

BIAS NOTED IN JOBS FOR MINORITIES

Job discrimination does exist in this community, according to a University of Washington study of job opportunities for racial minorities released recently, said Henry Elliott, president of the Seattle Civic Unity Committee, last Saturday.

The study was made by the University's Institute of Labor Economics and was financed by the University and the Civic Unity Committee.

The report stated: "All data collected indicate clearly that the job opportunities for members of racial-minority groups are not equal to the job opportunities of the white race."

In general, there is higher unemployment among racial-minority groups. A large proportion of these individuals have to turn to casual labor for employment.

The study does not fix the responsibility for discrimination upon any individual group. One finds statements, for example, from employers that they would be willing to hire members of racial-minority groups but that unions who supply their labor never send such individuals for employment. Other statements from employers indicate the employers would be willing to hire Negroes or Orientals but feels his other employees would object.

Similar statements are made by union business agents. Frequently one finds union officials who state they would be willing to accept Negroes or Orientals to membership in their unions but do not do so because they could not find employment for these individuals because of prejudice of employers or of other members.

Finally, one finds statements from employers in retail trade and service industries, for example, who state they would be willing to employ members of racial-minority groups if it were not for the fact that their customers would object.

Notable Hollywood Stars Featured In Social Agencies Air Program

Geraldine Fitzgerald, Melvyn Douglas, Ralph Bellamy, Raymond Massey, Vera Zorina and other notable actors will be heard in "Stories to Remember", a new "Lest We Forget" presentation sponsored locally by the Seattle-King County Council of Social Agencies each Sunday evening at 8:45 o'clock over radio station KJR.

The show is under the auspices of the Institute for Democratic Education. This Sunday, Ralph Bellamy will be featured in "Outcasts", by B. J. Shute.

The new series consists of thirteen 15-minute adaptations of well-known stories written by MacKinlay Kantor, Irwin Shaw, Carl Ewald, Dorothy Canfield Fisher and others.

Designed to remind Americans that prejudice and discrimination have no place in our democracy, "Stories to Remember" represents a cross-section of stories on the problems of intergroup tensions, ranging from novels to popular magazines, such as Atlantic Monthly, Colliers, Mademoiselle, Popular Sports, Reader's Digest, Seventeen, The New Yorker, The Saturday Evening Post, and Woman's Home Companion. Common to each story is a positive treatment of intergroup tensions.

"Stories to Remember" is the twelfth series of "Lest We Forget" programs produced and distributed by the Institute for Democratic Education, New York. It was produced by Harold Franklin, program director of the Institute, and directed by Earle McGill. Script writers were Sigmund Miller, Milton Wayne, Jack Bentkover, and Harold Franklin.

Early this year the Institute received a Special Award in Variety's Show Management Survey for tackling "the problem of intergroup tensions with a forthrightness that made the organization's work unique in the realm of broadcasting aimed at mass education on democratic principles." The Institute's eleventh series, "Lest We Forget—The American Dream", won a First Award at the last Ohio State University Institute for Education by Radio and a Citation for Distinguished Merit from the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

To date, "The American Dream" has been broadcast by more than 600 stations in the United States and Canada, as well as in other English-speaking countries. In a number of communities it has been aired as part of a half-hour program, the last fifteen minutes of which has been devoted to live panel discussions. In these panels the problems of prejudice and discrimination projected by each fifteen dramatization have been discussed as they relate to the local scene. Sponsors of "The American Dream" discussion program have been Mayor's unity committees in many cities throughout the country, the New York State Commission Against Discrimination, the State of New Jersey Division Against Discrimination and community organizations concerned with promoting better human relations.

Following broadcast by radio stations, the "Lest We Forget" transcriptions are offered to schools for use as audio-educational aids. A total of 2000 schools and school systems in the United States has utilized the Institute's transcribed programs.

BILL PERMITS SERVICE KIN TO WIN RIGHTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 19—A bill to permit parents of persons who have served or are serving in the army, navy or merchant marine "during the present war or some previous war" to become naturalized citizens has been introduced in the House by Congressman Philip J. Philbin (D., Mass.)

The bill, HR 262, is similar to one Representative Philbin introduced last year except the new measure is also applicable to aliens ineligible for citizenship.

