SO BOYS EXPECTED TO TAKE TEST

Fifty Amache youths between the ages of 17 and 22, were scheduled to have taken the third Army-Navy Qualifying test this morn-ing at the high school, according to Miss Grace Lewis, . vocational advisor, yesterday.

Those passing the twohour examination will be eligible to enter any college at government expense to take the special training program to provide army specialists and technicians. At the same time, trainees are to receive regular army pay. Passing this two-hour grind does not constitute enlistment.

OUTSIDE PRE-INDUCTIEES

NO LONGER REQUIRED TO PAY FOOD AND LODGING ON VISIT

A new order has been issued to relocation centers by Director Dillon S. Myer, whereby an evacuee on seasonal work leave or indefinite leave who has been accepted for army service may visit his family or friends without the customary payment for food and lodging required of an ordinary visitor, according to Willis Hanson, assistant relocation program officer, Monday.

Such person may either make an application to a relocation officer prior to his arrival and have his entry certified upon -continued on page 3 -

MARUMOTO, OSHITA REPORT FOR "EXAM"

George Satoshi Marumoto and Mitsuye Oshita, members of a group of five Amacheans who created national notoriety by their refusal to report for preinduction physical examination, have changed their minds and reported for their army physical, according to Valter J. Knodel, local selective service office r, Tuesday. They were duly returned to this center to await further orders.

They had been held, along with three others, at Englewood Correctional Institution, near Denver, for grand jury action on charges of violating the for grand Selective Service Act. There was no indication that the other three would follow suit and change their minds.

PROWERS DRAFT BOARD ORDERS 25 MORE TO REPORT TODAY

Twenty-five all-Amache youths registered with the Prowers county local board no. 35 were scheduled to. have entrained from Lamar early this morning to take their pre-induction physical examination at Denver, alter J. Knodel, center selective service officer. Five pre-inductees originally scheduled for this trip were given extension, in order to take the Army-Navy qualifying test.

13 AMACHEANS PASS "PHYSICAL"

The first official report on the status of the 34 Amacheans who took their pre-induction physical "exams" on Mar. 8 showed that 18 fellows came thru with flying colors with 11 rejected and five were held for further observation, according to Walter J.Knodel, selective service officer, yesterday.

MUST BE INDUCTED INTO ARMY FIRST listed for the local board's. TO BE ELIGIBLE FOR CAMP SAVAGE

Of interest to those Hisamitsu Roy Murakami, eligible and desirous of entering . Military Intelligence Service Language School at Camp Savage is the news received and released by Walter J. Knodel, center selective service officer, Monday, that future applicant will not be considered until he has passed the Army physical and is duly inducted intothe Army.

The following is the text of the reply received this week by Knodel from Captain Paul F: Rusch, director of personnel at Camp Savage:

We are selecting a group oflinguistically qualified men of Japanese ancestry a class to be ordered for here in May. Men may apply to us and after we have determined their qualifications, we ask that they advise us of their Army Serial Number after induction. We are then in a position to request their transfer for the May or other new classes. Even though men are linguistically qualified, we will not request them from now on until they have passed the Army physical and are duly inducted into the Army.

Director Dillon S. Mver's letter of reply to the Amache Community Council's 11-point petition contained several statements that might easily be interpreted as the possible answer to nisei and their parents! future. Special significance is in regard to Point No. 8, that it is the WRA's intention, "insofar as this agency can make commitments, to maintain relocation centers for those persons who cannot successfully relocate." This will ease the minds of many nisei going into the armed forces over the welfare of their aged parents.

This is all right, but many nisei will ask, "Does this mean the relocation centers with evacuees rewithin their conmaining fines will eventually be "Indian administered as Reservations?" Myer's statement coincides with our first belief that the transfer of WRA agency under Secretary of Interior Ickes was made with that thought in mind. Off hand, many nisei cannot visualize the stiff regulations and restricted rights enforced in the Indian reservations. What has happened to the Indians can happen to the nisei and their families.

draft-age nisei Many with family responsibilities will have to spend numerous sleepless nights wondering when they are inducted into the armed forces how they can best prevent their families from becoming "permanent fixtures"in the relocation centers. In many instances, family load can be easily shifted onto the nisei girls, but on the other hand, many families are not that fortunate. Some type of solution must be found to avoid the oncoming"cloud of disaster."

