JACL SEEKS RIDERS FOR TRADING ACT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15—Special amendments to the Trading With the Enemy Act to prevent losses for citizens, alien Japanese and internees whose property was vested by the government, will be sought at the forthcoming session of Congress.

The decision to take such action was made by the National JACL Legislative Committee, National Board of JACL, and Board of Directors of JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee at the request of numerous persons whose property was vested early in the war.

Several million dollars worth of property, including business properties and both dollar and yen deposits with Yokohama Specie, Sumitomo and other Japanese banks, is believed involved in vested property.

JACL officials pointed out that many persons whose property was vested failed to file claims for its return prior to the final deadline of Aug. 8, 1948, some because they were not aware of the significance of the date, and others because they did not realize they had legitimate claim to file.

One amendment to the Trading With the Enemy Act will seek an extension of the deadline for filing claims.

Internees heretofore have not been permitted to file claims, and another amendment will seek to give them the privilege of asking for return of their property.

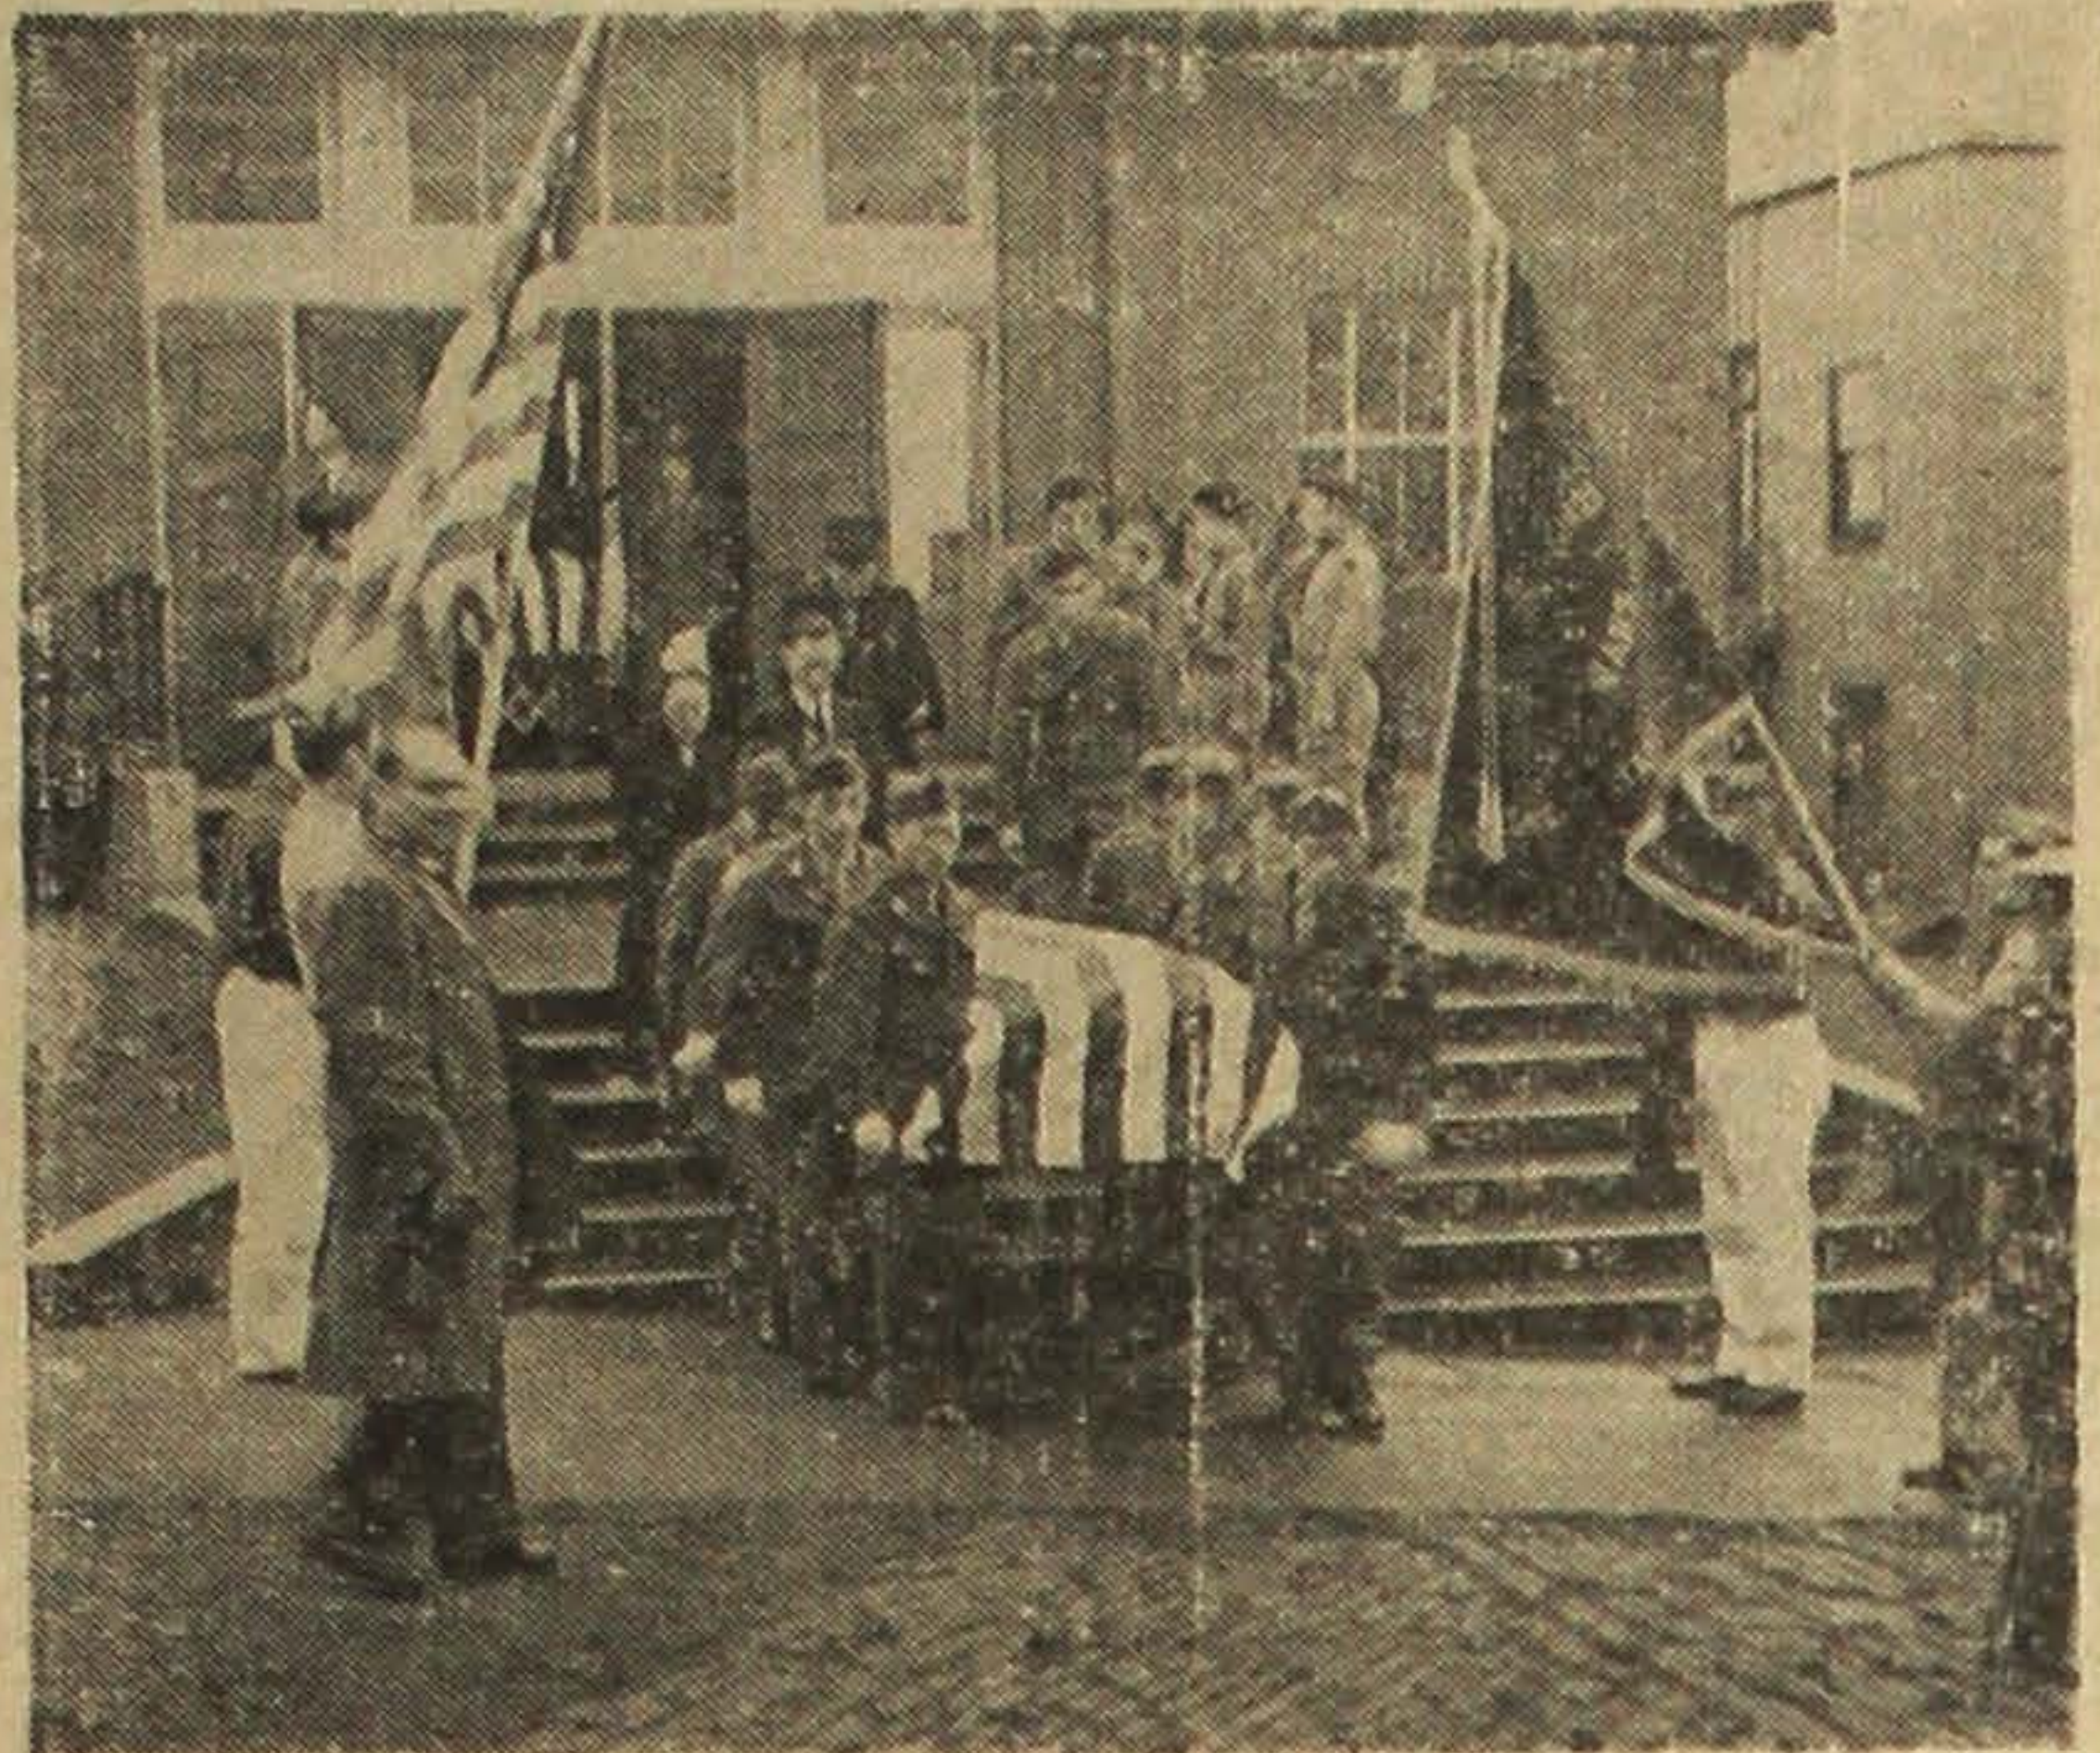

JACL ADC has asked persons whose property was vested to supply the Washington office, 300 5th St., N. E. Washington, D. C., with the following information:

1. Type of property vested; 2. Amount involved; and 3. Status of person whose property and if internees, whether paroled or released, citizen, or resident alien who was not interned.

