SELECTION

of "the man or woman of the year" in our community is due this Sunday, Jan. 30 or thereabouts.

We haven't bothered to give it much serious thought, but at the moment, we are willing to wager that Mrs. Ruth Manca will win by several furloughs—if nominated.

Mrs. Manca, executive secretary of the Jackson St. Community Council, is a sleek thoroughbred. Like the famed race horse, Citation, she is quick on the start, a strong finisher, and a graceful winner.

Besides grinning and bearing with the tempers of the various racial group leaders, she also has to act as a liaison officer between our town and the people on the other side of the railroad.

Mrs. Manca has a herculean task which we don't relish despite our fervent love for moola and prestige and all that sort of stuff.

The column goes on record for Mrs. Manca as its choice for "the woman of the year".

recent dismissal of three University of Washington professors who participated in communistic activities, has touched off an all-important query: Should a college or a university or any school, for that matter, have teachers with communistic leanings on its faculty?

The University of Washington in Seattle answered the question with a flat "No!" Its board of regents decided to fire the trio.

Personally, we believe the university's action was correct.

The accused professors were given a fair trial, and they all but admitted having joined Moscow's followers at one time or another.

In view of the tense Soviet-U. S. relations and in view of the conflicting ideologies of the Russian and the American, no more should be said, we think.

JAPANESE CANADIAN WORKER FIGHTS FOR CLAIMS ON LOSS SUFFERED THROUGH SHIP SALE

TORONTO, Ont., Canada, Jan. 29 (New Canadian Dispatch)—Andrew Brewin, legal counsel for the Cooperative Committee on Japanese Canadians, recently met Hon. Stuart Garson, minister of justice, in Ottawa to discuss the sale of Japanese fishing vessels, most of which were handled by the custodian and thus falls outside the present terms of reference for property loss claims.

Brewin is believed to have stressed to the minister that (1) the fishing vessels were sold at a considerable loss and (2) they were sold contrary to the inclination of their owners and often without the owners' consent or knowledge. He urged that the property loss inquiry scheme be extended to cover the losses on these boats.

In a statement issued by the National JCCA, it is reported that the justice minister, while making no definite commitments in the matter, "intimated" that some consideration may be given by the government on cases where there had been forced sales.

A strong point in favor of providing compensation for losses on these fishing vessels is the fact that the Fishing Vessels Disposal Committee lacked the legal authority to sell the boats arbitrarily. This fact, it is reported, has been admitted by Col. J. W. G. Hunter, counsel for the government in the loss inquiry.

Only 150 to 250 vessels were disposed of by the custodian, the rest of the 1100 boats being handled by the Fishing Vessels Disposal Committee.

Prior to this interview, the Cooperative Committee had written the former minister of justice, J. L. Flsey, requesting him to widen the terms of reference to include fishing vessels.

In his interview, Brewin also requested the minister to provide financial assistance to the Co-operative Committee which was rendering invaluable assistance to the claimants and the government in the present inquiry. Brewin argued that the Co-operative Committee's efforts not only speeded the hearings, but also indirectly effected economy in the expenditure of the inquiry commission.

The justice minister, however, said he could not recommend to the government that this request be accepted.

The National JCCA is giving further study to the question of extending the terms of reference.

Gentleman is a term that does not apply to a station, but to the mind and feelings in every station.—Tatouard.

Senate Unit Reports Favorably On Contraband Loss Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29—A bill to authorize payment for loss of or damage to so-called contraband articles deposited by persons of Japanese ancestry and others following the outbreak of war with local and federal peace officers has been favorably reported out by the Senate Judiciary Committee, the Washington Office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee was informed today.

Designated S. 29, it has already been placed on the Senate Calendar.

It was one of the first bills to be favorably reported out by the new Senate Judiciary Committee, which met for the first time in executive session yesterday. Only five other bills, four of them of a private nature, were approved at the meeting.

Reason for this speedy action is that identical legislation was unanimously approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee in June, 1943, and passed by the Senate without objection last June 12. This action, however, came too late for House concurrence.

