GALA JULY 4TH CARNIVAL REPORTED HUGE SUCCESS

The city-wide 3-day Fourth of July carnival to raise money for the Student Scholarship Aid Fund was a huge success, Tad Hirota, director, stated.

The high school area was jammed with fun seekers as thousands of residents milled in and out of the concessions.

The festival began Friday evening with the first East-West all star ball game, which ended in a 4-4 deadlock, followed by the Coronation Ball at which time 5 girls were crowned queens of the carnival.

THE SECOND DAY

The second day of the fete opened with a tennis tournament and goh-shogi matches. In the afternoon East blanked West, 4-0, in the second all star tilt.

The councilmen's reception was held in Block 10 followed by the induction of the newly elected Council by Daniel Shield, US District Attorney in Salt Lake City, at the high school plaza.

The raffle drawing Sunday night climaxed the 3-day festival participated by work divisions, blocks, and private agencies.

RAFFLE WINNERS

The winner of the fortnighter luggage case was Helen Matsuda, 39-9-F. M. Miyamoto, 1-8-B, won the sack of rice, while Yasuo Abiko won the $100 oil painting, the special award of the evening.

The winner of the fortnighter luggage case was Helen Matsuda, 39-9-F. M. Miyamoto, 1-8-B, won the sack of rice, while Yasuo Abiko won the $100 oil painting, the special award of the evening.

Max Schmidt of the Utah Cannery Association, who was here last week to recruit women cannery workers for Ogden will return Wednesday.

At present Mas Nagata acting as cannery representative is interviewing applicants at the relocation office.

NEW COUNCIL INDUCTED

In a simple ceremony, the Community Council was inducted into office Saturday evening by Daniel Shield, US District Attorney of Salt Lake City, at the high school plaza.

The majority of the present council is made up of non-citizens.

Prior to the induction rites, a banquet in honor of the retiring and incoming councilmen and Shield was held at Dining Hall 10.

Friends and families of the transferees may freely correspond with them, it was stated.

The men sent to Leupp were William Takeo Ishii, Takeshi Morohoshi, Hisao Shibuya, Yoshio George Takaka, Yukio Teranishi, Takeo Saito, Wataru Nakahara, George Susumu Miyagawa, Shigcharu Kinoshita, Taneyuki Harada, and Akio Nakagawa.

Word was received in Topaz that the 11 residents who were transferred to the WRA center at Leupp, Arizona, on July 2 have arrived there safely, it was announced today.

