CREW LEAVES FRIDAY

BEET COMPANY OFFERS HIGH COMPENSATION

"Highest wages, good climate and best living conditions." Those are the claims of the American Crystal Sugar Company's representatives, C. Oftedal and L. S. MacDonald, now signing up volunteers for Montana in Women's Shower Annex C.

The men came armed with photographs and comparative wage figures to back in their statements.

RELOCATING UNITS PROVIDED

A large dormitory for bachelor workers and seven tourist cabins will accommodate 60 of the harvest hands. The buildings are equipped with heating units, hot and cold showers, and cooking facilities. The evacuees will live on a cooperative basis with the food costs divided among the workers. All other living expenses will be borne by the company and farmers.

Comparative wage scales reveal that compensation is as high or higher than (Cont'd on pg. 4 col. 2)

The following are leaving on the advance contingent:

Departure from the Center will begin at 1:30 p.m. to board the train at the Southern Pacific station. The workers will prepare the project area for the arrival of the main body, who will begin movement on October 14.

FREIGHT TO GO TOMORROW

Freight shipments for the early crew will be picked up tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock to be loaded on the train at the Prescott Spur, south of the Center. Freight should be left at the end of the No. 5 apartments while baggage should be taken to the apartment No. 1 end.

The Advisory Council has selected Dr. Kikuo H. Tama, as the train monitor for this trip and Sumio Kono, Soichi Henni, Robert Itanaga and Toshio Nakagawa will be the car captains.

OBTAIN FREE SCRIPT BOOKS

The advance crew members are asked to call for October issue of script books at the Center Store tomorrow morning. Presentation of notices from the Personnel Records Section will be necessary in order to receive the coupons.

E. P. Pulliam, Center Manager, announces that the routes to be followed by the relocation trains will vary each trip. The first run will pass through Ogden, Utah; Denver, Colorado; Kansas City, Kansas; and Memphis, Tennessee.

WHAT THE WISE ARKANSAS TRAVELER SHOULD HAVE

According to a letter received recently by the Santa Anita Pacemaker from a former resident of the center now in a relocation center, pillows and cushions are highly recommended for the long train ride inland.

Other essentials are towels and toilet articles and a can of some sort. Blankets are necessary, for the early morning is quite cold; and portable radios with DC or battery hook-ups are considered luxuries.

Bring magazines, books, cards, etc., to occupy your time on the trip.

time, he advises.

Other tips include dressing for comfort's sake rather than wearing your "Sunday best" since sleep on the "godforsaken seats" are hard on one's clothing.

REALIZING OUR HOPES AT THE RELOCATION CENTER

Our relocation is imminent. We know where we are going; we know how we are going to get there; we know, too, at least to a limited extent, what to expect. We know, we are going to start from the bottom and build up; we know we are pioneers in a calvalcade depicting courage, ingenuity, patience, determination. We know what we can do through cooperation. We know, and because we know these facts we are going to look ahead and plan to build a larger community of which we can be justly proud. We are not only going to plan, we are going to work; we are going to work hard to give reality to our plans; the reality of existence. Ours shall not be a task of reconstruction but one of creation and being creators we are going to be strong, resourceful, true. Yes, we are going to be true to the finest and highest manifestation of the humanity; we are going to transcend the narrow, confining boundaries of ideology, race, creed, color; we are going to do this through study, appreciation of the arts, participation. We are going to work through the realization of our race towards the realization of the ideality of human fellowship.

We are going to put morning into our every act and thought by our understanding that each thought and not may hinder or progress the development of a better world. We are going to start now because we know that every day our influence helps or hinders the realization of our high aims. We are going to live in an abundant life of courage, vision, work, and play, and by so doing we are going to live in a better, richer world.

WHY WE SHOULD READ

According to H. G. Wells, the historian, the invention of the printing press was one of the great factors, which tended to aggrandize universal education.

Today, we have literally tons of printed matter--newspapers, periodicals, pamphlets and books of all kinds. Obviously, it is impossible and also undesirable to try to read everything. A keen sense of discrimination becomes necessary.

Selective reading provides a basis for attaining knowledge. The wisdom of the ages is contained in the printed page, if only the search is made with a critical eye. As Bacon says--"Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and some few to be chewed and digested."

As our critical reading becomes more extensive in scope, whether in the realms of education, literature, philosophy, or of any other field, our mental horizon is accordingly broadened.

Thus, extensive reading creates an important background of knowledge for us in a complex world. It provides a basis for a more intelligent understanding of our society--and understanding is one quality, which is vitally needed today.

