RELOCATION CETS RESPONSES

WASHINGTON, April 15 -Plans of the WRA to facilitate transfer of Americanborn Japanese from relocation centers to Eastern farms, homes and industry were disclosed Thursday, according to an article in the Commercial Appeal (Memphis, Tenn.).

Seven Japanese already are en route/ here to work for Secretary of Interior Ickes and Sam Rice, one time Washington baseball star.

Officials said machinery is being set up to speed release of loyal internees for work along the Atlantic seaboard to help solve the manpower shortage.

Ickes and Rice, who operate adjoining poultry farms near Olney, Md., will work the seven men and women as poultrymen and domestics. Four are graduates of California Polytechnic Institute and are highly skilled poultrymen.

WRA pointed out that they have been ordered to rehabilitate the Japanese who were transferred from the West coast by the Army soon after Pearl Harbor. They pointed out the evacues have a wide variety of skills and many are high school or college graduates. In addition to those trained in agriculture, the internees include stenographers and secretaries, managers and domestic servants.

Senator Albert B. Chandler (D., Ky.), chairman of a special subcommittee which recently visited relocation centers, said he "whole heartily indorses" the Ickes-Rice move.

"If more people would follow the plan, the need for relocation centers would disappear," he said. RANKIN OPPOSES

But Representative John E. Rankin (D., Miss.), took an opposite view. Noting that 2500 Japanese-Americans arrived recently from Hawaii to be trained for military service, he charged they "aided in the Fifth (Continued on page 4)

SOCIAL WORKER'S DISCUSS WRA CENTERS AT ST. LOUIS

With four relocation centers, Granade, Topaz, Poston and Rohwer, represented, a National Conference of Social Work was hold at St. Louis.

Dr. J. B. Hunter, Community Services director, presented a paper dealing with relocation and evacuation which was followed by a forum participated by Charles Ernst, Project director at Topez; John Powell, adult education director at Poston; and John A. Moore, chief counselor of welfare at Granada.

Relocation was the subject of two other meetings, one an important section gathering addressed by Powell, and the other led by Ernst. The entire group engaged in a round table luncheon forum to which interested people were invited.

Dr. Hunter reports that St. Louis has a strong laymen's committee organized to assist relocation evacuees to find new employment and temporary lodgings.

17 RELOCATED NISEI IN MICHIGAN ARE "SUCCESSES"

MONROE, MICH., April 15, 1943 -- Proving a success with Michigan's first experiment with Americans of Japanese descent who have been released from relocation camps are the 17 youthful nisei working at the Greening Nursery Co. at Monroe. After rubbing shoulders at movies and soda fountains with them, Monroe has found that the newcomers are as American as Yankee Doodle and ham and eggs, is the story carried in "The Detroit News."

According to Howard D. Fashbaugh, general manager of the company, his Japanese American employees are aiding in the war effort by making possible thousands of victory gardens by enabling his company to ship various fruit trees and vegetable plants.

The experiment had its start when Fashbaugh learned that more than 125,000 Japanese Americans had been interned, among whom he found many skilled workers, so he placed the proposition to his employees.

"There are many loyal Japanese Americans in these relocation centers. The workers are skilled and industrious and we need help. Are there any objections?

None disapproved and in two weeks 17 recruits were put to work. They were received tolerantly and after the first Saturday night in town, were invited by the local church to use its recreational and social facilities.

In conclusion to this "nisei success" story, Fashbaugh said he is contemplating more recruits in the near future.

Along with the article. the paper carried a halfpage of pictures depicting life on the Greening farm.

RULES SPAKE BULL

In this issue are the things to do in case of snake bites.

First, apply a tourniquet, a few inches above the bite. Use a handkerchief, cord or even a shoestring which can be tightened by inserting a stick and twisting.

Bind the limb just enough to retard oirculation. If it is applied too on too tightly or kept long, gangrene is likely to set in. It is important, therefore, to release the tourniquet every 10 or 15 minutes for about a minute at a time.

Next, make a cross-out incision at each fang mark incision at each fang mark the skin, care should be about 1 inch deep and 1 taken not to out too deeply inch long, preferably connecting the fang marks. Suction should then be applied to the affected spot for at least half an hour.

If a special suction bulb can be obtained, it will be found highly efficient. However, one may remove enough of the venom by suction with the mouth, making sure that there is no abrasion in the mouth, for the venom is effective wherever it may enter the blood stream.

