

NO JAPAN OCCUPATION FOR 442ND

RADIO REPORT ON NISEI REDEPLOYMENT ERRONEOUS

The 442nd Japanese American Infantry now stationed in northern Italy at Leghorn will not be redeployed to the Pacific theater to assist in the occupation of Japanese home islands, as erroneously announced recently in a radio broadcast.

In regards to the widely publicized radio news broadcast on Aug. 18 that the 442nd Regimental Combat Team would be sent to Japan as occupational troops, the War Department last week in Washington declared it had "no information" on the report.

According to the War Department statement, the radio report was in error.

The erroneous story of redeployment of the 442nd to Japan, it was thought in Washington, may have originated through radio editors' misinterpretation of a news report from Leghorn, Italy, that "a selected number of 442nd Infantry veterans who speak and write Japanese are being called for occupational assignments in Japan." The 442nd is at present stationed at Leghorn.

SAYS 'RIGHTFUL PLACE' ASSURED US JAPANESE

WASHINGTON--National WRA Director Dillon S. Myer, in a recent statement following the end of the war, forecast a more tolerant future for the people of Japanese descent in America and said they can look forward to taking "their rightful place in American life with greater assurance than at any time in the past."

Although recognizing that the war "has placed heavy burdens on this segment of our population and had subjected them to many restrictions and discriminations," Myer asserted that the war had also "given them an unparalleled opportunity to improve their status in the United States."

The director continued: "Undoubtedly the most important factor in gaining recognition for the rights of American Japanese has been the superb fighting record of their sons, husbands and brothers in the American Army. By their valor and devotion to duty these men have struck a permanently crippling blow at the forces of racial intolerance."

OSHITA GIVEN ARMY DISCHARGE

Pvt. Mitsuye Oshita, 7G-8E, was discharged from the US Army on Aug. 17 at the Veteran's Administration facility, Fort Lyon, Colo., according to an announcement last week by the Prowers County Selective Service board.

"The postwar period should bring a greater freedom from discrimination and a larger measure of opportunity than they have ever known before."

WEST NAVAL INSTALLATIONS TO EMPLOY NISEI VETERANS

NEW YORK--A revision has been made by the Navy Department in its policy in regards to employment of honorably discharged nisei veterans in naval installations in California, Oregon and Washington, according to information given the American Civil Liberties Union by Rear Admiral William M. Fechteler, assistant chief of naval operations.

FORT SNELLING GRADUATES TO AID GENERAL MACARTHUR

The Japanese American servicemen at Ft. Snelling, Minn., military intelligence school will be the language bridge by which Gen. Douglas MacArthur will carry out his Army of Occupation rule in the Japanese homeland.

The secrecy that veiled the school has been lifted and Maj. Gen. Clayton Bissel disclosed that this group will be sent immediately to General MacArthur's command to be used with the Army of Occupation.

The men will serve as interpreters, aid in the occupation work, serve with Army civil government authorities, operate as censors and aid in all military and civil tasks.

Continuance of the Ft. Snelling school was practically assured when General Bissel declared in his commencement talk to the graduates that "the need for language students is even greater now than when you first entered the school under war conditions."

ASKS PATIENCE ON DELIVERY

Lumber for crating purposes is being delivered as rapidly as possible, according to William Wroth, senior engineer.

Owing to labor shortage, it takes about three days from the time a request is made until the lumber is delivered. Residents are asked not to become impatient as deliveries will be made as soon as possible.

RECONVERSION PROBLEMS

THE WAR HAS ENDED, and peace once again blesses mankind. The war-weary world can now rest to lick its wounds.

Here at home in the United States, the government and the nation now face the multifold task of reconverting from zesty wartime boom to a more stable and sound peace-time pursuits--without disrupting the national economy.

Cutbacks due to cancellation of war contracts have forced the release of countless number of workers all over the country. And their next jobs, if there are enough to go around, will pay much less than their war industry jobs--gone are the fat pay checks. This means less spending and stricter watch on the family budget, and less extravagant way of living is in order. It also means that many will have to dip into their "rainy day" funds--if such they have.

INTO SUCH A CHANNEL of life the evacuees in the various relocation centers must enter, and it won't be easy. Many will find the transition period trying.

Needless to say, the evacuees, especially those with big families, have used much of their savings during their nearly three years' stay in camp. On top of that, many have parted with their household goods at evacuation time at give-away prices. Now they must start all over again from scratch, and it will be years before they can again attain their pre-war status.