The information must reach the Washington office prior to the first of the year so that a possible draft of legislation may be ready when Congress convenes January 3, 1949.

Returned to U. S.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15—The remains of T/Sgt. Akira R. Otsubo, whose next of kin is Shotaro Otsubo, 29 Mandeville Island, Stockton, have been returned to the United States from Europe for reinterment in the United States.

THE CASKET bearing the remains of Pvt. Isao Okazaki, one of six local Nisei War Dead for whom services were held last Saturday, is shown (above) being carried out of the Seattle Buddhist auditorium following joint rites.

The five others were Pfc. William K. Nakamura, DSC winner; Pfc. Hisashi Iwai, Pfc. Akira Kanzaki, Pfc. Tadao Sato, and Pfc. Yukio Sato.

JACL-ADC Pushes Move to Extend Soldier Brides' Legislation

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 15—With an estimated 1,500 Americans stationed in Japan seeking permission to marry Japanese natives, the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee announced today it would propose an extension to the Soldier Brides' Act to facilitate the marriages.

The decision to obtain the proposed extension was made jointly by National JACL Legislative Committee, National Board of JACL, and JACL ADC Board of Directors.

Under the original Soldier Brides' Act, Army personnel in Japan were authorized to bring spouses to the United States up to December 28, 1948, providing the marriages occurred between July 22 and August 22, 1947.

Mike Masaoka, national JACL ADC legislative director, said that more than 1,000 soldiers, including a few WACs, married native Japanese under the original Soldier Brides' Act.

Virtually all of these couples have since come to this country, although a few still are in Japan and may not be able to comply with the final deadline of December 28.

Proposed changes in the Soldier Brides' Act would extend the deadline for American personnel to bring spouses to the United States from December 28 to 1950. At the same time, it would permit marriages between Army personnel and native Japanese, as well as allow natural or adopted children of such marriages to accompany their parents to the U. S.

Several hardship cases have grown out of the original act which made no allowance for adopted children to accompany their parents to America, these have had to be worked out on an individual basis with the Naturalization and Immigration service. However, if the Eighty-first Congress extends and amends the act, such cases will be taken care of automatically.

STANDING AT attention is part of the Greenwood Post 3386 of the VFW which furnished the firing squad at the military burial services for six Seattle Nisei War Dead last Saturday at Washelli. Other VFW posts represented at the rites were Louis Ford Post 289, Capitol Hill Post 3591, Glendale Post 3075, U.S. All-Navy Post 3469, Edgar Raymond Atterberg Post 8870, Fort Lawton Post 3694, Ballard Auxiliary Post 3063 and Greenwood Auxiliary Post 3386.

John Hashimoto, who died in action with the 442nd Combat Team in France, will be at 1 p. m. this Saturday, Dec. 18, in the Chapel of Memories in the Buttrick Mortuary. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Amy Hashimoto of Pife, son, Jonathan Keith, parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hashimoto of Fowler, Calif., and two brothers, William and James.

Claims Assembly Set for Friday

To discuss the evacuation claims measure, a public meeting will be held at 8 p. m. this Friday, Dec. 17, in the Seattle Buddhist temple with Toru Sakahara and William Mimbu, local attorneys, as speakers.

The local chapter of the Japanese American Citizens League, which is sponsoring the assembly, will distribute forms and explanatory literature concerning the claims bill. The forms, according to the JACL unit, will be exact duplicates of the forms which will be made available soon for claims against the government.

Genji Mihara will be the chairman, and Frank Hattori, interpreter.

After a discussion of the bill by Sakahara and Mimbu, the audience will be asked to participate in a question-answer period.

Yothers Lauds Nisei GI War Dead

(Ed. note: Following is the complete text of the speech delivered by Robert A. Yothers, commander of the Department of Washington of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, last Saturday afternoon, Dec. 11, at the joint funeral services of six local Nisei War Dead held in the Buddhist auditorium.)