One of the greatest hinderances for successful resettlement is the lack of sufficient funds, especially true among large families. At present, financial essistance from the WRA looks hopeless with its limited GRANADA

A SAMSELEMUISTS IN WACSAT PUEBLO

Miss Alice A. Kaneko. formerly of Amache, is now one of Uncle Sam's fighting nièces as she enlisted at the Pueblo recruiting station Thursday; according to the Pueblo Chieftain.

A sansei or "third generationer, "she stated that she wanted to do something real in helping this country on its road to victory. Her enlistment was the result of that desire.

Her grandfather became naturalized citizen in 1896, she said, and her mother resides in the Amache center. They origin-ally lived in Los Angeles, Calif.

Last fall he headed the 1943 National War Fund Committee which raised more. than $3,500 among New York nisei.

Possibly with WRA putting forth more energy in this direction, a "road back" might be uncovered. But in order to avoid the establishment of so-called "Indian Reservations" for Americans of Japanese extraction -- with all its undesirable features -- nisei will be forced to make a decision. CALL FOR WOMEN "CATSKINNERS" AS LABOR SHORTAGE FORESEEN

Local project's farm division doesn't harbor any desire to get caught with its "plants down," so it is making an urgent plea for -- of all things -- woman tractor operators to forestall the impending labor problem this season when the boys "get caught in the draft."

Farm land preparations are already behind schedule, bemoans Roy Nakatani, farm office manager, but despite obstacles lettuce, spinach, beets and radishes have been planted. Planting of dry onions and Irish potatoes are in full swing, and other varieties will soon be transplanted from the hot beds.

Makatani stated that other centers have already hired woman trantor operators, so interested female evacuees are wreed to register at the farm division or timekeepers office.

RICHARD SHERMAN TO LEAVE FOR ARMY

Another veteran member of the local appointed personnel, Richard C.Sherman, property officer, passed his pre-induction physical examination on Feb. 22 and is scheduled to be inducted Feb, 27 at Fort Logan. Sherman, who will bid farewell to Amache Saturday, served as a CCC company commander at Littleton, Colo., before joining the WRA staff.

He stated: "After approximately 14 months of service with the Granada relocation center, I can honestly say that I have greatly enjoyed my work and experiences at Amache. I sincerely appreciate and value the friendship that was given me."

POTPOURRI by Roy Yoshida

by Roy Yoshida

TWO letters were waiting for me when I got "home" Monday-that in itself is no occasion for shouting. And I wouldn't make a subject of it ordinarily. But one happened to be from a California Caucasian-that made it out of the ordinary. This first such letter in a month of Sundays came from a young matron. She is a daughter of one of my home town's leading families.

I opened the letter hurriedly and started to glance thru it-"whoa," I said, "this is different"--then I sat down and read the letter slowly and carefully. When I had finished I felt a little dampness around the eyes. I say this with all humility because it gave me a great uplift to learn that all Californians aren't racially intolerant.

I'll not bother you with what's doing up and down the main street, but I'd like to have you read a part of the letter that is sure to impress you. Following is an excerpt from the missive:

"Roy, I got a letter yesterday from a very good friend of mine. He's a Sgt. in the Army and has been in the Solomon Islands for over two years now. I thought you might be interested in part of his letter:

the government " -- if of California passes any kind of a law or anything that prohibits the Japanese from re-entering the state, they can take the damn state and throw it where it'll do the most good. We have American-born Japanese in the US Army, fighting in the European theater, and they are doing a damngood job. If the State thinks that the Japanese are not good enough for them, then I'll stick with the Japanese. Although we are fighting them down here, I think that we all do show some respect for them. They are human and aren't we? --- What is going on back there? Are the people trying to sell us out? ---

RELOCATION

NO ADVANTAGE TO REMAIN IN CENTERS, SAYS DILLON MYER

A letter addressed to the Amache Relocation Planning Commission through Project Director James G. Lindley was received from Director Dillon S.Myer last week on the subject, "Relocation As Affecting Return of Japanese Americans to the West Coast."

