POSTED SENTRY CREATES STIR AMONG WORKERS

Project warehouses on Ernst. standing of arrangements, stated Roscoe E. Bell, assistant project director.

Responsible groups of residents had complained of the laxity of inspection which permitted delivery of undesirable food and beverage items into the center during the past week. To control the situation negotiations were made to post a civilian guard at the entrance to inspect all incoming vehicles.

However, due to a misunderstanding an MP was posted at this gate. Agricultural workers protested because delays were caused by the new arrangements. The difficulties were corrected at noon yesterday by the withdrawal of the MP.

A civilian guard will inspect authorization for use of motor equipment and to prevent recurrence of the above difficulties.

TSUKASAKI GETS OFFICER'S RATING

1st Lt. Masanobu George Tsukasaki received instructions from the War Department yesterday to report on Thursday, September 16, for services in the Medical Corps' dental branch at Camp Shelby, Mississippi.

MOMEN'S MORROR

BY TOMOYE TAKAHASHI

Babies are plentiful, goods are scarce, our income is insignificant, prices are up--what to do for baby gifts.

In gifts for babies there are a few basic points to remember. Never give anything with sharp edres to babies. Consider that nearly everyone is going to give the new baby made happy with ut it. A small something he can use immediate eyed woman is inclined to be ly. Therefore something that will be needed next year will probably be appreciated. Simplicity and washability is more important than eye-catching beauty.

Plastic rattles and discs, celluloid dumb-bell rattles, a ball or washable stuffed toys are good if they have no buttons for eyes or detachable parts to be chewed off or swallowed. Patterns for such animals were offered by this section free of charge some time ago.

Having a baby is an expensive affair. It may be a good idea to ask new parents to let you contribute to the layette. A dozen gauze diapers or a blanket, is a nice gift. For gifts that look nice, a hot plate with a spout for hot water to keep the food warm need not cost more than a little over a dollar, and will be found useful later. Even invalids in the family among the grownups will appreciate warm food on their tray and these dishes are just the thing for it.

Bottle warmers, lucite brush and comb set, or a record book with space for essential information and development tests, such as "Your Child Year By Year" ($2.75), will be welcomed by every set of parents.

For baby showers, a bath kit, contributed by friends would be really thoughtful, though inexpensive for the givers. It should consist of an apron of soft toweling for Mother, a baby towel set, soap, baby powder and mineral oil, small swabs, and room thermometer, all totaling about $3.50. If you are handy with the crochet hook or knitting needle, a (pair of booties, a soaker, or a little sweater or saque would be pretty and practical.

Reverting to Japanese custom, money gifts to be saved in Baby's account seems to be the best gift of all. War stamps and bonds can be given, to make this gesture both graceful and patriotic.

For that matter, money gifts are welcomed as wedding gifts, too. Speaking of wedding gifts, the choosing of them and being original also, is getting to be a real problem these days of manywedding week-ends. We might as well give it a thought while we are on the subject of gift giving.

For a really nice gift, a set of sterling table service for two is still available on the market. Stainless steel tableware with bone handles are fancier than plastic, wear longer, and are smarter on the table. Further, they are so much appreciated, and duplication of such a gift is not likely.

Where was it that we heard this: A good girl inspires a man, a brilliant girl interests a man, a beautiful girl fascinates a man, and a naughty girl entertains a man. May we add: And the sympathetic girl usually gets the man!

If a girl has large she loves luxury and cannot be morose and selfish. So they say. Take it or leave it.

If a man's parents have been happily married the chances are he will make a good husband.

In the world of fashions, the government now calls for conservation of materials thru slimmer lines and fewer frills. All of this is just super for nisei girls, as that is just the sort of effortless smartners we try to achieve. If you are relocating and need one roomy handbag in which everything goes on the train trip, one which lends personality to your new outfit, a good pattern is #2019 and #2020 from Ladies Home Journal, 5¢ each.

The simple black dress of good lines -- the love of your life -- should be easy to live with, never to be tired of, good company wherever you go, whatever you do. There is no reason to want to push it into the background after you have acquired it. They serve a daily purpose to keep you warm and make you feel perfectly at ease and comfortable. It is suitable for every occasion, it looks so well every time you need it, you take now .delight each time. It fills in for every occasion, and adds personality to you, gives you a lift and makes you want to improve yourself.

qualifications, The same oddly enough, hold true for that other love in your life, That Man as the Ideal Husband. Tomoye Takahashi
