Hunt for Unsuspected Tuberculosis In Local Community Will Begin with Visit of X-Ray Unit June 14-18

The search for unsuspected tuberculosis comes to Jackson Street for the third consecutive year when the Christmas Seal X-ray Unit visits the district June 14-18, Mrs. Joel Boutte, chairman of the project announced. The unit will be stationed at 8th and Jackson in the Safeway parking lot.

Sponsored by the Jackson Street Community Council in cooperation with the Anti-Tuberculosis League of King County, the unit will offer free chest x-rays to all residents 15 years of age and older. Those between 15 and 18 years of age must have their parents' written permission.

"The unit will be open from 1 to 6 and 7 to 9 p.m. each day, and no appointment is needed. It is not necessary to disrobe—x-rays are taken through clothing," Mrs. Boutte explained.

Plans for the project were mapped at a special meeting of key persons in this district with representatives of the Anti-Tuberculosis League of King County at Neighborhood House Monday. Mrs. Ruth Manca, executive secretary of the Jackson Street Community Council, discussed the interest of the council in promoting this campaign to find tuberculosis, a leading cause of death in the district.

Mrs. Louise Speer, health education staff member of the League, appealed to each person for assistance in disseminating information about the miniature x-rays and the coming visit of the unit.

"X-ray is the most effective method of detecting tuberculosis in the beginning stages," Mrs. Speer said. "Unfortunately tuberculosis has no definite symptoms when it is first starting. Therefore it is important for persons with apparently healthy chests to be x-rayed and know for sure."

The miniature x-rays taken on the unit screen out persons with normal chests. Those with suspicious shadows are referred for a large x-ray and to their own physicians for interpretation. Both x-rays are free—paid for by the sale of Christmas Seals.

Those present at the meeting were: Rev. B. H. Oda, Rev. P. J. Dabba, M. P. McFarling, Rev. Hira-ta, Barbara Kahn, Tony Allasina, Mr. Pomeroy, Dr. John Fountain, Lewis Watts, Natalia Olmstead and Mrs. Jess Swadley.

U. W. Alumni Eye Active Season

Plans for a membership drive and a definite activity program for the balance of the year were formulated at a cabinet meeting of the Japanese Alumni Association of the University of Washington last May 19 in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Suzuki. The meeting was called by president Eddie Shimomura.

First on the alumni agenda is the graduation banquet which will be to honor U. W.'s graduating Nisei seniors at 7 p.m. on Saturday, June 5, in the Gowman hotel. Price per plate will be two dollars and reservations may be made by contacting either Mrs. Paul Suzuki or Mrs. William Mimbu.

The alumni association also is eyeing an intensive membership drive, and the following members of the membership committee have been asked to contact prospective members: Mrs. Paul Suzuki, Mrs. Takashi Fujii, Eddie Shimomura, William Y. Mimbu, Toru Sakahara, George Tokuda and Edwin Natori. Anyone who has been graduated or has attended the university more than one year is eligible either as a regular or an associate member.

ISSEI URGED TO FILL OUT FIRST PAPERS

Naturalization application forms for anyone wishing to apply for first citizenship papers are now available in the Jackson Street Community Council office, 414 Fifth Ave. S., it was announced today by Mrs. Ruth Manca, executive secretary. Arrangements have been made with officials of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service to provide this new Red Feather service of the council.

"While some groups of aliens, including Japanese, are barred by present laws from becoming full citizens, any resident of the United States may file his first papers which is a declaration of his intention to become a citizen if and when he becomes qualified," Mrs. Manca said. "There is considerable advantage for Japanese aliens in filing now since the seven year period required before final papers can be issued begins on the date the declaration of intention is filed. With a bill to grant naturalization privileges to all people now before Congress, there is good reason to believe that changes in the law will be made within the next seven years."

The Community Council will fill out a blank for anyone who calls at the office. No appointment is necessary unless a Chinese or Japanese interpreter is required, in which case arrangements should be made in advance. The council office is open week days except Saturdays from 8:30 to 5 p.m., but appointments may be made for other hours when necessary. There is, of course, no charge for this service.

Each person applying should bring with him his alien registration book, since much of the information required for the declaration is contained in this document. Three photographs of the applicant also be submitted.

T. A. Allasina, who was in charge of negotiations with the Immigration Service, commented that the council had decided to provide this service based upon requests received at Bailey-Gatzert school and at the council office.

"By having such a service close at hand, where it would not be necessary to wait in line, and where interpreters are readily available, the council believes that many people will apply for naturalization who might not do so otherwise," he added.