Representative Philbin's bill provides that "any person not a citizen of the United States may be naturalized without declaration of intention, and without complying with existing education requirements, provided they have a son or daughter who 'has served, or is serving, honorably in the land or naval forces, or the merchant marine service, during the present war or some previous war, and who, if separated, was separated under honorable conditions'."

Mike Masaoka, national JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legislative director said the JACL ADC "will support this measure, although our primary attention still will be given to the ENI bill."

Nisei Y-Teener Named Delegate

Tomi Fujino, a Franklin high school senior, has been chosen to represent the Seattle Y-Teen at a national youth conference which will be held sometime in March in San Francisco, it was learned today.

Miss Fujino, who is an active member of the Nisei Bellamis, is second vice president of the Interclub Council and the Seattle YWCA.

Crematory Aide, after Reading Word From Gen. Clark, OK's Burial of Nisei

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 19—"We see no reason why the Japanese Americans should not have the same rights as any other Americans," declared Barbara Ann Shaw of the Merced Evergreen Crematory after reading General Mark Clark's statement lauding a Southern California cemetery's revised stand upholding the rights of a Japanese American soldier to be buried in a desirable plot in the cemetery.

This is only one expression of belief in equal treatment regardless of ancestry received in response to letters sent to all California, Oregon and Washington crematories, and California newspapers, by the West Coast ADC office, in following up the earlier crematory refusal of a desirable final resting place for Nisei war hero, Sgt. Kazuo Masuda, whose family resides in Santa Ana.

In the letter received from the Merced crematory, a further problem was mentioned—difficulty in securing an import permit to send ashes of a family member by a Japanese American family to Japan. Regional JACL-ADC Director Joe G. Masaoka suggested the crematory write either to the Department of State in Washington, D. C., or to SCAP headquarters in Tokyo, Japan, to request the matter be expedited. If any Nisei or Issei in Northern California is having similar difficulty, it was suggested that they contact the JACL regional office in San Francisco, giving details.

U. W., Local Council Make Study Of Area Advertising Practices

A study of the advertising practices of business men in the Jackson St. area, sponsored by the Jackson Street Community Council and the marketing department of the University of Washington, will be conducted during January and February. Approval of the project by the Council was given at the January meeting of the Board of Trustees held last week.

Designed to provide valuable basic information which will assist local business men in getting the most out of their advertising dollars, the study will ask such questions as: "In what ways have you advertised your business?" "Was your total advertising bill more or less in 1948 than in 1947?" "In what newspapers do you usually advertise, and why?"

Questionnaires requesting information such as the above will be delivered to all business houses located between Fourth and Twelfth avenues and Yesler and Dearborn Streets and on Jackson street and Yesler Way to 23rd avenue during the last two weeks in January. A postage-free envelope will be enclosed and business men are urged to check the questionnaire and return it immediately. The questions are simple and have been designed to take a minimum amount of time to answer, most questions requiring only check marks.

Questionnaires Unsigned and Confidential
No signatures, addresses, or other identifying information is requested on the questionnaire and business men can be certain that all information received will be treated confidentially. Questionnaires become (Continued on Page Two)

JACL ADC Backs Postage Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 18—The JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee today announced its support of a bill to provide free postage for gift packages of food and clothing to war ravaged countries.

The bill, HR 297, was introduced on the House by Congressman George G. Sadowski, (D., Mich.)

Representative Sadowski's bill provides that gift packages not exceeding 44 pounds, containing food or clothing for relief purposes only may be sent by parcel post free of postage for delivery in a foreign country if the package is intended for a needy individual or a non-profit relief organization.

The act would be applicable in any war-ravaged country where "the people are needy and destitute, regardless of whether they were allies or enemy nations."

Hayashi Elected N. Y. JACL Head

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 19—Akira Hayashi, native New Yorker, has been elected president of the New York chapter of the Japanese American Citizens League. Hayashi succeeds Tom Hayashi, local Nisei lawyer.

Besides A. Hayashi, other members of the cabinet are Sue Takami, vice president; Tomi Fukuhara, recording secretary; Sachi Yamada, corresponding secretary; Toshi Sasaki, treasurer; Fred Miyasato, financial director; Yumi Saito, membership chairman; Jim Starr, program; Amy Miyagawa, publicity; and Joe Oyama, historian.

DIMES DRIVE SWINGS INTO SECOND WEEK

Only a tremendously successful March of Dimes will enable the King County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to continue its fight against polio with undiminished vigor, Sam G. Lamping, county chairman, said yesterday as the fund swung into its second week.