Sept. 24, '42
Malta, Montana

Dear Editor:

In behalf of the Montana volunteers, we had a small trip. Our journey started at 4:40 p.m., Saturday, and we arrived at our destination at 10:30 a.m.

Upon our arrival we had a very nice reception meeting us. We were greeted by the manager of the Idaho Sugar Co., the mayor of Malta City and the people of the town. The farmers were also out to welcome us.

Speaking of Montana, the weather is fine. Just slightly cooler than Fresno. This morning it was near the 34 degree mark. That wasn't much. We liked it.

The living condition is the only setback for the group. Most of the farmers do not have electricity, and the cabins look dilapidated. No wash rooms, and above all, lots of iron is found in the water.

Even though we are confronted with this situation, we are trying our utmost to meet the farmers half way. The people in Malta are very congenial and believe in associating with us.

Well, at present we haven't much to write, so until next time, we remain,

The five,
Alan Morishige
Larry Shintoku
Chasay Saki

Malta, Montana

Dear Editor;

The weather here is very cold, in fact we already had a little snow. Majority of the boys that came here are staying at the Auto-Camp because of the poor housing on the farms. At present we are digging potatoes and pitching hay. Most of the farmers intend to start harvesting the beets next week. Sincerely,

Joe R. Tomine

Yep, it's Arkansas. Now that we know we're definitely going there, what about brightening up our spirits? If you were one of those whose heart sank over the news that it was Jerome, well cheer up and prepare for some adventure ahead. And if you want to keep up with the time and place, you might like to take a course in hillbilly language. I reckon he has Bob Burns beat.

THERE BETTER BE

So there won't be any snakes in Jerome. Well, what about alligators then? At least a half dozen girls in the Press office will be mighty disappointed if we don't find any alligators to skin. What with all the plane we've made to keep up with Domo Fashion wearing genuine alligator shoes and all... genuine, I repeat.

WITH THE ADVANCE CREW

The GRAPEVINE staff will be depleted by three of its most efficient staff members when the Advance crew leaves for Jerome on Friday. Petite and dependable typist, Kimi Iwane, without whose industrious efforts the GRAPEVINE could not have been perfected, will be most sorely missed, along with hard working reporter Carl Kurihara and technical assistant Tsugio Nakagawa. Carl has been working until the very end on the VIGNETTE while Tsugio has been an indispensable stencil surgeon. To Kimi, Carl and Tsugio goes a GRAPEVINE salute, and our bon voyage!

WITH BEST WISHES

Going one step ahead of the others along with the GRAPEVINES are many other friends. Dr. and Mrs. Taira and family, (of the GRAPEVINE Advisory Board) Fumi Kawai, Bob Itaya (who wouldn't let our City Editor take his place), and friend Sumio (recently of the ten-g lion bat), who has promised to be on the lookout for our first alligator. Well, so long!

CENTER SCHOOL ENROLLMENT HITS ALL TIME HIGH MARK

Attendance for the Education Department classes has hit a new high of 2005 indicating that two of every five people in the Center are enrolled in some course.

The department has recently received books loaned to them from the Central Union High School to supplement the supply already possessed by the Center school.

All textbooks donated by the Fresno City Schools will be packed and shipped to Jerome for use at the Relocation Center.

The school will disband on October 9 with an assembly program.

A rhythm band is being organized in the pre-school class and new wood blocks have been received from the carpenters.

RUMORS ARE FALSE

Rumors to the effect that workers who remain until the last movement to clean up the Center will not receive compensation are false, advises C. L. Wohler.

"All people will receive pay up to and including the last day of work," declares Wohler. "Check will be forwarded directly to the Jerome project."

BARRACKS, YARDS MUST BE CLEAN

C. H. Merrill, director of the Works Division, requests residents to pile up all unnecessary articles along side their barracks from Thursday so the work crew may dispose of them.

All awnings and shelters must be taken down and all vegetation must be removed. WATCH FOR THE VIGNETTE in any other part of Montana.

Al Kawasaki, former Lodi shipper, is assisting the officials in explaining the offer of the company with which he has been connected since July.

More than 300 Japanese evacuees are already in the vicinity of Lake County in Western Montana. Reports indicate they have been well-received by the native populace.

FIELDS IN WESTERN MONTANA
 Kawasaki pointed out that the beet fields are located in Western Montana. Previous work crews who have gone to that state from Fresno, have been sent to the eastern sector.

U. S. Weather Bureau records show the average daily temperature in Western Montana to be 49.7 degrees in October and 34.85 degrees in November with little or no snow until January.

RESIDENTS INVITED TO CHAT

Ralph Wertheimer of the War Relocation, who is supervising the recruitment, invites any resident to chat with Kawasaki, Of- ftedal or Macdonald, in regard to this offer.

