● One Reason Why You Should Give to ADC

Starting Tuesday, April 12, the Anti-Discrimination Committee in Seattle will launch a city-wide drive to raise $8,000.

One of the purposes of the push is to assist the ADC financially in Washington, D. C.

The ADC has done a marvelous job of working for congressional support of the ENI (Equality in Naturalization and Immigration) legislation. Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota, the guiding spirit, has introduced the bill which was passed by the House and which is now in the hands of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The importance of the ENI measure cannot be denied as it would enable our parents — and your parents — and other legal alien Japanese to become citizens of our country.

That is why the Japanese, aliens and citizens, must give — and give wholeheartedly — in this campaign which is an important step towards improving the Japanese lot in our country.

JASC Maps Plans For Membership

A membership drive, which will be launched early in June, was decided by the newly-organized Japanese American Service Club at a meeting held Wednesday evening, March 30, in the Buddhist temple.

Membership fee for 1949 will be $3.00 and membership will be open to both Issei and Nisei in Seattle, according to Seiichi Hara, secretary of the JASC.

Unanimous endorsement of the ADC program was voiced by the group. The meeting was under the chairmanship of William Mimbu vice president.

Murder Suspect Freed in L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 2 (Rafu Shimpo Dispatch) — Police today freed Kiso Masuda, a hotel operator, after questioning him in regard to two murders committed in 1924. Masuda, who was formerly in the exporting-importing business, was cleared of all charges.

LOS ANGELES, Calif., April 2—Kiso Masuda, 60, a hotel operator, is being held today in the county jail on suspicion of two murders which were committed June 16, 1924, following a brawl in the notorious Tokyo Club on Jackson St. Masuda's failure to cooperate with the police chasing down a narcotic tip at his hotel at 719 E. 5th St., led to his arrest.

Homicide Detective Bob Lohrman said Masuda answered the general description of one of the suspects and admitted being in Los Angeles at the time of the double killing. The victims were Katsumi Igarashi and Masahide Yoshioka, whose bodies were found later near Pt. Fermin.

Veterans by the thousands are enlisting in the United States Army today. These men know the Army offers them a better deal than civilian life. See your recruiting sergeant, and find out if you can qualify for enlistment.

TOURIST TRADE AIDS ECONOMY OF JAPANESE

Tourist business is becoming a major factor in the economic recovery of Japan, R. J. Morgan, Orient Traffic Manager of Northwest Airlines, said here today.

Morgan, who stopped in Seattle on his return to his Tokyo headquarters, said the tourist dollar was proving an important aid in helping the Japanese to self-sufficiency and that a great increase in tourist travel is expected this year.

"Over 5,000 tourists traveled to Japan by Northwest Airlines from May, when the country was opened for tours, through December. With the more attractive tours now available, we expect that figure to be far exceeded this year."

Morgan pointed out that the extended visits to Japan now allowed Japanese residents in this country should result in a further increase in air traffic.

With the large population of Japanese nationals and Japanese-Americans on the West Coast, this will naturally mean that the large majority of these travelers will move through Seattle-Tacoma gateway," Morgan said.

The Northwest official conferred here with Dean J. Hanscom, western traffic manager of the airline, and other NWA traffic executives.

Japanese to Join St. Louis Fete

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 2—The 15th Annual National Folk Festival, to be held in St. Louis from April 6 to 9, will be represented for the first time in its history by Japanese dancers, announced Joseph Tanaka, president of the St. Louis JACL chapter.

Shigeo Wakamatsu, Chicago chapter president, in cooperation with the St. Louis group, has arranged for the appearance of a group of popular Chicago dancers to represent the JACL at this nationally recognized event which will be held at the Opera House, Kiel Municipal Auditorium.

The troupe of Nisei performers will be headed by Haruko Uyeda and her sister Tomeko, and two six-year-olds, Mari-Ann Akiyama and Suzanne Kitahata, who have demonstrated unusual talent in interpreting Japanese classical dances. Accompanying the dancers will be Roy Nakama on the electric mandolin and George Maruyama, vocalist.

The Chicago JACL chapter has offered to incur a portion of the troupe's traveling expenses while the St. Louis chapter members will offer the hospitality of their homes.

NCNC Unit Eyes ENI Passage

NEW YORK, April 2—Members of the National Council on Naturalization and Citizenship had returned to their homes today, united in a program to work for speedy passage of the Judd act, (HR 199) in the Senate.

