

One-Year Enlistments Commence For 18-Year-Olds at Seattle Armed Forces Recruiting Office

One-year enlistments have started for young men 18 years of age this week, it was announced today by T. Sgt. Paul Kramer of the U.S. Army & Air Force Recruiting Office at 1213 Third Ave., Seattle.

Applicants must be eighteen (18) years of age and have not attained their nineteenth (19th) birthday at time of enlistment. They must bring their birth certificate or statement of vital statistics when they enlist, Sgt. Kramer said.

The recruiting office is also taking enlistments for 21 months, two years, three years, four years, five years and six years. "On a three or more years enlistment, a young man has his choice of branch of service such as Air Force, Artillery, Corps of Engineers and Military Intelligence," the sergeant added.

Sgt. Kramer's office released the following statement to encourage youths to enlist:

"You name it...we've got it! That's right!

"If you're planning to enter any one of hundreds of career fields, young man, give a thought to this! 'The United States Army and the United States Air Force have been called 'the greatest institutions in the world.' Through their many schools, correspondence courses, off-duty classes, and on-the-job training, your Army and Air Force are turning out highly-trained and qualified men who step into jobs that they like and want.

"Besides these amazing educational advantages, the Army backs up their educational program by putting the right man with the right training in the right job. And every one of these Army and Air Force jobs has unlimited advancement opportunities. There's no limit to what you can do in the Army or how far you can go. You get every advantage and opportunity that civilian life can offer, and more, too.

"Just remember this: the Army's got a job for you, so why not investigate this chance of a lifetime before the idea gets cold. See your nearest Army and Air Force recruiting adviser right away. You'll find him at your nearest Army and Air Force Recruiting Station. Do it now!"

CANADA PLANS SPECIAL BODY FOR LOSS AID

TORONTO, Ontario (Canada), July 24—A special committee on property claims will be organized by the Ontario JCCA for the purpose of providing systematic and individual assistance to the claimants when the hearings are resumed here in November.

Jack Gilbert of the law firm of Cameron, Wedon and Brewin, will work in co-operation with the JCCA committee, and will interview the claimants prior to the hearings. These preliminary interviews will be held in the evenings, beginning in October.

George Tanaka, executive secretary of the National JCCA, explained to claimants at a meeting on July 10 that work had been started by a group of valuers in British Columbia in preparation for the second round of hearings which are to be held in Vancouver, B. C.

The Issei Property Committee will be dissolved upon the formation of the JCCA's special property claims committee, which is expected to arrange for Nisei interpreters for the preliminary interviews with Gilbert.

Vanport Victims To Be Assisted

PORTLAND, Oreg., July 24—Forty dollars will be given to each of the 342 victims of the Vanport flood last Memorial Day, it was decided by the Vanport Flood Relief Committee which met last Monday in the local Buddhist temple to decide on the disbursement of the $14,467.87 which is now in the bank and which is the balance of the donations contributed from many friends and sympathizers throughout the country. The total contribution thus far exceeds $20,000, and is expected to reach $22,500.

Food stuffs and the forty-dollar checks will be distributed this Saturday, July 24, to the 104 families whose personal belongings were lost in the worst disaster the Pacific Northwest has ever known.

The remainder of the funds, according to T. Tamiyasu, treasurer, will be distributed when the committee feels all contributions are in.

4-H Girls Enter Talent Hunt

Photographs of members of 4-H Clubs in more than 30 states are pouring in to Hollywood offices of Glenn McCarthy Productions as a nationwide search is begun for a girl Club member to participate in a forthcoming film, "The Green Promise."

Above, Robert Paige and Monty Collins, co-producers of the film, are looking over one day's mail. Paige, star of many Hollywood productions, will enact the role of an agricultural extension agent in the film, which portrays the life of a farm family. Collins is author of the original story and has written many other successful screen plays.

The girl chosen for the part must be not more than 12 years old and must be a regularly enrolled member of a 4-H Club. Four girls will be selected from the photographs submitted, one from each of four sections of the United States. The four will be taken to Hollywood for screen tests and final selection made following those tests.