Contents of Myer's letter read:

The statement is often made by evacuees that return to the West Coast Area would be easier and quicker for them if they remain in relocation centers. Many have requested some statement on what must be recognized by all as an exceedingly difficult subject on which to make any predictions. Of this much we can be certain, that no advantage can result from continued center residence, when such return becomes possible. The advantage of making every possible effort to resettle now, and thus establish a place for Jepanese Americans in the life of normal American communities, in terms of the contribution that they can and should make, will in turn make for a more likely acceptance by the people of the West coast later.

Refusal to accept a share the responsibilities and possible hardships of such community life during wartime, and insistence on remaining in the secluded atmosphere of the centers, while there is need and demand for just those skills and services that center residents can supply, will, in the public mind, certainly not enhance or improve the status of those who otherwise may be able to return to their homes and property on the West coast.

You can be assured that center residents do not lose their legal residence in the states from which they were evacuated merely because they relocate. If they intend or hope to return to their former homes when military restrictions are lifted, they should maintain their voting privileges in those states by complying with the provisions of the state laws governing registration and absente e voting.

LOGAN, Utah--"If you persecute the American-born Japanese in your nation now; if you exercise hatred toward the Negro and begin to criticize the Jew, perhaps you will then turn against the Chinese thirty years hence, "Walter Ching, former Chinese-American student at Utah State Agricultural college here, told members of the Logan club on Feb. 29.

The Chinese American, now en route to a position at Cornell University, spoke on controversial problems surrounding treatment of loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry.

Born in Hawaii, he has lived some of his life in China, and graduated from Utah State in 1935. He has been doing work in the graduate division of agricultural economics at the University of California.

Entitling his address,
"Tolerance and Understanding," Ching admitted that he is "amazed and shocked at the treatment of Americans of Japanese ancestry in California."

"I am not an apologist for the Japanese people-far from it,"he continued. "My people have suffered most from Japanese activities. But I cannot condone US persecution of Americanborn Japanese."

Ching inferred bitterness toward what he termed a "majority complex of the white race."

"There is no justice in picking on a small group of American Japanese when they have proved their loyalty;" Ching said. "If the current intolerance of Americans continues I fear for the results. Live and let live is the best policy."

Miss Bland plans to visit Amache two days each month to help those interested in taking this course.

According to Sara A. Brown, assistant counselor, a Braille library service of phonograph records, which is loaned by the state department of public welfare, will be available here soon.

It was disclosed by diss Bland that a blind person may travel on a train or a bus free of charge when accompanied by another person with a ticket.

LECTURER JENNIE ISHIKAWA MAKES A BIG HIT IN KANSAS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Mar. 11--fiss Jennie Ishikawa's ever-smiling countenance is a quality that has lately been enhanced by her new-found ability to lecture student groups in Kansas City high schools.

Jennie is a recent addition to the staff of WRA in this city, having arrived here December 15 with her sister, Key, from Poston, Ariz. During the past month, in addition to her regular duties, she has talked before more than five-hundred girls in six of Kansas City's high schools. Her talks are simply about her own experiences during the evacuation and life in the centers. She sometimes uses picture-life in the centers. Sildes flashed on a tiny portable screen which lend emphasis to her verbal descriptions. Her sponsors, the Girl Reserves of the YWCA, with club affiliations in seventeen schools here, at mest to this newly discovered ability by clamoring for additional appearances to include the entire circuit.

"The girls are all so grand to her," says Miss Mildred Longfellow, assistant secretary for the group, and to this Jennie vory enthusiastically agrees. She enjoys the activity immensely and is proparing now for her next appearance scheduled for early next month.