The 19th Annual NCNC conference here Friday urged the Senate to give prompt consideration to passage of the measure, although it did ask two amendments to the bill. One would retain non-quota status for wives and children of all nations. The other would remove the British West Indies from the so-called "colonial provisions" of the bill, which, in effect, now threatens to sharply reduce immigration of West Indians to the United States.

Congressman Emanuel Celler, (D., N. Y.), told the conference the "overall principles of the bill must not be overlooked despite the controversial sections.

"Even without amendment the bill should pass. The good far outweighs the undesirable."

Rep. Celler said the controversial sections always can be amended at a later session.

Allen Devaney, chief examiner, and Edward J. Shaughnessy, district director, both of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, urged passage of the Judd act. Shaughnessy said recent House approval was the "most significant immigration and naturalization legislation to be passed by the House in years."

The conference elected Edward J. Ennis, chairman of the Committee for Equality in Naturalization, and JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee legal counsel, vice president and chairman of its executive board.

OREGON'S TOP COURT RULES ALIEN LAND LAWS AGAINST JAPANESE UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Justice Rossman Opines Act of 1945 Striking At Ownership of Land 'Infringes Upon Equal Protection Clause of 14th Amendment'

Special to the Northwest Times

SALEM, Oreg., April 2—The state supreme court last Tuesday ruled that Oregon's alien land laws which forbid ownership or leasing of land by Japanese is unconstitutional.

In a suit brought by Kenji Namba and two other Japanese against District Attorney John B. McCourt of Multnomah county and Attorney General George Neuner, Justice George Rossman and other members of the high court ruled that an act of 1945 striking at Japanese ownership of land in this state "infringes upon the equal protection clause of the 14th amendment" to the federal constitution.

Justice Rossman wrote, "We hold it is invalid", in reversing a declaratory decree by Circuit Judge James W. Crawford of Multnomah county which had held the Oregon alien land laws to be valid legislation.

"Our alien land law must be deemed violation of the principles of law which protect from classification based upon color, race and creed," Justice Rossman declared. "The several hundred alien Japanese to whom the alien land law is applicable came to our state lawfully under laws enacted by Congress," he continued as he added that "they are here lawfully and are entitled to remain", and pointed out that "many of them are parents of United States citizens and some of them are mothers and fathers of American soldiers who gave a good account of themselves in the recent war."

"Our country," he concluded, "cannot afford to create by legislation or judicial construction a ghetto for our ineligible aliens. And yet if we deny to the alien who is lawfully here the normal means whereby he earns his livelihood we thereby assign him to a lowered standard of living."

Aiken said that "no such agreements have been completed by the military authorities in Asia."

Each mind is pressed, and open every ear, to hear new tidings, though they no way joy us.

Two from Japan Head for N. W.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., April 2—Mrs. Tomoe Morikawa, 50, of Olympia, Wash., and Mrs. Misao Takabayashi, 41, of Portland, Oreg., were two of forty-seven passengers aboard the vessel President Wilson which arrived from Japan this week.

Each mind is pressed, and open every ear, to hear new tidings, though they no way joy us.

Seeks Reduction On Postal Rates

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2—The JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee today planned to seek reduction on postal rates for relief packages to Japan through the army after the Post Office advised that it had now power to lower rates on packages for Asia to the same level of relief mail to Europe.

Relief packages for Europe cost six cents per pound; to Japan, Okinawa and Korea, ten cents per pound.

Paul Aiken, second assistant postmaster general, said the original rate on all relief packages was 14 cents a pound. Funds made available by ECA for European relief mail, and the army for Asiatic relief mail, enabled the Post Office to cut rates to ten cents a pound.

An additional four cent reduction in postage to certain European countries was made when those nations agreed to pay charges normally made for handling parcels after their receipt in the foreign postal service.

They'll Stay Put

EDMONTON, Alta., Canada, April 2—None of the dozen or so evacuee Japanese families who have resettled in Edmonton cares to return to the West Coast, the Canadian Press reported here recently. One person, speaking for the group, said that they are all well established now and have little inclination to go back.

The majority of the Japanese are employed in packing plants, on farms, with fishing companies, and in the Civil Service.

Though it be honest, it is never good to bring bad news.—Give to a gracious message a most of tongues; but let ill tidings tell themselves when they be felt, seldom sees.—Steele.

