Roy Oshima, former graduate from Rohwer and now in the armed forces, writes from the Regional hospital in Fort Bragg, N. C. where he landed with a slight illness: "I still think and wonder about my future, friends, camp life, school, politics, and all. Being away from home and friends causes me to contemplate more deeply. Every day I'm getting better acquainted with my country and her people. For instance, I've met two war veterans sleeping across from my bed and had delightful conversations. They are both wounded...Evidently they knew what they fought for! They treat me as though I'm the veteran instead of them! Thank God, nothing like understanding, I say!"

KLONDIKE

It is usually accepted by the general public that a correct walking posture requires one to have chin in, straight back, and eyes looking directly ahead. But here is an instance when walking with downcast eyes resulted in some profit; in fact one dollar's worth of it.

When Miss "Lu-Lu" Gomi was walking nonchalantly down the walks by barrack twelve, she noticed a gleam in the ashes. Immediately she dived into the ashes and found two fifty cent pieces! That's the reason why you see members of the Hi-Lites staff with a fanatical gleam in their eyes rushing here and there staking claims. So don't think that Rohwer is being invaded by the "Forty-Niners."

This should teach us a lesson-not to walk with our heads in the clouds, but watch where we are going and keep our feet on the ground.

Esako Shimada writes: "...reached Lodi on April 1st at 12:30. The weather out here was quite warm during the week but when it came to the weekend it was windy and cold. The people are very nice to us...."

Kimi Fujita, summer '44 graduate, sends her regards enroute to Berkeley, Calif. where she and Yoshiko Hanazawa will attend the University of Calif.

We heard from Bill Ike-moto again; he is doing fine.....

WASHINGTON VISITOR
 Dr. Lester Kilde, Consultant in Education, will visit the Center Schools next week.

Sh! don't see too much, sh! don't know too much, sh! don't talk too much or a slip of the lip might toll all. Yes, we, the Syndicate boys, have just collected some hot news for the Romocs and Jullots of Rohwor.

- It seems that the Junior hopeats have taken over the Lil' 8 Balls. Notice Jiro-Kimura's nicknamo.... Stockton's Finest. Say, could it be Sadamo Fujimura? By the way did you know that Fred Oshima has gone (you know it!) into the baton business? Is that true, Mary?

At last Pogy Ryan, alias Ruby Matsuhiro, has found her Donald O'Connor (or he has found her). Geo, William it must be convenient to live in the same block!

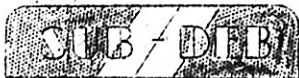

Noticed the new Jostor, Bon Furukawa, has gone head over heels for a certain gal in 11-A-1. Say, Shigo, give the poor boy a chance Ah yos!

Say hop cats, do you want to hear intormozzo? Just follow Hido Umino, who has a privato tutor.

Ah! Spring has its of-facts, look at our co-oditor, Yonoko Kijura. They say it could be that man.... Your Ham!

"ANI ANI" that's all wo hear from our S.B. Proxy, Yutaka Shiraishi. Wo wonder if that's why he hangs around the Hi-Lite's office. Could it be that Hawaiian-beauty?

Black-Mail Syndicate

Well, girls, it looks like Spring has come along. I guess we can drag out all our dirdndles and poasant blouses.

Have you noticed Francis Kawajiri looking swoot in hose? Really slick!

Sadaca Kuratomi really looks cool in her green print dirdndle..... Mary Matsumoto certainly makes the boys' eyes pop out with her pink scalloped jumper.

Speaking of clothos, while gandering around the campus, Judy Saito's sharp gray suit caught our eyes. Really something to check over!

Wo certainly like Michiko Oga's argyle swoater, a sportswear swoonsation.

Margarot Katackab red and white striped low-torso is really an eye catcher.

Looking neat and collo-giate in her clothes is none other than our Agnes Awaya.....

Keep your eyes pooled for other Springstors.

ZEPHYRS CROWNED CENTER CHAMPS

Before a jam-packed crowd the undefeated Zephyrs won a close victory over the hard-dying Jesters by a score of 24-22. By virtually freezing the ball for the last three and a half minutes of play the Zephyrs rolled over their ninth consecutive opponent. With this victory went the championship cup, bought with donations received from previous games.

For the first time in the season the Zephyrs were trailing at the end of the first quarter. With Lindy Kusumoto and Yutaka Shiraishi keeping the deadly two-some, Ich Horimoto and Tosh Ike, throttled, the newcomers, Ben Furukawa and Jackson Kitahata, piled the score for the Jesters. Not being used to losing at the half, the Zephyrs poured on the heat till they were sitting on a comfortable two basket lead as the half-time whistle blew.

Coming back and swishing the net was the fast forward wall of the Jesters who really threw a scare into the Zephyrs squad. At the end of the third quarter the Jesters were leading by a score of 19-15. As the last quarter came into view the cool and versatile Zephyrs squad tied the score and a few minutes later put themselves within sight of victory. In the perishing second the Jesters scored hopelessly as the Zephyrs had already a five point lead.

Playing their final game of the season and doing a bangup job were Tosh Ike and Don Hisaka who really showed all-star material. And of course you know Ich Horimoto who always turns in a good game. Now to give a little credit to happy-clad Jesters....amon.

LOLLYPOPS WIN.....54-11

The fierce Lollypops met the Billantoes for the second time on the court. with determination written on their countenances....but under different conditions for this game introduced a new player whom we have never seen before playing for the Lollypops. Though today her name and her expert playing is in the mind of a great many....and zowie, look out, opponents!!! You would not believe it but she is actually another one of THE YOSHIDA'S..her name being Eva or "Lefty".

During the first quarter both teams were sizing each other up when Eva (with her deadly southpaw) came whizzing by with the ball and with the greatest of ease began making basket after basket...also with Tsukamoto following right in behind. Although the opposing guards tried to stop the ever tricky and fast forwards, their attempts were in vain. This continued throughout both the first and second half and the game ended with the score of 54-11, in favor of the dynamic Lollypops!

By SEMI

With the closing of the Casaba season so will this column cease to be..... thank heaven! We hope we have always brought the inside dope on your headline stars and games.

Last week-end wound up the current season with the undefeated Zephyrs copping the top berth. Taking second were the once defeated Aggie quintet. In third place and almost throwing the league into a three-way tie were the happy-go-lucky Jesters.

Spoking of hilarious affairs none will top the game between the Jesters and the Bombardiers. With such old time players as Archie Yoshida, Dick Kusumoto, and Terry Chono pacing the Jesters, they defeated the Bombardiers 35-13. During the last half the hapless Bombardiers scored two points while the rampaging Jesters moved with the greatest of ease. Being the first time they played they did all right for themselves.

REBOUNDS

Once again the Royal Harvesters almost upset the Bruins...Pacors played with four team members and one odd man---Jiro Kimura, yet they defeated the Bombardiers...Frod Oshima made three consecutive baskets; conclusion--he must be taking lessons from the Lil' 8 Balls....Eva Yoshida, now recruit of the Lollypops, in a class by herself, displayed her phenomenal ability.
