JAPAN SETS UP 5-YEAR PLAN TO ACCOMMODATE TOURISTS, TRAVEL BUREAU AIDE SAYS

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 27—Japan, with government backing, is setting up a five-year plan, costing 35-billion yen, to attract and accommodate tourists, Iwao Yokota, director of the Japan Travel Bureau, declared in the Twin Cities today on his arrival from Tokyo.

He is the first Japanese travel official to come to the United States since the war. Bound for Savannah, Ga., to attend the annual convention of the American Society of Travel Agents, he stopped at Northwest Airlines headquarters to confer with R. O. Bulwinkel, vice president—traffic, about the recently authorized seven-day tour of Japan, which marks the first easing of tourist restrictions into Japan.

Approved by SCAP, these tours permit a limited number of Americans to visit specified points of interest in the seven-day time limit. They have proved such a success in the short time they have been tried out that efforts now are being made to permit more tourists to spend more time in Japan.

The tours were set up after consultations in Japan with Bulwinkel and L. B. Kinports, Northwest Airlines director of sales, who were on a business trip there, and R. J. Morgan, Tokyo, Japan manager for the airline.

They were taken in Japan as a barometer of the widespread interest in tourist travel which, in turn, provides the basis for the five-year plan.

The first two-year segment of the five-year plan, Yokota said, is already under way, and an appropriation of ten billion yen has been asked to finance this part. Erection of 10 large hotels, construction of broad motor highways as well as provision of other tourist facilities, are included in the initial program. The last three years will be devoted to rounding out the overall plans.

This promotion of tourist travel as one of Japan's leading sources of revenue was given recent impetus when the government set up the National Tourist Industry Committee, to act as an advisory body to the Prime Minister. One of the first steps of the committee, of which Yokota is a member, was to formulate the five-year plan.

"During 1936, the peak pre-war year," he said, "some 40,000 persons came to Japan, including 10,000 Americans. The revenue from their visits amounted to 100,000,000 yen. When travel restrictions are removed and the full tide of travel sets in, Japan estimates there will be 50,000 American visitors annually."

Under the limited tour arrangement now in effect—accepted as a forerunner of the broader tourist movement—travelers from the United States are issued exchange orders or vouchers which they exchange at Tokyo for coupons good for hotel rooms, meals, and sight-seeing trips.

During the war, Yokota said, most of Japan's leading hotels and its scenic and historic sites were spared from damage by bombing.

"The American soldiers have become excellent ambassadors of goodwill," he said. "No matter whether they are stationed in Tokyo or in smaller places, they have shown a great faculty for getting along with people. As a result, the Japanese have developed a great personal fondness for these soldiers. Through them, they have come to know Americans."

"Any visitors in consequence will meet a genuinely friendly reception in Japan. English is spoken now by many Japanese, so that no matter where a tourist may wander, he

WOMEN SOUGHT FOR HELP IN X-RAY DRIVE

In an effort to reach all persons in the Garfield High School area with information on the forthcoming chest X-ray program, women volunteers this week will begin a doorbell ringing campaign, Alfred Westberg, general chairman said today.

"We hope every person 15 years of age and older will have a chest X-ray when X-ray units are stationed in this district between November 11 and November 30," he said. "House to house canvassers will stress the importance of X-ray to detect early tuberculosis and will direct residents to the nearest X-ray unit."

Exact locations for the X-ray unit will be announced next week. Mrs. Gordon Rowe is chairman of the neighborhood committee in charge of coordinating all plans for canvassing the district.

The X-rays are free, paid for by Christmas Seals and tax funds. Sponsors of the program include the Anti-Tuberculosis League of King County, the King County Medical Society, the Seattle and King County Department of Public Health, United States Public Health Service, Washington State Health Department and Firland Sanatorium.

Social Chairman, Mrs. Westberg, is inviting the public to attend the Presbyterian Hallowe'en party from 8 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 30, in the Japanese Presbyterian Church.

The program is being planned by Sei Adachi and refreshments will be served.

AREA CHILD HEALTH UNIT TO BECOME FULL-FLEDGED CLINIC AFTER NOVEMBER 1

Climaxing a year and a half of successful operation as a demonstration project, the Red Feather clinic of the Jackson Street Community Council will become a full-fledged child health clinic operated by the Seattle-King County Department of Public Health after Monday, Nov. 1, it was announced this week by Dr. James E. Jackson, chairman of the Council's health committee.