Senator Pat McCarran, chairman of the Judiciary Committee and sponsor of this bill in the 80th Congress as well as the present one, wrote Mike Masaoka, national legislative director: "In justice to many thousands of loyal Americans of Japanese ancestry, I believe this bill should be enacted; and I shall do all I can to achieve that objective."

Masaoka predicted that this JACL ADC endorsed bill would come up for Senate consideration not later than next week, and perhaps even this week if the Senate meets to consider its regular calendar.

S. 29 authorizes the Attorney General to "consider, ascertain, adjust, determine, settle, and pay in an amount not in excess of $1,000, when accepted by the claimant in full satisfaction and final settlement, any claim against the United States arising on or after December 7, 1941, for damage to, or loss of destruction of, personal property, the use, operation, custody, or control of which was prohibited by certain proclamations of the Department of Justice."

Claims more than $1,000 may be reported by the Attorney General for its consideration.

Claims must be presented within one year after the enactment of the bill.

The bill, covering alien enemies and United States citizens of Japanese ancestry, provides, however (1) that the loss shall not have been caused by negligence or wrongful act on the part of the claimant, agent, or employee, (2) that the Attorney General prescribes the manner in which all claims are to be substantiated, and (3) that the property was not used for espionage or other illegal purposes.

Masaoka declared that this legislation supplements the Evacuation Claims Act passed last year by authorizing the payment of claims for loss or damage to such contraband articles as firearms, cameras, and short-wave radios which so many persons of Japanese ancestry deposited with local and federal peace officers immediately following the outbreak of war.

He also pointed out that persons of Japanese ancestry anywhere in the United States could file claims under this bill. The Evacuation Claims Act restricts its claim to those who were evacuated from Hawaii, Alaska, and California, Oregon, Washington, and Arizona.

Nisei Girl Rejects Honor from D.A.R.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 29—Grace Oshima, senior at Soidan-Blewett high school, remembers well the discriminatory practices of the Daughters of the American Revolution during the war years.

So despite the honor of being chosen as representative of her school in the state-wide contest to select the "Missouri Pilgrim" for a DAR-sponsored trip to Washington, Miss Oshima has gracefully declined the nomination.

Her fellow classmates, however, have refused to name an alternate in recognition of the Nisei student's opposition to race discrimination.

Winner of a scholarship to Washington University in St. Louis, Miss Oshima and her family lived behind barbed wires in an Arkansas relocation camp during the war. She is the daughter of Mrs. Toyoko Oshima.

Cleveland Nisei Wins Oratorical

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 29—Lilyan Hijikata of Cleveland, Ohio, who is a freshman at Sioux Falls college here, recently placed first in the Intercollegiate Women's Oratorical Contest. She gave her speech over Radio Station KSOC.

The Nisei girl also placed first in the freshman oration, and received the award as Knox Orator. She placed second in the All-School Oratorical Contest.

Her speech was on "The New Patriotism".

JACL SEEKS QUOTA OF 200 NEW MEMBERS

Seattle chapter of the Japanese American Citizens' league this week launched a membership drive, the objective to secure a sufficient number of Nisei representing all groups locally.

A quota of 200 has been set by Mac Kaneko who has volunteered to accept the chairmanship of the membership committee. Other members of the group are Frank Hattori, Dr. Terrence Toda, Stan Karikomi, the Rev. Emery Andrews, Mitsuye Uyeta, Toru Sakahara, Fred Takagi, Roy Sakamoto, Kengo Nogaki, Frank Yanagimachi, Takako Yoda, William Mambu and Wilco Shiomi.

Membership dues will be two dollars for each person or the head of the family, and one dollar for additional members in the family. Dues will be accepted at 304 Sixth Ave. S.

Claims Filing Reported Slow

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 29—Top JACL officials reported that evacuation claims were being filed rather slowly with the Department of Justice in Washington. This problem was among the important matters discussed at a special emergency meeting of JACL officials in Los Angeles last week-end.

Discussed also were the coordination of west coast regional offices and chapter programs with the legislative program, especially the fund drives now being conducted. Alien land law matters, visitations to west coast chapters by officials, consideration of a regional office in Central California, and various other organizational matters dealing especially with the west coast completed the agenda for the special meeting.

