

Amache Hi It.

COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD

NINE SELECTED FOR SOCIETY

Mariko Abe, Yoneji Fukunaga, Sadako Hayase, Masao Igasaki, Hiroshi Ito, Florence Konno, Kimi Naruse, Woodrow Oanaka, and Mamoru Kanda were the nine graduates to be chosen as the charter members of the Amache Senior High chapter of the National Honor Society.

They were chosen by the high school faculty from a list presented by a committee consisting of Mr. Paul J. Terry, Mr. S. Clay Coy, Miss Helen Wilcoxon, Miss Grace Good, and Miss Betty Beaver.

Scholarship, leadership, service to school, and character were the merits by which these students were chosen.

These nine charter members will be given engraved cards certifying their membership in the Society.

32 SENIORS TO TERMINATE HIGH SCHOOL CAREER

The first commencement exercises of Amache Senior High School will take place in Terry Hall 7:30 this evening. Thirty-two seniors will receive diplomas at that time.

GRADS HONORED BY RECENT PROM

Terry Hall was the scene of a prom given for the seniors by the junior class.

More than 200 people were present at the prom, and the graduating Senior girls were given realistic gifts made by the 12-G women.

The red, white, and blue, mixed colors of both classes, were found in the form of streamers, caps, scrolls, and tassels about the room.

The recreation department furnished recordings for the dance.

Punch and cookies were served through the entire evening.

The commencement program will be highlighted by a talk by the Junior High School principal, Herbert K. Walther.

The invocation will be given by Reverend Kuroda followed by a musical selection by the Senior High Orchestra under the direction of Mr. Tad Hascall.

Miss Louise Goodson, one of the co-advisers of the senior class, will present the class, and Mr. H. H. Halliday will award the diplomas to the graduates.

The Girls' Glee Club, directed by Miss Noreen Klein, will sing, "My Task."

The program will be concluded by a benediction by Reverend C. Kuzuhara.

The exercises will be followed by a reception in Terry Hall, where refreshments will be served by the homemaking classes under the direction of Mrs. More.

GRADUATION:

What Does It Mean?

High school graduation is a once-in-a-lifetime occurrence, and means a great deal to most of us. This, the first graduation to take place in Amache, is probably not what we had dreamed graduation would be.

Well, what is graduation?

"Graduation is having a senior sweater, class ring and pin, going to the graduation prom and marching down the aisle to the time of a recessional at the commencement exercises."

To be sure, these things are a part of graduation—but only a very small part when one thinks about it. The reward of these twelve precious years of schooling is much larger than a mere sweater, ring, pin and a prom. In these twelve years, we gain prizes that all the gold in the world cannot get for us.

Such things as beginnings of lifelong friendships, the art of getting along with others, good times, the tools of learning, and innumerable other precious things.

Think back. Would you have met Mary or Johnny, your best friends?

Therefore, think before you say, "Gosh what a lousy graduation! No sweater, pins, rings or class books!" To be sure, these things are nice to have, but mere trifles compared with those irreplaceable twelve years and all that the twelve years of school brought.

A lot of the best things that we obtain or do in our childhood and our adolescence is thru our schools, and their functions—while we're attending that school.

WILLS OF GRADUATES

We, the members of the graduating Senior class of Winter '43, of the town of Amache and state of Colorado, being of sound minds (?), do hereby revoke all wills heretofore made by us and declare this to be our last will.

I, Mariko Abe, will my musical talents to Julius Ishida's little brother's big brother.

I, Emiko Fujisaka, will my love for domestic work to Jane Nagai.

I, Yoneji Fukunaga, will my height to George Hinoki so that he won't be shorter than his many girl friends.

I, Mary Hamamoto, will my kindness to Ada Yamasaki, so she won't "bite" any more people.

I, Jim Hamaji, will my original haircut to Ted Okuno.

I, Sadako Hayase, will my brains to "Squeaks" Fukusawa.

I, Kitty Hirai, will my neat hair-do to Harue Nomura.

I, Mary Hori, will my big beautiful eyes to Mary Rikimaru so that she can see when she laughs.