The clinic will be moved from its present location at the Chinese Baptist Church to Neighborhood House, 304-18th Ave. So. (18th and Main), and will be held weekly on Tuesday mornings from 9 to 12 instead of Thursday afternoons as previously.

The first clinic at the new location will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 2. The move to bigger quarters has been made to effect better service for clinic patients and to provide a more central location for most patrons.

"We welcome this development as a natural outgrowth of our experimental project," Dr. Jackson said in presenting the change for the approval of the Council's board. "When the clinic was first established on May 1, 1947, it was our thought that its primary purpose would be to demonstrate the need for a permanent neighborhood service in our area. The Jackson Street Council is not a health agency, and it is much more appropriate that the service be maintained under the Public Health Department, on a par with the seven or eight other neighborhood clinics operated by that agency."

Dr. John R. Wilkey, director of maternal and child health, in a letter to the Council said, "I am sure that this clinic has been rendering a most valuable service to the community, and has demonstrated the need for a Public Health Child Health Clinic in this area."

The new clinic will be staffed with a pediatrician, provided by the Seattle Pediatric Society, and by public health nurses from the Nursing Division of the Health Department. The Community Council will continue to assist by providing volunteers to help the doctors and nurses.

Four women will be asked to volunteer for a period of three months each—one to act as registrar, one to weigh and measure babies and take temperatures, one to direct patients to the doctor and nurse, handle charts, etc., and the fourth to be in charge of the children's playroom. Women wishing to give three hours a week for this community service should call either the Council office, SE. 3073 or Neighborhood House, PR. 0066.

The operation of a playroom in conjunction with the clinic is a new service which will be made possible by the additional facilities of Neighborhood House. This will provide a place where children can play contentedly under supervision leaving their mothers free and unharassed to discuss their child's health problems with the nurse.

Dr. Jackson expressed his appreciation for the interest and excellent service given over the last 18 months by physicians, dentists, and assistants, all of whom have volunteered their time. The physicians who have given up their Thursday afternoon off to make this service possible include, in addition to Dr. Jackson, Drs. Henry S. Luke, M. Paul Suzuki, W. H. Calhoun, and Paul S. Shigaya. Drs. John P. Browning, Frank S. Kanehori and James E. Groves have been participating dentists.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fundus, public health nurse, has served the clinic since its inception and has been a real inspiration to the staff and volunteers. Mrs. Joel Boutie, volunteer registrar, has also been with the clinic all but three of the 18 months. Other community-minded women who have given of their time include: Mrs. G. D. Graves, Mrs. William Tatsuoka, Mrs. Frank Woo, Mrs. Tolle Green, Mrs. Alma Lew, Mrs. Morris Nalao, Mrs. Woodrow Nishitani, Mrs. Elton Wilborn, Mrs. Bennett Wilborn, and Mrs. Nellie Wu.

Tanabe to Lead Truman Clan

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 27—The Truman-Barkley headquarters early this week announced the Nisei campaign committee will be headed by Elji Tanabe, former Southern California JACL regional director. Tanabe hopes to form his committee by the end of this week.

Questions Clark

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 23—The Nisei Veterans Association is asking United States Attorney General Tom Clark to clarify one phase of the claims bill law. Although the law bars claims based on personal injuries and death, it does not specifically bar claims based on expenses incurred from nervous breakdowns.

The families of some of the Nisei vets have incurred large hospitalization and doctor bills for mental injuries believed traceable solely to the stresses of the evacuation. The usual cost of a course of electroshock and other modern psychiatric care, including hospital expense, is $1,000 or more. Of course many families of non-vets have also had similar expenses.

Supporting the Seattle-King County Community Chest campaign is "The Best Thing We Do" as individuals and as a community.

This Week in History

October 24 to 30

By the Editors of the World Book Encyclopedia

87 years ago this week, the first transcontinental telegraph was completed, and a new era of swift communication dawned in the United States. Samuel F. B. Morse had patented his telegraph in 1837. By 1849, lines had been erected as far west as the Missouri frontier. Huge mountains and great plains challenged further progress. General opinion held any plan to link the continent from coast to coast impractical and visionary. But the Pacific Telegraph Company was organized for the express purpose of attempting the feat. On October 24, 1861, the company's two crews, working from the west and east, met at Salt Lake City, Utah, and the first transcontinental telegraph was completed.