Benson High Picks Nisei Vice Prexy

PORTLAND, Oreg., Jan. 29—Jimmy Tsujimura recently was elected vice president of the Benson Polytechnic high school student body. Benson is a boys' vocational school boasting an enrollment of approximately 2,000 students.

Tsujimura is believed to be the first Nisei to win a prep student body position.

New Through-Fare Pact Is Expected To Boost Plane Traffic to Orient

Increased traffic via Seattle-Tacoma's aerial gateway to the Orient was predicted today as a result of a through-fare agreement between Northwest Airlines and United Airlines. The new fares, announced by the two airlines, will apply from Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland and Portland, as well as 17 intermediate cities of Oregon and California on United's system.

The agreement, subject to approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board, will become effective February 3.

The 17 intermediate cities are Bakersfield, Bend-Redmond, Eugene, Eureka, Fresno, Klamath Falls, Medford, Modesto, Monterey, Merced, Red Bluff, Salem, Salinas, Santa Barbara, Stockton and Visalia. One-way fares between each of the cities on United's system and Tokyo will be $650; Seoul, Korea $675; and Shanghai, Okinawa and Manila, $726.

The same fares apply to passengers boarding planes in the Orient and flying to these West Coast points.

Passengers traveling between these points, under the new agreement, will transfer at Seattle-Tacoma.

THE SPIRIT OF RESEARCH
By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Looking Ahead

WHAT HAS happened to the half-starved genius, who used to toil in some lonely attic hoping to invent the wonder of the age? His day is just about over. There are not so many of these lone-wolf inventors as there were in grandpa's time. Don't we give patents any more? It isn't that. America is still the land of liberty and opportunity. A man can still build his gadget and risk his shirt—in hope of making his first million. Some do. That spirit remains.

But better ways have been found. The newer term "research" is gradually replacing the older term "invention." Our complex age has made specialization necessary, and this has been true of invention, or product development. To solve the problems of the day, the new way is to bring together many different minds, each highly trained in its own way. Industry is doing just this, and we call it research.

Money for Research

THE SPIRIT of the attic inventor is there, but the tools and the methods are different. While the half-starved inventor struggled along with almost no financial backing, the modern research requires and uses vast amounts of money.

Now I wonder if Joe Doe, member of Local 382, understands why his company put down in its 1947 annual report: for Research and Development, $2,000,000. In round figures, that was the sum spent last year by a company that employs about 8,000 persons. Some companies spend more. One of the firms that manufacture rayon reports that it has spent more than $30,000,000 since it became interested in that product. True, it may seem like a lot of money your company is spending for research. Joe. But remember this: research money comes right back to you in a thousand ways.

Spirit of America

ACTUALLY, the company that does not spend for research, for better ways of producing better products, is a company that will lose out and close down in the long run. A more enterprising competitor will wind up with the consumer's dollar!

The company that spends for research is the company that I would want to work for. It is also the company whose stock I'd be willing to buy. I am convinced that when many industries are putting large sums of money into research, to find the answers to problems that face them and the consumer, that money is well spent. Years of time and millions of dollars may be behind a new product. But it may be worth far more. Many a new job and a much better product may be the result.

I mentioned rayon. Nowadays, nylon is newer. The DuPont Company spent 11 years of research before they could even announce nylon, and used up $11,000,000 before a penny was earned from the product. That kind of thing can happen only in America, and under free enterprise. The freedom to venture and to look for the better way of doing things, for the newer and better product, belongs to the spirit of America and it is responsible for our high wages and our high standard of living.

Trailers Keep The Bees Busy

Everyone knows that bees produce honey. But it's not so generally known that their production can be stepped up by proper care and handling. Many present-day beekeepers have found they can increase each hive's yield many times by shifting the location periodically, sometimes for a distance of many miles, to take advantage of changing climatic and vegetation conditions. When such a move is made, the entire apiary, hive, bees and all, is loaded, as shown here, on a truck or trailer similar to the Freuhauf pictured and transported to a spot where pollen conditions are most suitable for the little stingers.