But they will have one small advantage in meeting this postwar problem. During their stay in a relocation center, they have learned to live sparingly; they have "educated" themselves in getting along with only the necessities of life. They are also well acquainted with hardships, cramped quarters, and regimentation.

Surely, with all that, they will be able to get

REGAIN CONTROL OF OUR LIVES

Aug. 29, 1945

To Center Residents:

Why act as if you had a thousand years to live? Why spend precious days and hours as though the supply were inexhaustible? Occasionally, some childish idea of happiness or success crops up to confuse or hamper us in the business of normal living. Some of us would prefer to continue living in the safe shelter of the center, where many wants were supplied as soon as felt; where warmth and food were freely given, whether we worked for them or not. This was due to circumstances, perhaps beyond our control, for the past three and one-half years. Now, we can regain the control of our own lives and plans, but we must believe that there is a force within us big enough to rival or recreate our vision of a beautiful yesterday and a successful tomorrow.

If we linger much longer in the center, wasting our time in reverie and idleness, we will awake to find ourselves in the ruins of a ghost camp. Here we live lives so far below our possibilities that, when we relocate, the things that seem to hamper us in many cases merely approach the potentialities within ourselves--we seem to have become entirely transfigured!

Appearing in last week's paper was an item by Mr. Fuller, chief of operations, describing the curtailment of operations and the effect relocation is having on his division. The fire protection section has suffered serious loss in personnel, also; however, we will continue to function in a manner that should provide for adequate fire protection. We shall continue to encourage the skeleton force of workers remaining to relocate immediately regardless of the effects suffered by this department. Be careful, and thanks.

Sincerely yours,
PAUL W. NEWLAND
Acting Fire Chief

by on the outside--provided they are given the proper opportunity.

But this does not mean that they can be sent out to "any old place" and expect them to make their life bloom again brightly. They will still need sunshine and rain. Sunshine of friendly help to brighten their future and rain of economic independence to insure the growth of their hopes.

SACRAMENTO--It was revealed recently by the State Board of Equalization that Japanese American returnees seeking retail sales permits are being asked to present written assurances that neither the War nor the Navy Departments object to their reentry into California with a purpose of entering business.

This action was being taken to "assure protection of the public interest," it was said.

COAST HOUSING SHORTAGE PAST

Shortage of housing in California will soon be a thing of the past, if the news item in the Aug. 23 Los Angeles TIMES which states that war workers in the Los Angeles area are rushing eastward to their former homes is any sign of changing conditions.

It appears that the war workers who flocked to California for the high wages paid in war production plants are being laid off.

One Arizona border inspection station reported that the number of cars and trucks passing through increased 300 a day over one month ago. A total of 680 eastbound cars were counted at another station.

This exodus should leave plenty of available housing for those who want to return to Southern California.

TO DISTRIBUTE PAY CHECKS THROUGH BLOCK MANAGERS

Beginning with the evacuee pay checks for July and thereafter until the project closes, the checks will be sorted by blocks at the finance office and turned over to the block managers for distribution, disclosed Project Director James G. Lindley last week.

This revised procedure is in line with the new method of pay rolling to expedite the distribution of evacuee pay checks.

The finance section is experiencing increasing difficulty in delivering checks to the proper addresses of relocated evacuees. Therefore, relocatees are advised to leave their exact forwarding addresses with their block managers before departing.

HOSTEL GUESTS GIVEN WELCOME

PITTSBURG, Pa.--Last week the first evacuee families to occupy the Pittsburgh hostel moved in, with many neighbors of the residential North Side on hand to formally welcome them.

Three city newspapers gave friendly reports to the occupation of the hostels by the evacuees. An excerpt from the Pittsburgh PRESS editorial of Aug. 20 appropriately indicated their feeling: "In this country Americans are Americans--and to hell with ancestry."

Hostel reservations may be made through Howard Mather, relocation officer, 429 Fulton building, Pittsburgh 22, Pa.

Center residents are urged to contact their relocation program office about the many attractive farm and domestic offers, with housing included, in this district.

KEEP "BILL OF LADING" SAFE

Many returnees are still appearing at West Coast WRA offices claiming to have lost or misplaced their original "Bill of Lading" for goods shipped, disclosed Herbert J. Vatcher, evacuee property officer, Monday.

Failure to have this bill, which is a receipt for goods shipped, not only delays delivery but also forces the evacuee to pay depot storage charges. Therefore, it should be kept in a safe place.