German Children Get American Lesson

BREMEN, Germany—In schools near here teachers are devoting a history lesson to the Christian Rural Overseas program (CROP) through which children, widows, the aged, and other needy are receiving food given by farmers in America.

In this photograph the teacher has drawn a picture of a boat which is carrying CROP food from America.

The food which is arriving here will ward off hunger and disease and give many the strength to study, work and play.

CROP is sponsored in America by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief. Food is distributed here in Germany through church channels, solely on the basis of need.

DERBY RESULTS

Topping a list of other fishermen with an 11-pound 11-ounce silver, Manzo Nakahara took home first prize in last Sunday's NVC Cracker Derby, in which approximately 150 anglers participated. Nakahara's fish, which he caught mooching off Todd's, won him a 5-horsepower Johnson outboard motor, making him the envy of all other participants in the derby.

As things turned out, it was an "off day" for fishing, with only 28 fish, aggregating 150 pounds, being turned in for prizes. All fish caught was donated to the Marine Hospital by the derby committee, under the direction of the capable Skid Arta.

The special ladies' prize was the subject of a raffle, since the fairer sex failed to turn in a fish for weighing. The special prize, a 17-jewel Royce wrist watch, together with two 8x10 photographs, was won in the raffle by Mrs. Kay Imamoto. "Just missing out" was the unfortunate experience of Mrs. Juro Yoshioka, who was the only woman to catch a fish—she had to throw it back because it wasn't quite big enough.

Close behind Nakahara were J. C. O'Donnel and Bob Gjerrud, who took second and third prizes with catches of 11-pounds 8-ounces, and 11-pounds 6-ounces, respectively. O'Donnel's fish was good for a spring rod, reel, and line, while Gjerrud took home a split rod and reel.

In fourth place was Mr. Matsumoto (we couldn't catch the first name), who won a fiber glass spring rod with a 10-pound, 14-ounce silver. The fifth prize, an automatic pop-up toaster, was won by George Kozu, whose fish weighed in at 10-pounds, 4-ounces. A complete list of the many other prizes awarded will appear elsewhere in this paper.

Judges for the derby were Deputy Sheriff Don Armeni, H. T. Kubota, and K. K. Kawaguchi. The NVC wishes to express its appreciation to these judges, to the merchants who donated the prizes, and to the sheriff's office for the use of a car and loud-speaker for the presentation ceremonies.

SHORTS

For a long time it seemed that girls were the style in the newborn baby department, but now it seems that boys are again in fashion. Latest to join the trend is Shiro Yamaguchi, whose first-born was a boy... Joe Hayashi will forsake bachelorhood and walk the middle aisle with Miss Kimi Watanabe on Sunday, November 2nd... The U. W. Homecoming game with California turned out as expected, with Cal's powerful running game showing across three touchdowns for a 21-0 victory. Although plainly outclassed by one of the nation's top teams, the Huskies battled valiantly and were by no means disgraced at the fin'sh. Highlights of the game for Washington partisans were the brilliant play of guard Allie Hemstad, Roland Kirkby's 65-yard return of an intercepted pass on which he almost got away for a touchdown, and the valiant goal-line stand in the second quarter when the Bears tried four pile-driving plays from the Huskies' 1-yard line but couldn't make it, giving up the ball on the 2-yard line.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers during the war produced a stack of maps 300 times as high as the Washington Monument.

HOWDY FRIENDS!!

Along about this time of the year, we find that nature is gradually bestowing upon us the third of her seasons with its crisp, tangy air that compels many individuals to bring forth their winter garments faintly saturated with a telltale mothball fragrance. 'Tis autumn, my friends, and in the Nisei Kegling world the first quarter mark should make its appearance very shortly. It is interesting to note that the experts' prognostications coincide quite favorably with the first quarters accomplishments of all participants and their teams.

Due to the climatic conditions that prevail, the upturned collar has its comforting effects and then again—How have you been bowling lately???

A COUPLE SHORT ONES

Reclining comfortably in the upper regions of the Nisei Commercial standings is a team composed of four decreed old-timers and one newcomer whose inspirational qualities as leadoff have tabbed him as one of the best in the business. This season's team, sponsored by THE NORTHWEST TIMES, is the most miraculously lucky aggregation that this pair of astigmatists has lamped in many years of participation in this popular sport. Overheard from the sideline, was that their motto which they rely on when in competition is "Do what you do unto others before they do it to you first"...that'll get it...

