INTERNAT'L FETE SUNDAY AT MUSEUM

One of the most beautiful and difficult of all folk dances—the Filipino bamboo dance—will be featured number on the "International Afternoon" program at the Seattle Art Museum on Sunday, February 20, from 3 until 6 p.m. when Dr. Richard E. Fuller introduces the newly-organized Foundation for International Understanding Through Students to the citizens of Seattle. James M. Davis, adviser to foreign students at the University of Washington, is executive director of the foundation.

The purpose of the foundation is to promote world peace and international understanding by stimulating and supporting intercultural activities and projects among students from this country and abroad. Students from other countries will take home a better knowledge of our democracy at work if they are given an opportunity to meet and know members of our community.

Davis, who served as a chaplain throughout World War II, may be reached at MEtrose 0630, Ext. 723 and will be glad to answer questions regarding the foundation. Other attractions on the program are a group of Spanish songs by Honario Farro, a Peruvian student at Seattle Pacific College; Chinese peasant songs and dances under the direction of Richard Yang, a student at the University of Washington; and songs and dances from India under the direction of Shirin Jairazbhoy. Presenting the bamboo dance will be Dante Santos, Jose Sylvestre and Juanita and Beverly Garcia. The program will be repeated at 4 and 5 p.m. in the Museum auditorium followed by tea.

Chapmen for the afternoon are Mrs. Raymond B. Allen, Mrs. Herbert Brink, Mrs. Frederick Burwell, Mrs. Harry Mitchell, Mrs. N. Henry Gellert, Mrs. Ethan Allen Peyser, and Mrs. Josiah Collins, Jr.

New Chicago U Book Tells Politics Figured in Japanese Evacuation

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—The University of Chicago Press today advised the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee that Morton Grodzins' "Americans Betrayed; Politics and the Japanese Evacuation" will be published in May.

In describing the forthcoming book, the University of Chicago Press said: "Citizens driven out of their homes and herded into concentration camps, their places of business searched without warrant, their personal possessions seized, their reputations publicly maligned—could this happen here?" "This is the story of the wartime evacuation of Japanese Americans from the west coast of the United States.

"Here are the facts. Here are may-be to be a gentleman is to be honest, to be gentle, to be generous to be brave, to be wise, and possessing all those qualities to exercise them in the most graceful outward

Funeral Notice

Funeral services for Mrs. Chiyono Hirota will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 17, in the Seattle Buddhist temple with cremation in Butterworth's Committal Room. Wake services are set for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 16, in the Seattle Buddhist temple. The Rev. T. Ichikawa will officiate.

Mrs. Hirota, 72, of Bellevue, Wash., died at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 12, after a long illness.

Surviving are two sons, Nario and Tokio; three daughters, Kikue, Mrs. Tom Matsuoka of Chinook, Montana, and Mrs. Tom Shigio of Sumner, Wash.

ers, chambers of commerce and governors stirring up public opinion against Japanese Americans years before war with Japan gave them an occasion to act more decisively. Here are army generals responding to the pressures of these groups and later attempting to justify their "Jap's a Jap" policy by the denial of undeniable facts. Here is Congress carrying out the War Department's wishes without investigation. Here is the U. S. Supreme Court upholding a constitutional policy that subverts basic tenets of democracy.

"Mr. Grodzins traces carefully the steps that led to the adoption of evacuation. . . His book is not merely a scholarly record; it is also a warning to each American citizen that the precedent is on the record that he may some day find himself in the situation of the Japanese American after Pearl Harbor—disfranchised, expropriated and confined."

The author of "Americans Betrayed" is assistant professor of political science at the University of Chicago. He was formerly research assistant at the University of California.

CIVIL LIBERTIES UNIT HEARS JACL LEADER

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16.—Mike Masaoka, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee's national legislative director, was a "resources speaker" at the civil rights session of the National Citizens' Conference on Civil Liberties in Washington, Feb. 15 and 16.

The conference centered its activities around four major questions: "Is our American heritage of civil liberties in danger today?" "Is freedom a luxury to be enjoyed only in untroubled times?" "As responsible citizens, how can we best work to preserve, advance and extend our traditional rights and freedoms?" "Is our responsibility to do so nation-wide or world-wide?"