There are times when mere words cannot express those things our mind and our hearts must feel. This is such an occasion, for we are gathered here this afternoon to recall in memory these men of service who made the supreme sacrifice and in some small way pay a measure of tribute to their heroic deeds. These comrades, Americans all, were members of the most decorated unit in the entire history of the Armed Forces of the United States—the 442nd Combat Team.

The story of this unit begins in the earliest days of January, 1943, when the War Department directed that a combat team should be activated and be composed entirely of men of Japanese descent. It was said of them—if their strength, their enthusiasm, their loyalty and heroism were distributed throughout the Armed Forces, but little account would be taken if their many accomplishments and actions, but united their deeds have amazed all, both friend and foe.

The recital of the accomplishments of the 442nd Combat Team will recall to mind the bitterest hand to hand fighting of the entire European Campaign—Anzio, Leghorn, Luam, Palermo, Naples, Rome—Arno Campaign in which Pfc. William K. Nakamura gave his life in his heroic effort to save his platoon from certain annihilation by enemy machine gun fire. For this Nakamura was awarded one of the highest decorations of this unit—the Distinguished Service Cross, Purple Heart and Combat Infantry Badge.

Pfc. Kanzaki also was killed in action in this campaign and was awarded the Purple Heart and Combat Infantry Badge.

Pvt. Okazaki was awarded the Purple Heart and Combat Infantry Badge and gave his life in the same campaign.

Pfc. Yukio Sato was awarded the Purple Heart-Combat Infantry Badge and joined his comrades in their sacrifice in the Rome-Arno Campaign.

The Po Valley Campaign cost the life of Pfc. Iwai who was honored with the Purple Heart and Combat Infantry Badge.

Pfc. Tadao Sato gave his life in the service after being decorated with the Purple Heart, Distinguished Unit Badge, and Combat Infantry Badge.

Out of the 4,500 men that composed the 442nd Combat Team there were 4,086 killed or wounded. For their heroism we need only look to the record:

1 Congressional Medal of Honor.
47 Distinguished Service Crosses
354 Award Silver Star

CHICAGO UNIT TOLD OF BIAS IN CEMETERIES

CHICAGO, Ill., Dec. 15—The shocking announcement that Japanese are refused burial by cemeteries in Chicago was made by Tats Kushiida of the Chicago JACL chapter last Monday, Dec. 6, at the fourth session of the Chicago Conference on Civic Unity sponsored by the Chicago Commission on Human Relations.

Following an address, "Civil Rights, the Frontier of Democracy" by U. S. Senator-elect Paul Douglas, a panel of experts discussed "Problems and Next Step in Human Relations in Law and Order". It was to this panel that Kushiida directed the challenging statement from the floor.

Among a number of reactions were assurances from Assistant Corporation (City of Chicago) Counsel, Maurice J. Nathanson and Archibald Carey (alderman, 3rd Ward) that the matter would be given immediate attention, especially with reference to the passing of a city ordinance outlawing racial discrimination in cemeteries within the city limits. A recommendation was also made by the commission to revise state laws governing cemeteries not avowedly sectarian to prohibit this type of discrimination.

Also attending the session was Mrs. Helen Mukoyama representing the Chicago Mutual Aid Society, which has experienced difficulty in recent years securing burial plots for deceased Japanese, and which maintains a mausoleum at Montrose cemetery for the ashes of cremated Japanese.

There are few defects in our nature so glaring as not to be vexed from observation by politeness and good-breeding.—Stanislaus

Thirty-seven years ago this week, on Dec. 14, 1911, Roald Amundsen, Norwegian-born explorer, reached the South Pole, the first to stand on the one spot on earth from which one can look only North. Amundsen had first prepared to discover the North Pole, but when he learned that Peary had beat him to it, he turned to the Antarctic, discovering the South Pole one month before the Englishman Scott. In 1928, Amundsen was lost in the Arctic during an attempt to rescue the Italian Noble, who had tried to fly over the North Pole in a dirigible.

Claims Queries and Replies

(Editor's note: This is the tenth of a series of questions and answers on the evacuation claims law prepared by Edward J. Ennis, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee special counsel, and released by the Washington Office of the JACL ADC as a public service. This series is based on actual questions asked of this office.)

(Any reader who has general questions relating to the law itself or to procedural matters is invited to address a letter with a stamped, self-addressed return envelope to the Washington Office, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, Evacuation Claims Section, 300 Fifth Street North-east, Washington 2, D. C. Questions of general interest may be produced in this series without personal identification.)

