FUEL WOOD: 400 LOADS CUT IN THREE DAYS

An approximate total of 135 loads of wood is being chopped per day by the holiday block lumberjacks. Since Monday noon, a total of about 400 loads of wood has been cut down, reported James F. Rains, assistant project director, Thursday.

Because of the soggy ground, 17 teams of mules are being used to haul in the timber instead of tractors and trucks.

"The holiday woodcutting will continue next week if the weather permits. The major problem is the cutting down of the trees, since the hauling can be worked out satisfactory," Rains said.

To supply the Center with sufficient fuel, about 25 loads of wood a day is required.

Plans for U.S.O. To be Discussed

Definite steps in the organization of a Rohwer USO will be taken tonight when the second USO meeting is held from 7:30 p.m. in 42-4.

All interested residents, especially parents, relatives and friends of men in the armed forces, are urgently asked to attend.

National Conference Planned For Discussions on Relocation

A national conference is planned for the early part of February, when evacuee delegates from the nine centers and representatives from the relocation field areas will meet with Dillon S. Myer, national director of WRA, to consider problems related to the future of evacuees and others of Japanese ancestry in the United States. 30 delegates in all, 18 from the centers and 12

CO-OP TO REFUND PATRONAGE DIVIDENDS TO BE PAID OUT NEXT WEEK

CO-OP STARTS CASH SALE

Beginning Jan. 3, the system of transacting sales with cash, instead of coupons, became effective at the Rohwer Cooperative enterprises.

Coupons will still be accepted; however, since they have already been recorded, no separate receipts will be given. No more coupons will now be sold.

For all sales made with cash, sales slips from the cash registers will be issued. Since the amount of rebates will depend upon these sales slips, patrons are asked not to destroy them, reported S. Muraoka, temporary publicity chairman.

Co-op members are asked to keep the slips and paste them on a piece of paper about 8½" x 14" in size or on old pages from the OUTPOST.

When 25 sales slips have rebates in forms of cash slips from their respective block Co-op delegates, according to S. Muraoka, temporary publicity chairman.

For every $100 worth of purchases, $3.12 will be refunded at this time as patronage dividends.

For the first fiscal year, the net profit for each $100 worth of sales was $15.60. This net profit of $15.60 will be distributed as follows: 20%, or $3.12, immediate rebates; 66%, or $10.30, gradual rebates to be paid back within the second fiscal year. The following will be retained: 10%, or $1.56, General Reserve fund; 2%, or 31¢, educational fund; 2%, or 31¢, welfare fund.

Rebates will also be made in the same manner to Rohwer residents who have relocated or gone to Tule Lake.

According to the financial statement for the Co-op's first fiscal year, total assets amounted to $68,535.58, which included current assets of $64,198.76 and other assets of $4,336.82; and current liabilities amounted to $17,115.13. The net worth was $51,420.45, which included membership fund of

CONFAB SET ON EVACUEE GOODS

To discuss evacuee property problems and find ways and means for the general betterment of the services, a four-day conference will be held from Jan. 17-20 in San Francisco.

Called together at the conference will be evacuee property officers and project attorneys from all the relocation centers and WRA evacuee property supervisors on the Pacific coast.

Irving B. Conner, evacuee property officer, and Jack Curtis, project attorney, will leave here on Jan. 12 to attend the meetings. They are expected back the latter part of this month.

Conner announced that a carload of evacuee goods from the Los Angeles district is now enroute, having left L.A. on Dec. 30, 1943. Including properties requested by 73 families, evacuees the privilege of working on California farms after the war, according to word received today from WRA headquarters in Washington.

Commenting on the evacuation of persons of Japanese ancestry in 1942, the resolution contains this pertinent clause, "Therefore, be it resolved, that if and when the military authorities shall decide that military necessity no longer requires that persons of Japanese ancestry shall be excluded from this State, the California State Board of Agriculture, in the light of that decision will use its influence to assure that race prejudice shall not jeopardize the lawful participation of this or any other group in the agricultural life and industry of the state."

National Director Dillon S. Myer stated, "This resolution strikes an encouraging note. Nevertheless, the people in the centers must guard against wishful thinking regarding the prospects of an early return to California. Relocation at the earliest practical date should continue to be a matter for serious consideration by all center residents. I firmly believe that with relocation will come renewed independence and self-confidence, which in the end will make for an easier post-war adjustment."

I'm asking for your continued cooperation and wishing you a happy and successful New Year.

The recent coal shortage problem has been met with shipments coming in as scheduled. Between Dec. 24 and Jan. 3, 36 carloads of coal were received.

To ease the woodcutting activities, six gasoline-powered portable cross-cut saws (drag saws) and one tractor-operated drag saw were recently purchased.