No one in the advance detachment is eligible.

The first contingent will probably leave tomorrow afternoon, but the registration of workers will continue until a quota of 100 is filled.

DOOR PRIZES TO BE GIVEN AWAY AT DANCE

Twenty-five door prizes are to be given away at the "Goodbye Now" dance to be held on Butler Avenue tomorrow night from 7:30 o'clock. The affair is sponsored by the Center Young Buddhist Association.

RESIDENTS MUST GET FREE SCRIPT BOOKS BY 12TH

Script books for month of October must be obtained not later than the 12th," announced W. E. Pollock, Service Division Director.

Coupled with this statement was the warning that the Visitor's Building will be closed after October 15 and no more visitors will be allowed to come into the Center.

"Boxes will be provided only for those who actually are in need of them," says Harry Conde, in charge of freight and baggage. "I will take a house to house visit to determine those who will receive boxes, but residents should not come to me for them."

MESS WORKERS BADLY NEEDED

The Mess and Lodging Division has issued a call for additional employees in order to keep the mess halls running at maximum efficiency.

Tillie Kawai will interview applicants for offers which will be closed October 2.

"Be patriotic," urges Clifton Snelson, division director. "Keep up the reputation of the Fresno Assembly Center for cooperation and fair policy. Remember that the problem of securing help for the various jobs is the problem of the Center as well."

NEW TEAMS ENTER HOOP

In the boys hoop league competition, several new teams have entered--Florin A, Florin Zephyr Babes, Rockaroos, Firefighters and Rough Riders. Two leagues have been formed in the middleweight division--single B and double B. The double B is the strongest league. This league will not be completed in time for evacuation to relocation center. A tournament will be sponsored in the near future.

YOUNG UNABE UNDEFEATED

Tommy Urabe, younger brother of Frank, hurler for the Delano Aces, cracked the Fowler C's team to an undefeated first round. Goro Moriyama and Bob Yosikawa are the managers of this winning team. The baseball board may put Fowler into the B league this week.

The Moss D basketball team greatly misses Frank Higa aggressive forward, who left for the sugar beets field in Montana.

Several more weeks of recreational activities and we shall depart from this great San Joaquin Valley for the duration.

FRESNO MAIDENS TRIM FLORIN SIX

Fresno's lasses handed the Florin girls their second black mark by humbling them 18 to 7.

Masayo Arata of the Raisin City team took high scoring honors with 13 points. Fresno guards Fatsy Onata, Michi Nishimura and Mitsuye Kamikawa were outstanding defensively.

FLORIN GETS BACK INTO WIN COLUMN, EDGE HANFORD 4-3

The Florin Aces handed a 4 to 3 defeat to Hanford in a thrilling 10 inning fracas at the Center ball ground Saturday afternoon.

CENTER "EXPERTS" CAN'T AGREE WHO WILL WIN SERIES

Will the New York Yankees return to their Bronx lair as baseball champions of the world again, or will the St. Louis Cardinals be able to dust off their American League rivals?

This question was asked 12 of Fresno Center's diamond "experts".

A close series was indicated since six of the horseshoe yogis picked the Yanks and an equal number, the Redbirds.

The predictions are as follows:

Center Manager Ellis P. Pulliam--St. Louis to win four games to two.

Assistant Manager L. A. Dunn--The Yanks to win four games to one.

Service Division Director Walter E. Pollock--Give me the Cards, four games to two.

Works Division Head C. H. Merrill--It's the Cardinals four to two.

Mercur of the Interior Police--New York Yanks to take it, four games to one.

Carl Bengston, recreation director--New York, four games to one; Yanks absent (Cont'd on pg. 6 col. 2)

The Hanford nine took an early lead in the second frame when Herb Kurima walked Tom Fujita and "Mo-oso" Furukawa and right-fielder Isa dropped Nori Saki's fly ball to load the bases.

Yame Chono singled into left field to score two runs. The Kings County boys scored another run in the eighth inning on three bingles.

FLORIN TALLIES IN EIGHTH

Florin tallied their first run in the eighth when Mac Kurima was hit by a pitched ball. Herb Kurima walked and Bill Tsukamoto singled. In the last half of the ninth canto, Sam Tsukamoto was hit by a pitched ball, Dick Kurima and Ichiro Miyagawa both flied out to left, but Mac Kurima singled and Herb Kurima doubled down the right field line to score Sam Tsukamoto and Mac Kurima to tie up the game.

In the tenth inning, Hanford failed to tally but with two outs, Florin scored the winning run when Hiro Tahara was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on Sam Tsukamoto's single.