The June series of Red Cross home nursing courses, covering both care of the sick and mother and baby care, are now open for registration, according to Mrs. Clyde Holcomb, volunteer Home Nursing chairman for the Seattle-King County Red Cross chapter.

Taught, as always, by graduate nurses, both courses start June 7, and all classes will meet in Red Cross headquarters, 905 Second Avenue Building, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays for two weeks.

Care of the sick will be offered from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, from 1 to 3 p.m., and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Practical, basic instruction in home nursing techniques will be given, including how to make a number of nursing aids from inexpensive materials found in every home.

Offered afternoons and evenings, the mother and baby care course will cover the care of the expectant mother, and how to bathe, feed and handle the baby. Afternoon classes are scheduled to meet from 1 to 3 p.m., and evening classes, which are open to both men and women, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

There is no charge for the course, other than an inexpensive textbook, and registration and additional information may be obtained at Red Cross headquarters, EL 2800.

Memorial Day in Our Community

Memorial Day was first established by General John A. Logan in 1868 as a tribute to the dead of war.

At that time General Logan said:

"Let us then gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mound above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges and aid and assist those whom they have left among us as a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldiers' and sailors' widows and orphans".

Those words were spoken in the days of the men of the Blue and Grey.

Eighty years have passed, and the world has known two World Wars.

The situation, however, has not changed much. Memorial Day, which falls this year on Monday, May 31, still is a day to pay tribute to our war dead.

In our community Memorial Day—although it was marked in solemnity—never was a personal experience until World War II came.

During World War II, the Nisei were called to arms to show their loyalty to our country, and they performed with extraordinary bravery and heroism on the various battlefronts of the world. Many returned, some without any injuries and others severely disabled, but many died.

Bear General Logan's message of responsibility—"a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude"—in mind when we pay tribute to our Nisei GI dead this Memorial Day, Monday, May 31.

Actress Cornelia Otis Skinner's charge that American club women are "frustrated in their love lives" has fanned—without Lady Windermere's Fan—a mild fury among Portland's social elites who particularly disliked the part about their "trying to get along without men". It is not so much "trying to get along without men" as "getting along with men", said one of the leaders there. Here, here, girls men aren't such bad companions.

Mothers and fathers on the farms were quite relieved this week. Henry Wallace said he was "talking too fast" in Salem, Oreg., when he suggested that if people insist on living in submarginal farms, "the government shouldn't let them have child-

The Role of Security Council And the Yalta Compromise

—by hideo hoshido

(Ed. note This is the second in a series on the United Nations. Next week's discussion will be on the General Assembly and other organs of the world organization.)

THE SECURITY COUNCIL

...which is one of the principal organs in the United Nations, is entrusted with the "primary responsibility for the maintenance of international peace and security."

There are eleven members in the Security Council. Five of the eleven are permanent members, named in the Charter as China, Soviet Union, Great Britain, France and the United States. Six other nations are elected for two-year terms by a two-thirds vote of the General Assembly.

The main duties of the Council in relation to peace fall under two headings: 1. the pacific settlement of disputes, and 2. enforcement action to prevent or suppress a breach of the peace.

IN THE PACIFIC SETTLEMENT

...of disputes, the operations of the Security Council must be viewed in the light of the general obligations contained in Articles 1 and 2 of the Charter. Among other things, these articles contain a pledge that the members will settle their international disputes by peaceful means, that they will refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action.

When measures short of armed force seem likely to prove ineffective, the Security Council is empowered to take certain steps involving the use of air, land, and sea forces. Special agreements must still be worked out between the United Nations and the individual member states for the purpose of providing an international police force.

Until such time, the Charter provides that the Big Five shall "consult with one another, and as occasion requires, with other members of the United Nations, with a view to such joint action on behalf of the organization as may be necessary for the purpose of maintaining international peace and security." Thus, for the interim period, the enforcement of peace is directly in the hands of the Big Five. It will be interesting to follow closely the developments in the Palestine questions with reference to the Security Council's "cease-fire" order to Arabs and Jews.

THE QUESTION OF VOTING

...in the Security Council was left unsettled in the Dumbarton Oaks Conference of 1944 when the Big Four (China, Great Britain, Soviet Union and the United States) met to lay the foundations for a world organization. President Roosevelt proposed a compromise formula to the Big Three Crimea Conference in January, 1945.

The essence of the "Yalta Veto Formula" is as follows:

1. A question of procedure is decided by ANY SEVEN votes. This includes decisions as to whether or not the Council shall discuss a particular question.
2. Peaceful settlement of disputes is decided by SEVEN votes. The members of the Security Council who are parties to a dispute do not vote. However, members of the Big Five who are not parties to a dispute must ALL vote affirmatively.
3. Use of economic or military force to check a threat to the peace is decided by the Big Five, plus any two other members.

