Dear Joe + Joan

How are you? Gee how's about a letter, Joe. No letter today and mom was worried because you didn't write.

I've almost finished mom's sweaters for her. I have to finish the front and then that will be by Christmas. Also Townie, Niga-san said that there probably would be enough yarn left over to at least finish your letter man's sweater. She's already to the elbow. Swell huh. Mom ordered some blue yarn and said that she might make one for Joe. The green sweater sure looks better than the red one that I knitted.

I was going to send you the sports section today but I happened to run out of stamps and so I thought that a letter would be better. I hope that the sports news won't be a bore after the dates are a little later.

I see Aiji daily so I always ask what Mike writes & he asks what you write & we get down to a big old conversation. Has Mike left already? I'm just wondering.

Down, Jimmy yelled it me when I was watching our Sophmores play foot ball & so I went to the courts & he said look!
yep! it was the tennis club picture come out swell too. Old share the bog still thinks he's good. Says the picture came out swell because he's in it.
Hirs said the friday you played tennis with her, she felt okay & the day you left she had bad pains from tennis.
Yeps, the party was a success & every body told me that it was good & pigi didn't come to school the day you left so I thought he had too much at the party but he said I went to see to the foff. See you didn't get much sleep that time huh.

you didn't even mention the draft card & while we worried you didn't think of it at all. What happened, you dope.
Yah, I didn't cry. Now what do you think about that. Besides, I'm always an angel when your not around.
So dont think your so hot eh!
now that your gone I get all orders.
That's the worst part of it. One friday we had a church meeting at our house & I sure didn't care for it. I had to wait out in the cold.
So ya dont need sport shirts huh.
well, use them anyway. The extra clothes will be sent pretty soon. Also your dear graduation pictures.
Say <sup>dont</sup> you want those extra things like model airplanes, annuals, & tubes?

You didn't even say how you liked Chicago or nothing I am making a list of questions that you can answer so that we can be more positive in so + so's.

Do you cook?
wash dishes?

" " think our crepe paper flowers look good in the house?

" " get along good with everyone?

" " make your bed everyday?

" " wash & Iron your clothes?

" " work a long time?

" " like your job?

well I guess that's enough to start you on.

Don't forget to put back those shirts that ~~all~~ only need to have the collar fixed.

Do you miss me? I don't think so. Yah & that last letter said.

" Be a nice girl & ~~it~~ make brother well bring you something home."

well, I don't believe you. yep, pop said he wanted a pocket knife
and also a fountain pen.

If your going to bring me back something, I'd like a pen & pencil set and a wrist watch.

What do you think of that. ///

How, did you faint.

tonight at the show, there's going to be 2 features. They are "Yank in the R. P. F. & Bombardier". Swell huh.
So you went to the show eh.

Would you like it? Save me a seat.

Gee, miss Ely has a annual from Kila, & it really is swell. Its bigger than the chieftain, its very interesting to see what other centers are like. They are trying to make a big annual this year and its really going to be something.

How is your job?

Say, if you want to save letters sent to other people cheaper, just stick in the letters & I'll give them to the people. I bet you wouldn't do it any way. Say, be sure to answer all of those questions & so forth.

This letter was really supposed to be for both of you but I guess it ended up being a letter to

Jenny.

So long,

How come
your letters

make

me so formal

Now. Especially - Sincerely Yours Howard.

Just to the family. ha! ha! ha!