The conference was attended by representatives of several dozen nationally prominent religious, educational, civic, labor, social welfare, business, professional and farm organizations.

Masaoka, Etsu Masaoka, Robert M. Cullum and Lorraine Yamasaki attended the conference as official JACL ADC delegates.

Jackson St. Area Firms to Study Three-Day Celebration Plan

Business men and organizations in the Jackson Street area will be asked to express their ideas on whether or not the district should put on a three or four day celebration next summer which would promote understanding among different groups, advertise the area, and stimulate business.

Although only tentative plans have been made until the people of the neighborhood have had an opportunity to express their ideas, a temporary committee appointed by the Jackson Street Community Council has been studying the proposal.

Suggestions have been made that the theme and the entertainment be international featuring music, dancing and parades with each national and cultural group contributing. Concession booths could be managed by various organizations to raise funds for their treasuries and to advertise their programs.

The affair would require city-wide advertising to attract people from all over Seattle and could appropriately feature imported merchandise not available elsewhere. Art exhibits and handicrafts by local artists could be displayed, and fashion shows of Oriental costumes could be produced. Street decorations and displays by houses and organizations would be an important feature.

A letter explaining the proposal will go out to all organizations and business this week, together with a simple check list on which individuals and groups can record their ideas, according to Yoshito Fujii, chairman of the temporary planning committee.

"We will make an attempt to reach everyone," Fujii said, "but it is entirely possible that we do not have everyone's name. This is especially true of organizations not affiliated with the council. We urge that anyone who is interested in this affair or who has ideas that should be considered, get in touch with the Council office at 414 Fifth Ave. So. or phone SE. 3073.

"It has been estimated that the celebration will cost at least $3,000, and we know that there will be lots of hard work involved. The council does not want to attempt any such major undertaking unless we are convinced that it is something the community wants and will back. We hope that everyone will return the check list whether he thinks the celebration should be put on or not."

The temporary committee, consisting of Alex Bishop, Chin Han, N. Kuznetz, V. O. Naves and Arthur Solomon, in addition to Fujii, has met informally with members of the publicity committee of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. Interest in the project was expressed by this group and encouragement given by it.

Minister, Wife's Dream Realized As They Start on Global Flight

The lifelong dream of a minister and his wife to fly around the world to study the religious aspects of foreign countries and to visit church missions in some of the most remote corners of the earth will become a reality today (February 16).

The religious globe-trotters are the Reverend Dr. and Mrs. John H. Gerstner of Wilkensburg, Pennsylvania, who will leave Seattle-Tacoma airport via Northwest Airlines Orient plane this morning (Wednesday) for Anchorage, Alaska, and thence to the Orient on the first leg of their six-month world tour.

In the Orient, where religious traditions and ceremonies date back centuries, they will visit missions in such cities as Tokyo, Shanghai, Hong Kong, Manila and Seoul, Korea. Continuing on their journey, they will tour Asia and Europe, stopping in Singapore, Calcutta, Delhi, Iraq, Cairo, Athens, Rome, Marseilles, Bordeaux, London and Glasgow.

Upon completion of the round-the-world trip, Dr. Gerstner, who attended Harvard University and Pittsburgh-Xenia and Westminster Theological Seminaries, will study abroad prior to becoming professor of church history and missions at Pittsburgh-Xenia Seminary. He was formerly pastor of the Second United Presbyterian Church in Wilkensburg and the Sunset Hills U. P.

Church. Mrs. Gerstner, born of missionary parents in Orange, Central Ohio, is a graduate of Wheaton college and took post-graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

DIMES DRIVE SUCCESS

Dear editor:

Although volunteers will not complete final count of the funds collected in the recent 1949 March of Dimes for several weeks, indications are that the drive will be a success.

Credit for this success can go to a large extent, to newspapers for their spirit of public service in bringing to the attention of this community the work done by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and in making an effective plea for its continued support.