The King County Chapter provides care for polio patients, buys needed equipment for local hospitals and helps maintain an epidemic aid fund to assist any community that is swept by an epidemic.

Additional March of Dimes funds are urgently needed, Lamping said, not only to prepare for possible polio epidemic this year, but to continue the care of several hundred King County children and adults stricken in 1948 and in previous years.

"In polio," Lamping said, "we are dealing with a unique disease. It's death rate is comparatively low, but it is the sort of disease that is with us for a long time. Many patients need care for years after they are stricken."

Residents of this community may give through our local activities, in addition to filling in their dime cards that they received through the mail and returning them to the postman. The fund raising campaign will continue through Jan. 31.

Challenge Right Of U. S. Ouster

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Jan. 19 (Nichi Bei Times Dispatch)—Two test cases challenging the right of the government to exercise its wartime power to arrest and deport two Issei to Japan were filed last week-end in the U. S. district court in this city.

The suits were brought on behalf of Frank Y. Miyagawa of Seattle, Wash., and Makio Kobayashi of Ogden, Utah, against the U. S. immigration service director here.

Federal Judge Michael J. Roche has ordered them freed pending a final determination of their cases.

Wayne M. Collins and other attorneys representing the pair contend the Issei are not deportable because the alien enemy act expired at the close of the war. It was also asserted that they were not given a proper hearing before deportation orders were issued.

Interned during the war, they were released a year and half ago into custody of Collins.

Additional Claims Queries, Replies

(Editor's note: This is the thirteenth of a series of questions and answers on the evacuation claims law prepared by Edward J. Ennis, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee special counsel, and released by the Washington Office of the JACL ADC as a public service. This series is based on actual questions asked of this office.)

(Any reader who has general questions relating to the law itself or to procedural matters is invited to address a letter with a stamped, self-addressed return envelope to the Washington Office, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, Evacuation Claims Section, 300 Fifth Street North-east, Washington 2, D. C. Questions of general interest may be produced in this series without personal identification.)

(No questions involving the legality or value of specific claims can be answered.)

1. Q. My father died just before evacuation and left me with an extensive gold fish hatchery. I was nineteen years old and did not have much knowledge of the business. The persons who worked in our hatchery were Japanese who were evacuated. I lost almost everything our family had because of the evacuation. Can I claim for the going value of the business which was thus destroyed?

A. If you are a person of Japanese ancestry you can claim the difference between the going value of the business and any amount you received for it.

2. Q. In 1943 I sold my poultry farm in California for $7,000. If I were to buy back the same place now, or one similar to it, I would have to pay at least $15,000. Would I have the right to file a claim? If it were not for the evacuation, I would never have sold the place to begin with. As far as real estate prices go, I believe I received a reasonable amount for the farm in 1943. But the fact remains that I would like to return to California to start back in the poultry business; but the high prices being asked for real estate now makes it impossible to do so.

A. If you did receive the fair market value for your poultry farm as a going business concern at the time you sold it in 1943 it will be difficult to recover a claim for the additional amount which the poultry farm is worth today because of the increased real estate values. The Government would be able to contend that the increased value was a claim for anticipated profits prohibited by the Evacuation Claims Act. If you actually bought back the poultry farm at the increased cost you would have a somewhat better argument that your claim should be paid in order to reimburse you fully and place you in the same position as you were at the time you were evacuated. But, if you did not repurchase the farm, or a similar poultry farm it is more difficult to establish your claim. In these cases the only way a clear decision can be obtained is by filing a claim and having the Department of Justice pass upon it.

3. Q. In my printing plant it was my business practice to have considerable amounts of printed labels for my customers. At the time of evacuation, Board of Equalization agents came to my shop and demanded that I pay sales tax on these labels bearing the trade marks of my customers. We were all evacuated and my clients never purchased these labels. Can I claim for the amount of the labels which were unsold and also for the amount of the sales tax which I was compelled to pay?

A. You appear to have a clear claim for the cost of the labels to you, but you may not be able to recover the profit you would have made on the sale of the labels to your customers unless you can show that your customers had contracted to buy all the labels and that therefore your actual legal loss at the time of evacuation was the sales price and not the cost of the labels to you. So far as the sales tax on the labels is concerned, you might be able to recover this amount if you can show that the amount was paid because of the evacuation and if you can also show that it is not possible to recover the amount from the State authorities.