Flower Arranging, Chinese Painting Subjects Offered in YWCA Here

Flower arranging and delicate Chinese painting are two of the many subjects which reflect a spring influence on the new class term starting next week (April 4) at the YWCA, 5th and Seneca.

Barbara Johnson, Adult Education director, has suggested that interested persons register as soon as possible, since enrollment in most of the courses is limited.

Both morning and evening sessions in flower arranging have been scheduled for the next eight-week series. Mrs. Hugh Lewis, 2408 4th Ave. N., will instruct a class from 10 a.m. to noon on Thursdays, and Mrs. Harry Stinson, 3723 S. 154th St., will have a similar class from 7 to 9 p.m. on those days.

Andrew Chinn, noted Seattle artist, will conduct a YWCA course for the first time. A master of Chinese brush-work and technique, he has exhibited in San Francisco, Portland and New York as well as locally. His class in Chinese painting will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. on Thursdays.

Mrs. Fred B. Marshall, 5909 Seaview Ave., will continue to teach her popular courses in sketching and painting, and Mrs. G. T. Sandvigen, 5400 42nd Ave. S. W., will direct classes in both ceramics and figurine painting. Other arts and crafts to be offered include leather craft, by Joe Warner, 319 22nd St.; textile painting and silk screen printing, by Mrs. Peggy Weil, 2350 Dexter St.; photo tinting, by Mrs. Frances Tollefsen, 8841 Interlake Ave., and general crafts, by Mrs. Myrtle Law, 4406 Trenton St. There will be morning, afternoon and evening bridge classes.

Mrs. Dorothy Lahr, 4051 34th Ave. W., will have an evening in interior decorating, and Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 5233 Ivanhoe Pl., will instruct morning sessions on home furnishings. Meal preparations to fill small budgets will be taught by Mrs. Myrtle Skinner, 1120 W. 61st St., in a Monday evening class especially adapted to employed women.

Janet Fleischauer, 5043 Brooklyn Ave., who is working for her doctorate at the University of Washington, will begin another series of lessons in conversational Spanish, and Mrs. Robert A. Sandall, 1218 Terry St., will again teach conversational poise. A panel of experts will direct the "Personality Workshop" course, which includes figure-streamlining, tips on grooming and practice in voice control.

"Modern Ways in Baby Care" is a non-fee course for expectant mothers which will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. on Wednesdays. Dr. Roberta S. Taylor will conduct the series, discussing such topics as emotional adjustments to pregnancy, feeding schedules for infants and when to begin disciplinary training.

Other non-fee courses being given are English conversation and simplified American history, designed for both men and women preparing for naturalization tests. For further information about the new class term, call ELiot 4800, ext. 6.

WHAT DOES DEMOCRACY MEAN?

In this week's Town Meeting of The Air, four outstanding high school youths of the nation discussed the elusive question, "What does democracy really mean?" The speeches were excellently presented considering their inexperience and youth; in fact, far superior to many big-name speakers dumped on the innocent listeners.

High sounding, picturesque words were freely bandied about. Emotion-arousing phrases were cleverly employed. The high school youths were very sharp and handled questions in a highly respectable manner.

But after all was said, with what were we left at the conclusion of the talk? Aside from the fact that a certain amount of restraint was removed in allowing youngsters to peak their controversial pieces, were we left about where we were before the discussion.

First of all, they talked a lot about "freedom", individual freedom. Is there such a thing? Man, from the time of his birth (and even before), is conditioned and molded according to the pattern of his culture. He learns to adopt the values, prejudices and morality that is prevailing in his culture. More locally, his parents mold him. The manner in which parents mold their children are set down by society. And social values are culturally defined. Freedom can only refer to the possible variation within cultural limits. Again, there was much high sounding phrases about clearing plans, lowering juvenile delinquency, creating a stronger U. N., etc. We are all for such measures, but can such programs be instituted merely because we are for them? Will slogans, votes, good intentions bring U. N. to a position of practical use?

Of what use are good intentions if we lack the techniques to implement them? A steam tank, potentially full of useful power, would do little good blowing off at odd joints and cracks. It must be intelligently harassed and directed. Similarly, all the good intention in King County will not produce a bridge across Lake Washington. It takes techniques of bridge building, in a manner of trained engineers, to promote successfully the good intentions.

Social problems are no different. They also call for special techniques. There is enough spouting about what we need and what we ought to do to make democracy really work. What we lack now are social techniques to help implement these wonderful social visions. And how do we develop useful techniques? — through diligent and unerring research.

