Castle in the Clouds

Here's an "Angel's Eye" view of the most luxurious thing a-wing, the new Clipper America of Pan American World Airways' ever-growing fleet. A double-deck plane, it gives the passenger freedom of movement, which has never been available before. With lounge, bar, berths and chef-cooked meals, there is a stability about it in the air that completely relaxes the passenger. Its first flight will be between San Francisco and Honolulu, and then between New York and London. Eventually the Boeingbuilt Clipper will also be used extensively on Pan American's proposed domestic routes.

Yorozu Will Rule Cage Loops Here

All around the basketball circuits here last season, general talk was that interest for the maple game is on the downgrade.

That impression—the tack of whoopee, hurrah and hip-hip-hooray for the donkey-skin ball tussles -was created not so much by the inexperienced administration of Su Kashiwagi but by the wobbly cooperation given by the participating teams.

This season, the Nisei Veterans Committee, the sponsoring group, has chosen 27-year-old Henry Yorozu, a military man who, during his recreation periods, picked up officiating savvy at Fort Snelling and Presidio of Monterey, Calif., to be overall cage generalissimo.

Success of the coming season will rest on how well Yorozu lays down the laws and also on how well the squads cooperate with him in complying with his say-sos.

In our brief chats. Yorozu has shown keen interest in the teen-agers. He should like to find more of them prancing around the courts and developing their unknown ability. He even has intimated he should like to have a clinic operated by Gene Boyd of Collins fieldhouse to teach the youngsters the proper fundamentals of the game.

If the teen-agers come up for more stimulating basketball air and if the teams and fans cooperate fully, then one can be assured Yorozu will work hard to put basketball once more in its rightful top place in the sports sum.