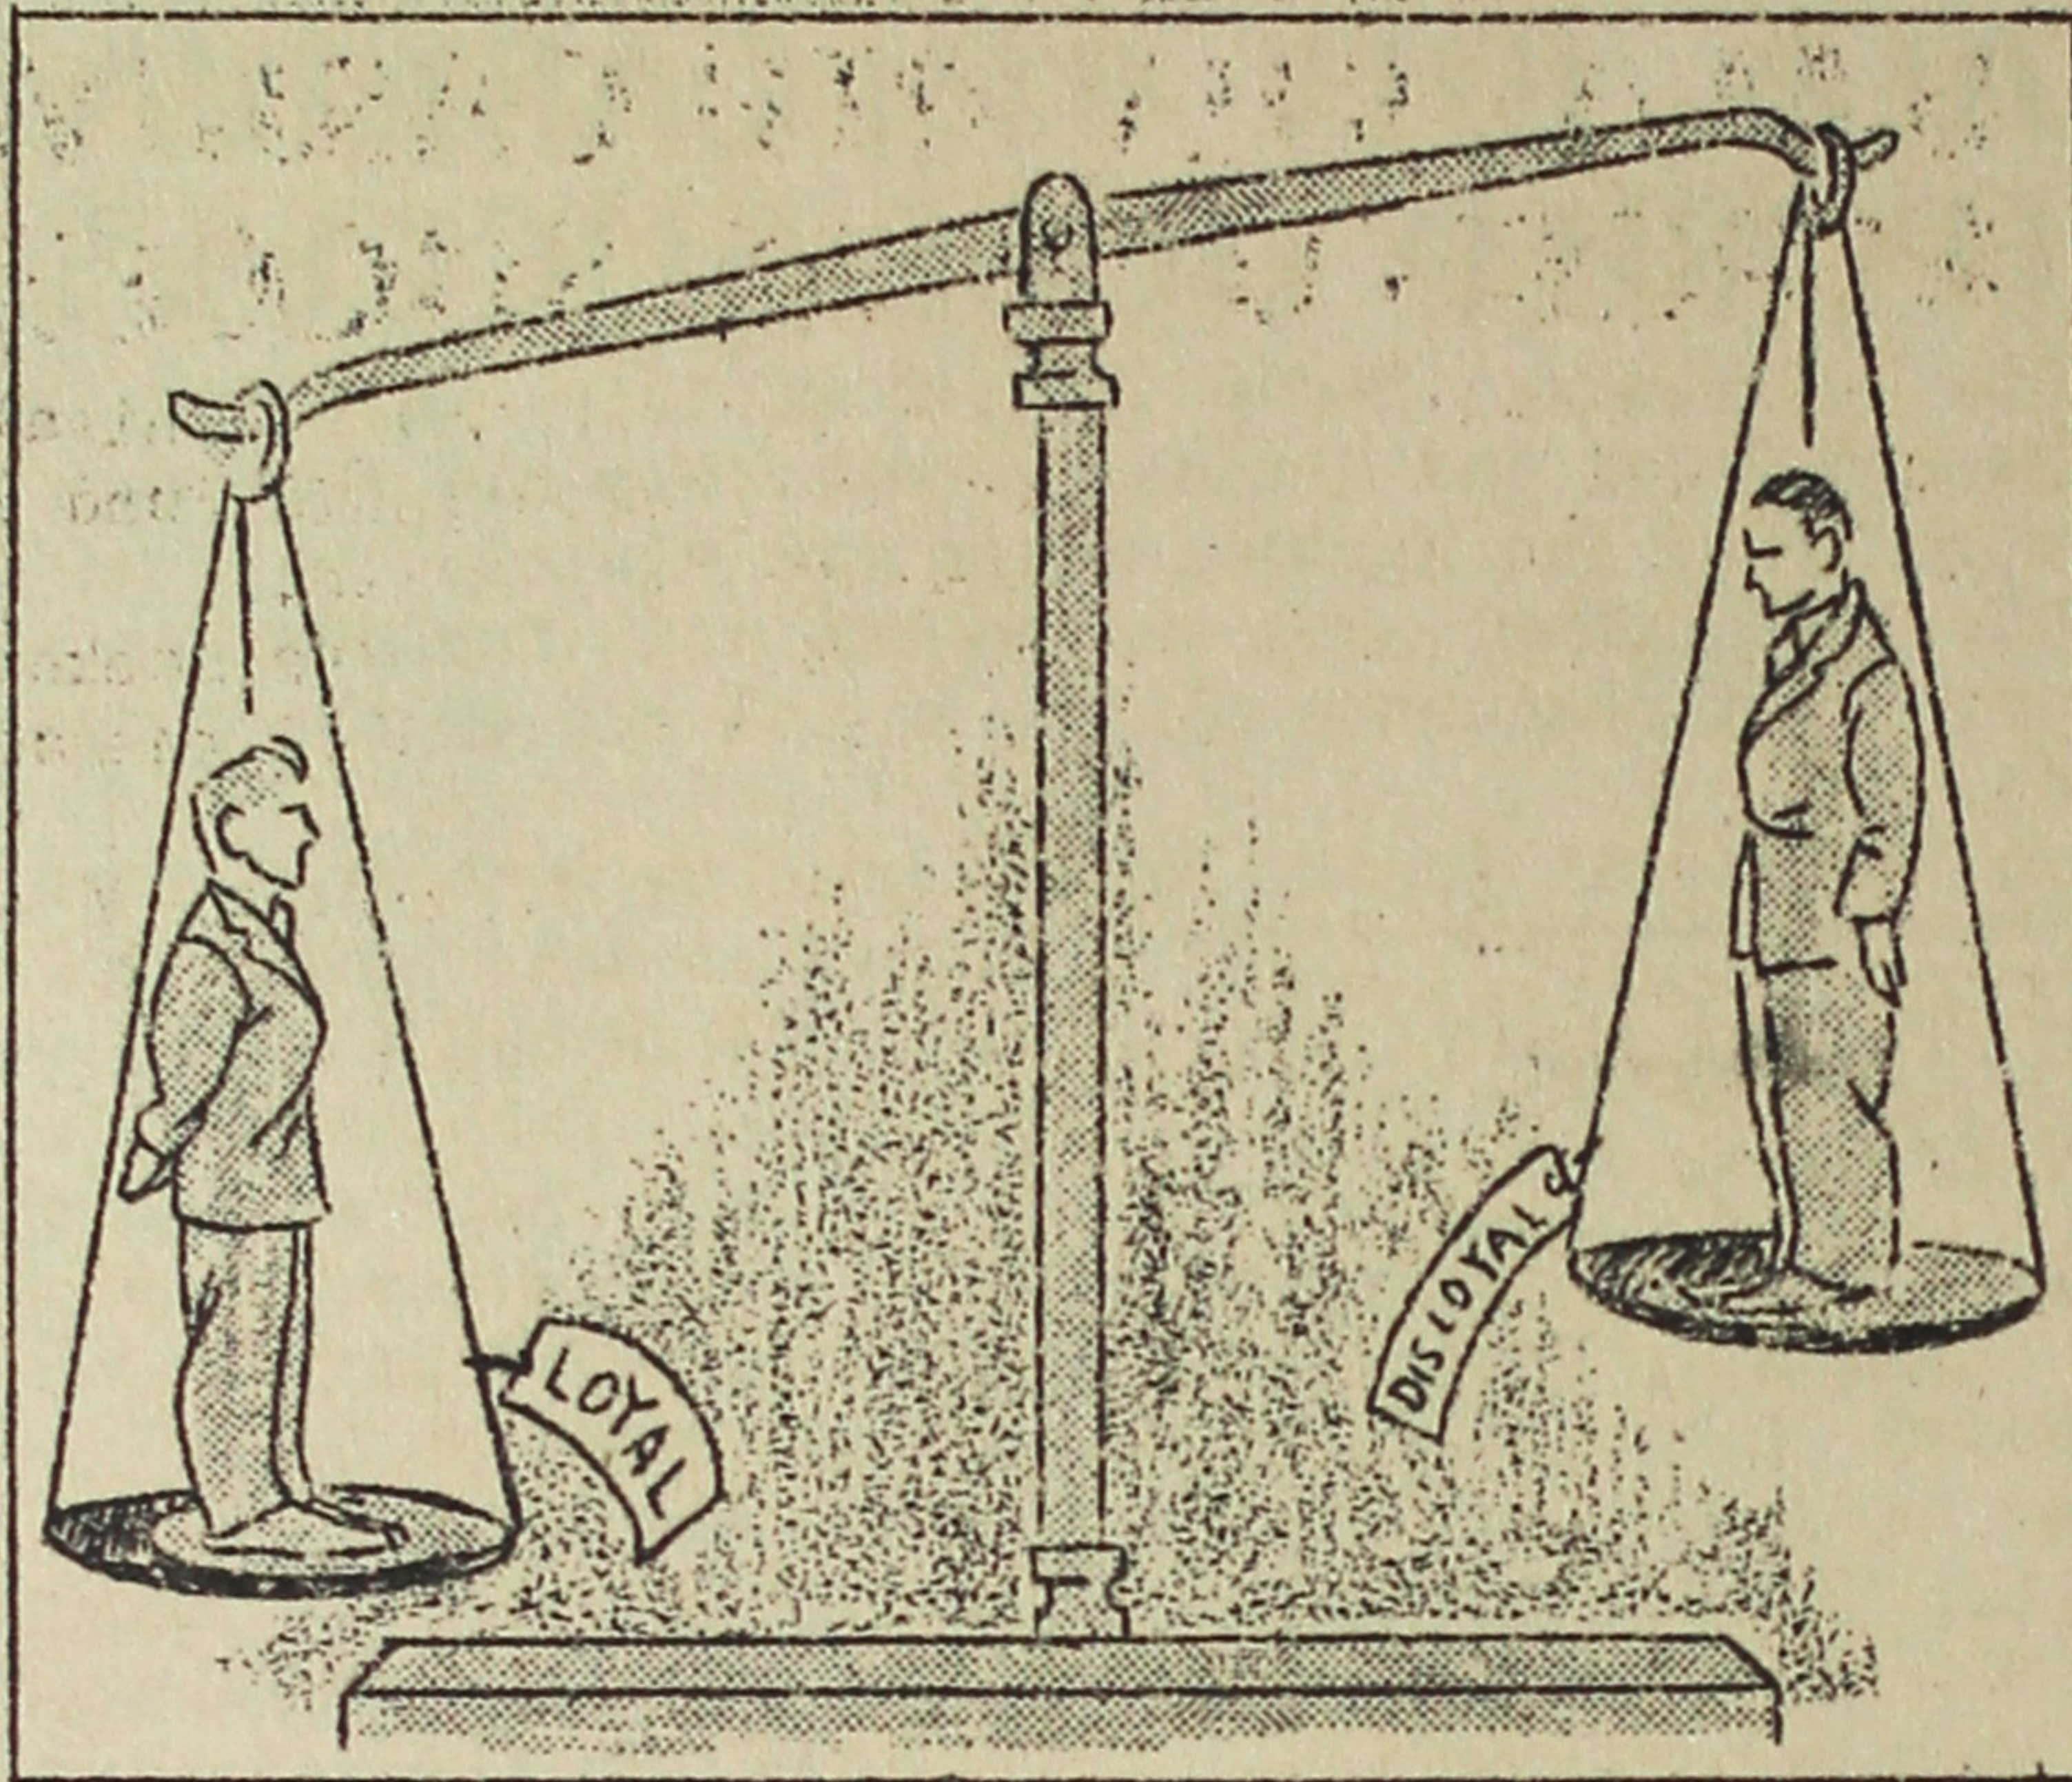

"These men were transferred because they had testified and signed a statement thereto that they were not only disloyal to the United States, but would also commit sabotage," said Charles F. Ernst, project director, in a letter to Dr. George Ochikubo, temporary chairman of the Council.

SEGREGATION INEVITABLE

Segregation of the loyal and the disloyal in the relocation centers has been in the minds of many persons, evacuees and others, since evacuation became a fact. The WRA recognized that in principle, it was logical, sensible, and a desirable thing. The execution was the sticker; how could the disloyal be differentiated from the loyal. Whether black, white, or yellow, a man's heart is difficult to probe.

But the idea was never abandoned. Through the year that the evacuees have been in the centers, they have received more general US public attention than at any other previous time. It became clear to the American public through the Poston and Manzanar incidents that most evacuees were loyal. (They can never know, however, unless they go through the same experience that the origins of the incidents were not entirely from un-American sentiments, but that many human factors were involved.)

