

ARMY COMPLETES CENTER COAL CONTRACT; COAL-UNLOADING CREW OF 18 MEN NEEDED

Due to an anticipated coal shortage this winter, the Army Quartermaster Corps has negotiated a contract for the Granada relocation center which calls for delivery of the major portion of the coal supply before Dec. 15, 1944, announces Project Director James G. Lindley. Delivery has already started.

The present coal-unloading crew of three persons should immediately be increased to 18 in order to handle the new deliveries, Lindley says. Workers will be paid the "C" or $19 wage, and are asked to report to the center employment office immediately for assignment.

Coal dealers have notified the Army Quartermaster Corps that the coal-supply situation for the entire country is critical this year. The Quartermaster pointed out that Amache is quite fortunate in securing an adequate supply of coal. The coal must be unloaded here as received, however, or it will be diverted to other government projects.

WILLIAM FORD NAMED HARBISON'S SUCCESSOR

William M. Ford was named successor to Donald E. Harbison as assistant project director in charge of operations, according to Walter N. Moers, personnel officer, this week. Harbison resigned from his position early this spring, and his successor assumed his new duties Monday.

Ford, who has traveled considerably, hails from Denver and has over 30 years of engineering experience "tucked under his belt," claimed Moers.

The new assistant project director's past record shows he has directed the construction of the Sioux Ordinance depot in Sydney, Nebr., and was employed as administrative engineer by the State of Colorado for six years.

Nearly nine out of ten persons will blame the press solely for keeping the racial discrimination and prejudice "cauldron" boiling throughout the nation. But after reading Arnold Blum's column, one will pause a moment. Blum cited the case of one Mr. Jay Jostyn who would like to prosecute the radio for its utter and inexcusable failure to teach the young about racial tolerance.

Jostyn declared, "No child is born undemocratic. He accepts everyone as an equal-until and unless prejudices are created, as he grows older, by his family, neighbors and other children who themselves have been taught prejudices."

It is true that radio is one of the forces which can powerfully wipe out prejudices in the minds of the young. But in most cases, programs on the air waves on racial tolerance have been confined to merely few speeches whose listeners are already intelligent and broad-minded. But no child will listen to "dry" talks.

The only alternative is to present programs which are 'sugar-coated' for children and still the main objective is there. The constant talk of democracy doesn't mean a "hill of beans" to a child. It has to be conveyed in his language.

Therefore, according to Jostyn, the radio programs which cater to the youngest in the family with the fairy tales might sometimes picture the heroine as a princess with black or yellow skin. The gallant knights who go forth to fight dragons might be of different religion and color--differences which should not be stressed, but mentioned casually and with indifference, as if they don't amount to anything--which, indeed, is a practice of democracy.

The radio has made older children hate all the Germans and Japanese, but it has failed to present the

KALTENBORN GIVES $100 TO NISEI SCHOLARSHIP

CHICAGO, Ill.--Atty. Benjamin H. Bull of Madison, Wis., recently received a letter from H. V. Kaltenborn, nationally-known radio commentator, which contained a check for $100 to help provide a scholarship for a young American of Japanese descent at Wayland academy, Beaver Dam, according to a story in the editorial column of the Capitol Times. Kaltenborn's letter explained:

"As one who has personal contact with the magnificent contribution being made by young Americans for Japanese ancestry to our war effort in the South and the Southwest Pacific areas, I am happy to have an opportunity to make this contribution. I feel that I personally owe something to my fellow-Americans of Japanese ancestry to make up for sometimes unfair and sometimes unintelligent treatment which they have received.

"You are at liberty to publicize both this contribution and this statement if you feel it will serve the cause of fair play to our fellow-Americans of Japanese ancestry which we both have at heart."

CLUB OFFERS ROOM, BOARD TO RELOCATION-MINDED GIRLS

Of great interest to younger-age girls contemplating relocation to Chicago is the announcement of the opening of a girls club offering room and board under the Episcopal church sponsorship and supervision. This club, which will use part of St. Mary's school dormitory, is situated on Chicago's west side just 15 minutes by bus or street car from downtown district. Mr. and Mrs. Kohachiro Sugimoto, formerly of San Francisco, Calif., will be in charge.

