RELOCATION OF STUDENTS DISCUSSED

THOMAS R. Redine, working with the American Friends Committee from Seattle, Washington and representing the National Student Relocation Council, visited the Center yesterday, July 8. He spoke to a group of approximately 40 interested and would-be college students on the possibility of continuing with their education in a mid-western or eastern college.

Each student filled out a questionnaire concerning former schooling, funds available, major interests and educational preferences. These questionnaires will serve as a basis for the selection of eligible students, as only a certain percentage of people can be accommodated.

The National Student Relocation Council is a council of distinguished educators headed by Dr. Atkins J. Barstow, President of the Hartford Seminary Foundation. The purpose of this council is to find college opportunities for students now in Relocation and Assembly Centers by approaching mid-western and eastern colleges for student placement, and attempting to raise scholarships funds.

BLOCK C RESIDENTS TO MOVE FIRST

THE first exodus from Pinedale to the relocation areas will be from Block C, it was officially announced by Fred P. Hauck, Center manager, this week.

The order in which the center population will move out is as follows: Blocks C, D, E, B, and A.

The initial move will begin July 15, with approximately 500 transferred each day until the movement is completed, and beginning July 23, 750 will be sent to the Colorado River center.

Approximately 4,000 evacuees from Washington and Oregon will be moved to Tule Lake, while 750 California evacuees will be sent to Arizona.

Removal of 4,750 Pinedale evacuees to the Tule Lake War Relocation Center in Modoc County and the Colorado River War Relocation Center near Parker, Arizona was ordered on July 3 by Lieut. Gen. J. L. DeWitt.

The removal orders were officially revealed to the Center by Fred P. Hauck during the Fourth of July ceremonies last Saturday.

DR. F.H. SMITH TO SPEAK SUNDAY

THE REVEREND Dr. Frank Herron Smith, chairman of the Protestant Commission on Maritime Japanese Service, will speak at the outdoor service this Sunday from 9 a.m. in the A recreational field, situated in front of Hospital A.

Dr. Smith has been in constant touch with Lieut. Gen. J. L. DeWitt and other government officials regarding the Japanese problem since the start of the present war.

VARIOUS GROUPS PLAN FAREWELL PARTIES

PINEDALE will go social in a big way! Chicken dinners, lunches, Chinese dinner courses and even corsages and It is partying farewells.

Chinese dinner is being planned.

Helen Kumasawa and Ma- zuko Moricks head the dance committee.

THE CANTEEN SITUATION

PEOPLE are worried over not being able to spend their newly acquired coupon books before they are sent to Tule Lake.

Results: People are jamming the canteen to near-exploding point; people are forming super-long lines, hours before the canteen opens; people are packing the counters five deep clamoring for goods; people are buying everything they need and everything they don't need--the situation takes on the appearance of the stock market panic of '29.

Such a condition is neither excusable nor necessary. ALL PATRONS WILL HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO USE UP THEIR COUPON BOOKS. This statement is guaranteed by the canteen officials. A special permit has been obtained from San Francisco allowing the purchase of $17,000 worth of sundries of merchandise. Under this permit there will be no delay in the purchase and in the delivery of goods. There is no need to worry about not being able to use up the coupon books. The canteen wishes to emphasize this to all patrons.--B. M.

Bodine stressed the importance of careful selection of first students since they will serve as "ambassadors" and pave the way for others. Students will be selected on the basis of scholarship, qualities of leadership character, personality and adaptability.

The compiling of information is expected to be completed by August. The final selection will then be made so that students will be able to enter school in the fall. The exact number to be selected is not known, but there will be ample opportunities for others to follow later, depending on the openings available, it was said.

Bodine said that this was the opportunity for the nisei to integrate themselves into new communities. "The nisei should look upon this as a challenge, an

DONATION

A CENTER-WIDE donation drive was sponsored by the Central Committee Wednesday and Thursday.

The money will be used to cover the expenses of the recent graduation exercises and the Fourth of July celebration.

"opportunity and chance to do a job for all of the Japanese Americans," said Bodine.

Other points brought up by Bodine were: that this work does not only mean colleges and universities but trade schools and art schools as well; that all student relocation must take place out of the eight western states, including Montana and Utah; the government is not paying transportation expenses at the present; that if the student wishes to come back at any time he may, or after finishing his course, he may remain and take advantage of any work opportunities that may come.