"The Green Promise" will emphasize the importance of soil conservation and the great value of 4-H Club work in the struggle of a farm family to a higher standard of living. Participation of club members in the talent search has been approved by national extension headquarters and the state offices in the states where the search is being conducted.

The film will be produced by a new independent company formed by Glenn McCarthy, Houston, Texas, industrialist who has a keen interest in better farm living and better farming methods.

Masaoka Seeks Simplest Method Of Settling Claims, Mimbu Says

Mike Masaoka, national JACL-ADC director, is endeavoring to ask the most reasonable, fairest and simplest method of settling the Japanese American evacuation losses through Public Law 886—the evacuation loss claims statute, according to William Mimbu, local Nisei attorney, who this week returned from a meeting of attorneys and other prominent leaders with Masaoka in the West Coast regional headquarters in San Francisco.

Declaring that "everything still is vague and is in the discussion stage," Mimbu said Masaoka, in making a detailed study of the evacuation loss claims with the best Nisei counsels in the country, is all for the least in legal procedures for claims less than $500.

Masaoka, according to Mimbu, will urge everyone to be "honest with himself" in not abusing the privilege granted by the government.

There is no limit on the claims

Beauty Enroute

Mary Shipp, the "Kathleen" on NBC's "The Aldrich Family," before leaving for vacation takes time out to give you a few pertinent beauty tips on travel grooming. First, whether your vacation is of long or short duration, select one piece of luggage that will hold your individual cosmetic needs. Whether you travel by plane, train, boat or automobile, pack cosmetics in an easy to carry case so they're readily available throughout the trip. Pack all cosmetic containers securely. Be sure jar tops are fastened tightly. If your carrying case lacks straps to hold jars securely, place breakable containers in shoe bags for protection.

Invariably make-up repair is needed enroute, so you'll look your prettiest greeting old friends or meeting new ones. Keep repair items such as liquid cleanser, fresh make-up and sterile, absorbent Red Cross Cotton Balls at top of carrying case. It's a good idea to have handy nail polish remover and nail polish the same shade as that used for your going away manicure. If you have a chipped nail problem enroute you'll find that cotton balls are as handy for removing nail polish as they are for removing travel grime; just use them with face cleanser.

DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT— A lot of people do—but they're wrong!

"Drowning Persons Rise Three Times"

This is by no means an invariable rule. All too often the victim of a drowning accident may sink immediately on entering the water and not rise again. In other instances, the body may rise two, three, or more times.

"Canned Foods Are Spoiled by Freezing"

Incorrect! Freezing does not affect the wholesomeness of canned foods, although in some cases it may cause slight changes in appearance or consistency. Many delicious desserts which are popular are made from frozen canned foods.

Do You Envy Profits?

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

ALL THE TALK about profits and profiteers has put a lot of us on the wrong track. There has been so much of this misleading talk during the past decade that some of our youngsters are beginning to think there is something immoral about making a profit at all. Some of them take it so seriously that they think the profit system should be junked in America.

On the contrary, I am convinced that the profit system is the very sparkplug of our economy. I have given this subject a lot of study. However, it isn't very difficult to see that workers are in for trouble if they are employed by a business that doesn't make a profit. More than this, I think profits are too small for the good of workers and the good of the American public.

First Aid To Labor SOME PEOPLE seem to think that if no profits were made at all, the workers would get more wages. This cannot be so. My belief is that the part of the sales dollar called profit actually helps the workers more than it helps anyone else. More than that, I believe it can be proved that the part of the sales dollar called profit actually helps labor more than does the part of the sales dollar called wages.

