IN FLANDERS FIELDS

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

If our public does not object, I would like to take the label off that well-known drink and throw a bouquet of "Four Roses" to the Santa Anita "fac-simile".
 Sincere appreciation is extended to the Peace-maker for recognizing the efforts of the Tulare News' staff after disregarding our poor start.

Our Oak re-Kings Counties Fair Grounds track is only second rate in comparison to that of Santa Anita or Turfway. Personally we all feel that our paper has returned the favor his numerous the child stars and is a little too good to be performing in such a track and believe we ought to be shipped to Churchill Downs or Hialeah where the brass actually run.

Working under poor facilities as we are, we're doing a darn good job. I issue a warning that when we get the proper equipment you first raters had better watch out.

Princes galore have been thrown our way during the past few weeks. We're so darn influential that people now come demanding that we throw in their names. So for their reward we are now giving our public, colored editions of material that may some day go down in history.

This is Iwazaki buckling down for old "Whiskey" and looking forward to the day when we hope to overtake a few of our rivals.

Amemiya... MODERN DANCES

That the bustle and confusion of the Japanese awaiting registration, packing, anxiety, howling on the train ride, all can be incorporated into the position of an interpretive dance was disclosed during a recent interview with Miss Yuriko Amemiya, well-known student of modern dancing.

Finding beauty, in what to a layman is just a jangling ordeal, is comparable to a poet or musician, who senses their masterpieces in times when the average person gives up in despair.

Miss Amemiya, hiding a dynamic personality under a serene exterior, used graceful and expressive movements of her hands to emphasize her conversation. Born in San Jose, Miss Amemiya left for Japan at the age of six to study dancing, and to receive formal education. While in her parents' homeland, she studied under Kenami Ishii and other famous masters. During vacations she traveled to many great cities giving recitals and demonstrations.

Returning to this country five years ago, she danced under the direction of Dorothy Lyndall, Doris Humphrey, and others, as well as being the assistant dance recital director at U. C. L. A.

Always playing the lead in an otherwise all-casual group, she has given demonstrations at all high schools near Hollywood, and performing at the Sigma Stern Grove in San Francisco, interpreting dances as the "Green Mansion." Her only tour with Japanese cast was with Teiko Ito's group, playing in Los Angeles, and Fresno. A projected itinerary through the east was frustrated by the advent of war.

"Jitterbugging is fun to watch, but I don't want to try it," said Miss Amemiya, when asked about the

VEGETABLES DISTRIBUTED

Fresh vegetables which are brought into Tulare Center for the daily menus are first washed, pared, cut up, and put in buckets, and distributed equally to the ten kitchens.

Under the direction of Ken Mishino, a staff composed of twenty-two workers prepare the vegetables for the various cuisines.

Those engaged at this task are: Robert G. Hayn-shi, (timekeeper), John Yoshimura, Yasukazu Shikimura, Akira Matsushita, Yutaka Matsushita, Eiko Oki, Sei Sujishi, Tadashi Nagayama, Shigoru Shimada, Shizuo Hanano, Frank I. Kitagawa, Kunio Mori, Masakazu Sakamoto, Mitsuyuki Matsumoto, Isamu Iroyo, Masao Akiyama, Noboru Takeuchi, Shigee Kitagawa, Minoru Akazumi, Roy Hiroto, Tetsuro Ishii, and Takashi Abe.

NEWCOMER WELCOME

Mr. "Metrostyle-Modist" weighing 150 pounds is the latest arrival from Pasadena, who formerly occupied the popular corner of the Pasadena Union Church.

The newcomer is an upright piano, converted to the reinforced corner barrack L-4, where all pianists will harmonize.

Students, including organizations, who want to use the piano can be arranged with Miss Hara. (3-4-9).

FAMILY BOASTS 13 CHILDREN

One of the largest bonafide families in the Tulare Center is that of the Fukutaki's, formerly of Pasadena. Mr. Fukutaki, who recently passed away, is survived by Mrs. Agate Fukutaki and thirteen children. Keiji, being the head of the family, is followed by Kimiko age 25, William 23, Robert 18, Edgar 16, Helen 15, Frederick 13, Albert 11, Elizabeth 9, Margaret 7, Edward 5, Charles 4, and Mary Anne 7 months.

Pasadena must be known for its large families, for the next largest is that of Mr. and Mrs. Kasu Yamaoka, also from Pasadena. Following Michiko, who is the oldest of the ten children, are Midori 17, Fusako 15, Tashiaki 14, Eiko 12, Torako 10, Sumiko 8, Masuo 6, Ben 5, Hariko 3.

Boasting a number of ten children are Mr. and Mrs. Shinge Yamashiro of El Monte. Toshiko, who is 22, heads the children in the Yamashiro family. Next are Haruko 21, Matsuko 19, Yas 17, Shinya 14, Joe 10, Shizuyo 12, Shigeru 10, Nobuko 8, Genge 7.

The following are the nine next largest families in the Center. Maruo Takasugi, 12; M. Tomooka, 11; Shinichi Misumi, 11; Yuzo Kadota, 11; Hayasuko Yamamoto, 11; Nobutaru Kiyahara, 10; Masaji Inoshita, 10; Aiko Utsunomiya, 10; Kashichi Hosaki, 10.

MAGAZINES, BOOKS WANTED

"Back issues of old magazines, books, and funny books are needed in the Recreational Hall to provide the younger children who come in there for reading materials. Also any literary books not in use at home are welcome," explained Albert Ikeda, director of that department. Contributions of such nature will be accepted at H-4 or at Ikeda's home, located at L-1-1.

Eventually, a small library for this Center will be in the making, but in order to put this over, the cooperation of all is imperative.

The older issues are invited to come to the hall to join the others in playing "go" between the hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. where, later, promises of teaching beginners have been issued. To further encourage such games like chess, checkers, parcheesi, Japanese checkers, monopoly and other table games, tournaments will be scheduled to judge the outstanding player in each division.

Assisting Ikeda at the Recreational Hall are Maruko Okazaki, Ruth Saika, and Yoshiko Oshita.

Amemiya... LOVES DANCING

modern dance for blue-blooded young Americans.

Although the Japanese form of dancing is very expressive, it should come out of its shell and allow for more freedom of movement, according to Yuriko who said that it is very easily adopted to her own style.

The sight of all the young girls with nothing to do has touched her in a tender spot, and has aroused the desire to teach a class for sport rather than culture.

Miss Amemiya practices two or three hours a day, and has no special diet, but does take plenty of milk. Much of her time is also taken up in designing and making her own costumes as well as listening to endless records to find appropriate music for her interpretations, all of which she claims is very costly.

Yuriko, who lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shoji Watanabe, in barrack K-12-4, says that her stepfather, who was a former singer, gave up his career in favor of his daughter's, and was engaged in the nursery business before taking up residence here.
