WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12—Nisei war dead interred in new permanent military cemeteries in Europe will be buried near the very areas which their magnificent courage helped liberate from Nazi control.

One of several cemeteries in France will be at Epinal, a small community near the village of Bruyeres, scene of one of the most valiant campaigns of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team.

Smashing through to the rescue of the "Lost Texas Battalion," the 442nd liberated Bruyeres in their bloody but successful fight to free the Texans. This was one of the most costly battles of the war for the 442nd. More than 1,000 casualties were suffered by the Regiment.

Another cemetery will be located near Nettuno, in Italy, 32 miles south of Rome. Nettuno is on the Anzio beach where the 100th Battalion of the 442nd fought so brilliantly.

Another cemetery is six miles south of Florence, Italy. It is in the vicinity of the hard-fought campaigns of the Arno river, Po valley and Apennines.

The JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee office in Washington has been advised that Nisei who died in the extreme south of France will be reinterred at the Florence military cemetery.

Groups Here Get Conclave Bid

Neighborhood House and the Jackson St. Community Council will be among scores of youth organizations which will send representatives to the first Youth Conference Tuesday, Feb. 22, in Eagleson Hall, the University of Washington YMCA-YWCA.

The conference, which is an outgrowth of the Sept. 1948 celebration of Youth Month—Saluting Young America, will be conducted under the auspices of the recreation division of the Council of Social Agencies. Theme for the prelay, which will be from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., is "How Youth Can Build a Better Community."

The meeting will include sessions on what youth can do to improve recreation, housing, juvenile delinquency, inter-group relations and social agencies, according to co-chairmen Herb Reinelt, University of Washington student.

Mrs. W. H. Weaver, Jr., a member of the board of directors of the YWCA, Camp Fire Girls and the Ruth School for Girls, is adult chairman.

Jackson St. Community People Asked To Name 'Man (or Woman) of the Year'

People of the Jackson St. community have been asked to submit nomination for the district's own "Man (or Woman) of the Year" award by the end of this month, according to an announcement by James M. Matsuoka, president of the Jackson Street Community Council.

The award, officially designated as the Chairman's Award for Outstanding Community Service, was given to the Council last year by Mrs. Lela Hall, first Community Council chairman, on the occasion of her retirement from that office. It was conferred last year on Lew G. Kay, Chinese business man and civic leader.

Any person who lives or works within the Jackson St. area or who is a member of an organization identified with the district is eligible to receive it. Anyone in the district may nominate whoever he feels has made an outstanding contribution toward promoting health, welfare, civic improvement or human relations.

All that is necessary to submit a nomination is to write a letter or postcard to the Council at 414-5th Ave. So, naming the person you wish to nominate and stating why you think he or she deserves the honor. Nominations should be signed but the name of the person making the nomination will be kept confidential upon request. No petitions are necessary, and the recommendation of an individual will be given the same consideration as that of a group.

Selection of the award winner will be made from the nominations by a representative committee of five named by the Council's Board of Trustees. Presentation of the award will take place at the Council's annual meeting in April. The recipient will receive an engraved certificate and his name will be placed on the permanent plaque which hangs in the Council office.

"A few nominations have already been received," Matsuoka said, "but we feel sure that there are other people who have intended to suggest someone but just haven't done it as yet. Nominations must be post-marked not later than January 31 to be considered by the committee this year."

JACL Aide Notes Indignities Suffered by Many Nisei Despite Decided Change of Sentiment towards Us

(Editor's note: Following is a release from Joe Grant MASAOKA, regional JACL director of Northern California area, agent "Unfinished Business on Erasing Discrimination Toward Japanese Americans.")

By JOE GRANT MASAOKA
Within the last three years the decline of discriminatory practices directed against Japanese Americans has been truly remarkable. The combination of individuals, organizations, press and radio focusing their pressure has substantially cleared away most anti-Nisei incidents. The difference between wartime hysteria and present sentiment toward Japanese Americans is like night and day.

Though much of bias and downgrading have been removed there are flare-ups of discrimination when democracy is short-circuited. The following check list indicates where shocks still hit Japanese Americans. If at these points the corrective power of goodwill is brought to bear these violations of fair and equal treatment will disappear. The force and moral suasion which organized public opinion can concentrate on unwholesome situations are most effective. Injustices which are continually challenged must give way eventually. Organizations such as the Japanese American Citizens League can be a spur to the American conscience.

The following are illustrations of disparity treatment:
While these examples pertain to California, Nisei in many parts of the West suffer these same indignities:

SOCIAL & RECREATIONAL

1. Cemeteries and columbaria discriminate in either refusing desirable burial plots or locations or segregating burial sections.
2. Swimming pools deny admission to the public plunges.
3. The American Bowling Congress limits league play to members of the Caucasian race.
4. The alien sport fishing fee is $25 as compared to a citizen's $3 fee. Aliens "racially ineligible to citizenship" are frozen in the higher fee class.