Buddhist Groups Elect Leaders

Lotus Senior boys of the Seattle Buddhist temple elected Jimmy Nose, active Bussei, to lead their organization this year.

Besides Nose, other members of the cabinet are Shig Akada, vice president; Minoru Fujii, secretary, and Noboru Shimizu, treasurer.

The Bodhi club, a new junior Bussei organization comprised of upper division Sunday School boys, was organized recently under the advisement of Hiroyuki Nishimura. Jack Ishida was elected president, and his cabinet members are Tommy Miyata, vice president, and Fred Kawahara, sergeant-at-arms.

Presby Discloses New Officers

Election results at the recent general congregation meeting of the Seattle Japanese Presbyterian church were announced as follows:

The Rev. M. Hirata, moderator; Sei Adachi, vice moderator; Roy Mihara, treasurer; Amy Hara, corresponding secretary; Sharon Tanagi, recording secretary; Lillian Hayashi, publicity chairman; Yutaka Fujikado and Betty Kogane, social chairmen; Fuzzy Fujiyama, athletic chairman; Bob Handa, usher; Mrs. Den Sato, music chairman; Connie Handa, Nisei Women's Society; Mits Uyeta, publications; and Ben Seike, Ben Hashimoto and Mrs. J. Nagamine, delegates-at-large.

Chicago Human Relations Committee Gets Proposal to End Burial Bias

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 29—At a recent plenary session of the conference on civic unity sponsored by the commission on Human Relations held in the City Council chambers at the Chicago City Hall, an additional recommendation to those already proposed under the section on law and order was submitted by Dr. Homer T. Jack, former executive director of the Chicago Council Against Racial and Religious Discrimination.

Dr. Jack's proposal specifically recommended that the racial discrimination by cemeteries recently brought to the attention of the public be thoroughly studied and acted upon by the Commission on Human Relations in order to evolve a solution to this "discrimination after death."

The JACL was one of almost 100 organizations cooperating with the commission on this series of conferences. Present at the plenary session were two members of the Chicago chapter, Mrs. Dorothy Kitow and Tats Kushida.

Favorites Running into Difficulty

Let's take a gander at the local Nisei basketball race, and find out how the leaders are faring.

In the Class AA loop, undefeated Tokuda Drug is meeting hot competition from rugged Polka Dots and up-and-coming Mercury. The Dots especially are hanging tenaciously to Tokuda's heels.

The Filipino Catholic Youth five is not too sure of its first-place position in the Class A circuit as Main Bowl, Lotus Lancers, Main Drug Crows, Tokuda Drug Savoy's and Baptist Comets all are fairly-evenly matched outfits. Greenhouse is slightly out of focus in the title picture.

Optometrist Terry Toda's Monarchs are perched uneasily atop the Class B flagpole at this time. But Rissho, Troop 53 Midgets and Fife Jrs. are not too far behind. Cathay Post 186 is looking up but things aren't looking up for its boys.

Baptist church's WWG's have suffered no defeats yet but the Chicks—slick chicks, that is—gave them an awful scare the other night. The progress made by the Chicks and the Lotus girls needs watching as both of the sextets are determined to head off the Dubs at the finish mark.

Hold on, everybody, the fight has just begun.

TACOMA TROTH . . . TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 29—Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and flickering candles, Miss Chieko Osada, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Takeichi Osada, was married to Mr. Shigeo Oka, son of Mr. Toyoshige Oka, on Sunday, Jan. 23, in the Tacoma Buddhist Church. The Rev. G. Nishinaga officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was arrayed in a bridal gown of slipper satin, the wide off-the-shoulder collar set off the lace yoke and the flared, gored skirt extended into a train. Her full-length veil edged with lace swept from a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Hideko Osada, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor and Miss Kimie Jinguji was bridesmaid. Both of the attendants wore light blue satin moire gowns, fashioned similarly to the bride's. They wore crowns of white chrysanthemums in their hair and white lace mitts. Their Colonial bouquets of white and lavender chrysanthemums were identical except for an addition of red roses in the maid of honor's bouquet.