Consider an example. Fifty years ago it required 8 hours work for one man to shape the top of a gasoline tank for an automobile. He was paid less than $1 for the job which he did by hand. Nowadays, an auto worker shapes the top of a gasoline tank in one minute, instead of eight hours. He is happy to work in a clean and sanitary plant. He uses modern tools that are

PHILADELPHIA STORY and COPPER

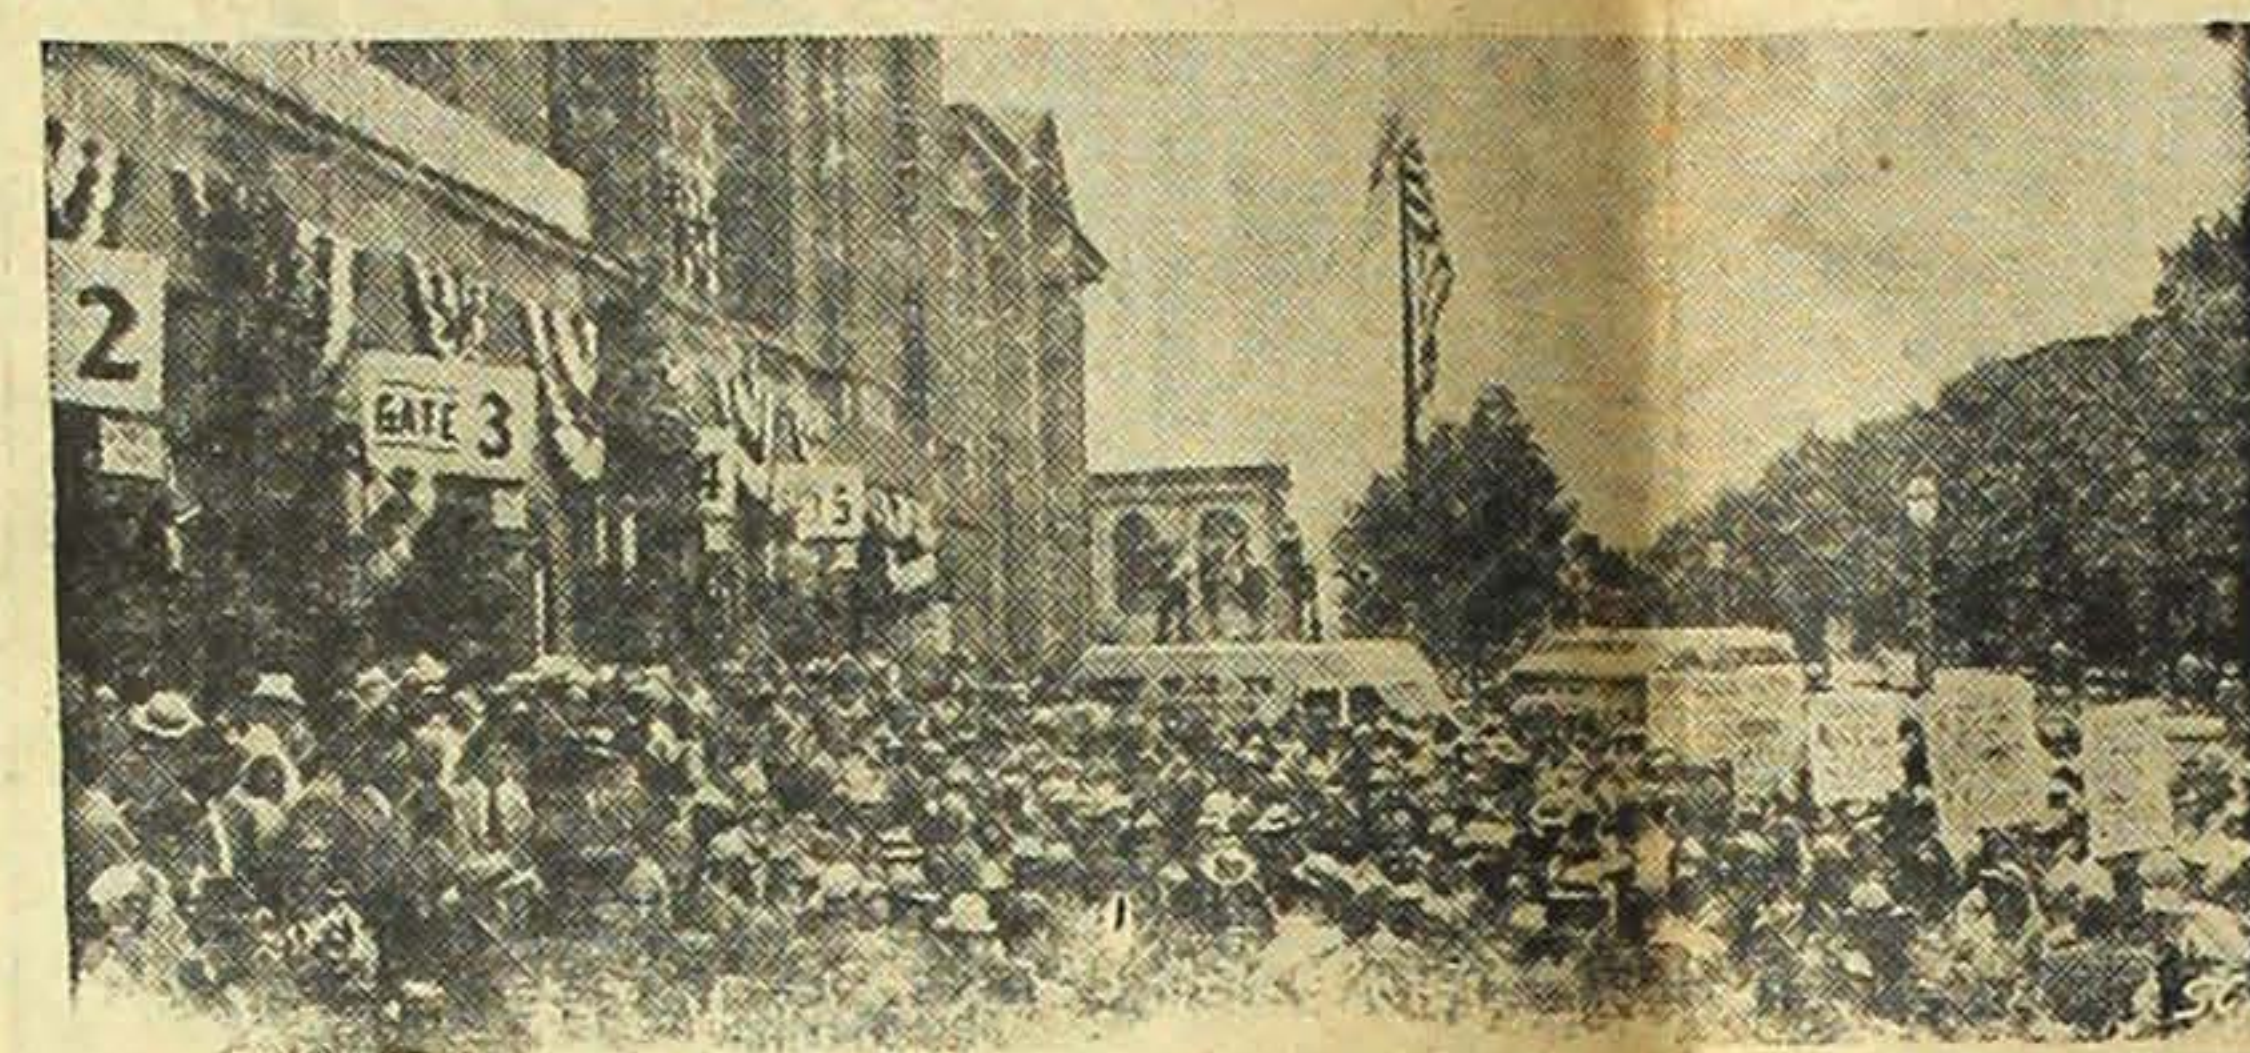

Left—Christ Church in Philadelphia has a copper roof that is over 200 years old.
Below—Convention crowd outside Municipal Auditorium in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia — the cradle of American Liberty — is where the first Continental Congress met in 1774, where the Declaration of Independence was written and proclaimed in 1776, where the Federal Constitution was framed in 1787 and where George Washington was elected the first President of the United States in 1789. Philadelphia was also the first capital of the nation.