Utilizing every resource at his disposal, this personage has been a member of a championship baseball team. Nature has been more than generous to him mentally, physically or financially with the result that to this day he commands a position that is the envy of all who bowls for a pastime. His introduction to kegling was initiated on November of '43 and his first game was a rousing 38 composed of making 20 threatening gestures at the headpin with one gutterball thrown in...before you take on a relaxed position known as a smile, let me assure you that you'll have to be a champion in the making to accomplish that feat...try it...Among his hobbies, besides bowling for a small financial settlements, are good books and music along the Western lines. His display of sportsmanship coupled with his spotlight ability as a

One of the principal reasons for who has the deepest respect for all but fears none...He drops one point by hitting a 561 sayless; that gives you an idea of his incredible average... This salty correspondent takes this means to doff his Stetson to a bowler among bowlers...PRUNEY TSUJI...

A LITTLE OF DISA AND DATA

One of the principal reasons for the Mortha's Beauty Shop's showing in the S.N.G.B.O. is the capable ability displayed by MITZI SANCICO. In one of her recent high games, she would have strung eight strikes in succession but for a tap in the sixth frame, an amazing feat in any league...On the International Realty squad is BROWNIE NOMURA who holds down the all important anchor spot; his smoking approach prior to his acquisition of a strike labels him as the coolest kegler under fire...although his Brunswick has a tendency to back up, ROY OMOTO of Jackson Grocery in the City Merchants League is doing quite handsomely with that type of ball as his average will clearly indicate...Strange and perhaps at times unbelievable, some of the topnotch bowlers have a lapse of memory whereby they cannot cope with which foot to start with. The other night, I witnessed a veteran of many years of kegling who couldn't remember how to hold his ball.

As preposterous as it may seem one should never condemn another just on his ability to bowl alone... Remember, my friends, Heap sees but a few know.

Despite the high winds and choppy waters, more than 150 local fishermen turned out for the NVC Cracker Derby held last Sunday in which Manzo Nakahara copped the first prize of a five h.p. Johnson motor and an ice cream cake with a derby motif with his 11-pounds 11-ounces silver salmon.

Other major prize winners were J. C. O'Donnel, second; Bob Gjerrud, third; Matsumoto, fourth, and George Kozu, fifth.

In the women's division, the female Ike Waltons failed to connect and the special prize of a 17-jewel wrist watch and two portrait pictures was determined by a drawing among the 15 women anglers. Mrs. Kay Imamoto was the recipient of the award.

In all, 28 fish were caught, all being new bright, run fish with blackmouth specie predominating. The derby fish were donated to the patients at the U.S. Marine hospital.

Judges for the contest were H. T. Kubota, K. K. Kawaguchi and Don Armeni of the King County Sheriff's office. Capt. Lyle Lathrop of the Identification Bureau acted as the official drawer for the last six general prizes and the women's prizes, as well as being the official photographer.

The Nisei Veterans Committee wishes to acknowledge the following for their generous donations toward the derby prizes:

Chick's Ice Creamery, Seattle Fishing Tackle, H. T. Kubota, Habs, Tashiro Hardware, Yessler Way Auto Service, Crown Furniture, S. GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Y. Yamaguchi, formerly of Bellevue, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in Gyokko-Ken Cafe last Sunday, Oct. 24. Mrs. Yamaguchi is 69 years old, and Mr. Yamaguchi, 76. They were married on June, 1898, in Japan.

The setting for the dinner was gold. The tables were decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and the cake was trimmed with gold hearts. Mrs. Yamaguchi wore a yellow orchid.

One hundred friends and relatives attended the affair. Speakers were Mr. Hayatsu and Mr. Tamaye.

'Meaning of Almighty God'

(Editor's note: Following is the sermon which the Rt. Rev. Michael H. Yashiro of Japan gave to the congregation at St. Peter's Mission last Oct. 17. Bishop Yashiro elicits the importance of the meaning of Almighty God.)

The Bishop took as his theme for the morning sermon, the first article of the Nicene Creed, "I believe in One God, the Father Almighty."

