LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Taro Kawa of Gila, having taken down the temporary construction boarding in front of his new fish market, prepared to open for business in a few days, said Los Angeles WRA recently.

The market carries the name "Enbun Company," and is well-equipped with bright new fixtures. Toshinaru Yamashita, also from Gila, is the first employee. The store will handle groceries as well as fish and is located at 248 East First across the street from its pre-evacuation address and it is next door to Oyedans' 5 10 25¢ store. It is the second business to get underway in Bronzville formerly Little Tokyo.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF. — Writing a column, re-writing news and proof-reading for the Los Angeles Tribune, is the job picked out by Hisaye Yamamoto, former editor, columnist, and "star reporter" of the Poston Chronicle.

DENVER NEEDS HUNDREDS OF WORKERS

For Dehydrating, Vegetable Packing, Ice, Lumber, Metal, Foundry Establishments

Workers are urgently needed in the Denver area in dehydrating plants, vegetable packing sheds, ice distribution lumbering, foundry and sheet metal plants, and other establishments, according to the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately 250 female dehydrating plant workers are needed in the Denver area alone. One of Denver's leading dehydrating plants is paying 55¢ per hour during the orientation period (about 10 days) at that time, workers advance to 60 or 65¢ according to aptitude. At the end of 30 days, Steven Jin, Taro's mother Tomi and his brother Ken, who attends Roosevelt High School in Los Angeles, are all living at the Kawa home, 216 South Soto, since leaving Gila in January. The Kawas' baby boy, Steven Jin, was born June 8, in Los Angeles, perhaps the first Nisei child to have Los Angeles as its birthplace since 1942.

She was one of about 150 Japanese, mostly Nisei, who attended the June 25 social get-together of Japanese Americans at International Institute, where she met several friends from Poston. The parties are held each month.

Hisaye enjoys her new job immensely.

The pay? "It's $35 a week," she said. "That's the standard rate for cub reporters in Los Angeles, and I'm tickled over getting my chance to break in."

they are on an incentive pay status permitting the workers to make 70 to 75¢ per hour according to skill. The work week is 48-hours with time and one-half over 40 hours.

Vegetable packing sheds in Denver will be demanding about 500 male workers within this week. Packers, car loaders, and so forth are needed, but work will be arranged according to the skill of applicants. Experienced workers will be utilized in their highest skill. Packing shed work pays from 80¢ up, according to the task performed. This type of work will continue to about October 15, 1945, at which time workers are assured other employment.

Ice distributors are in need of 150 workers to assist in the distribution of ice to the vegetable packing sheds. Wages range from 70¢ to $1 per hour depending upon individual skill, with time and one-half over 40 hours. Workers will average about 60 hours weekly throughout the season.

Lumber operators all over Colorado have openings for about 350 with pay ranging from 75¢ to 82¢ per hour for common labor on a hourly basis, and contract basis for tasks, such as $4 per M for falling, limbing and bucking. Experienced workers can earn $1 per hour on a piece rate basis on other tasks.

Fifth sheet metal workers are needed with jobs as laborers at 65¢, sheet metal helpers at (cont. on Unit I page)

Where shall we go from here? That is the question uppermost in our minds after the announcement of the closing of the unit by October 1. We were expecting the center to close all the time but some of us were unable to do much else than wait.

It's no time now, we feel, to ask or plead to have this camp open until later as what has got to close must close, and it may be worse to have to be shoved out in the January cold than in the mild October.

The WRA doesn't know our problems as individuals, or why we can't relocate or how much financial aid we need. It's better late than never, so what we should or rather could do, is to present our individual problems to the relocation advisor and let him help you. If they can't help, they may be able to tell your problems to the ones who can.

As it has been said, housing is the major problem outside and lumber to build with is quite hard to get. It may expedite the exodus if housing of some kind is provided. With a place to live, we can always work to eat.

It seems the government could secure lumber and build small homes for the people willing to go back to their home towns but with no houses to live in. Perhaps these barracks we live in now can be torn down and transplanted in different parts of the states. If the materials are available, most of the people, being ingenious, in building, might do wonders in providing homes for themselves. Or are we dreaming?

MAN WISHING TO RETURN WILL SELL CROP AT $800

A man planning to return to California immediately wishes to sell his crop. He has 25 acres of vegetables as follows: 4 of cabbage, 6 of tomatoes, 3 of green beans, and 2 of celery. The following is now being planted: 1 of cucumbers, and 7 of beans, and 2 of celery.

There seems to be a good stand and all the crops which were up were not seriously damaged by hail, the WRA in Denver stated. He will sell at $800 cash, with no equipment, on a 20-80 basis without use of equipment, and on 30-70 basis with use of equipment.

The man is willing to sell farm equipment and household furnishings, and a fine room house is available, just four miles north of Denver. An adequate supply of water is available. See the unit relocation office if interested.

寂しい轉任所で独立祭を迎ふ

烟硝の臭みが鼻につく戦乱の巷に米国は意美深き連日独立祭を迎えた。

平和時代には我々も花火の爆音につられて大いにその奉祝氣分を挙げたものだが、日米戦争の必然的受難として同胞社会目は根こそぎ穿ち去られて昔日の影をこめず、今や在米同胞は收容所に、又は全米各地に散り、くも雨乾住を余儀なくせられ、誰も寂しい為め餘り賑ひも無いやうである。殊にホストン隨一と呼称されたカットンウッドホテル劇場が去日早朝に突如と怪火の爲めに焼失し、同時に有る筈だった独立祭奉祝芝居も餘興もすつかり消失したのは洵に残念至極である。

我々は、胸け暮れ憂鬱として戦報に氣を揉み激化の戦況を凝視しつつ、唯々、平和到来の日を一日千秋の思ひで待つのみである。