When the Declaration of Independence was celebrated the famous bronze Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, illustrated above, was joined by the eight bronze bells of old Christ Church in ringing out peans of joy. This historic church, shown above, was completed in 1744 and numbered among its worshippers Washington, Franklin and Lafayette. Covering Christ Church is the oldest copper roof in America — a roof that was three decades old when the Declaration of Independence was proclaimed. This copper roof is in excellent condition today after two centuries of service.

This year, as in 1789, a President of the United States will be selected in Philadelphia. The major political parties are holding their national conventions in the huge Municipal Auditorium in the Quaker City. Of special interest is the fact that this vast amphitheatre is also protected with a copper roof. Over 100,000 pounds of sheet copper were used to re-roof the structure this Spring.

PROBLEM OF AN 18-YEAR-OLD

Old "Ex G-I" is certainly glad he isn't 18-years-old and faced with the personal problem of deciding whether to enlist or to sweat out the draft. By immediately enlisting, the 18-year-old youth can get his Army service over within a year. If he waits and is drafted, he'll have to serve out 21 months before he can be a civilian again.

With a difference of 9 months between the two choices, it would seem that any youth without holes in his head would know what to do. But, of course, the problem isn't quite as simple as all that. If a fellow waits, perhaps he never will be drafted. And if he enlists, perhaps it will be a long "year" before he gets out of service—remember what happened to the selectees who were due to be discharged back in 1941?

A pretty problem, to be sure, even though our interest in the same is purely academic. One thing, however is certain—the 18-year-old who wants to enlist had better make up his mind in a hurry. All the services together will take only 161,000 throughout the nation. In the Seattle district, the entire quota for the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps is less than a hundred enlistments. At the rate the recruiting offices are signing them up, it won't take long to fill the enlistment quotas.

SEATTLE GETS NEW FIRST BASEMAN

Once again, the familiar baseball headline hit the pages of the local dailies this week, with the announcement that "Butch" Moran, former Hollywood Star, had been purchased from Chattanooga to bolster our stumbling Rainiers.

Don't throw away that headline yet, though. Five will get you ten that we'll use it again!

HERE AND THERE
Rained out of last Sunday's game with Produce Row after jumping into a 5-1 lead in two innings of play, the Nisei Vets are hoping for as good a start (with better weather) in this Sunday's game against the Renton Merchants. Time, 12 noon; place, Rainier...If last week's abortive contest is any indication, Vet skipper Joe Kesamaru is already building for next year by giving some of the younger talent a chance to break into league play...We hear that Davis Hirahara's parents are visiting with him this week...Don't forget the NVC picnic at Heiser's Shadow Lake on August 29th...And that's all for this time.

THE Sporting Thing by bf

Segimoto Shows Much Promise

Perhaps, the most sought-after Nisei bowler for the fall season is Art Segimoto, the teen-age whiz who thundered to first place in the last Main Bowl handicap sweeps by outdistancing such kegling veterans as the spectacular Gene Augustin and the steady Willie Maebori.

Only the peacetime draft prevents Segimoto from accepting any team invitation.

The quiet, unassuming youth, who makes the pin speak rather loudly for him, led the abbreviated teen-age summer loop with a smashing 170 average. He also carried a respectable 180 figure in the men's hot-weather circuit.

The call to join the armed forces may slow down his kegling progress.

But if publicity like this doesn't go to his head, if he retains his present modest disposition, and if he concentrates on improving himself always, then he should rise above the flashes-in-the-pan in the Nisei kegling world.