CIVIL SERVICE

1. Height and weight requirements bar Nisei from jobs even when such physical measurements are not essential. Such positions are listed in the Federal Civil Service Handbook.
2. Loss of seniority due to arbitrary military evacuation from jobs is not recoverable.

INSURANCE

1. Not more than a few companies will write casualty insurance on the theory that in a jury trial the matter of race would be a prejudicial factor.
2. Some major life insurance companies will not write life insurance at term or standard rates on the theory that the Asiatic table of mortality experience requires boosted rates, although the applicant may be American-born.

PROPERTY

1. Title insurance companies are reluctant to issue policies making it difficult for property transfers, mortgaging, or applying for crop loans.

BUSINESS

1. Hotel leases are almost impossible to negotiate in desirable sections except at premium levels, and (Continued on Page Two)

Take Advantage of Job Opportunities In This City, Minato Urges Nisei

By GEORGE MINATO

The end of the war found the returning Nisei worker in a different position on the labor market than before the war. The jobs the Nisei were able to land in their "new locations" were, in most instances, quite a contrast to those they had ever held.

Due to manpower shortage, opportunities ordinarily barred to us were open and unions barring us from membership were admitting us in order to collect dues.

Today, we find Nisei in great numbers in offices and plants that previously had refused to hire us. Boeing's, for example, has Nisei men and women spread throughout its enormous plant—from engineering department down to common labor.

Olympic Foundry possibly has the largest concentration of Nisei workers. In the spring of 1946, they all went out and stayed out in support.

(Editor's note: Opinions expressed by the writer are his own and not necessarily those of this newspaper.)

of the A. F. of L. Metal Trades Council strike in appropriate union manner.

Many Nisei women are employed in secretarial positions in the civil service field. In the private offices, they are not unfamiliar faces. The private employer, it may be added, has noticed the efficiency of these Nisei women, very much likely through his visits to government offices.

The Veterans Administration has a few Nisei ex-GI's and women on its staff.

The Nisei also have made gains in other fields such as gardening, commercial art, nursing and domestic work.

Yes, there are fields closed to us because of discrimination here but the same situation is true elsewhere in the country. Discrimination is not something one can tear down with a single legislative stroke; the understanding of all peoples, regardless of race, creed or color, is necessary.

The recent election of President Truman and the still more recent utterance of the President for a Civil Rights program give hope to the minority groups which seek equality in opportunities.

Since the war, the churches also have increased the tempo of their work for tolerance. And labor organizations, both in the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., have set up committees to fight discrimination in employment. Fair Employment Practices Acts are being pushed in many states and in the United States Congress.

This trend toward favorable acceptance of the Nisei and other minority groups did not come about accidentally; it was forced mainly through the valiant record of the Nisei GI and the untiring efforts of our numerous friends.

The Nisei should take advantage of gathering momentum for equality to all peoples by taking active steps to show our friends that we also will try to help ourselves in the betterment of our lot.

In the past, our friends have been asking about our lack of interest in the program to give us our birthright.

An A. F. of L. union executive once said that there were more than 300 persons of Japanese ancestry with membership books in his local and commented on the higher than average scholastic record they had attained. But, he said, they refuse to participate in union activities and shun expression from the floor.

This same union, in the fall of 1945, felt unfavorable towards some Japanese employees because they were reluctant to join in the organization of a hospital union. Addressing "All Trade Unions of Seattle and Vicinity", the union, in an open letter, made such remarks as these: "the management has threatened to use Japanese as scabs" and "Japanese have refused to join the union".

The International Association of Machinists, Local 751, which returned to work after a losing strike at Boeing's, noted a few non-union members of Local 751, however, loyally supported the union strike.

Then Dave Beck, in his strike-busting role, organized workers behind the picket line into one of his locals, 451, Aeronautical Workers & Helpers, which accepted the Nisei who were employed during the strike. It seems ironical, indeed, that the picket-line crossing Nisei should join Beck's group and ignore the I.A.M. 751 which was one of the first international unions to lower the racial barrier. Beck has always enforced the race line in his unions.

To the 30 or more labor organizations, both A. F. of L. and C. I. O., supporting Local 751 during the Boeing strike, people working behind the picket lines were "scabs". To the unions, the word, "scab", leaves a bad taste in their mouths, to say the least.

If much more negative impressions are made upon these unions, they may some day wonder whether the slander against our first generation should not be applied against the second generation.

The leading role that labor groups play in the fight against discrimination in employment and bettering of working conditions, puts them down as one of our greatest allies.

We should not cross their picket lines; instead, we should join with them in their fight which is our fight.