I, Masao Igasaki, will my beautiful Veronica Lake looks to Julius Ishida, to protect him from head colds.

I, Hiroshi Ito, will my descriptive vocabulary (tsk, tsk) to Harry Masatani.

I, Mamoru Kanda, will my quietness to Jane Sato.

I, Henry Kawamura, will my dancing ability to Kay Yonemura so that he will be able to attend the dances.

I, Bill Kawasaki, will my loafing ability to Clark Fukusawa.

I, Florence Konno, will my wonderful piano playing ability to May Yoshioka.

I, Kei Kuzuhara, will my dimples and red shirts to Bill Yamamoto.

I, Paul Mizukami, will my art ability to Mr. Arimoto.

I, Tomi Murakami, will my knitting ability to Bobby Uno.

I, Kimi Naruse, will my winning Colgate's smile to Buzzard #3½.

I, Woodrow Odanaka, will my poaches and cream plus cornflakes complexion (especially cornflakes) to Kiyoshi Yamamoto.

I, Mas Okuda, will my all-around sports ability to Mary Wada.

I, Setsu Osajima, will my glamour to Skeeter Miyake.

I, Goro Sasaki, will my physique to Davy Matsushima.

I, Hiroyuki Suyama, will my musical voice to Theodore Arai.

I, Robert Suzuki, will my outeness to Kiyo Kumamoto.

I, Virginia Takemura, will my red coat to Buzzard #2.

I, Mae Tanaka, will my gracefulness to Molly Fujihara.

I, Esther Tani, will my amiableness to my friend, Hiroko Hirota.

I, Leo Totara, will my extra chin to Sambo Samoshima's collection.

I, Tsuama Tsukashima, will my serene personality to Ken Rikimaru.

I, Calvin Tsunawaki, will my rugged "oomph" to Andy Takata.

I, Kay Yoshimura, will my class sweater to Tommy Yamashiro, so she can swim.

I, Haruo Kamo, will my charm to Franklin Maruyama.

SHORT BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

Seniors

W43

● KEI KUZUHARA

"We're rich! We're rich! We've struck oil!" yelled several Amachites. Much to their disappointment, the oil well turned out to be the well-oiled head of Kei Kuzuhara.

This bow-legged bit of precious fortune hopes to become a floriculturist. After graduation he expects to leave for Utah where he'll work for the Inter-Mountain Florist Association.

At present Kei is engaged in nursing an original beard which resembles a squashed caterpillar.

Mr. Kuzuhara likes anything just so it is food or sugar—meaning Kimi Yabuki.

● TOMI MURAKAMI

"Become beautiful with Tomi"—this is the slogan Tomi Murakami should use when she succeeds in becoming a beautician.

Tomi likes all sports, her favorite being basketball.

She is always seen around the school campus with her friends of the Las Ninas, a Girl Reserve Club.

Tomi was a student of Polytechnic High School. There she majored in cosmetology and was active in sports.

Miss Murakami's knitting ability is really something to marvel at.

● PAUL MIZUKAMI

If you happened to see a boy running with his sleepy eyes half-closed and uncombed hair, about the beginning of second period each morning—it was only Paul Mizukami going to his sociology class.

Paul always misses his breakfast. He is either getting his beauty sleep or catching up on his sleep because of his night rendezvous. This roving Casanova is always seen at the social dances. Not only does he take to jitterbugging but also to gymnastics. He was on the gym team of Manual Arts High School, also a member of the Poster Ealotoora. (Lotosus Ka)

● SETSU OAJIUMA

That glamorous creature you have been seeing on the campus, is none other than Setsu Oajima.

Being musical, she likes to sing. She also likes to doodle and eat noodles prepared as spaghetti. "Flop," as she is known to her special friends, has a strong repugnance for milk.

Setsu is the champ of 7K in playing table tennis in her own way with her special technique.

Being so devoted to dear Amaché High, she will return to the campus as a P.G. Her ambition is to be "Una maestra de español" (a teacher of Spanish).

● MARIKO ABE

On February 12, 1925 Brains Mariko Alice Abo stormed into the world.

This walking encyclopedia graced the halls of Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles where she was a member of the scholarship society ovary term. A letter-woman in hockey, she is also an accomplished pianist, organist and composer.