The Japanese Episcopal Church is facing a tremendous opportunity of Evangelism now. Last year alone, we had 800 candidates, while during the 8 years prior, we had only 282 converts. It is today the most promising denomination in Japan. Last year there were 2,206 new Christians—more than the Roman Catholics or the Nippon United Christian Church. It was the only denomination which could fight Tojo's government during the war. Many of us suffered because we did not obey Tojo's orders. The Selkokuai has been strong mainly because under Bishop Sugai, she stood against Tojo's Government. Bishop Sugai consequently was imprisoned more than 100 days, but he had vision.

Bishop Makita, Bishop Yanagihara and myself were the first three subjects to leave Japan to go abroad—which gives our people new vision for hope for the future.

I went to the Lambeth Conference which lasted five weeks and then went to Amsterdam, for the First Assembly of the World Conference of Churches. I saw the manifestation of the relationship between God, the Creator, and each nation. To my mind, God, the Creator, is the conductor of the orchestra which is the whole Universe. All the nations must seek the glory of God our Conductor. To the Conference, each nation brought a special contribution to Almighty God. I am glad to say I brought a special contribution to God before all the members of other churches. That is—the great, strong faith I have in God.

Like Hitler, Tojo's Government was very harmful to our traditional creed. They tried to put new articles in the Christian creed; such as, "I see the Glory of the Japanese Empire," and wanted to take out one part in particular which was the Second Advent of Jesus Christ. You understand that we could not follow or obey the Tojo Government. In these terrible atmosphere, we turned many times to our Creed, "I believe in One God, Almighty."

Modern Christians are too sentimental and the Churches do not teach properly the conception. In England, Canada and America, many people are talking too much about Communism and do not put their trust in Almighty God. They deny the existence of future soul. That is not right.

If we could grasp the real meaning of Almighty God, there is nothing in this world to be afraid. He will help and guide you in anything. The fear of God must come first. Almighty God will come to us later, and the real meaning of Incarnation. Through that power we can do anything in this world. But first of all, we must grasp the real meaning of Almighty God. In the Old Testament, it is quoted, "The fear of God must come first and in that stage of Humility will come that power of Almighty God, then everything will be yours if you are CHRIST."

'Harvest Moonball'

WATCHES on PARADE....

IN THE 16th CENTURY GENTLEMEN OF FASHION HAD WATCH CARRIERS.

From the Jewelry Industry Council.

Clock-watches, forerunners of the modern watch, were fashionable in the 16th Century but too large and heavy to be worn on the person. The modern watch is light enough for the slimmest wrist, is far more accurate than its ancestor and every bit as ornamental and fashionable.

All That Sparkles

Fashion continues to decree the short coiffure making well-adorned ears an important part of the winter ensemble. Eisenberg Ice in crystal-brilliant imported stones fashions earrings to flatter and sparkle beneath the sweep of a soft wave. A ring reflects light with each graceful movement and a demi-bowknot points attention to a lovely neck.

Japan Points to Tourist Trade, Sets Up Lavish 5-Year Plan

is certain to find somebody who understands him."

Before the war, Yokota pointed out, the tourist business provided Japan with its fourth greatest source of revenue. The nation expects it to take similar rank again when things become more normal.

During his conferences with Northwest Airlines executives, Yokota urged the cooperation of the airline and other American organizations, in developing interest in all the Orient, including China and the Philippines. He studied posters of the Orient just put out by the airline to educate the traveling public.

"The airplane will be an important factor in the coming tourist business," he said. "There is no such thing as the Far East any more. Nowadays vacationists may fly to the Orient, visit a considerable part of it, and return to their homes—all within the limits of their vacation time. I myself was quite impressed today when I arrived in the United States after what happened to be only a few hours after taking off from Tokyo."

Yokota, following the convention in Savannah, will visit New York, Washington, Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle, and will pay another visit to the Twin Cities, before returning to Japan. He will spend much of his time conferring with travel agencies.

This is his first visit to the United States in 11 years. Previously he spent three years in this country, mostly in New York, as a representative of the Japan Tourist Bureau.

Yokota, a graduate of the Imperial University of Tokyo, where he majored in political science, has spent many years in the tourist business, including his three years in New York. In addition to being director of the foreign department of the Japan Travel Bureau, he holds important positions with Japan's Tourist Industry Committee, the National Park Committee, Guide Association, Touring Club, International Press Club and the Transportation Club of Tokyo. He is a leader in the Japanese Wednesday Club, formerly Rotary International.
