EDITOR TO

TO THE EDITOR:

The most discussed subject in the center today voluntary enlistment. Most of us know little of the background behind the Army's action or realize the full significance of our own action relative to question 27 of the Army-WRA questionnaire.

Every draft-age nisei that I have talked to definitely plans to stay permanently in the United Most of them be-States. lieve that at least 80 per cent of the issel will be permanent residents regardless of the war.

Recently I- have heard that our response to question 27 was to be regarded with great interest. Many people think we nisei are disloyal, and they are only too willing to pounce upon any scrap of information to show us in an unfavorable l'ight.

There are many, in high places, who understand the difficulties we nisei have gone' through. I have read that many of our influential friendshave testified before the Military Affairs committee, stating their implicit faith in the United States.

Our friends won the first point over spirited opposition: The Army's announdement stated the program is the first step "to. restore you to a normal the life of the place in country."

Will we support our friends? Will we justify their faith in us? Our actions in this issue determine how far our friends can carry our case for us.

Many of us did not understand the difference between "voluntary enlistment," and "Yes, if drafted." Je thought they both were loyal answers. I have heard that the general public, however, who know little and care less about us, regards only voluntary enlistment, as the criterion of loyalty. This is the first step in winning for the post office announced ourselves a permanent place in the American life ...

We are at the crossroads. We-granollactively stamping destiny of the nisei the for years to come ...

The issei have tried to give us advice. Most of it was colored. While we respect the issei, most of them have their active years behind them. We nisei are the ones that actually have to find and do the work which will surport our families after the war...

Reports coming from Hawaii and other centers show what other nisei think. We, who regard Granada as the best center, should not let the niseior the center down.

. I believe that the officials should give us week to think and another these questions discuss and also to whate our answers if necessary.

If we are at the crossroads, and if we are writing the destiny of the ni-: sei, we want to give it every consideration.

TOWN HALL

An answer to a question that has been troubling the minds of many dreft-aged nisei with wives and children was carried in the March issue of the Ladies Home Journal.

In a monthly feature, "Men in Uniform", the provisions the Army made for the dependents of a soldier were explained.

Applications for allowance for the dependents must be made by the soldier. The Army does not automatically take care of the dependents on induction as it is often believed.

After the necessary steps to provide for a dependent are taken, the Army will deduct $22 monthly from the soldier's ray, add $28 to it and give it to his dependent. If he has more than one dependent, the Army will take $27 from his ray, add $28 for his wife, $12 for his eldest child, and $10 for each additional child.

Allotments, not to be confused with allowances, are set sums of money deducted from the soldier's pay at his request and paid to his dependents. The Army does not add anything to it, and the size of the allotment is up to the individual soldier.

Any soldier, whether a private or a commissioned officer, can provide for an allotment to be paid to his dependents, but only the lower pay grade soldiers may apply for an allowance.

Captain Fairchild said, in response to a question asked by Walter Knodel, the fact that our dependents live in a WRA center will have no bearing on their rights to benefits they would receive were they residing somewhere else.

The new council, not formally inducted, is to be commended for their action. in holding public meetings isted in the minds of the youth of the center concerning the WRA-Army questionnaire.

TOUCHING

One of the most touch-ing sights seen during the recent Army registration period was that of an elderly woman standing by an entrance to Terry hall, asking assers-by to embroider a stitch on a "senninbari," apparently for a son in the US Army. (A "senninbari," we learned, is a long piece of white material with room for a thousand stitches to be embroivered by as many different persons. It ostensibly gives to the wearer the strength of a thousand persons, and serves as a kind of spiritual bullet-proof vest.) QUIET, PLEASE

Rather than ask you to remove your shoes at the hospital entrance, we choose all against to caution clomp-clomping loudly in the hospital corridors when visiting or at any other time. The clatter is hard on both patients and doctors, so take it easy, please. ORCHIDS AND BANDANAS

How d'you like the madefrom-bandanas blouses made and worn by the 7% Star-lettes? To them, a pat on the shoulder. And as long as we're tossing orchids this way and that, a polite bow to the Protestant church Women's society. They white choir gowns worn for the first tide last Sunday. WIICA --

For three years, he was the big gun on the varsity football and basketball teams at University high in Oakland. His standout performance as guard on the high school eleven earned him a scholarship to Loyola university New Orleans. Here he made numerals in basketball and football.

After a year at Loyola, he attended Salinas JC. and there made his monogram in his two favorite .sports.

Following his college days, he played on the Oakland Methodist hoop team the Los Angeles Panthers.

An old football injury is keeping him on crutches at present, but we hope that it won't be too long until he is okay again.
