COUNCIL WILL SELECT COMMITTEE TO MOOT PLANS, SAYS JOHNSTON

"All profits that are being made by the canteen will be turned over to the cooperative association as soon as it is formed," announced Project Director Ray D. Johnston yesterday. "A strict account has been kept."

For the past few weeks the residents of the Center have been subjected to constant stream of unfounded rumors concerning the management of the Center store. Project Director Johnston reassured the people that in due time the canteen will revert to the cooperative association.

Adult English students will be assigned to their classes, classrooms and hours from 9 a.m. to 12:15 and 1:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow and Friday in 31-2-E.

The Center store in order to start was obliged to borrow money to buy stocks for the store. Johnston in his statement replied that all the debt has been repaid. The profits derived from the sales at the canteen were used to further stock the store.

TO THE EDITOR

FURLONGHS AND LEAVES

In your RSO article, you made no distinction between "leaves" and "furloughs." It may interest you to know that officers go on leaves, enlisted men on furloughs and that an absence up to four days is generally known as a pass.

THANKS FROM STOCKTON

We want to thank the many, many friends whose names appeared on the list of those contributing to the fund left at Friedberger's Jewelry store to finish out the Humbarger silverware! We were overwhelmed at such generosity. More than ever we know that such friends will never be forgotten.

Will each of you accept our thanks.

WANTS FEM COLUMN

We do enjoy the OUTPOST, but my friends and I were wondering why you don't have a section devoted to women's activities. Perhaps a feminine column would be the answer. I'm sure the interest is there.

Suggestion is well taken.---Ed.

EDITORIAL

STUDENT RELOCATION

Dr. N. R. Griswold in the last issue of the OUTPOST reminded all qualified students that insufficient finances should not keep them from registering with the National Student relocation council. The question posed by student relocation, shall I or shall I not leave for college, is a serious one and deserves careful consideration.

First of all, it undoubtedly means a drain on center leadership in some instances, and also, a loss to the cultural activities.

But on the other hand, it offers an outlet to students who are beginning to feel intellectually frustrated. It is giving them opportunities for education not otherwise available here.

So then we have two considerations: what is the student doing for the community, and what is the community doing for the student.

It is not always true that college is more desirable than the Center life at the present. Colleges may be able to offer knowledge, but knowledge in itself does not always add up to wisdom. Knowledge plus understanding give us our academic "four" of wisdom.

And many who are alive and awake to Center life and its activities are gaining just these things, knowledge and understanding.

The degree, A.B., is of consequence only when it is a token of accrued wisdom. Otherwise, it is meaningless. It is a shallow pursuit if a student fails to understand this.

Therefore, the Center is enriching many of us with aspects of life that a college cannot supply.

Whether the student is making a contribution to the Center life of such a degree as to make him indispensable to its well-being and to make his loss irreplaceable, is a matter for him to decide. He alone, of course, should know best.

Above all, none of us should entangle our minds with a do or die complex, this silly martyrism that makes us useless to the Center, to ourselves, to society.

SANTA ANITA WINS

SHIRO MORIMOTO SPARKS S.A. IN GRUELING GRID BATTLE

Shiro "Magic foot" Morimoto, a modest 200-pound guard who pulled out of the line to assume the punting duties, sparked the Santa Anita all-stars to a brilliant 7 - 0 triumph over the powerful Stookton all-stars last Sunday before an overflow crowd of 4000 fans.

Morimoto, punting like an All-American, averaged an amazing 42.3 yards per boot from the line of scrimmage to keep Stookton in the hole throughout the afternoon. One of his high spiral kicks traveled 62 yards. Another punt soared 45 yards and went out of bounds on the three-yard line to definitely stifle any hopes of a Stookton uprising.

The Santa Anitans' touch-down was set up when guard Kazumi "Choo Choo" Tsujimoto crashed in to block George Kagawa's attempted punt on the 22-yard stripe from where the ball bounced back to the four-yard line. After failing on the first two downs, field general Dazo Komatsu plowed

ROHWER TEAM CHALLENGED

The Center's final inter-sectional football game between the Rohwer center team, a merger of the Stookton all-star squad and the Santa Anita all-star team, and the newly organized Stookton unit coached by Matsuo Okazaki will be held on Sunday at 2 p.m. at the football field.

Under the capable leadership of Okazaki, a former Lodi High star, and paced by the brilliant running of Sanji Teranishi with George Kishida upholding the line, the Stookton team will field a versatile and powerful combination.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SUNDAY'S TILT

A feature of last Sunday's closely-fought grid tussle between the Stookton and Santa Anita all-stars was the devastating line plunging of fullback Hiro Nakada. Spearheading the Santa Anita offense, he, time and again, crashed through the Stookton line for yardage, occasionally breaking loose for long gainers.

Close behind his play were the gallant goal line stands of the plucky Stookton forward wall, who twice held their opponents inside their three-yard line.

Beefy Shiro Morimoto, with his lengthy and lofty spirals, put on a classy punting exhibition in Frankie Albert style. Passing, running and kicking, southpaw George Kagawa carried the brunt of the Stookton attack. Bruno Kitagawa played a bang-up game

KEEP F.K.O.
WITH POSTED

Although you may or may not have noticed, acting as advisory coach for the Santa Anita gridgers last Sunday was Dick Kunishima from nearby Jerome relocation center. Kunishima was a star athlete for Whittier State college in football and baseball. Lodi and Stockton baseball fans remember him as a classy infielder of the powerful San Pedro Skippers. Kunishima will most likely mentor the Jerome eleven.

Also here for the game Sunday from Jerome was Mo Domoto, formerly of Oakland, Calif. Domoto was once the ace of the state championship East Bay all-star eleven of a few seasons back and ranks along with Lodi's Matsuo Okazaki and San Francisco's Sim Nambu as the best nisei backs in Northern California's gridiron history.

One of the many interested Caucasian spectators was "Slug" Miller, coach of McGehee high school football team. He seemed to be pretty impressed over Sunday's performance but whether he will have his squad meet the Rohrer all-stars is another question.

No serious injuries occurred during the hard fought battle. George Furuka, Stockton's plunging fullback, sprained his ankle on the very first play of third quarter and never saw action again.

LIGHTWEIGHT SIGN STOCKTON LOSES FOR FOOTBALL

over for the score. Mizufuka split the uprights for the seventh point.

The winners missed two golden opportunities to cross pay dirt in the first half. Striking inside the five yard line twice, they were stopped cold by the Stockton's beefy line, which was led by the stellar playing 213-pound Bruno Kitagawa, Captains Ed and Lloyd Fujitani and Mel Fukumoto.

Although only tipping the scale at a mere 155 pounds, Hiro Nakada, Santa Anita's plunging fullback, was the offensive star of the battle. He was the only consistent ground gainer of the day.

Southpaw George Kagawa led the Northerner's futile attempt to stay in the running but never had a chance to get off his long aerial attack, while Butch Hayashi showed signs of flashiness despite his leg injury.