Applications may be made directly to the school or through the local relocation office. Girls applying are expected to accept reasonable guidance and supervision from the Sugimotos and the St. Mary's Sisters.

true fact, that we are fighting the system of fascism, not the people, stated Jostyn.

If democratic principles are to be indelibly imprinted in the hearts and minds of all children, the radio as well as the press has a huge task ahead, combating racial prejudices incurred upon children by parents and friends. This job will take a long time, but it's worth the time and effort.

BILL TO DEPRIVE CITIZENSHIP OF DISLOYALS SIGNED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON--President Roosevelt signed legislation to withdraw the citizenship of Japanese born in this country whose loyalty to the enemy marks them as Japanese nationals.

Attorney General Biddle said the law was needed to deal with the problem of 300 to 1000 Japanese at the Tule Lake segregation center who, he said, "assert their loyalty to the emperor of Japan and their desire to renounce their United States citizenship and to be recognized as Japanese nationals."

By making it possible for this group to abandon American citizenship, Biddle told Congress, "they could themselves be dealt with as alien enemies under the applicable statutes."

IS ENVY OKAY?

ENVY is a word that is commonly connected with unpleasant things of life and though we may be guilty of being envious we nevertheless disavow any thought of being such a guy or gal. But there is reason to believe that envy in its proper place is a boon to our rising success. Now, you may ask "How come?" Well, let's see if we can come up with a fairly plausible answer.

If you approach your problem with the envious attitude of "if I could be as good as that fella" and then use your energy trying, irrespective of success or failure, you'll get someplace. But if you feel that "you are as good as the other fella" and sit tight, you won't get very far--if that, because you lack the incentive to "beat" the other fella. Or if you feel that you've gotten as far as you'll ever get on your surface qualifications and watch others progress without a trace of envy, you'll end up in the same boat with other satisfied men.

WE all know that historical document which says in part: "--that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

That is true enough, we are all created equal but from there on your climb to fame and prosperity is up to you as an individual. In regards to inalienable rights, your life is what you make it; you can be happy or you can be sad on the merits of your ability to adjust yourself to your environment. You get as much liberty as you are willing to fight for; not only on the warfront but also on the homefront. And the pursuit of happiness must be wise and well chosen, don't expect to find a Cadillac's happiness riding a Ford. But the happiness you find riding a Ford can be just as warm and heart-filling if you can use it to add to your contentment.

WE can all have a formula and theories and day-dreams about life but it's the folla who is in there pitching all the time with all the endowment his Creator gave him--he's the man to watch. So if you have a certain goal to attain, find your shortcomings in comparison to the fella who is superior and work to close the gap. Envy him but in a way that will spur you on to greater heights, and never feel that you are at the top--no matter how good you may get.

Begrudge not those who may be endowed with little more than you. Begrudge yourself for not attempting to better yourself with your own endowments.

'There Are Crosses With Japanese Names In American Cemeteries In Italian Hills'

"There are crosses with Japanese names in the American cemeteries in the bitter Italian hills," Lieut. Thomas Riggs, Jr., wrote to Time magazine in a letter published in the July 3 issue of Time, protesting anti-evacuee activity of farmers and townspeople of Great Meadows, NJ.

Speaking of Americans of Japanese ancestry, Lieut. Riggs asked in his letter:

"These men are worthy to bear arms; how then are they not worthy to grow tomatoes?"

His letter in Time declared in part:

"It is two years and a couple of days since I left the States with a whole hatful of company on this war's leeching business. During the ten-minute breaks in Africa and Italy we have devoted a lot of effort to trying to realize in the imagination what life is like at home...."

"Today a magazine (Time, April 24) comes to the beachhead and...tells a story, and these pleasant images become hideous and confused. According to the story, five Japanese, including one Frank Kitagawa, are sent to Great Meadows, NJ, from an Arizona relocation center to help Ed Kowalick run his 600-acre farm...Ed Kowalick's neighbors moant a blind patriotism against this five-men Oriental menace within their gates...A building on Kowalick's farm is burned; and Kowalick, being one man, is forced to send the offenders away. This is, as I said, a little thing. Nobody killed, nobody maimed. To show they hold no hard feelings, the farmers present Ed Kowalick with a box of cigars, and the incident is closed.