In other words, the veto consists in the ability of any one of the Big Five to prevent action by the casting of a negative vote. The Soviet Union has on many occasions used its veto powers to keep vital problems off the Council's agenda.

WHAT WAS THE PHILOSOPHY

...behind this Yalta compromise? The Yalta veto formula was based on the positive assumption that no effective action to preserve peace would be possible unless the Big Five agreed unanimously. The Big Five must supply the major portion of the industrial and military forces necessary to compel the aggressor. Furthermore, the Big Five were the only powers that could wage war under modern conditions after the defeat of Germany and Japan. In other words, it would rest upon the Big Five to provide the means of maintaining peace and order in the post-war world.

The Security Council, then, is the policeman of the United Nations organization.

ren". In a retraction before a press conference, he said it was okay to have children.

The weather bureau in Washington, D. C., has it that it's in the wind that the draft bill will be passed by Congress this session.

Liveliest news item of the week came from West Los Angeles where a centenarian, 103 to be exact, said anyone can achieve long life with "plenty of girls, tobacco and whisky". A rather rugged formula, we believe.

A REMINDER

Ex G-I Joe hopes that all his readers will have a happy and eventful time over this long holiday weekend. However, just a reminder—in order to preserve the spirit of Memorial Day and the things it stands for, let's all show up at the community services at Lake View Cemetery. The services are set for 10:30 A.M. on Monday, May 31st.

While the manner of dress is optional, it will be appreciated if those veterans who can do so, will appear in uniform for this occasion.

THE JUDD BILL

One of the most important measures now pending in Congress, as far as the Japanese element is concerned, is the Judd Bill, designed to place the Japanese nationality on a par with all other racial strains in the matter of immigration and naturalization. Under this measure, Japanese aliens would be eligible for naturalization on the same basis and under the same requirements that now pertain to other nationalities—a proposition the simple justice and equity of which commends itself to all fair-minded persons.

This, however, would not be the only effect of the measure. Since the immigration laws are tied to the naturalization laws, passage of the Judd Bill would remove Japanese immigrants from the excluded class and permit them to be admitted on the basis of an annual quota. This quota would, of course, be very nominal; perhaps not many more than a mere hundred immigrants would be admitted in any one year. Nevertheless, by the application of an immigration quota, the stigma of "exclusion" would be lifted from the entire race.

Nor is this all. The various alien land laws are likewise phrased so as to apply only to "persons ineligible to citizenship", of which class the Japanese aliens comprise by far the largest group. The admission of Japanese aliens to naturalization procedures would decisively eliminate the application of the alien land laws against all persons of Japanese ancestry, whether citizens or not. It should be remembered that the alien land laws do not apply against all aliens, but only against "aliens ineligible to citizenship". Thus, if it is made possible for Japanese nationals to become citizens through naturalization, the alien land laws may not be enforced against them.

We believe and sincerely hope that the Judd Bill will eventually be passed by the Congress. We think its importance is such that the entire community of Japanese persons in this area should be solidly behind the measure; yet the work in its behalf is, as usual, being "pushed" by only a small group of people. This column salutes these workers for their public spirit and zeal in the furtherance of democratic ideals. It is to be hoped that others of the community will accord them the support and encouragement which they so richly deserve.

GI INSURANCE

Some facts about National Service Life Insurance which we'd like to pass on:

If you carry such insurance, you can make it possible for your beneficiary to receive payment of the entire face amount in a single lump sum payment, but only if you select an option in writing, delivered to the VA. The selection of such an option by the insured then makes it possible but not mandatory for the beneficiary to receive a lump sum payment. If desired, the beneficiary may elect a different mode of payment.

It is possible for you to change your beneficiary at any time, again by written instrument delivered to the VA. However, a change of beneficiary may not be made by will. It is no longer required that the beneficiary be a relative of any kind; in fact, the insured may make his own estate the beneficiary of his insurance.

The VA carries forms which make it simple and easy for any veteran to select an optional mode of payment or to change his beneficiary designations. However, the use of a form is not required; any instructions delivered to the VA over the insured's own signature will be effective, provided the language employed is clear and understandable. The use of VA forms is recommended simply because it eliminates the possibility of errors.