We should join unions and take active steps to strengthen them, for only with the support of a strong labor movement can we expect to attain our goal for equal treatment.

Contraband Bill Again Presented

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12—For the second time, Senator Pat McCarran, (D., Nev.) has introduced legislation to indemnify owners of contraband articles lost or damaged while held under custody of the Department of Justice or its agents.

He introduced the same bill in the Eightieth Congress. It was approved in the Senate during the final days of the session, but Congress adjourned before the House acted on the measure.

Curiously, the bill was introduced as S29 in the last session, and again has been assigned the same number, S29.

The bill has been sponsored by the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee for the last two years.

Lend a Hand with a Dime or Dollar

With more than 200 poliomyelitis patients under its care and costs higher than ever before, the King County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is facing one of the most crucial years in its history.

That is why the 1949 March of Dimes, the only source of revenue for the Foundation, is so important if all polio patients in King County are to continue to receive the high standard of care they have in the past.

When polio strikes with its paralytic force, often many years of hospitalization and treatment comprise the calendar of the disabled. Aside from the victim's pain and suffering, there is also the cold factual problem of doctor and hospital bills. Not one King County family in ten can afford to pay for the care of a case requiring a nominal hospital stay.

That's where your March of Dimes steps in to lighten the dark outlook. Besides financing research seeking the final answer of how to prevent and cure polio, March of Dimes funds are paying for the best available care and treatment of polio patients, whether they were stricken in 1948 or in years gone by. The King County Chapter also buys expensive equipment for our local hospitals when it is needed for care of patients.

By contributing to the March of Dimes you will help guarantee prompt and adequate aid to yourself and your neighbors should the disease attack. Every time you give a dime you lend a mighty, helping hand.

other businesses find it difficult to make leases.

2. Reservations are at times not accepted by hotels if names are Japanese.

3. Licenses for certain trades which require a period of apprenticeship cannot be secured.

UNIONS

1. It is apparently impossible to become apprentices as plumbers, electricians, carpenters.

2. It is charged to be impossible to join the plumbers, electricians, carpenters, mechanics unions.

PUBLIC WELFARE

1. In California, the old-age pension is limited to citizens.

2. County welfare assistance has been available to those "racially ineligible to citizenship" and this aid is just a bit more than one-half of the old age pension.

HOUSING

1. Under California Urban Redevelopment Act there are no alternatives or safeguards for the evicted racial minority residents.

2. In housing developments by private enterprises, racial minority members are barred.

PROFESSIONS

1. The International Hair Stylists Association refuses contestants in coiffure styling competition.

2. Aliens "racially ineligible to citizenship" but otherwise qualified are barred by law from making a living from many professions.

EDUCATION

1. In state universities aliens must pay a non-resident tuition fee. Aliens "racially ineligible to citizenship" are frozen in this category.

2. Scouts for industrial concerns scan honor graduates for employment but generally pass over racial minority members instead of stressing personal merits.

EMPLOYMENT

1. Salesgirls, salesmen too seldom find opportunities for employment while the clerical departments of the same firm may be eager to employ workers of minority races.

STATE LAWS

1. Settlements paid by Nisei defendants to abate alien land law proceedings should be made recoverable in view of the recent Oyama decision by the U. S. Supreme Court validating the rights of citizens in their properties.

2. Cleaners', laundries', realtors', insurance agents', and liquor licenses term nated by conditions due to evacuation should be reinstated irrespective of their past expiration while confined in W.R.A. centers.

FEDERAL LAWS

1. Removal of racial restrictions upon naturalization would eliminate the onus of "racially ineligible to citizenship" from thousands of lawfully admitted Japanese who have been residents for more than a quarter-century in the United States. Naturalization would then be placed on the basis of individual qualifications, rather than race.

Concurrently, the removal of "racially inadmissibility" would extend the uniform application of the national origins quota system to all nations, without discrimination.

2. Because Japanese are "racially inadmissible", Nisei servicemen married to Japanese girls could not bring their brides to the United States. If their wives were of Caucasian ancestry, they would not have been barred.

3. The military evacuation of any and all persons based on racial, political, or philosophical grounds is valid. The Japanese American evacuation was declared legal. To prevent arbitrary removal of others at some future time a federal law to insure such a civil right might be considered for enactment.

4. By every yardstick the Territory of Hawaii has earned the right to statehood. The large numbers of residents of Japanese ancestry should not be an excuse for denial of statehood.

5. During the exigencies of war, property of citizens and aliens of Japanese ancestry was vested by the Office of Alien Property. Interned aliens subsequently released or paroled should be permitted to file for return of their property. Citizen owners whose loyalty is attested should have their property returned under a presumption statute.