The vast majority will be considered loyal. But among the so-called disloyal will be parents, brothers, sisters, relatives, and friends of the loyal. Many of the designated disloyal will be just as American, if not more so, than those considered loyal. Immediate heartaches will be plentiful, and those who find that their heart was after all in America will, perhaps, be as numerous.

Many will discover the truth hidden beneath layers of emotional upheavals after segregation is reality. It would be only fair and truly American to give these individuals a chance to indicate their change of heart. Such people will then be given proof of the greatness of the American democracy. They will make the best of apostles for the four freedoms of which America must continue to be a symbol. Under these circumstances the segregation of the truly loyal and the truly disloyal is a desirable end to the evacuees and to the nation and world at large.

EAST-WEST SPLIT SERIES

1ST GAME: The favored All-West ten averted defeat in the opener by scoring in the 8th to tie the game at 4-all. All-East's Kimura scored first on Takemoto's hit. The West retorted in the 3rd when Adachi tripled to tally Nakayama. Adachi followed, when Ishiyama slammed a fly to buckshort. East again tallied, in the 5th, when Takahashi's drive through infield scored Kats Yasuhiro. Takahashi then scored on Kimura's sacrifice. Ogawa's sacrifice in the 6th brought home East's 4th tally. Asai scored West's 3rd run when he homered over center in the 6th. In the 8th Asai added the tying run when pinch-hitter Sakuma doubled. Due to darkness the game was called off after the 9th inning.

2ND GAME: With the superb pitching of Sus Ota, East held and defeated the West, 4-0, Saturday. The victors' first 3 runs were made when Iida, Kanemoto, and Takemoto crossed home plate on 2 clean clouts outfield. East made its last tally when Ishii streaked home on Sam Yasuhiro's bingle to right field in the 7th stanza.

3RD GAME: In a wild game, which found hurlers Hashiguchi and Ota of the East and Honda of the West substituted, West ran over the opposing East, 10-8, Sunday. West's decisive revenge tallies were nicked in the history-making 6th when 9 Western runners crossed home plate. Adachi, who had saved the day for the winners, and Sano finished the game on the pitcher's mound.