"It is true," she said, "that young people here seem so much more willing to accept one for what she is rather than for what her ancestral background may be." The girls are all attentive to Jennie when she talks and after each appearance they crowd about her seeking answers to their numerous questions; serious, really worthwhile questions that show they actually are giving thought to this Japanese-American prob-

IN COLORADO, ONLY SMALL GROUPS OPPOSE NISEI RESETTEMENT MOVE

(Editor's Note: More than half the 112,353 Japanese evacuees from the Pacific Coast are determined never to return to their former homes, planning to resettle in a "New America" of greater opportunity in the other 45 States. The community attitudes they face are discussed in this article, the fourth of a series of six appearing exclusively in the SF Chronicle.)

DENVER, Colo., Feb.29--Racial persecution is the danger the Japanese-American pioneers face when they venture from War Relocation centers determined to extablish permanent homes the 'Pacific Coast east of exclusion States, California, Oregon and Washington.

The persecution is inspired by two factors.

They are:

1. Intuitive hatred to the United States citizen of non-Oriental ancestry for the Japanese empire and its descendants during the current war.

2. Fear of economic competition by the hard working Japanese Americans whose standard of living whether from desire of segregation, is considered low.

Opposition to resettlement efforts is spearheaded by relatively small numerical groups with special interests at stake. They are more noisy than effective. Government leaders and non-governmental groups devoted to protection of democratic punciples counter the persecution trends.

Behind all opposition is the inability of the Caucasian to understand or comprehend the Oriental mind. This Occidental incapacity to assay the Japaneso-American statements of loyalty to the United States was one cause of the evacuation, ordered for reasons of military neces-

In his report on the evacuation to the chief of staff, Lieutenant General John L. DeWitt observed:

"While it was believed that some (evacuses) were loyal, it was known that many were not to complicate the situation, no reedy means existed for determining the loyal from the disloyal."

General DeWitt also included in his report this statement:

"To the Japanese themselves, rreat credit is due for the manner in which they, under army supervision and direction, responded to and complied with orders of exclusion.

Strength of the persecution former cutrently is concentrated in the States of Colorado and Utah, where almost 10,000 of the evacuees have settled in cities and towns and on agricultural property, either purchasing or leasing.

Public opinion in Colorado, as judged by the votes of legislators on a pertinent question, today reflects an attitude of "live and let live" as far as the Japanese Americans are concerned. The masses do not love them, when they stop to think of it, with a war on. Neither are they actively disliked.

The Japanese Americans have entry to all public places, equal rights on bus and street car. Their money is good--unless a future profit for the Caucesian participating in the deal is jeopardized by the transaction.

A showdown on the question of Japanese land purchases in Colorado occurred recently. From Brighton, a farming community near Denver, populated largely by Italian American and German American touck form. ers, came a demand for amendment of the State constitution to bar alien land ownership.

Mayor J. W. Wells Brighton explained district growers fundamentally feared the Japanese Americans would give them too much competition in supplying the demands of the Lenver wholesale and retail produce markets,

Governor John C. Vivian of Colorado called a special Legislative session to consider submission of the required amendment to the voters. He described proponents as "business men, service clubs and American farmers." Opponents, according to the Governor, were "church people, social service people and the YMCA."

The Colorado House approved the proposition by a vote of 48 to 15. The Senate tabled it with a vote of 15 to 12, recommending further study. The roll call indicated that Colorado stockmen, operating in a field which has been ignored by the Japanese American agriculturists, were indifferent to the problem.

Mayor Wells and his group now seek to place the measure on the November ballot through circulation of initiative petitions. Deadline for collection of 26,000 signatures is March 6. Colorado political observers predict insufficient signatures will be obtain-

Colorado's attitude at the moment toward the Japanese Americans was summed up by the Denver Rocky Mountain News, commenting editorially after the Senate rejection of the exclusion measure, as follows:

"The State Senate fused to be stampeded into sanctioning the anti-Japanese land proposal and insisted that, before it approved or disapproved the measure, it has before it all the essential facts.

"That is a sound attitude for a legislative body to take. By its firmness and clear-sightedness, the State Screte has nelped to strongthen popular confidence in representative government."