CENTER MANAGER Fred Hauke made his biggest announcement on this historic Fourth of July that celebrated caused many whoop with joy, others to groan with disappointment, and still others to take this information philosophically. When Mr. Hauke made this announcement, it was only natural the people responded the way they did. The cheers came from the Washingtonians and Oregonians who, in all probability, were looking forward to rejoining their North-western friends at Tule Lake. The groans were emitted by the Californians who were counting on rejoining some of their Sacramento friends at Tule Lake--but instead received orders that they would be sent to the Parker Dam project in Arizona. Those of the philosophical side either had resigned themselves to any geographical fate or figured that their friends would not be present wherever they were sent. One consolation is that no one knows what the future holds for them. Those who are the most bitterly disappointed now may be the happiest in the future.

JULY 4, 1942 is now only a memory. Patriotically, we were more conscious of the word freedom than ever before. This Independence Day was strangely different from any that we ever spent before. Here our country is locked in a death struggle with Axis aggressors and our part at the present is to remain within the confines of internment centers--living as normally as possible. Considering all factors, we had an excellent 4th of July program....It was a little different from our celebration last year when we paraded around the Northwest in our racing, swimming, in picnics, taking in movies, attending a semi-formal dance to top the holiday peak.

But times have changed for everybody and we repeat our celebration this year was appropriate and enjoyable.

PARTIES

ADMINISTRATION

• ANOTHER chicken dinner affair and dancing is added to the many farewell parties, when the administration department will hold a party at the Visitor's hall from 7 to 11 p.m. Monday.

Patrons will be the officials of the administration office. Chairmen of the affair are Tsuyoshi Horiike, Shizuko Nitta, and Hannah Nakagawa. George Hori is in charge of the program.

Approximately 70 people are expected to attend.

TIMEKEEPERS-EMPLOYMENT

• SEVENTY people from the Timekeepers and Employment division enjoyed a full course dinner Friday evening with dancing afterwards. According to Fred Kinoshita, general arrangement chairman, five gallons of ice cream have been donated by Mr. William H. Weller for the affair. A chicken dinner with all the trimmings was served and prepared at A 1 mess. The main speaker of the evening was John Fukuyama, who spoke on behalf of both departments. Toastmaster was Min Iuchimochi.

Patrons for the occasion were Mr. F. Brault, Fred Hauck, Don Harrington, G. Chase and William Weller.

Committee chairmen under Kinoshita were: Roy Higashi, finance; Aiko Nakatsu, dinner; Kaz Mukai, decorations; Fred Kinoshita, and Kenji Oyanagi, invitations; and Min Nakamura, dance chairman.

RECREATION

• CHOPPY Yasui wanted chicken. He couldn't leave Pinedale without having chicken, so the Recreation department staged a gala party Thursday night from 8:30 to 11, at the Visitor's hall and there were chickens galore!

Officials present were: Fred P. Hauck, George King, and Carl Bengston.

Highlighting the evening was a fan dance by Ray Mori, James Matsuoka, and Mats Sakagami.

Saw-dust

BY G. T. SATANAGE

• CENTER manager Fred P. Hauck's Fourth of July announcement concerning the relocation of Pinedale evacuees at Tule Lake and Parker Dam, culminated the many weeks of wild guesses, even wilder rumorizing and anticipations of things to come.

Before the official announcement, rumors flew fast and furious. But now that our permanent home for the duration has been definitely set, a relative calm is apparent in the Center. People are now too occupied with packing preparations and looking forward to their new home at Tule Lake and Parker.

Now that it has been definitely decided that we are to be relocated, people are reluctant to leave. Many close friendships and numerous associations can be made in two short months. The 4,800 evacuees in the Center were just beginning to know each other. Victory gardens were just starting to sprout. Center activities, after the first fumbling efforts, were just beginning to function smoothly. To break away, when the community is finally settled--to leave the products of weeks of scheming and labor, is not easy.

Sure, we've griped about food (get a large number of people and you'll always find beefs about food --it's inevitable), we've kicked about the dust and we've moaned about the sweltering heat. But, come right down to it, we think that everyone will agree that the Center management has done an excellent job in providing a pleasant environment for the evacuees.

We believe that a line or two of grateful acknowledgment to the administrative staff from the Center residents is in order at this time. The staff has devoted many grueling hours for the benefit of the evacuees.

Take a bow, Messrs. HAUCK, KING, BENGSTON, WELLER, ROBERTS, McQUEEN, BRAULT, HARRINGTON, JOHNS, MIDDLETON.

* * * * *

• FAR into the night and early dawn labored the entire LOGGER staff last Friday, putting finishing touches to the 16-page holiday edition. At 5 a.m., bleary eyed, yawning newsmen stapled the last copy of the LOGGER. It was dawning Fourth of July.

The staff deserves much credit for their diligent efforts. Putting out a 16-page issue is no picnic. The staff members will readily attest to that.