Notes from Hawaii and Canada Letters

George S. Ishihara, manager of the Hawaii Nisei All-Stars, writes in that his boys played under the banner of Charley's Arcade in the recent Gold Medal Basketball Championship Tournament (Senior AAU). Charley's Arcade, Ishihara explains, is the name of a big restaurant in Honolulu and it is owned and operated by Charles Fukushima. The Nisei stars lost out to Ching's Contractors (University of Hawaii) in the finals, 62-50.

If plans work out accordingly, Fukushima will be in Seattle with the Hawaii Stars for the second annual all-Oriental national basketball tournament, Ishihara writes.

And from Frank A. Moritsugu of Toronto, Ontario (Canada), comes word that he has received some vague information from Vancouver, B. C., that a big basketball tournament is being planned in Hawaii this coming December. Apparently, there must have been some misunderstanding.

Moritsugu has been informed by this column that the tourney is in Seattle and that Hawaii's Nisei have been invited. The time element—December—was the only correct matter. A Canadian Nisei championship quintet to the Seattle affair would be okay by us.

Arakaki Battles Red Williams In 4-Rounder at Civic June 8

Carl Arakaki, a clever Nisei lightweight from Honolulu, Hawaii will take on Red Williams of Seattle in a four-round preliminary bout on Tuesday, June 8, boxing card in the Civic Auditorium, The Northwest Times learned today. Arakaki originally was booked to meet Billy Smith but Smith was hurt while training.

In his first fight here last May 18, which incidentally was his professional debut, Arakaki scored a sensational knockout over Blackie Vandever of Yakima. The Nisei kayoed his foe in one minute and 47 seconds of the second round.

Arakaki, managed by Billy Ross of Acme Boxing Enterprises, is a fast, clever and hard puncher. He has already been offered a chance to appear as a main-eventer but Ross has refused it, declaring he should like to have the Nisei warm up with a few more fights under his belt before he steps into the main events.

Two other four-round preliminary bouts will be announced at a later date.

Little Jo, Velez, Seattle lightweight, tackles Charley Johnson of San Francisco, Calif., in the ten-round main event, and Joey Artigo, Portland lightweight, scraps with Jess Mitchell of Seattle in the eight-round semi-windup.

The first bout starts at 8:30 p.m. Training daily with Arakaki are Richard Salki, a featherweight, and Frances Lee, a bantamweight.

Portland Owls To Invade City

Portland's Night Owls, who are pace-setters in the Nisei mixed doubles bowling league there, are planning to invade Seattle during the Memorial Day week-end, it was learned today.

Afternoon and evening series for the Rose City Owls are being arranged for Memorial Day, May 31, by Fred Takagi, manager of Main Bowl, 306 Main St.

The invading squad, according to Tom Okazaki of the Night Owls, will consist of Fumi Inukai, Chickie Aono, Jim Fujii and Okazaki himself.

Louie LaGuire, anchor man for the Calumet Comets, was the hottest keyler in the men's summer league matches last Wednesday night in Main Bowl. LaGuire wrapped a 204, a 152 and a stupendous 287 for the night's high 623 series which enabled the Comets to walk all over the Alley Cats, 4 to 0. The Comets' comet far overshadowed teammate Jim Kuranishi's 587 which in itself was quite the series.

The Hoot Owls maintained their hold on first place by easily vanquishing the Cherry Pickers, 4-0. Morrie Yamaguchi (586) and Tom Hirai (524) were responsible for the triumph. Dependable Al Gallup was the only 500-plus man for the pickers of the cherries.

In the third game, the Gutter Balls left the league basement by downing the Bulldogs, 3-1, on Nobu Kiyono (530) and Yoshito Harada's (511) effort. Gene Eng had 556 for the dogs.

The results follow:

'Goats Frightened with Rough Weather'

Editor's note: Following is the first letter from the Rev. H. V. Nicholson who is accompanying a shipment of goats for Japan. The letter, directed to everyone who contributed towards the "Goats for Japan" drive, was written aboard the S. S. Flying Scud nearing Japan, May 12.

On board S. S. Flying Scud, Nearing Japan, May 12, 1948

To the Friends of "Goats for Japan" After supper tonight "Sparks" the chess man wanted to play some chess but I said I was too busy with a lot of letters to write. He suggested I write one letter giving all the news and get the purser to mimeograph it. A bright idea which Mr. Kozak at once took up with. So I am counting on his good nature to get this job through.

We have certainly had one wonderful trip. We had two short bits of rough weather, but the rest of the trip was so calm that we can easily forget those rough bits. Just one time a wave came over the pens. Unfortunately three of us were right there to receive the full force and get thoroughly wet. The goats were frightened with the rough weather, but on the whole seemed perfectly contented. There has been no sickness. The main problem has been with kidding. At

THIRD PARLEY ON U. S. RIGHTS ENDS IN D. C.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26—The Third National Conference on Citizenship, sponsored by the Justice Department and National Education Association, wound up a three-day meeting here last week. Three representatives of the Japanese American Citizens League, the only Japanese group invited, were among the 1,000 delegates representing some 400 civic, religious, labor, business and professional groups throughout the country.

