

Shy Uchida

Guns are roaring, bullets whizzing, men dying like rats, so that this world would be a decent place. ^{to live} Yes, this war is terrible. It is not like the war of long ago. It is real modern warfare. The poison gases, enormous guns, modern airplanes making speed which was unbelievable in older days, faster ships crossing the ocean in a week or so. Yes the modern war is terrible. Men have hardly a chance to live.

Now to come back to the good side. In some ways this war has ^{on} done people of this nation good. They have learned to sacrifice their luxury, to sacrifice their loved ones. We have learned not to waste food and other things. New inventions are coming, improving ~~of~~ things like synthetic rubber, plastics, oil, vehicles and others. Yes this war is doing good in some ways. Also there is the bad side in the home front. People like us, the Japanese Americans, born on the soil as any other American was, but still we are not wanted. The few people who distributed ^{news} among the Caucasians that we are some kind of a beast and must be kept behind a fence. This prejudice between races is growing larger and larger sp that there may come a day when only the white race may live on this continent.

Sentences