The March of Dimes committee joins me in thanking you and your staff for your generous help. It is a source of satisfaction to all of us, as I know it must to you, that the foundation can continue to assist the community in providing the highest standard of care for all polio victims.

Sincerely yours,
Sam G. Lamping,
County Chairman.

THE NISEI WAR MEMORIAL

It seems just a short time ago that the Nisei War Memorial Committee raised its $10,000 fund to honor our Nisei war heroes, but to and behold, it's already 1949 and time to be looking forward to the coming services on Memorial Day. On that occasion, if all goes well, the community's monument to its war dead will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

To get the latest word on the monument situation, we contacted NVC Chairman Albert "Lefty" Ichihara, who assured us that, according to the latest word from the manufacturer, the monument definitely will be ready for Memorial Day. "Lefty" displayed plans, drawings, and photographs which indicate that the monument will be both dignified and imposing, a fitting tribute from the community to its deceased servicemen.

Adorning the 21-foot granite monument will be the many battle campaigns of both the European and Pacific theaters in which Nisei soldiers participated, such as the Rome-Arno and North Appennines campaigns, just to mention two of the list. Names of the honored servicemen will be cut in large block characters, which will be easy to read, even from a distance. It is expected that, in the near future, committee meetings will be held to draft plans for the dedication ceremonies.

MERCI AMERICA

While in France, old "EX GI" was rather favorably impressed by the behavior and bearing of the people of France as a whole. Despite the fortunes of war and adversity, the average Frenchman minded his own business, worked hard, and tried to repair and restore the damage caused by war as rapidly as possible. While he did not, as a general rule, go out of his way to beg favors from the "rich" American GIs, he was grateful and appreciative of any acts of human decency and kindness of which he was on the receiving end.

Our favorable impression of the French people is, of course, confirmed and continued by their response to last year's "Friendship Train," sent by the people of America to the people of France. In return, the French population—as a spontaneous gesture of friendship and appreciation—have assembled 49 trainloads of gifts for their American friends. Six million families participated, each contributing gifts and heirlooms to say, "Merci America!"

The train of gifts for the state of Washington is expected to arrive this week. We feel sure that the collective heart of Washington citizens cannot help but be deeply touched by these gifts, the first from any people of the world to America since these same French people donated the funds for the Statue of Liberty.

THIS AND THAT

We beg to report that the stag party held in honor of "Duffy" Kiyohara was indeed quite an affair—ask any of those present. Incidentally, "Duffy" was married last Saturday afternoon, and is now on his honeymoon with his bride, the former Miss Teru Nakata. The early baseball news appearing in the papers indicates that the "Hot Stove League" days are about over, and it won't be too long before Rainier fans (and others) will be able to hear the welcome announcement, "Play ball!" . . . Another large reinterment ceremony will probably be held soon, with six and perhaps seven deceased servicemen expected to be reburied at that time. . . . The game of contract bridge is really taking hold in the Nisei community, as proved by those participating in the recent JSC-Alumni tournament. Among recent Culbertson addicts are vets Davis Hirahara and Sam Kozu, to name only two; but perhaps the most expert of them all is Fumio Yagi. And that's all for this time.

Evacuation Claims Queries, Replies

(Ed. note: This is the seventeenth of a series of questions and answers on the evacuation claims law prepared by Edward J. Ennis, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee special counsel, and released by the Washington Office of the JACL ADC as a public service. This series is based on actual questions asked of this office.)

(Any reader who has general questions relating to the law itself or to procedural matters is invited to address a letter with a stamped, self-addressed return envelope to the Washington Office, JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee, Evacuation Claims Section, 300 Fifth Street Northwest, Washington 2, D. C. Questions of general interest may be produced in this series without personal identification.)

(No questions involving the legality or value of specific claims can be answered.)

1. Q. I farmed eight acres of celery during evacuation. Due to the order to evacuate from the West Coast I hurriedly cut four acres of it, which I got half the yield. It sold for about sixty cents a crate. The rest of the four acres I had an experienced Mexican farm hand look after it. I paid him the regular wage from camp. Somehow, due to his negligence he spoiled half of the crop. Ordinarily I should have gotten about 6000 crates but I only got half that amount. Celery sold then at $1.50 a crate net. Should I claim what I put in the ground or the loss? (No Government Officer has seen the damaged crop. My Mexican farm hand would not be a witness due to the fact that he does not like Japanese any more. Would a landlord be a good enough witness or must I have written proof in order to claim.)