We would like to pay special tribute to our art editor, Charles Nakata, for his painstaking work on the issue. Chuck designed the masthead and all the column heads, drew cartoons and illustrations and cut all the art work on the 16 pages. And that, my friends, is quite a feat.

Especially woozy was smudged-face George Yawang, our runner, who aided the mimeograph department. It was the first time he stayed up so late, George claims.

IMMUNIZATION

• DR. H. O'KONOGI announced that all evacuees will receive their immunization cards before leaving the Center. They will be distributed Saturday.

It is important that these cards are not lost, otherwise the individual without his card will have to go through with the immunization procedure again.

BRING 'EM BACK!

• UNITED STATES property, such as silverware, laundry tubs, washboards, carbons, nails, empty bleach bottles, which were borrowed or taken from mess halls, laundries and grounds must be returned immediately to their proper places or to B 2 women's shower annex where they will be accepted without question.

PINEDALE ENJOYS UNUSUAL FOURTH

FREE watermelon, pink lemonade, flags, bathing beauties, patriotic floats, music, games, exhibits, dances, and baseball closed one of the most unusual Fourth's experienced by residents of Pinedale Center. The community joined the Nation in observing the first war time Fourth. Most residents here were many miles away from their homes.

For a majority, this Independence Day with was the first experience in handling and observing events and programs sponsored exclusively by the Japanese.

ELECTRICIANS GET FIRST PRIZE

First prize in the float entries was awarded by the judges to the Electricians on merits of originality, workmanship and patriotic theme. An imitation light globe, measuring four feet in height and 30 inches in circumference with an American eagle, perched atop, carried out the theme. Signs of "America Light of the World" and an airplane was placed on top of a pole with "Keep 'em Flying" motto below. The sign Electricians was lettered with old fuses to identify the sponsors. Streamers augmented the color. Connie Endo, Esther Sato and Suma Tsuboi wearing bathing suits and picture hats rode the float. For lack of flowers in Pinedale, "Pinedale poppies" made out of crepe paper were thrown to the spectators by the girls.

CARPENTERS' FLOAT CLEVER

The Carpenters department ran close competition to the Electricians with a tumbledown, ramshackle picture of an Ozark mountaineers dwelling. Lounching in front of the shack amidst unmentionable laundry hanging on clothesline were the barefoot mountaineers in befitting outfitts. Mountaineers were Roy and James Kanetomi, Kunei Urushibata, Yas Narita, George Kurose, Jimmy Morikawa and Aub Funai.

The float designed by Mas Narita for the plumbers, was covered with green leaves and shrubbery and the identification was spelled out by an assortment of pipes. The float was completely equipped with plumbing equipment including a running shower.

Five little girls dressed in white, Janice Matsuka, Elaine Teruoka, Susan Sakaguchi, Michiko Kikuchi, and Rueli Ann Matsuka represented the float of the Recreation department. The centerpiece was a large shield, "Spirit of '42" in patriotic color theme. The sides of the float were covered with leafy greens and the little girls waved to the spectators with big crepe roses of varied colors which they carried. This float was made under the supervision of Masaji "Stogie" Toki.

The Timekeepers went aristocratic with three passenger cars decorated with streamers as their representation in the parade.

ASSORTED GOODS DECORATE FLOAT

The warehouse float was made up of an odd assortment of material one evidently finds in the warehouse of the Center. Inclusive of the material were mops, brooms, and sacks of rice. Bathroom tissue substituted for streamers.

Co-chairmen for the parade were Nobi Yamada and May Funai.

GRAND TIME HAD BY ALL, REPORTER FINDS

BY TOM SETO

PATRIOTIC, happy, and sad memories lingered in minds of Pinedale's citizens after the proverbial fireworks of Independence Day were quieted.

The all day program drew favorable comments and praise from all those participating from young and old alike. In interviews, rambling through the Center, remarks were typical as the following:

MARIKO HARADA--secretary from Sacramento: "I guess it could have been better, but can one blame a person for feeling low after hearing a sad announcement on the Fourth?" Mariko wanted to make her destination Tule Lake instead of Arizona, as is ordered.

MASAMI SADO--handicraft instructor: "I think we enjoyed the celebration here much more than we could have elsewhere".

TAE NORIMATSU--dance instructor: "The whole day was a gala affair".

CHESTER BUTSUDA--man in the street: "The girl's drill team was sure classy".

MASAE YASUHIRA--nurse: "It was an excellent patriotic display".

SATORU KATO--electrician: "Sure was a thrill to see our float take first place".