6. Either in the Treaty of Peace with Japan or by congressional enactment the property rights of citizens and permanent resident aliens in their assets located in Japan should be safeguarded as legitimate American interests, lest their impairment work hardships upon valid American citizens and residents.

How weak a thing is gentility, if it waxes virtue!—Fuller.

Senate Receives End-Bias Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12—A bill seeking to eliminate racial discrimination in American naturalization laws has been introduced in the Senate by Senator J. Howard McGrath, (D., R. I.), National Committee.

The bill (S136) is identical to a measure he introduced last year.

However, Senator McGrath advised the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee he "introduced the bill to show my interest in the legislation"

He said "If and when the House bill for equality in naturalization and immigration passes, I will support it in the Senate."

Okada Insurance Rates as Repeaters

Okada Insurance of Salt Lake City—on paper appears to be the strongest entry in the third annual Northwest Nisei Classic which is scheduled for Jan. 28, 29 and 30 in Main Bowl.

Chances are the Okada kegglers will repeat their '47 feat. Their winning team series total was a cool 2773.

The Salt Lake City stars, according to releases issued from that area, are primed to splatter the pins in Main Bowl again. Their Dr. Jun Kurumada especially is positively devastating, the Mormon town reports. And who can forget George Kishida who recently punched out 12 strikes for a perfect 300 and who grabbed the singles and all-events honors in the '48 tourney? Maki Kaizumi, Sho Hirazumi and Tad Sako, the other three men, will do right well in any company.

Seattle's hopes may rest on Over the Top Beverage of the Nisei Commercial league. The beverage squad consists of Tommy Nanba, Bill Ihashi, Bill Tanaka, Jack Nitta and Tak Shibuya, all of whom are capable of walloping the wood for a 600 series. This formidable group of trundlers is due to explode.

Other NCL teams which may provide fireworks are Main Drug, Shanty Inn, Sakahara Insurance, PSVGA, Puget Sound Laundry and Northwest Times. Of these six, Shanty Inn ranks highest on our rating. If its men—Shig Urakawa, Pruney Tsuji, Tak Asaba, Jim Kuranishi and Kenny Arita—ever start to roll, watch out!

From the Ontario, Oreg., region, which Mrs. "Bobbie" Watanabe so well described as a "boom town" in our New Year's edition, will come Yulene Takai's Jaekel & Rogers I aggregation which, besides anchor man Takai, includes Roy Hashitani, Shig and George Hironaka and Min Nakamura. Nakamura is remembered as the '47 all-event winner, and the '48 doubles winner with Shig Hironaka. Barring any major slump, Takai's gang may have the stuff to bring home the famous chucked-up bacon with lots of fat.

Spokane, Portland and Wapato are expected to ship several carloads of good bowlers.

All we know is that the "hottest" team, no matter what its average may be, will win.

TOKUDA DRUG BARELY EKES OUT VICTORY

The score at the end of regular playing time was 27-27. The two quintets then battled it out for two scoreless overtime periods. In the third "sudden death" overtime, Sei Adachi, the former San Mateo Ryusei star, connected with a long shot to give the "V" margin to Tokuda's.

YWCA Publishes Class Schedule

"More Fun Than a Circus" is the theme of a brochure just put out by the Y. W. C. A., listing more than fifty classes scheduled to start in February. The folders are now available in the Central Y. W. or the Northeast Y. W., Northwest Y. W. Center, West Seattle Branch, and East Side Branch.

Registration is open this month for sports, crafts and many other courses to be given during the eight-week term which starts the week of February 7.

Teenagers, working girls and wives are described in the folder as participants in the "three-ring" program offered by the Y. W. C. A. Club activities, as well as classes and special events, are listed for them, including 422 Club for young men and women; Cosmopolitans, a co-ed group interested in promoting inter-faith and inter-racial understanding; Japanese War Brides club, Young Marrieds and 6th Nites.

Among new courses to be given during the term is a flower arranging and gardening class, which will be taught by outstanding local garden artists. Mrs. Orrin Hale of Bothell, co-publisher of the Northwest Gardens and Homes magazine, will serve as coordinator.

The Rt. Rev. Stephen F. Bayne, Jr., in a special course entitled "Faith to Live By", will present a nonsectarian discussion of personal values and philosophies. This class will meet in February and March only, and there will be no fee.

Simplified history and civics, preparatory work for regular citizenship instruction, also will be given without charge. Mrs. H. G. Barklage, 355 Boston, and Mrs. Woodbury Abbey, 1525 16th N., will give the course. English conversation will be taught by Mrs. Lawrence Powers, 1620 45th S. W., in a similar course for overseas brides and others who wish to become naturalized citizens.

Creative writing, photo tinting, dressmaking, drawing and interior decorating are among the many other classes listed in the folder. YWCA is a red feather agency.