A. Due to the fact that apparently all the work was done except cutting and selling the crop you should claim the difference between the fair value for the whole crop and what you received for it, making a proper deduction for the expense you would have incurred to cut and sell the crop. There is no requirement in the law that you have written proof, and it can hardly be expected that a claimant would have written proof for a loss of this kind. Anyone who had first hand knowledge about the size of your crop and market price would be a good witness.

2. Q. Before evacuation I became engaged to a young lady. I purchased a ring for $1000 which I gave her. Because of evacuation we were separated and went to different camps. My fiancée married another person while in her camp. She has not returned the ring and I lost track of her. If there had been no evacuation, we would either have been married or I would have received my ring back. Can I file a claim for the $1000.

A. You may file a claim for the value of the ring on the ground that you were entitled to receive it back when your engagement was broken, and would have received it were it not for the evacuation. The Government will probably require you to show, however, that you have made every possible effort to locate your former fiancée and have taken legal steps to recover the ring. Under the law of most States an engagement ring is a conditional gift which must be returned if the engagement is broken.

3. Q. Before the war I joined with a group of friends in a mutual financing project, with a revolving fund of $1,000, intending to use the money for future expansion of my business. However, when evacuation came our financing project had to dissolve. Those in the group who had already had their turn in receiving the money ($1,000) were lucky, but those of us who were still on the waiting list forfeited our turn and evacuated without getting back a cent. Of course, there are no documents to prove this, nor are the names of the group clearly known. I had paid in about $800 at the time of the evacuation. Can I claim for this amount?

A. An exact description of how a mutual financing arrangement works should be explained clearly in your claim to the Department of Justice as they will not be familiar with "tanomoshi". As far as can be determined, the participants in this particular tanomoshi, the amount you paid each period, the amount of your loss, the number of times paid off to others, the fact that it was certain that you would eventually be paid should all be stated in your claim. Also why evacuation caused the loss.

NISEI GIRLS TO COMPETE IN PIN MEET

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 16.—Third annual Nisei Women's National Bowling Tournament will be held on March 4, 5 and 6 in the Temple Bowling Alleys here.

Chairman Lillian Kurisaki announced today that there will be approximately sixteen teams entered. Squads are expected from Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Idaho, Ogden and Salt Lake.

High bowlers competing will probably be Jean Numoto and Sue Lew, Seattle; Kay Watanabe and Chiyo Sugimoto, Los Angeles; Rosa Mayeda and Amy Konishi, Denver; Amy Kawamura, Idaho; Maxie Kato, Ogden; and Lillian Kurisaki and Mitzie Iwasaki, Salt Lake City.

The summary of good-breeding may be reduced to this rule: "Behave to all others as you would they should behave to you."—Fielding.

Food For The Soul

It might be "Fairy Gingerbread," "Cottontop Cupcakes," or even "Banana Milkade" these two are cooking up from the children's recipe section in this new cookbook. But it looks like fun!

Recently published by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, "More Food for the Body—for the Soul" is a second cookbook by radio commentator Frances Youngren. But it is not an ordinary cookbook. It has been written for a dual purpose—good eating and good living.

On the left hand pages appear 20 classifications of kitchen-tested recipes ranging from cooking-for-two to foreign dishes and sandwiches. On the right hand pages are bits of dishpan whimsy and child psychology to amuse, challenge and inspire the cook as she prepares the food.

Spreading the Christian gospel by means of a cookbook may not be the most orthodox method. But Moody Bible Institute believes that the church should use every possible means of evangelism. The first edition of this cookbook, called simply "Food for the Body—for the Soul", went to more than 200,000 women. Radio broadcasts, scientific films, and distribution of free religious literature are still other methods used by the Institute, and they're always looking for new ones.

Come to Church