Sideline Topics

...about next summer, it should be advisable to resume the pre-war youth camp just outside Auburn...when the Lotus Ashuras had to call on George Aoyama and Iso Nishimura, both infielders, to twirl, one can imagine the Ashuras' pitching woes...the song, "Go See Seattle", as drummed up by Ted Weems' band, is as bad as the games played by the local ball clubs...now they tell us—Mike Hunt, former Rainier outfielder, was one of the motorcycle cops who led the procession of automobiles at the Nisei War memorial services recently in Seattle...the Northwest Fourth of July tourney is a thing of the past but the Portland Vets, '47 kingpins who were ousted on the opening day, still remember the insult, taking it out on the Municipal leaguers in their town in no uncertain manner...the bowling hot-shots will have a chance to prove their ability when Main Bowl sponsors its first annual September singles classic on Sunday, Sept. 19, in Main Bowl—the meet, open to everybody, may induce some of the city's best as the prizes are attractive in the hundreds...

Your Home

I've just learned about something new for your home—and it's so beautiful that I know you'll want to learn about it, too. It's called "Carrara Glass" and it's used on walls or wainscoting. It is named Carrara because it rivals the beautiful marble from the famous quarries at Carrara, Italy.

Last week I visited my sister, Ann, in her new home—and that's where I discovered this new wall treatment. Ann told me that her decorator had recommended its use in both the bathroom and kitchen. For her bathroom, Ann selected white glass walls, and used brilliantly colored shower curtains and bright towels for contrast. In her kitchen, she used a delightful Jade Green with Forest Green trim—and it's very effective.

Aside from the beauty of this glass wall finish, it certainly is practical for it has a depth of color and is not merely a coated surface. Ann told me that it is guaranteed not to check, stain or fade... that it won't absorb bathroom or cooking odors. Water, oils, or grease do not affect it—and she keeps it gleaming and spotless simply by wiping it off with a damp cloth!

Well, her home was so lovely that I decided to re-do my kitchen walls with the same glass! There's such a wide color range, too—grey, white, black, ivory, jade, beige and forest green—with such colors as wine, orange and Rembrandt Blue for trim. I finally decided upon beige walls with blue trim, and we're having the kitchen table top and my little plant shelves covered with the same glass.

Every mother of small children will agree with me that glass is one of the easiest—most practical surfaces for the home. And when it's not only easy to clean but beautiful, too—it's really worth looking into, isn't it?

Andrews Leave For California

Leaving Seattle last Wednesday noon, Andy's new Blue Box is making its first out-of-state trip taking the Rev. Emery Andrews, Japanese Baptist Church preacher, and three passengers to Northern California.

The passengers are Mrs. Wada, wife of the Rev. Wada; Brooks Andrews, son of the Rev. Andrews; and Hisao Homma, son of Mrs. Homma.

Mrs. Wada will leave the party at Oakland, Calif., where she will meet Mrs. Topping, who has just returned from Japan, and return to Seattle by train. Others will continue on to Modesto, Calif., where they will spend their two-weeks vacation on the Andrews' family farm.

The Blue Box will be back in Seattle about the first week of August.

WWG's Alki Meet

Baptist church's WWG's last Tuesday night held their meeting outdoors—at Alki Beach.

Dressed in jeans, the girls made a bonfire, roasted wieners and marshmallows, and served pop and potato salad.

After an hour-long feast, president Chickie Ishihara called the meeting to order and Tosh Inatsu said the opening prayer. Old and new businesses were discussed, minor elections were held, and it was suggested and approved that the next meeting will be at Miss Inatsu's home in Bellevue.

The outdoor session ended as the girls snuffed out the bonfire and sang their gull song.

Cong. to Picnic

Young people of the Japanese Congregational church have set Sunday, Aug. 8, as the date for their Lake Wilderness picnic.

The picnic, which was postponed from June 20, will include a farewell party in honor of Arthur Sumi who is leaving Seattle about Aug. 15 for the Cincinnati College of Embalming in Ohio, according to chairman Joe Fujita.

Picnickers are asked to meet at the church for a 12 noon worship service and then head for Lake Wilderness. They also are urged to bring food for their supper. Assisting Fujita will be Aki Horita.