Amiable and likeable Marikate to do some post-graduate work, then, perhaps leave for college.

Mari is also interested in nursing.

● BILL KAWASAKI

"A sugar booting I will go," is the song that Bill Kawasaki is now singing as the "gate of learning" gently closes behind him, pushing him into a war-stricken world.

Four years ago he floated into California, a one year letterman in tennis. His former alma mater was Dorsey High and he now proudly dons his class pin.

Bill is usually seen on the campus walking with Bob Suzuki and Henry Kawamura, two graduating seniors.

Being another Arthur Murray, Bill has made many a girl beam with joy upon an invitation to dance with him.

Although he claims he is a working man, his favorite pastime is loafing.

● HIROSHI ITO

Our next hero needs no introduction whatsoever. He's made himself known throughout the school with his favorite questions, "I ate it" and "I'll knock him down and jump on his face." Yes, you guessed right; it's that brilliant scholar with that dynamic personality—Hiroshi Ito.

Mr. Ito also cut a very active figure on his former Alma Mater, Polytechnic High, being a member of such honorary organizations as the Knights of the Scholarship Society. Sure we have another pigskin star, the full-back of the Poly varsity football team.

Our champion of justice unselfishly tells us that his one ambition is "to further the cause of humanity in my own little way."

When asked what his future plans were he dramatically answered, "Only God knows."

P.S. Hiroshi wears a size 6½ shoe. He kindly offers to accept any extra shoe coupon plus a pair of shoes for a graduation present.

● SADAKO HAYASE

If you should walk into a chemistry, trigonometry, algebra, Latin, or world literature class and hear a studious looking girl with glasses on answering a difficult question, it's two to one that it is Sadako Hayase.

Born in San Francisco and receiving most of her schooling in Los Angeles, it is no wonder that Sadako has more brains than anyone can count.

Sadako is a science major and mathematics minor. She has always been interested in psychiatry and her present ambition is to become a psychiatrist. After graduation, she plans to attend college, possibly Antioch, located in Yellow Springs, Ohio, while she works.

Like all brilliant scholars, Sadako's favorite pastime is reading, especially autobiographies and biographies. Her hero is Benjamin Franklin.

WOODY ODANAKA

Woody Odanaka is so fond of good ol' Amache High that despite the scholarship offered him to Carlton College, Minneapolis, Minnesota, he is still seen strolling about the campus.

Woody is a devoted Dorsey High student, also, and he shows this by sporting his well-earned green sweater.

He uses that green Palmolive soap, and he advises the girls that sunshine, fresh air, and clean living plus milk help him to keep that peaches and cream skin.

He gives credit to Kickapoo Joy Juice" for his nice wavy hair, contrary to the common belief that he uses Hollywood curlers.

Everyone will miss Woody when he leaves (if ever!) and most of all, that mysterious woman.

ESTHER TANI

Another Polyite, Esther Mariko Tani, will also be graduated this term. Fun-loving Esther takes great pride in showing off her—well, almost finished sweater, which was begun several months ago.

She has only two dislikes—little brothers and cowboy music. Among her likes she lists Hiroko Hirota, ice cream, and Polytechnic.

Esther's ambition is to work in a defense plant. Her ultimate goal is to return to California or bust. She expects to bust!

VIRGINIA TAKEMURA

We are saying farewell to one of the "red coats" of our campus.

A brilliant scholar occasionally wearing specs, is Virginia Takemura, who is from "good ol' L.A."

Being slightly different, she loves fish!!! (Maybe that's why she is so brainy.)

In the future she hopes to become a very efficient stenographer for someone. Typing as well as dancing, bowling and that certain young so-and-so is enjoyed by Virginia.

The product made by a hen, (eggs) is not her favorite dish.

At the present, Virginia is looking forward to being one of the first graduates of Amache High.

YONEJI FUKUNAGA

Yoneji Fukunaga, a native son of sunny California missed the April Fool's Day by three hours, and was pronounced "born alive" at three o'clock A.M. on April 2, 1926.