SMILES KINOSHITA--photographer: "Contrary to all Fourth of July celebrations, it was sad because my future destinations turned southward instead of to Tule Lake".

JAMES OKIMOTO--employment interviewer: "Under the facilities, it was very well handled by all groups".

JACK NAMBA--baker: "I admired the ingenious construction of the floats".

LOUIS MATSUMOTO--former shipbuilder: "Everything turned out swell".

KAY OKATAKI--carpenter: "The carpenter's float should have taken first prize".

NORA HOSHI--nurses: "I think there were more days like it".

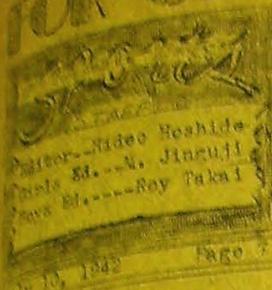

TOM TAKAHARA--boater: "It was fun taking part in the sumo tournament, as were the prizes".

SUNDAY SCHOOL

THE LAST Sunday School worship service will be conducted by the kindergarten, primary and intermediate Sunday School classes from 8:15 to 9 a. m. at E-9.

Center officials have been invited to the service.

SOFTBALL TEAMS TO VIE FOR CENTER TROPHIES

TACOMAN WINS TABLE TITLE

SHIG HAYASHI of Tacoma won the senior division ping pong title by defeating Ben Jacobs of Kent in the Fourth of July tournament.

Hayashi took the first match by a 21-13 score, but fell in the second tussle, 20-21. The Tacoma paddle master came back in the game match with a 21-13 score to overcome his Kent opponent.

Sweeping through a field of 18 table artists, Mika Imai of Hood River downed Florence Tanemura of Enumclaw by 21-19, 21-13 scores to cap the senior girl's crown.

In the finals of the junior boy's championship, Tony Yamane of Tacoma outpointed Mits Takasugi of Tacoma by 21-12 count. 24 paddle wielders entered the junior division.

Nakata and Hayashi were finalists out of a field of 32 senior title seekers.

Hiro Kamikawa was in charge of the tourney. All the matches were played at 4:26.

SIX FROM EACH DIVISION DRAW PLAYOFF BERTH

WITH only a week in which to determine the champions of their respective classes, league officials met with team managers early this week to draw up the schedule for the title playoff. James Matsuoka, boy's director, stated that due to the lack of time, a sudden-death system of elimination will be used in each division.

Top six teams from each division earned berths in the elimination with the exception of the B class.

League director Matsuoka announced that championship games will be played on Monday and individual awards will be made to the players of the winning teams. The

FAREWELL SUMO MEET MONDAY

AFTER a successful holiday tournament, a farewell sumo meet will be held this coming Monday, July 13 from 7 p.m. at the sand pits in Block A.

According to Chairman Frank Watanabe, Californians and Northwest grunt and groaners will participate in three-man and four-man events.

It is expected that sumo artists such as Jim Hirai, Paul Kurobara, George Yamada, Tom Kato, Ken Matsu and others will enter the farewell tourney.

TONIGHT

TACOMA BUSSEIS will meet the powerful Perkins team tonight from 7:15 o'clock at East Field. The winning ten will go into the finals for the AA title on Monday.

award program will follow immediately after the games at the recreation stage.

Teams vying for the AA crown are Busseis, Perkins, Crusaders, Loggers, Auburn and Bellevue.

Seeking the Aye flag are Hood River, Solons, Auburn, Kent, Truckers and Bellevue; while Scrators, Huskies, New Tacoma Suds, Giants, Hospital and Canteen are after the Commercial title.

Every team in the B class was at the starting line to race for the championship.

PLAN NET COURTS AT TULELAKE

TULE LAKE--Tennis enthusiasts met recently with Harry Katsuyama, architect and engineer, regarding the construction of courts.

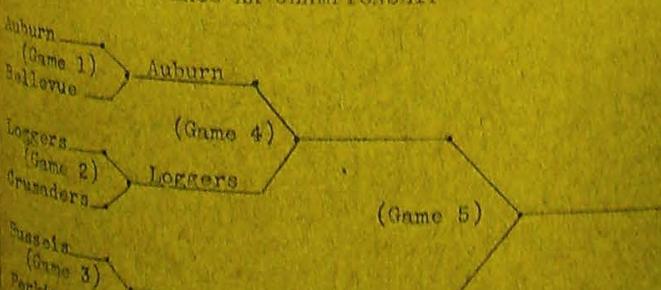

Katsuyama's plan is to have an asphalt top laid over a crushed cinder base.

Eight courts are being planned for the Project.