"It is the schoolhouse, I think, that sticks in my craw. Presumably the small fry of Great Meadows are taught in this schoolhouse; study algebra; and Archimedes' principle; and nouns; and learn that Lincoln called them "the last best hopo of earth..." This is the schoolhouse where hundreds met to hunt down five, who had committed the crime of discarding their ancestry for the ties of a new country.

"Since I began, a score of shells have dropped into the vicinity. They have threaten my life, for which I have a high regard, but not the things that give my life sustenance. Now I feel that these things are threatened and I do not know where to go to find a clean picture of my country. It is not a matter of Great Meadows alone. Lord knows, that is only the latest and one of the least striking of the items on a long list. Somewhere in the confusion is the central matter of what is true and what is not true about our national life.

"This is a vory personal matter, like love or good beer or dying, and I should like someone to give me an answer."

LET'S CUT IT OUT!!!

Time and again, and seems like millions of times, we have harped on this unpleasant subject but we have failed to make an impression--no soap. Both players and fans are guilty of it. Up to a certain point it's all right but after that--hump--well, it's decidedly unnecessary, and usually ends up with fists flying.

Yes, you all know it, it's SPORTSMANSHIP. During last Sunday's both diamond tilts we had plenty of "ya-ji-ing" on both sides, and even afterwards. As we said before, it's a part of the game to "argue" but, for heaven's sake, let's not lose your temper. After all, baseball is a game of sports, we all believe that, so, win, lose or draw, let's all show GOOD sportsmanship on the field. Let's not have any of that "grudge stuff" in here. Let's cut it out and put sportsmanship on its proper level. How about it?

OH! SHUCKS!!!

In Sunday's first All-Star game, we expected to see the center's duo of best lefties face each other on the mound--the Americans' Bobby Umekubo and the Nats' Jun Furuno. Although Furuno got his starting assignment, Umekubo was kept on ice for the afternoon assignment. Bob Shiro was Coach Dick Yamachi's choice and for six innings Bob tip-toed his way, carefully, through a bunch of Nat sluggers, yielding a run in the second and another in the third. It was a tight Shiro-Furuno duel until the National batsmen got hot in the seventh to belt out 5 runs to put the game on ice.

In the afternoon encounter, willowy Bobby Umekubo pitched all the way to give the Americans a close 10-9 "dime novel" win that was not decided until the very last of the last inning. Next time, if there is a next time, we hope the res-

Otsuki's Single In Ninth Gives Americans 10-9 Win

In a thrilling nip-and-tuck diamond duel, the American All-Stars snatched a close 10-9 victory over the Nationals Sunday afternoon to gain a split in the doubleheader. Bobby Umekubo, who went the route for the winners, held the Nat sluggers to 8 hits but 7 American errors nearly cost him the game.

The American All-Stars, out to gain revenge for the morning loss, gave the Nats' starting pitcher Koichi Kimura a very rough treatment and sent him to the showers in two innings. They tallied in the opening frame on an error, infield out and a fielder's choice. Tad Ono opened the second inning with a single, which was followed by a hit-batsman and a walk to fill the bags, and Umekubo came through with a clutch single to drive two runs. Roy Murakami scored on a wild pitch and Umekubo came in with the fourth tally on Sats Uyekubo's center field single.

The Natsmen kept pecking away at Umekubo to knot the count 7-all in the top of the 8th frame; then came the whirlwind finish with Tad Ono going all the way to third on a double and error by George Watanabe, and scoring moment later on Al Kato's sacrifice. Then Watanabe came through with a long homer with a mate on board in first of the 9th to give the Nationals their only lead of the afternoon. But Lefty Nishijima, who relieved Kimura in the third

Nationals Clinch Tilt In 7th With 5-Run Outburst

The National All-Stars subdued the American All-Stars, 8 to 2, behind Jun Furuno's well-spaced 8-hit hurling in the Sunday morning tilt at the local ball park. Although Bob Shiro of the Americans yielded the same amount of hits, he weakened in the seventh frame when the Nats hopped on him for five runs on three hits, including Mac Sakaguchi's terrific homer, plus a pair of free passes. For six cantos, Shiro and Furuno hooked up in a pitcher's battle with Shiro yielding a run in the second frame on Allan Asakawa's triple down left field foul line and an unearned run in the third inning on an error, sacrifice and Shiro Kawamura's single. During the interim the Americans left 9 men stranded on the bases.