The principal thing to do is to use suction and remove as much venom as quickly as possible.

While the outting advised should go through the skin, care should be (Continued on page 6) B.Y.U .-- Provo Utab

"Postmarked" will be a column devoted to news from former Center residents.

Living conditions and attitudes of people in the new communities will be described.

First in this series is a letter from George Uyeda, former District II leader. He is now attending the Brigham Young university, Provo, Utah:

I wish to thank you most sincerely for the various community activities publicity in the past.

I believe the WRA advised the Japanese-Americans against colonization in one vicinity. This is something that any outgoing student should take into full consideration we are in abnormal times. Our student body has been cut down from 2800 to 1500 due to the war.

The school atmosphere -both the students and professors have been of the very best -- is friendly and helpful. Living quarters may be obtained, the average cost of living running from $40 to $50 a month.

Work opportunities under our present conditions are fairly good here in Provo.

We have rather a strong math department supplemented by a good physics department. Accounting, sciences, music and religion are very good. Commercial courses are fairly good along with economics. The field of marketing, retailing, fi-nance and banking are also to be recommended.

The school year on a quarterly basis, a semester's course being completed in one quarter lasting from March 29 June 14.

Therefore, it is almost impossible to judge BYU with the school courses that we were in prior to our evacuation.

This, I believe, will give an anticipating student a skeleton view of his life here on the campus.

SAN JOAQUIN ASPARAGUS CROP THREATENED BY COST

The following article, Day Paid Field Workers," was taken from the Lodi News-Sentinel of April 13.

WALNUT GROVE, April 12--A shortage of field hands which has caused growers in the Sacramento river delta area to pay as high as $1.20 per lug to asparagus outters today threatened to cause the abandonment of many patches of the product.

George R. Wilson, manager of the DiGiorgi Fruit corporation's operations in the delta, said one lot of 31 Filipino asparagus cutters has been averaging $35 per day each.

"The growers are paid 7 cents a pound for No. 1 white asparagus and 8 cents a pound for No. 1 green," he said. "Contrasted with this return the cost of outting is extremely high.

Wilson said some of the growers are preparing to turn their asparagus lands to other uses because of inability to meet the high pay demanded by experienced cutters when such can be obtained. He said:

"Cutters are receiving, on piece work, from $1 to $1.20 per field lug for outting. On straight time some of the cutters are paid as high as $1 an hour."

An unheralded sophomore casaba team, sparked by the brilliant playing of towering Henry Oga, captured the Rohwer High Basketball championship when they defeated the seniors in a close 25-24 final last week.

Behind 15-9 at the half, the sophomores started the second half with a bang when Oga slipped through the crackling senior defense for two quick lay-in shots to start the sophomore offense clicking. From then on it was anybody's game. The lead see-sawed back and forth until the closing moments of the game when a free throw and another basket by Oga again, cinched the game for the sophomores. In addition to Oga, Shig Ohata, player-coach of the champion quintet, played a stellar role at his guard post.

In the semi-final windup the sophomores edged out a win over the classy junior champs, 13-12. The game was close all the way and featured a close defensive game. Fred Sato's free throw at the last minute was the margin of victory. -- Hosen Oshita, high school correspondent.

CONCENTRATED LIVING

Throughout April and May 110,000 inhabitents in IO WRA relocation centers will quietly hold their first anniversary of the evacuation. The passing of these two months would mark one year of concentrated living for us.

Concentrated in the sense that we are living in a close-knit community, in none too spacious barracks. We are sharing the daily cares of our lives--eating the same food in identical mess halls, working our hours for a set basis of pay and enjoying and sorrowing over similar little occurrences.

We are alike racially-for we are Japanese by blood --but we have been culturalized in American society.

Concentrated living has not brought us any direct benefits, but it has cleared the way for a new phase of living--relocation.

The parodic reasons for the hegira that led us to Rohwer must be considered a forgotten story, but the history that we must write for the future is ours and ours alone.

In looking to the future, today, we feel that we must determine whether we shall continue to hold on to the lassitude of concentrated relocation life without privacy of the usual domestic homes or whether we shall seek resettlement in widely dispersed localities.

The WRA on our first anniversary has entered that phase, but it is upon individual and personal judgment that the culmination of the program will depend.