1. Q. I can prove a loss of $3,000. Would you advise me to claim only $2,500 on the theory that the claim would be paid more quickly because the award would not have to be submitted to Congress for approval, as an award over $2,500 would?

A. It is true that under the Evacuation Claims Act awards over $2,500 must be submitted to Congress for approval. But it is not recommended that less than the full amount of your loss be claimed and the remainder be waived solely in order to avoid submission of the award to Congress. It is now known at this time how much time and difficulty will be involved in obtaining Congressional approval of awards made by the Attorney General. It is not sufficiently clear that there will be substantial difficulty in order to warrant waiving any part of your claim. If it later develops that Congressional approval will take considerable time, it would be possible then to consider waiving that part of any award over $2,500.

2. Q. Will you kindly clarify as to the point that claimants who have reasonable proof to submit more than $2,500 require a Congressional approval. Does that mean that each individual under such circumstances should shoulder all of the necessary expenses thereof or all of the above cases will be handled by the Justice Department and will place such bills to the Congressional agenda thru the effort of the said department?

A. Undoubtedly the Attorney General will take some action to obtain Congressional approval of awards made by him. In addition any attorney who assists in obtaining an approval of the award by Congress and payment in order that his fee approved by the Attorney General will be paid. There should not be any great additional expense involved in having the average award approved by Congress.

3. Q. The railroad company had employed me for thirty-five years. On December 8, 1941, I was dismissed from employment and ordered to leave my house which was owned by the railroad. A military squad escorted me out of the railroad town. Can I claim for loss of my seniority pension, which I would have received if I had been able to continue working and also for expenses incurred by having to take care of my family, caused by the evacuation?

A. So far as your dismissal from employment on December 8, 1941 and your loss of seniority pension is concerned, it would be difficult for you to establish that this was due to the evacuation which came some months later. You might argue, however, that you could have gotten your job back if you had not been evacuated and if this is true you might file a claim for loss of your pension. Before doing so you might take up with the railroad company the question of having your pension restored because in passing upon your claim the Government would inquire what efforts you had made to get the railroad company to restore your pension. So far as expenses of your family caused by evacuation is concerned, it is not possible to say at this time whether such expenses constitute a loss of property within the meaning of the statute. The only way you can get a decision on this question is to file a claim.

Thus, these men and their fellow men united and working together as Americans all created a symbol of things greater than their individual selves—a symbol of unsurpassed sacrifice, to be emblazoned forever in the annals of American History.

In our minds and hearts their deeds will be an undying reproach to any who may be prejudiced by reason of their Japanese ancestry, or who may be blind to their devotion to duty and patriotism as true Americans. They lived, they fought and they died in order to give meaning to the principle that no loyal citizen of this Nation shall ever be denied the democratic right to exercise the responsibilities of his citizenship, regardless of his race, creed, color or ancestry. That ideal upon which this Nation was founded and upon which it has grown great were proven again by the heroism of these comrades. By their deeds we know now that true Americanism is a matter of the heart and of the mind and is not and never has been a matter of race or ancestry.

"Shall I forsake the brave soldier who fights by my side in the cause of mankind if our creeds do not agree? Shall I give up the comrade valued and tried if he kneels not before the same altar with me?" —Thomas Moore

Of these men we can say that they fought two wars, one to smash the dictatorship threatening this Nation, the other to prove to all the world that Americans of Japanese descent are basically no different in attitude or of loyalty from the many other Americans whose forefathers came from other lands. By unselfish sacrifice they have become victors in both conflicts.

These men have done much to mold the future of our Nation. They have given us a strong incentive to carry on our crusade for lasting world peace and renew our faith in brotherhood of all men.

The highest tribute that we, the living, can pay to these men is to apply to our own lives the faith and undaunted courage which were theirs and to now dedicate ourselves in service to the living—that we now resolve that these Americans shall not have died in vain.

6 INTERRED AT WASHHELL
With approximately 1,200 persons attending impressive services at the Buddhist Church and the final graveside rites at the Veterans' Memorial Plot, Washelli, six Nisei war heroes were formally reinterred last Saturday afternoon.