Yoneji, known as Monster Boris, attended the Los Angeles High School majoring in Latin and mathematics.

He was Second Lieutenant in the R.O.T.C. and a member of the Periclean Honor Society.

Yone likes sharp chicks and steaks and desires cash.

He dislikes the mulligans of Amache—there are plenty here, too.

This great big, six foot basketball guard states—I'm six feet, weighing 180 pounds 'cuz I drink cow juice and eat Wheaties—the breakfast food of all champions.

FLORENCE KONNO

Eddie Duchin will soon have a rival in a few years as Florence Konno is very ambitious and hopes to "tickle the ivories" like the famous maestro himself.

Florence knows her music and the present, up and coming song, "I've Heard That Song Before" is first on her own "Hit Parade."

She likes almost everyone she knows with the exception of pessimists and egotists.

Aside from being musically inclined, Florence is also a "brain." She hopes to attend an out-of-state college after the summer vacation, but she is not positive about the school she'll attend to continue her education.

HENRY KAWAMURA

From the Westside of Los Angeles City, we have Henry Kawamura, who was actually born in—Boyle Heights suburb.

Hendo, as he is known to his close friends, dislikes carrots and weiners.

This rugged athlete's favorite sport is ping pong.

After graduation, his intention is to work, then he may go to New York to join his brother; if not he'll join the Army.

His desire and ambition is to get out of camp—if in the Army, his ambition will be to become Commander-in-Chief.

MASAO IGASAKI

"Oh—I'm not smart. I'm dumb. I missed the second problem." If you hear someone mumbling these words it's a sure bet that, that someone is none other than Masao Igasaki.

Modest is the perfect adjective to describe "Buggy," as he is often called, for we all know that our hero is as smart as they come.

Buggy is the hard-to-get type. He's broken more hearts than you could count. He is a regular hermit, liking to be alone and not giving the poor girls even a chance.

Like all he-men, Buggy is an all around sports star. However when asked what sport he was best in, he answered with all his modesty, "Watching."

Buggy's ambition is to be the chairman of the World Federation, putting it more bluntly—Dictator of the World.

KITTY HIRAI

An individualist is Kitty Hirai, who is now enjoying her seventeenth year of life. Although she does not enjoy movies, she may be seen watching a cinema every now and then. Her thoughtful reason being that she is there to keep her friend company.

Hot dogs are on her list of dislikes, too. Kitty loves to fiddle around with her hair. She takes hours fixing it as she loves to be very neat. She is a great fan of sports, but surprisingly, she has never gone to the Liling Amache Hi basketball games. Though Kitty is ambitious, her future is still in the dark.

EMIKO FUJISAKA

Light first dawned upon Emiko "Amos" Fujisaka on October 16, 1924, but she says it hasn't dawned again ever since; she claims she knows nothing.

"Amos" is all set to become a housewife after majoring in home economics at Manual Arts High School in Los Angeles.

This happy creature likes dogs because they make her feel at home. She also likes to swim and knit. "Amos" has only one dislike—Evelyn Miyashima.

◎ MAMORU KANDA

Diligent, soft-spoken Mamoru Kanda, another person who claims Poly High as his former alma mater, can boast of the fine record behind him, both academically and athletically.

Back in Los Angeles, he used to spend all of his spare time puttin' around his father's garage. And through this, he has developed a liking for all things mechanical.

His friends can imagine Mamoru as a successful industrial designer in his future life.

"Mom" is well known for the fine grade of hand lettering that he does.

◎ LEO TATARA

Leo Tataru, known for his art work and the queer antics that he is continually going through, is another "Poly man." (good look!)

Left-handed Leo Tataru, known for his art work and the queer things that he does and the queer friends that he keeps, is another ex-Poly man from Los Angeles, California. (one track!)

At Poly, he was head of the publicity department, directing the painting of posters and the like.

As one would expect, dear Leo is planning to do his future work in the art field.

◎ MAS OKUDA

Fun-loving Mas Okuda, well-known through out the school as an excellent basketball player and all-around athlete is two yards tall, 6,760 days old, and he weighs 2,560 ounces.

This Kau-Kau Lamer claims that he received his first unexcused absent slip in 13 years here in Amache H.S.