Little Yaeko Osada, youngest sister of the bride, and Sumiko Miki, niece of the groom, were the flower girls. Dressed alike in pink, they carried nosegays of pink and lavender chrysanthemums.

Best man was Mr. Masayoshi Jinguji and the usher was Mr. Hisato Miki.

Miss Shigeo Yoshioka sang "I Love You Truly" and "At Dawning", accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Yaeko Nakano.

The reception was held later in the evening. Mr. George Nakano was the master of ceremonies. Miss Yasuko Hashimoto was in charge of the guest book; Mr. H. Otsuka, gifts; and Mrs. K. Hoshida, a 4-tiered wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. U. Yoshioka and Mr. and Mrs. M. Jinguji were the bachelorettes.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD . . . Mr. and Mrs. T. Akagi announced the engagement of their daughter, Kachi, to Mr. Chuck Ikeda, son of Mr. M. Ikeda, at a luncheon held at the Linyen Cafe on Sunday, Jan. 23. Heart-shaped place cards revealed the betrothal.

Present were Mrs. Kay Okudo and the Misses Maeda Ikeda, Michi and Sally Ishii, Toshi Kiritani, Yoyo Konishi, Connie Tamura, Florence Watanabe and Toshi Akagi.

Unable to attend were the Misses Michi Akagi and Betty Shimamura. No wedding date has been set.

Brass Mills Working at Capacity Despite Shortage of Copper

By T. E. Veltfort, Manager
Copper & Brass Research Association

Whether or not there will be a sufficient supply of copper, zinc and lead in 1949 to meet the requirements of the brass mills, wire mills and other copper consuming industries will largely depend on the following three factors:

1. The amount of these strategic metals which the Government will stockpile in its National Defense Program.

2. The labor situation in the mines, mills and in transport. Capacity production will be necessary to meet current demand.

3. The quantity of these metals which can be imported from abroad, and in turn, the shipments which will have to be made abroad on account of the European Recovery Program.

Even though there are no labor disturbances in the copper mines during the year and they are operated at capacity they cannot supply enough copper to meet domestic requirements. It is generally believed that 1949 will be one of continued prosperity in our country. If this turns out to be true, the demand for copper may well reach 1,400,000 tons. The mines in the United States cannot produce such a tonnage so it will be necessary to import the red metal from the Mexican and South American mines generally operated by companies in the United States. The amount of secondary metal (scrap) will also play an important part in meeting demand.

There exists today an acute shortage of copper. In fact, the supply is so tight that the brass and wire mills are finding it difficult to obtain a sufficient supply to continue normal operation. This shortage was augmented by the strike at the great Utah open-cut mine of Kennecott Copper Corporation. Normal production lost on this account is estimated as about 23,000 tons a month.

Practically every basic American industry is dependent on copper or copper-base alloys in the manufacture of its products. To make brass, bronze and other copper-base alloys to meet the varying demand of industry zinc and lead and a number of other metals are required besides copper and several of these are in short supply at the present time.

The electrical industry is the largest consumer of copper. Next to the electrical industry, the automotive and building industries are the greatest consumers of copper and copper-base alloys. The average 1949 model car will have approximately 45 pounds of the red metal and its alloys in its construction. Trucks and buses also contain large amounts of these metals. Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., Chairman of General Motors Corporation, and other top executives of automotive companies are of the opinion that this industry in 1949 will probably set a new peace-time record for building cars, trucks and buses. This means copper and brass products. With about 10,000,000 new housing units required in the next decade building activity should remain high. The demand for copper and copper-base alloys in 1949 for this purpose should be about the same tonnage as that for the automotive industry. Each will need about 250,000,000 pounds of the red metal and its alloys during 1949.

Since the end of the war the brass mills have taken over a number of fabricating plants built by the Government during the war to supply the United States and others of the United Nations with war armament. In addition, several companies have constructed new plants, specifically in Alabama and California.

In other words, every possible step is being taken by the industry to meet the large demands on it and it must now depend on the availability of its principal raw materials to do the job which is required of it.