The JAACL representatives—Thomas T. Hayashi, New York attorney and head of the JAACL Eastern District Council; Mrs. Etsu Masaoka and Robert M. Cullum, executive secretary of the Committee for Equality in Naturalization—all agreed that the conference was a success. Hayashi headed the JAACL delegation; the other two substituted for Mike Masaoka and Sam Ishikawa, who were unable to attend because of their legislative duties.

Particularly effective, the delegates reported, were the discussion groups on citizenship problems, which gave participants a chance to engage in a frank and full exchange of ideas on questions of vital importance to the Japanese Americans. They said they were impressed by the seriousness of the delegates.

A feature of the conference was the delegates' participation in "America's Town Meeting of the Air" at which time four leading public figures discussed "How Should Democracy Deal with Groups That Aim to Destroy Democracy?" The conference was opened with a special message from President Truman. Speakers at the session included Attorney General Tom C. Clark, Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization Watson B. Miller, and Dr. William G. Carr, associate secretary of the National Education Association.

least three goats had pre-mature kids and in one case it cost the life of the yearling mother. Of the seventeen kids born on the trip eleven are alive and husky. We now have a total of 12 bucks and 232 does that came aboard tested; and 22 kids that came aboard with their mothers and 11 kids born on board. This makes a grand total of 277 animals to be put ashore tomorrow morning.

We were milking from 40 to 50 goats a day and feeding the kids plenty of milk. We have been using about 40 quarts in the mess halls each day and have 60 to 80 quarts to take ashore tomorrow for some orphanage in Yokohama. Three of our workers were under the weather a bit, but all have really pitched in and helped.

The officers and crew have been good sports and done all they can to make the trip a happy one. Members of the crew have adopted certain kids as their pets and have a great time looking after them. To-day we got some movies and still pictures with some of the men parading our pure breeds around the deck. Several of the officers came to our Sunday church services and the majority of the personnel attended at least one of two shows given by Al and Bill. Alva Brower really put on a fine show that was very much appreciated.

Leslie Yoder was the real farmer and chief milker. He really talked to those unruly goats! Dick Clark was chief water man and really was kept busy keeping the thirsty animals watered. He was also busy with his cameras and developing film. Ty Nagano assisted with the watering, haying and pen cleaning. Al was main kid feeder, and you should have seen those kids jump all over him when he appeared! We all got together to pull the feed out of the hold every other day. We had some hard, dirty work to do, but I believe we have all thoroughly enjoyed the experience. Here's hoping things go as well on shore.

With all best wishes to each one of you and the promise to get further word to some of you. Very sincerely, H. V. Nicholson

It's '3 Days Before Mast'

"Three Days Before the Mast" is the slogan of the Young Women's Christian Association Memorial Day weekend cruise on the beautiful, 75 foot, sailing vessel, the "Night Witch" on May 29-30-31. Lucille Lang, health education executive, has planned a program designed to jam-pack every minute of the 72 hour holiday with fun.

There will be time to relax on deck while viewing the scenery of the sound. Bon fires and clam bakes on the beach are scheduled for evenings. If the tide is sufficiently low, there will be a goodluck hunt. Sleeping bags are required.

The entire fee, including the cost of food, is $12 and the trip is open to all young Seattle women. Membership in the YWCA is not required.

Girls interested should register in room 6 of the YW at Fifth and Seneca as soon as possible as the number is limited. For further information call Eliot 4800.

Boys and girls who play musical instruments have been invited to join the Seattle Junior Band and String Ensemble for their summer vacation session.

Organized to give young musicians from the ages of 6 to 18 years the fun and experience of playing in a group will begin their eight-week session June 23.

George Kirchner, professor of music at the University of Washington, will direct both groups. The band will meet each Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon at the Elks' Club, 4th Ave. and Spring St., and the ensemble will play at the same place Wednesday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. To be eligible for the band one year's band experience is necessary, but no previous band practice is required for the ensemble.

"The band and ensemble are not meant to replace private instruction, but rather to give young musicians the encouragement and stimulation that comes from playing with a group", Kirchner said.

Tuition for the session is $6, and all music is furnished. Enrollment can be made by calling Dexter 5672, or by writing Mrs. John Gallup, 7329-13th Ave. N. W.