4. Q. I bought a 1938 car which was paid by down payment and just got done paying the amount of $900 when two months later we were evacuated. We had to sell the car for $400. Do I have a claim?

A. You have a good claim at least for the difference between the amount you paid on the car and the amount you received. If your car was completely paid for, your loss is the difference between its reasonable value and the amount you received for it, which does not always depend upon the purchase price. It may be that you purchased the car for $900 but may have used it in such a way that it was not worth that much at the time you were forced to sell it because of depreciation, accidents or other factors. On the other hand, if you had made a particularly good purchase, it may have been worth more than the $900.

March of Dimes

Infantile paralysis is believed to be older than the Pyramids of Egypt. An English physician, Dr. M. Underwood, for the first time in 1789, recognized it as a separate disease which usually attacked children with paralyzing effect.

Establishment of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1938 mobilized an entire nation to fight a single disease. Today, scientists in scores of the nation's leading research laboratories and medical schools seek a preventive or cure.

'Oriental Interlude'

By MARILOU
EACH DAY I take my lunch to work and each day I drop into a tuck shop to buy some dessert for my lunch—a cookie, an apple turnover, or sometimes a chocolate bar. The tuck shop is on the corner and has recently been opened by a man named Jim. The college cove addicts consider it a "super place to chat." I shall always remember it as that—and something more.

Jim stood about five feet seven, not husky—about 155 pounds—but broad-shouldered, and he had medium brown hair with a beautiful Grecian curve for the blonde tinged wave. I must admit I sighed each time I went into his shop.

For the first few times I exchanged only the usual good mornings and good afternoons. But I always closed the door with "I wish I had said more" feeling.

Then after half a dozen visits, Jim said quite suddenly, "You're not very big, are you?"

"No," I said demurely, hoping I'd made an impression.

"I can tell," he said, "I can tell." If it had been any other tuck shop and any other clerk, I would have felt queer at the remarks. But on this day, I could only stand and stare.

Jim tapped lightly on the counter, fingered the dollar I had given him, and then with an air of sureness counted the change into my hand.

"Yes," he continued, "you're not from Toronto either."

Then he did an odd thing. Dropping the change into my hand he grasped my hand, and then my hair. He lingered there for a moment, I was so scared I could hardly breathe.

"You have soft, so soft curly hair ... like my girl ... like my girl ..." he said.

"You know, I met Ahline in Burma. Hell of a place, smelled from here to Hades, but Ahline ... she was a goddess. She was so tiny, you could put her little waist into this space (he cupped his hands together) and so beautiful those big brown eyes, they stabbed my heart the first time I saw her."

Sansei Girl Joins In Russian Party

By MRS. A.E. HASHIMOTO
TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 19—Little Linda Akamatsu, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Takeo Akamatsu, was among thirty-two pupils of the Ivan Novikoff Ballet Studio who participated in the annual Russian Christmas party last Sunday afternoon in the Broadmoor studio here.

The Sansei, who has taken but five months of the ballet course, gracefully appeared with three other two-year advanced students. Dressed in a lovely crimson Russian costume, little Linda performed well.

Throughout the program, eight tiny beginner pupils were dressed in white bunny costumes at the foot of a large Yule-trimmed tree. Serving of light refreshments climaxed the program which was enjoyed by the parents of the youthful entertainers and their friends.

"Our purpose in sponsoring the study is to secure an overall picture of advertising and sales promotion rather than to pry into the affairs of any individual concern," Mrs. Ruth Manca, Council executive secretary said. "We are fortunate in being able to use the resources of the University in making this study. Information of this type is usually secured only at great expense by private concerns."

Return Questionnaire
Joseph U. Hamanaka, student of market research at the University, is conducting the survey. "It is very important that every business fill out and return the questionnaire as soon as possible, if the study is to produce results of value to business men themselves," Hamanaka said. "Even if you have done little or no advertising, it is still important for you to return the questionnaire."

The final tabulation of all replies, together with an analysis of the findings and conclusions indicating how practices can be modified to produce better results will be available at the Council office or will be mailed on request after June 1949.

Sunohara's Fish Goes to Truman

A full moon spoiled an otherwise good fishing day—high tide and clear weather—for scores of Japanese fishermen participating in the Seattle Japanese Sportsmen's Tengu club's annual Blackmouth Salmon Derby last Sunday in Elliott Bay.

