money when they first came. Seems like a big story but one person made over $225.00 in 10 days alone. He was quite lucky...

"No difficulties in buying groceries. But one cannot find laundry soap at all. No tissue paper.

"The schools are all nice. They welcome back Japanese students... The children have made many new Mexican friends..."

TUCSON BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATED

THE LEAST THEY DESERVE

(Letter to N. Y. Times, Aug. 21, 1945.)

"Many publications from the states, reaching us over here waiting for the War Department to decide our fate, have carried articles recently publicizing the remarkable combat record of the 442nd Infantry Regiment, the so-called Japanese American regiment, and most of us are highly gratified at the recognition they are now receiving. Anyone who has been in this theatre at all has heard of their feats; indeed, it would be hard to overpraise them.

NOT KU KLUXISM

"Concurrently with such articles, however, has come a stream of news reports detailing a series of unbelievably discriminatory and terroristic treatment of the Japanese American many of them the families of these same soldiers, who are now, or will be, returning from the relocation centers and trying to resume a peaceful life.

"Among those who know the 442nd these reports arouse a just rage, and a deep feeling of shame that such Ku-Klux-Klanish violence exists in the States. Of course we all know that it does: Anti-Negro riots, anti-Semitic disturbances, and the many other instances of the prevalence of racial and minority feeling, expressed and unexpressed, have shooked us all into realizing that fascism is a mental and spiritual disease of the entire world, and must be fought.

JUST DECENT TREATMENT

"An article in Stars and Stripes again spotlights the apprehensions of Japanese American service men over here for the welfare of their families. Is there not some movement which could be undertaken to guarantee to those people, who thought their sons in the Army have demonstrated so overwhelmingly their loyalty to the United States and to democratic ideals--guarantee if necessary through national or State intervention--that they will be treated on a basis with other Americans? That is all they ask, and the least they deserve. Corp. David R. Wilson. Italy, Aug. 12, 1945.

FAIR TREATMENT

"Nisei Were My Buddies"
(From Milwaukee Journal, Aug. 24, 1945)

"To the Journal: I have been reading in different newspapers and magazines about the American Japanese soldier, who has fought here in Italy and in France. Also I have read that the American people or so-called American individuals are mistreating him.

"I have been side by side with these boys in combat and I know how good they are in combat. The Japanese American GI has spearheaded many an attack and has held the ground he has taken. He has beaten off many German counterattacks.

"These boys have been refused membership in different American organizations and it is only because of Japanese descent. A lot of us Americans overseas feel ashamed of the American people because of this.

"Some of these boys gave their lives in combat and that's more than anybody could ask for. The destiny of the American people depended on us as American soldiers. The Japanese Americans who fought with us here in Italy and in France ought to have the same rights and honors as any other American citizens.

"I formerly was member of 133rd infantry regiment of the 34th division. Ask any soldier of the 34th division and he will tell you what the Japanese GI has accomplished in combat. The American people ought to be thankful. I thank you.

Pfc. Carlo San Filippo

BUS MECHANICS THREATEN STRIKE AS NISEI IS HIRED

Mechanics at the Municipal Railway bus repair barn in San Francisco, who had threatened to quit because a Nisei began working there, voted 41 to 18 late Tuesday to remain at work.

The mechanics reached that decision after Mayor Lapham had told the workers that they could quit if they wished to, but that he'd back the Japanese American.

The controversy arose over Takeo Miyami, 37, born in Hawaii, a mainland

L.A. Firm Hires
28 Japanese

Out of 110 employees of the A. Moody & Co. mattress manufacturing firm in Los Angeles, 28 are Nisei and Issei.

General Manager Joe Moody is in the top brackets of those genuine Americans who do practical deeds on the right side.

When one of the first returnees he hired met with some opposition from other employees, he gave the staff the real facts about Americanism, fair play, cooperation, unity -- and won their wholehearted support.

Ex-Sgt. Harry Tanouye stresses a real point with his view of the Moody initiative: "I hope the returnees will remember to show their appreciation of his work."

resident for 19 years. An expert Machinist, he was certified by the Civil Service Commission and sent to report for duty at the bus barn. He recently returned from Tule Lake.

The mayor, accompanied by Utilities Commissioner E. G. Cahill, went to the barn and talked to the assembled machinists.

"This man is an American citizen," the mayor said, "and the Army said he is all right."

"I am in this position as mayor--I must back the right to work of anyone certified by the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Cahill and I have nothing to do with hiring workers, but it is our sworn duty to put them to work when they are properly certified."

"I would very much regret it if any man in permanent status here, or with such status pending, gave up his job in this matter. You're all badly needed. But this is not merely a local affair. This will be watched all over the country. If any of you choose to quit, I'm damned sorry, but that's all there is to it."

Representatives of the WRA joined the mayor, and brought a film portraying the gallantry of Japanese Americans in the U.S. Army. The S.F. Chronicle reported that there was some belief among the men that Miyami would not try to go back to work. Cahill, when asked if he was sure the men would report for duty again, said:

"No, I'm not sure, but I'm sure that if he does, he gets the job."

Miyami is married and has three children.