The six servicemen, all killed in Italy while serving with the 442nd Regimental Combat Team, were: Pfc. Akira Kanzaki, Pfc. William K. Nakamura, Pfc. Yukio Sato, Pfc. Tadao Sato, Pfc. Hisashi Iwai, and Pvt. Isao Okazaki.

Although services were held on a cloudy afternoon, the weatherman cooperated by holding back threatened rainfall until ceremonies were completed at the cemetery.

Services at the church were conducted by both Buddhist priests and Protestant ministers. Eulogies were delivered by Robert A. Yothers, Seattle attorney and State Department Commander, VFW, and Alfred Rochester, City Councilman and acting Mayor. The Greenwood Post, VFW, furnished an eight-man firing squad for the graveside services.

The funeral procession from the church to the cemetery, reportedly composed of 307 automobiles, was one of the longest ever seen in Seattle.

NVC ALL-STARS
Coach Stanley Karikomi won't lack manpower in the coming Oriental American basketball tournament. A thirteen-man squad will permit Karikomi to substitute liberally, should the pace begin to tell upon any of his charges during the tourney.

The roster of the NVC All-Stars will include the following: Manabu Fujino, Iso Nishimura, Chuck Kinoshita, Shobo Fujii, Mote Yasuda, Heat Heyamoto, Sei Adachi, Yuke Takeuchi, Hod Otani, Sub Takeuchi, Ray Otani, Art Yoshioka and Seiji Hata.

Incidentally, the above listing is in numerical order according to the numerals which will be worn by the players in the tournament. Fujino will wear No. 3, Nishimura No. 4, and so on down the line, with Hata wearing No. 15, the largest number.

HERE AND THERE
Staff Sergeant John T. Hashimoto, who was killed in action in France while serving with the 442nd RCT, will be buried at Washelli on Saturday, December 18. . . . The Portland Chinese All-Stars, who'll be coming up here to play in the Oriental-American tournament, are not 100 percent pure Chinese. Four Nisei are members of the squad: Mickey Tamiyasu, Jack Nomi, T-Bone Oka, and Ned Maeda. . . . How well the acrobatic Sammy White can fill the bill as Washington's center this season will be revealed this weekend as he squares off against his old teammate, Jack Nichols. White, a crackerjack forward, has to play center on the present Husky lineup as there's nobody else on the squad to do the job. At six-three, White is not exactly a midget, but he'll be the shortest center in the PCC, and will give away three inches to Nichols. If White, with his marvelous ability to stretch in every direction, can come anywhere close to holding Nichols even, Husky prospects for the present season will appear much brighter, as Nichols is perhaps the greatest pivot man ever to wear a Washington uniform.

Hand in Reports Night of Games

Noting the slowness of the reports being sent in to THE NORTHWEST TIMES office, which is directly under Main Bowl, Henry Yorozu, head of the Nisei Veterans Committee-sponsored basketball leagues, today warned that all winning teams must hand in their results to THE NORTHWEST TIMES, 304 Main St., the night the games are played.

Out of town teams, Yorozu said, should mail their reports, also on the night the games are finished to insure proper sports news attention.

Further infraction of Yorozu's newest ruling will mean either a stiff fifteen dollar fine or the loss of the game, Yorozu added.

Sorry, Bowlers

Complete results of the Oregon Nisei men and women's and Ontario men's bowling league matches will be released in the Saturday, Dec. 18, edition of this newspaper.

News that the San Jose Zebras of San Jose, Calif., have accepted the invitation to participate in the second all-Oriental national basketball tournament to be held Dec. 23, 24 and 26 in Seattle University gym, was contained in a wire sent last Monday by Clark Taketa of the Zebras to Harry I. Takagi, publicity chief of the Nisei Veterans Committee.

The Zebras lost to the Berkeley Niseis, 45 to 37, in the recent Drake tournament finals in San Francisco.

Further confirmation of the Zebras' acceptance was made by Taketa in a long-distance telephone call to THE NORTHWEST TIMES.

Acceptance by the Zebras completed the number of tournament teams to eight. The other seven quintets are championship St. Mary's Saints, San Francisco, Calif.; Hawaii Nisei All-Stars, Honolulu, Hawaii; Berkeley Niseis, Berkeley, Calif.; Chinese-Nisei Stars, Portland, Ore.; Filipino All-Stars, San Francisco, Calif.; Cathay Post 186, Seattle; and Nisei Veterans Committee, Seattle.