Only four landed fish during the day. They were C. Sunohara, 13 lb. 12 oz.; S. Matsumoto, 6 lb. 3 oz.; M. W. Okamoto, 6 lb. 6 oz.; and K. Tatsumi, 6 lb. 3 oz.

Sunohara's beautiful catch, which earned him a special five-dollar cash prize, was sent via air to President Harry S. Truman as a gift from this state. A policeman representing the state of Washington police accompanied Sunohara's fish.

They'll Go Out For Last Time

Sunday, Jan. 23, will be the last time participants in the Seattle Japanese Sportsmen's Tengu club's annual blackmouth derby will be able to fish for the top prizes of a Hotpoint refrigerator and a championship trophy.

Current leader in the ladder is Pete J. Yoshida whose catch is a 14 lb. 10 ounce. The others are Jim Jinguji, 14 lb. 1 ounce; C. Sunohara, 13 lb. 12 oz.; Dr. S. F. Kanemori, 11 lb. 12 oz.; Tomu Araki, 11 lb. 9 1/2 oz.; T. Konma, 10 lb. 15 oz.; B. J. Yoshida, 10 lb. 6 oz.; Jimmy Kimura, 8 lb. 15 oz.; Frank Iwata, 8 lb. 15 oz.; H. T. Kubota, 8 lb. 3 oz.; S. Sakazaki, 6 lb. 6 1/2 oz.; M. Kodani, 6 lb. 6 oz.; W. Okamoto, 6 lb. 6 oz.; M. Shibuya, 6 lb. 4 oz.; K. Tatsumi, 6 lb. 3 oz.; W. Fukui, 6 lb.; Roy Yokoyama, 5 lb. 8 oz.; T. Dance Will Pay For Scoreboard

To raise funds to purchase a scoreboard, the local basketball leagues will sponsor a sports dance on Saturday, Jan. 29, in the Seattle Buddhist auditorium. Dancing will be from 8:30 p.m. to 12 midnight.

The scoreboard, which is estimated to cost about $400, will be placed in the Buddhist gym as a community property.

All local basketball games scheduled for next Sunday, Jan. 23, in the Seattle Buddhist auditorium have been postponed until further notice, according to league director Henry Yozou.

The games were: Monarchs vs. Midgets (B), Starlettes vs. Lotus (G), FCY vs. Main Bowl (A), and Lancers vs. Comets (A).

MAIN BOWL'S DEADLINE FOR MEET JAN. 23

Main Bowl, the only Nisei-owned and Nisei-operated bowling alley in the Pacific Northwest, will be the scene of the third annual Northwest Nisei Classic on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 28, 29 and 30. All entries for the classic, according to Fred Takagi, manager of Main Bowl, must be turned in by midnight Sunday, Jan. 23, to Main Bowl, 306 Main St.

The tournament ball which will be held Sunday night, Jan. 30, in the popular Trianon Ballroom, will be an informal affair. "That means," Takagi said, "no evening gowns for the girls but the boys must be dressed in suits."

Curt Sykes and his orchestra will play for the bowling crowd at the Trianon.

PSGA Members To Try Again

Puget Sound Golf Association's monthly tournament which was postponed last Sunday, will be played off this Sunday, according to PSGA officials.

The starting times and the four-somes will be the same as previously announced. The "A" and "C" flighters will tee off at West Seattle, and the "B" flighters at Jefferson.

Period Pieces of Handmade American Glassware For Table Settings

Your tableware should blend with your home furnishings. Whether your decorating theme is period or modern, you'll find plenty of handmade American glassware that will fit your mode of living, your style of furnishings, and your budget, too.

If you have provincial furnishings, give some thought to the pressed ware patterns, such as the first goblet illustrated. They have a sturdiness of line which will accentuate the theme you convey in your decorations.

The ever popular 18th Century period calls for a mood of elegance and grace, such as the delicately etched goblet seen in the second illustration.

For homes decorated in the post-Revolutionary and Regency styles, select glassware which clings most closely to classic simplicity like the third goblet pictured.

If yours is a love of the modern, you'll find innumerable patterns of glassware to your taste. The fourth one shown is just one example.

No matter what period you choose, select a pattern which is wrought by hand by American craftsmen, and you can be assured of long lasting quality and true, exquisite beauty.
