Dear Sir:

~~In regard to my citizenship of which I am at present not very definite since my application for the renunciation, I wish, at this time to ask of you to cancel my application for the renunciation.~~

At present when every thing is calm after being in turmoil, especially person such as I, I see now that it was an very grave mistake for me to have done such an act as renouncing my citizenship, but the way this camp was at that time, the general feeling of this place and I, being unfortunately here in this camp at that time, and also being so young as not to know my own mind was carried along on that tide of that "general feeling" with my friends and unavoidably, without much of any thinking of my own part renounced.

Thus, Mr. Ennis, I wish that you ~~will consider this case of mine~~ and will cancel my application as soon as you possibly can, in order that I may once more be what I was and also be considered on the "free" list of this camp.

Most anxiously awaiting your reply.

Respectfully,

Morgan Junitake Yamataka