The losers saved themselves from a shut-out by combining a duet of singles, a fielder's choice and a wild throw for two runs in the eighth inning. Lefty Nishijima and Mac Sakaguchi of the Nationals and Al Kato, Bob Shiro and Sats Uyekubo of the Americans smashed out two hits apiece. Furuno struck out 10.

STRATEGY THAT WORKED

In the morning tussle, when Yo Ono, the American's clean-up hitter, stepped up to the platter in the fifth canto with men on second and third, and two outs, the Nats came up with a choice bit of strategy. With the Nationals leading by a scant 2-0 margin, catcher Tom Ioka used his old bean and conferred with Furuno and Lefty Nishijima, and the outcome was to walk slugging Ono purposely and fill the bags. Furuno then bore down and forced Hideo Noda to go out on strikes. That's one time the old strategy worked.

frame, lost control in the last half of the 9th and issued free passes to Shimazu and Uyekubo, both promptly stealing to scoring positions. Then Jim Otsuki came through with a ground-skimming single into center field to drive in the tying and winning runs.

DEPORTATION BILL TO BE PUSHED IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON—Efforts toward legislation that may deport as many as 85,000 of the country's 140,000 Japanese, including all avowedly disloyal Japanese Americans, will be resumed more strongly than ever as soon as Congress reconvenes in September, it was announced by Senator Ernest W. McFarland, Arizona democrat.

He said he has made arrangements to collaborate with Rep. Leroy Johnson, (R.) of California, in introduction of a joint measure which eventually would send to Japan the 20,000 American-born Japanese who last year signed statements refusing to forswear allegiance to their emperor.

To the subversive Japanese Americans would be added about 65,000 Japanese aliens whose loyalty to the emperor has never been doubted.

The new bill will propose amendments to a Department of Justice Japanese-deportation measure passed by the Senate without debate amid the confusion of the last day before the summer recess, and signed by the President July 13.

The new law, advocated personally by Attorney General Francis Biddle, provides deportation only after fresh statements of disloyalty and definite declarations of a wish to be deported from the nisei.

The first statements of disloyalty would be disregarded.

The McFarland-Johnson amendments would provide deportation hearings through immigration bureau procedure on the sole basis of the original statements of disloyalty.

As they are without the protection of American birth, the alien Japanese could be deported as undesirables without special legislation, but a specific recommendation for their removal will be embodied in the McFarland-Johnson measure.

BONESTEEL IS NEW WDC HEAD

WASHINGTON, July 5--On June 28, Maj.-Gen. Charles Hartwell Bonesteel, former commander of the United States forces in Iceland, succeeded Lt.-Gen. Delos C. Emmons as commanding general of the Western Defense Command.

Gen. Bonesteel, a native of Fort Sidney, Neb., and graduate of West Point, has recently been in charge of the infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga. He took over the command of his new post from Maj.-Gen. Robert Lewis, temporary commander of the WDC since the transfer of Gen. Emmons. The latter was assigned to a new and important post which was not named for military reasons.

In a recent press conference at San Francisco, the new commander of the WDC refused to make any statement on the Japanese-American situation.

ANDERSON, STAUNCH SUPPORTER OF JAPANESE AMERICANS, VISITS HERE

Hugh Anderson of Pasadena, Calif., is a member of the "Friends of the American Way," which is doing so much for the evacuees, and he has been a friend in many ways. He motored all the way to Colorado to visit his friends here over the week-end.

Anderson, a Stanford university graduate, opened his home in Pasadena before evacuation as a storehouse for evacuee property. Later served at the Poston relocation center as a manager of the Consumer Cooperative Enterprises until struck down by infantile paralysis. He returned home, broken in body but undaunted in spirit.

Anderson is almost completely recovered now, although one leg will always be five inches shorter. He is continuing his work for the evacuees with enthusiasm which endears him to all who know him. He left Monday for Denver and Salt Lake City to confer with JACL leaders.