He is constantly eating and he says in all modesty that the only reason that he was accepted in the Kau-Kau Laners Club was because he passed one of the Club's rulings. That one ruling being that he is able to eat more than three helpings of the mess hall food.

He is proud of the fact that he has never ditched any of his classes. (Yes, yes! Tell us more.)

His hobby, collecting pin-up girls, keeps him forever trailing girls, and pitching woo.

◎ CAL TSUNAWAKI

An adventurer is Calvin Tsunawaki, with the ambition of travelling and seeing the world.

Calvin is also from the City of the Angels. He attended Los Angeles high school, where he was a star gymnast.

Calvin's hobby is making knickknacks and he likes to draw and paint.

When asked what his favorite pastime was, he answered, "I like them all; nobody in particular."

"My future plans are quite uncertain," says Cal.

◎ KIMI NARUSE

Sport loving Kimi Naruse will leave Amache High as a graduating senior, but will be back with us as a P.G. student. Although her ambition is undecided she is planning to go to college.

A former L.A. High student, Kimi proudly claims that the Romans wore the best in Los Angeles. (how low!)

Kimi found herself very well known and popular at L.A. High.

She has played her part well for Amache, as guard in the girls basketball team. She claims she dislikes nothing, and likes everything.

"Kim" to her friends is known for her beautiful smile, pig-tails, and as one of the best, well-dressed girls in Amache High.

◎ BOB SUZUKI

Ambitious Bob Suzuki, formerly from Los Angeles, does not know what he likes to do, has no hobby, does not know his favorite sport, or his favorite pastime.

He answers modestly when asked about himself, "Oh, I never do very much." (Oh, no!)

He wants to travel extensively as he enjoys being out in the wide open spaces. Many of his friends know of his love to travel as he once rode a bicycle to and from San Diego—the starting point being Los Angeles. (Ke jock!)

Noted for his outness, Bob is now asking his many friends to call him Robert, instead of Bobby. Bob, or "Cutie-pie" as he is very often called.

◎ MARY HORI

5' 1" with big beautiful eyes is Mary Hori. With a quick and friendly smile Mary is well equipped in the art of making friends.

Mary is the proud possessor of a very jolly laugh and brightens everyone with it.

Promising that she is coming back to Amache as a P.G. student, she plans to take shorthand and office practice.

A little doubtful as to her ambition, Mary imagines she will become a secretary.

With a sly look she said that although she feels like an old woman, her favorite pastime is knitting.

◎ KAY YOSHIMURA

Kikuyo Yoshimura, or "Kay" to her many friends was a former Angelino who recently left Manual Arts high school.

As a Senior "B," she left her favorite school and is now seen here in Amache often wearing her "Ranger" class sweater.

Her greatest desire is to attend a business college as her ambition is to become a successful secretary.

"Kay" enjoys reading but her favorite pastime is to grip a paddle and dig into a good game of ping pong.

◎ MAE TANAKA

Although she is a product of Alaska, Mae Tanaka is one hot dancer.

After graduation, Mae wants to go out East—perhaps to New York, where she'll work as a private secretary. (wow, wow)

This graceful former Manual toiler is an outstanding basketball player.

Mae spends her leisure time dancing and knitting.

◎ HARUO KAMO

Haruo Kamowas born somewhere on this earth of ours some time ago.

He is not well known because of his quietness, both in school and out.

An earnest student, he has received the respect of all his teachers here.

He is looking forward to that day when this mad world returns to normal so that he can fulfill his dreams.

◎ MARY HAMAMOTO

The perfect description of Mary Hamamoto can't be said in just three words - "one swell gal."

Mary is very active in sports, her favorite sport being tennis. She also enjoys playing ping pong.

Mary is another student who attended Los Angeles High School before evacuation.

Our heroine's ambition is to go to college.

Although Mary is a very active girl, her favorite hobby is reading and she spends much time doing so.

◎ OUTHOUSE'S BUD

"No, no, no!!!" exclaimed Jim Hamaji when asked if he wants soup or deliciously prepared oysters. The aroma of hamburgers and steaks of any kind except horse meat, will make Jim drop everything and come a runnin'.

