THOSE GOING BACK URGED TO STUDY PROBLEMS

Salt Lake City—Both Issei and Nisei were advised by JACL national headquarters to carefully study their own problems before making any move to return to the Pacific Coast.

As far as Nisei who are still within the draft lines are concerned, it was stated that they should not return to their homes without clearing their status with the local draft board.

Back From Colorado

Camp Shelby, Miss.—Technical Sergeant Anzal returned last week from a 16-day furlough with his family in Colorado.

On The Other Hand—

By Roy M. Takeno
What portion of the evacuees propose to return to the West Coast? It is hard to say, but the figures have been hazarded. The WRA is prudent, indeed, in advising those who want to return to be sure to have a job to go back to.

The Gallup poll purports to show that more people on the West Coast are pessimistic about postwar employment than in any other part of the country. The poll indicates, moreover, that more young people are worried than older people about the postwar job outlook.

RESETTLEMENT STORY IN CANADA DISCLOSED: CONTROL SHIFT TOLD

Kalso, B. C., Canada—In 1942, the pioneer resettlers were several hundred young Japanese Canadian men who went to Schreiber road camp and on to sugar beet camps in southwest Ontario. A hundred or so more went into Northern Ontario bush camps and sawmills. Another hundred, mainly in family groups, came east to farm and nursery work, one notable example being 20 or 30 employed by Premier Hepburn in Ontario on his large model farm near St. Thomas, Ontario.

Change in Administration

Early in 1945, with the change in control of the Administration, increased emphasis was placed on the reallocation and employment program. Construction in the settlements was