Sports leaders of baseball, softball, volleyball, tennis, golf, swimming, boxing, wrestling, sumo, bocce sports and hikes received instructions from Ted Waller, recreation supervisor.

FOURTH BABY IS FIFTH IN CENTER

THE TULARE NEWS came out with a beautifully done three color job in patriotic Fourth colors and picture them. The editorial covered the entire front page, and it was something! It was a 12 page affair with twice the amount of staff members than the LOGGER.

EL JOAQUIN, which has certainly improved put forth a neat sheet also for the holiday spirit following the traditional red, white and blue ink. It was a special of eight pages. Excerpt from the program reads... "Show for the Older Folks at Hog Barn."

A KEI-RO-RAI, purpose of which is to honor the elders of TURLOCK Assembly Center was held there recently. The guests were 60 years old or over and entertainment strictly to their liking was furnished.

It did not state what entertainment they liked.. so don't bother to ask.

IN MERCED, 275 graduates received their diplomas. A column excerpt tells us that a Dr. T. Fujimoto requests return of hat which he lost while on call. Quotation on it reads, "If anyone has it, please return it as we are short of doctors, and cannot afford to have him get sun-stroke."

ALL STAR SHOW BILLED TONIGHT

AN ALL-STAR Amateur show will be presented Saturday nite from 7:30 to 9:45. The galaxy of stars is being selected from the participants in previous amateur shows.

General chairmen of this gala event are Ray Yasui and Mrs. Mae Yoshimura.

The census for this particular evening has been extended until 10:00.

A community sup. will be held from 7 to 7:30.

ICE CREAM SALES HIT RECORD HIGH

MRS. Matsuko Onouye, 32-2, is now the proud parent of a Fourth of July baby boy. His name, Victor Makoto, the second baby to be born in the Center and the fifth Pinedale baby, tipped the scale at 8 lbs. 3 oz. Birth occurred at 7 a.m., July 4.

Not only is he a Fourth of July baby but also the fourth child with the exception of being the first boy addition to the Onouye family.

Mrs. Onouye and child are doing very well at Hospital C, according to the attending physician, Dr. M. Kannai.

Mrs. Onouye is formerly of Tacoma.

IT'S A GIRL!

THE stork landed again at Hospital C Wednesday, at 1:45 p.m. for Mr. and Mrs. Yutaka Kanemoto, E-204, ex-Seattleites. It was a girl weighing 6 3/4 pounds. It is reported by attending physician Dr. Tsutayo Ichikawa that both mother and daughter are fine.

EXHIBIT ATTRACTS WIDE ATTENTION

JUDGING by the jammed walls of Barrack B 24 over the Fourth of July holidays, one of the most favorite spots for both young and old was the handicraft exhibit.

Because of popular request, the exhibit reopened Monday night. Yukio Katayama, supervisor of handicraft department, volunteered a statement estimating 99% of the Pineale residents had stepped into the exhibit hall to see and scrutinize the many works of art on display.

Articles which created wide attention and praise were: Kurose's Pinedale Manor by George Kurose, a neatly-carved name plate out of pinswood, ready to welcome friends to his "Pinedale mansion"; the amo trophy, a hand-carved eagle by Masami Sado; hand-sewn collars by students of Mrs. S. Saiki's sewing classes, costing only eight cents for one collar; a carved necklace made of peach seeds by Hifumi Fukui; Fleet's shirts high, the thermometer of ice cream rises accordingly. On the Fourth of July, a new record was set in the sales of ice cream; $940.00--nearly $1000--worth of frozen confections cooled the brows of perspiring Pinedaleans. This record was broken two days later when the adding machine clicked off a total sales of $943.95 at the end of the day. On this day 7,200 frozen confections entered the hands of consumers in less than an hour. At the same time 14 cases of cookies ($119.40 value) was sold in 20 minutes.

An all-time record of 2,400 ice cream confections being sold in just quarter of an hour was established on Independence Day. At this rate, ice cream slid down the hatchways at three every second.

The total sales from July 1 to the 6th reads $3,833.50. The total amount of coupon books issued to that date is $3,82

Business is good.

Inn," a boat named after E 2 mess hall, by George Kurose and Tosh Fujikawa; hand-made and hand-finished blouses by students of the advanced needlecraft courses and a complete tablecloth of medallion design by Mrs. M. Yasui. One of the most outstanding features and ones which received much favorable comments was the art exhibits of Shizue Katagiri's water color paintings and pencil sketches of Steve Naito.

The exhibit attracted not only Center-wide attention, but outside officials attended as well. Two army officials were shown the exhibit Sunday and two officials from San Francisco, Monday. They gave high praise to the results of the two months' handicraft organization.