Jim walked on the campus of Washington High in Los Angeles before strutting about Amache High. Being interested in the line of sports, he was one of the stars on Washington's "B" football team.

Jim's immediate future plan is to go to Minneapolis and find an office job there. His ambition is to become a Certified Public Accountant in Civil Service.

◎ GORO SASAKI

An all-around sportsman is Goro Sasaki, a former Dem from Susan Miller Dorsey High School.

He began his sports career when he entered Dorsey as a 10th grader, making the "B" football team.

Aside from football his other many accomplishments in the sports field are track, gymnastics, basketball, tennis and ping-pong.

He lifts weights to keep himself physically fit.

He is also a talented dancer--especially when it comes to jitterbugging.

"Gent" as he is known to his close friends is also a "brain" when it comes to mathematics. (h.w.h.w.)

Although his immediate ambition is to join the Merchant Marine, eventually he hopes to become an accountant.

Hallelujah, brutha!

◎ TSUMA TSUKASHIMA

From Gardena, California, we have Tsuma Tsukashima whose future is to date, still dark and undecided.

Her main interests are centered around handicraft and pingpong.

Although she is not particularly interested in the sports field, she enjoys playing volley-ball very much.

Tsuma is a very quiet girl, and her presence in a classroom is hardly noticed by the other students.

When asked about her future plans and ambition, Tsuma modestly replies, "I really don't know what to do. I just can't do anything."

One of her secret ambitions is to travel far and wide, to all of the four corners of this wide, wide world. Now that she is in camp, she states that she is satisfied, just by traveling to Lamer.

◎ HIRO SUYAMA

An interesting fellow is Hirayuki Suyama. He is a former Gardena high student. That school is located in Gardena, California. Gardena is situated in Southern California; therefore, it is a pretty good town.

Hiroyuki seems to be the dreamer type of person. His teachers, although they think that it is all right to be the dreamer type, somehow or another don't like Hiro doing his dreaming during class, so they are continually pointing him over the head to keep him from going to sleep so he can dream.

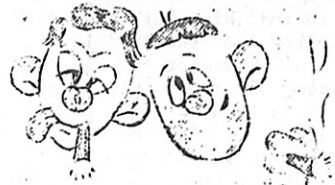

He was no doubt thinking of our cozy barracks when he said, "I want to own a beautiful home in the country in the future." Then he added: "But before I got my beautiful house, I want to go to New York City once. I want to go there during the baseball season so that I can bean a couple of umps with some pop bottle at some Dodger game..." (The dreamer type--hgh, hoh)

After this statement, Hiroyuki gazed dreamily at his plate of beans and mumbled quietly: "I like the smell of a Sweet Pea."

An interesting fellow is Hiroyuki Suyama.

YIPPEE!

WHAT A SWELL (h.w.h.w.) TIME THE GRADS HAD

The 32 graduates are almost satisfied after that afternoon and evening in the Big City last week.

Although they didn't do all that they had hoped to do on their graduation, the fact remains that they did all that was offered in Lamer--and a little more.

The day was featured by a banquet held in the Maxwell House banquet room. This was highlighted by the enjoying of a delicious meal.

A few members of the class were feeling rather piqued and "enjoyed" an after dinner cigar. These few were later carried out of the Maxwell House by their classmates.

Then the seniors stormed over to the Honor Theatre and took over the upper left balcony there. And let me tell you, dear readers--it was rather on the warm side up there. It was the first steam bath that the seniors took since evacuation. If any senior had a cold, it was sweated out of him during the several hours in that theatre.

Several of the boys were seen sitting naked to the waist, with sweat pouring down their bodies. It was a new experience, anyway.

When the gang went bowling, they found no pin boys. Woody Odanaka, Hiroshi Ito, Bob Suzuki, and Hondo Kawamura gallantly offered their services.

It is approximated that each boy lost an average of 2½ lbs. during that ordeal.

However, these four were paid by the management at the stupendous wages of 4 cents per line. It's claimed to have gotten 15%.

That day will no doubt live long in the memories of the W-43 grads.

They are almost satisfied.