Two additional cut-off saws are expected to arrive soon.

ON ROHWER RELOCATION CENTER

Summer 1954, DeSha County. It is hot and sultry. Everything is still--the scenery is hazy from the rising heat waves--grass is green and tall. And down the dust covered highway appear two figures, an aged negro and a young lad. They are now passing what used to be the Rohwer Relocation Center. The paper is torn from the barracks, windows are broken, grass is growing wild, and there are no inhabitants. Rohwer Relocation Center is just another ghost town.

The stillness is broken, only by the footsteps of the pair.

Suddenly, the lad speaks up, "Granpa, what is the row of old shacks beyond the railroad?"

The old man looks down to the boy, and then viewing the abandoned camp, replies, "You may not know, but about the time you were born, there was a big, big war. All over the world people were being mistreated. Some of this was happening here in the United States. There were the innocent people of Japanese descent living in California and the western states. Many of them were forced out of their peaceful homes, many lost what they had, parted with their friends,--and they were headed for God knows where. Part of the people made their homes in those barracks. Then, they were scattered. Some went to Chicago, New York, the Midwest, and some went back to their fatherland. It's a pity, what happened,--there was much grief and heartbreak, they tell me... And then, my son, you're too young to understand yet, but later in the years, you'll learn that the world isn't what you learn in school. Even our Constitution,--what it says and what it does are two different things. Ah--, I see--, you don't under-

JOKER Y'S CENTER CHAMPIONS

Unscored Upon L.A. Joker Y's Tied by Fast Charging Broncos

By virtue of their hard-earned tie with the powerful and monstrous Broncos, the Joker Y's from Los Angeles were crowned the champions of the Lightweight League.

Except for a brief moment in the opening minute of the second half and a sensational pass play which was called back because of a penalty, the champions were never in the game from the opening kick-off until the end when they were racing against time.

The Broncos, using their varsity-like size to great advantage, pushed the little but mighty Jokers almost at will, but lacked the necessary punch to bring home the bacon. Great tribute must go to the gallant Joker line who stopped five Bronco threats inside their 10 yard line.

And much credit must go to Ken Nishikawa of the (Continued to Page 6)

Lead by hard hitting, Nobu Tanimoto and elusive Junji Sasaki, Bingo Kitagawa's Broncos covered some 235 yard to the Jokers' 18 yards back and forth throughout the game but failed to score. Showing tremendous goal line defensive power within their own 20 yard line, led by hard hitting Jokie Tamura, line-backer, and alert Smokie Sugii, the Jokers held the otherwise fast moving Broncos to a stand-still.

Shig Hayashi lead the Broncos march, averaging 4.09 yards per carry. Nobu Tanimoto came next with 93 yards in 23 attempts, followed by Junji Sasaki who averaged 2.95 yards per try.

Sweeps between the end and tackle on the Broncos strong side was most successful to them. Kitagawa and company gained some 223 yards on the ground which proved the running effectiveness.

Bronco's offensive power was equally classed by their newly re-inforced line that seemed stone-like to the tricky and fast Jokers.

Y'S UNSCORED UPON

The Jokers proved defensively strong by being unscored upon throughout the season. They scored eight points, six points against the Blue Devils and two against the Broncos.

The Y line missed the service of Kenny Ige, hard-hitting lineman, who could not play because of a leg injury.

Tada Q. Endo, co-captain of the champions, met with a mouth injury in the earlier part of the game.

Much credit should be given to Coaches Shiro Morimoto and Victor Matsui who organized this otherwise inexperienced team to championship calibre.

At a recent meeting, the Congress of Delegates passed a resolution that this rate of profit may be reduced during the present fiscal year to 12% through the reduction of prices on some of the merchandises. stand,--but you'll know, my boy, you'll know...Now, let me tell you about the-----."

Yes,--Rohwer Relocation Center!--this mile square of barracks, gravel lanes and ditches. This place which we call our home, our society, our world,--just what is it? Technically speaking, Rohwer Relocation Center) is merely an Union Station, with temporary lodgers. These lodgers, assembled here on account of the war, hailing from the Sacramento River in the north to the Santa Ana River in the south, are all waiting the parting day. Now acquaintances were made where old acquaintances left off. People with different backgrounds exchanged thoughts and became fast friends. It is our wish to be together with our friends--only forever--but it cannot be. Just as sure as a meeting is the beginning of the parting, we are slowly dispersing. We cannot remain in Rohwer forever; we must take our respective trains. From this Union Station, roads lead to Chicago, New York, Tulalake, and all over the nation. People with different ideals and ambitions pursue their own courses and travel their own highways. It is very hard for us to say goodbye to friends,--but we must.

"Life is an one way journey on an one way Highway."