In other words, a Town Meeting like this week's could promote its ideas a long way towards the desired end by encouraging and assisting research in the social field. But it is much more fun and loads easier to just talk about what democracy means.

INTEGRITY & CONTRACTS

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

ONE OF the qualities in human beings that our civilization today needs so desperately is integrity. What is integrity? The word comes from a Latin term which means "untouched" or "whole." That's about the way it is today. A man who has integrity is so morally sound that he is not to be touched—in a way that will affect his honesty and uprightness.

Many labor-management disagreements would disappear, if we honestly would undertake to solve them with each side of the conference table keeping its integrity. If each party to an agreement keeps his word—that is integrity. It used to be said of a neighbor I had: "His word is his bond." That's the kind of neighbor this world needs. It will require integrity from each one of us, if this world is to become a better place.

A Real Example

LET ME illustrate—with a labor-management example. Less than a year ago, the General Motors "cost of living" wages agreement with United Automobile Workers was acclaimed as a solution to the frequent wage battles that upset our industrial communities.

Under terms of the contract GM can raise or lower wages according to government statistics. As living costs rise or fall in reports of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the company can adjust wages accordingly. While the formula did not rule out wage increases for other reasons, it was an honest attempt to solve the cost-of-living problem.

Last year under the contract GM employees got a flat 6-cent hourly raise, plus a "cost of living" increase of 5 cents. What are the prospects this year? Employees are in line for an increase not related to living costs, but under the formula will get a pay cut of 2 cents because the Bureau of Labor Statistics index of living costs has gone down.

Moral Issues

THE EFFECT would be to hold wages at about the same levels as last year. Employees still would have the advantage of the decline of living costs. However, according to a recent Associated Press dispatch, a GM local in Cleveland wants to reopen the contract, which has more than a year to run. This local of 2,500 workers wants UAW headquarters to block the carrying out of the contract. According to the AP story the local's president said that workers' living conditions "ought to be of greater meaning than the sacredness of a contract."

Moral issues are involved when you talk about breaking contracts. As against a pay increase of two or three cents, a contract should have plenty of sacredness. What is involved is integrity. The contract was made in good faith. It has more than a year to run. If it does not meet the needs of the UAW the parties will have determined this by the time for expiration. There are few human relationships that have greater meaning than do contracts. The courts of the land expect contracts to be kept. Good neighbors are made by men who keep their word. This applies to groups as well. Good citizenship requires integrity.

If there be a crime of deeper dye than all the filthy train of human vices, it is ingratitude.—Brooke.

The Book Corner

Beatrice Cook, of Seattle, in TELL FISH US DO PART: The Confessions of a Fisherman's Wife (published today by William Morrow and Company, New York), has written the story of her life from the day she came to Washington as a bride, with all the usual illusions, and an elaborate trousseau. For a wedding present her husband gave her fishing tackle, hip boots and blue jeans. During the honeymoon, they fished around the San Juan Islands in a boat that smelled of herring. Even the moon seemed to share the bridegroom's concern with fish.

Up to then fish had been something you cooked in a pan. At first the new Mrs. Cook wept, and then she got interested. She learned to love fish and the delicate art of landing a Steelhead. Her well-balanced sense of humor was an important asset when it came to cooking breakfast at three o'clock in the morning. And the two little boys, who arrived in due course, helped in her conversion.

Mrs. Cook's book is a woman's-eye view of fishing calculated to make every fisherman chuckle. Warm-hearted, genial, filled with magnificent fishing experiences, it gives a fresh slant on American family life. Only a woman who has had lots of fun with her husband and her sons could write about her place in a fisherman's world with such understanding and gaiety.

Born in Chicago, Mrs. Cook grew up in Connecticut, and later returned to Chicago. She attended the University of Illinois and the University of Indiana and took her B. S. at the latter. Then she came to Seattle and it was not until her first sight of the mountain peaks that she found she had grown up on the wrong coast of the United States. From the first she delighted in the country of the Pacific Northwest. (She didn't anticipate her future intimate connection with its streams and inlets.)

Your Home

By Frances Ainsworth

We've recently had the outside of our house painted with the new titanium dioxide paint and the improvement is simply amazing! We felt that we were very fortunate in having a close friend in the painting business, because there are many, many things that every home-maker should know about painting.

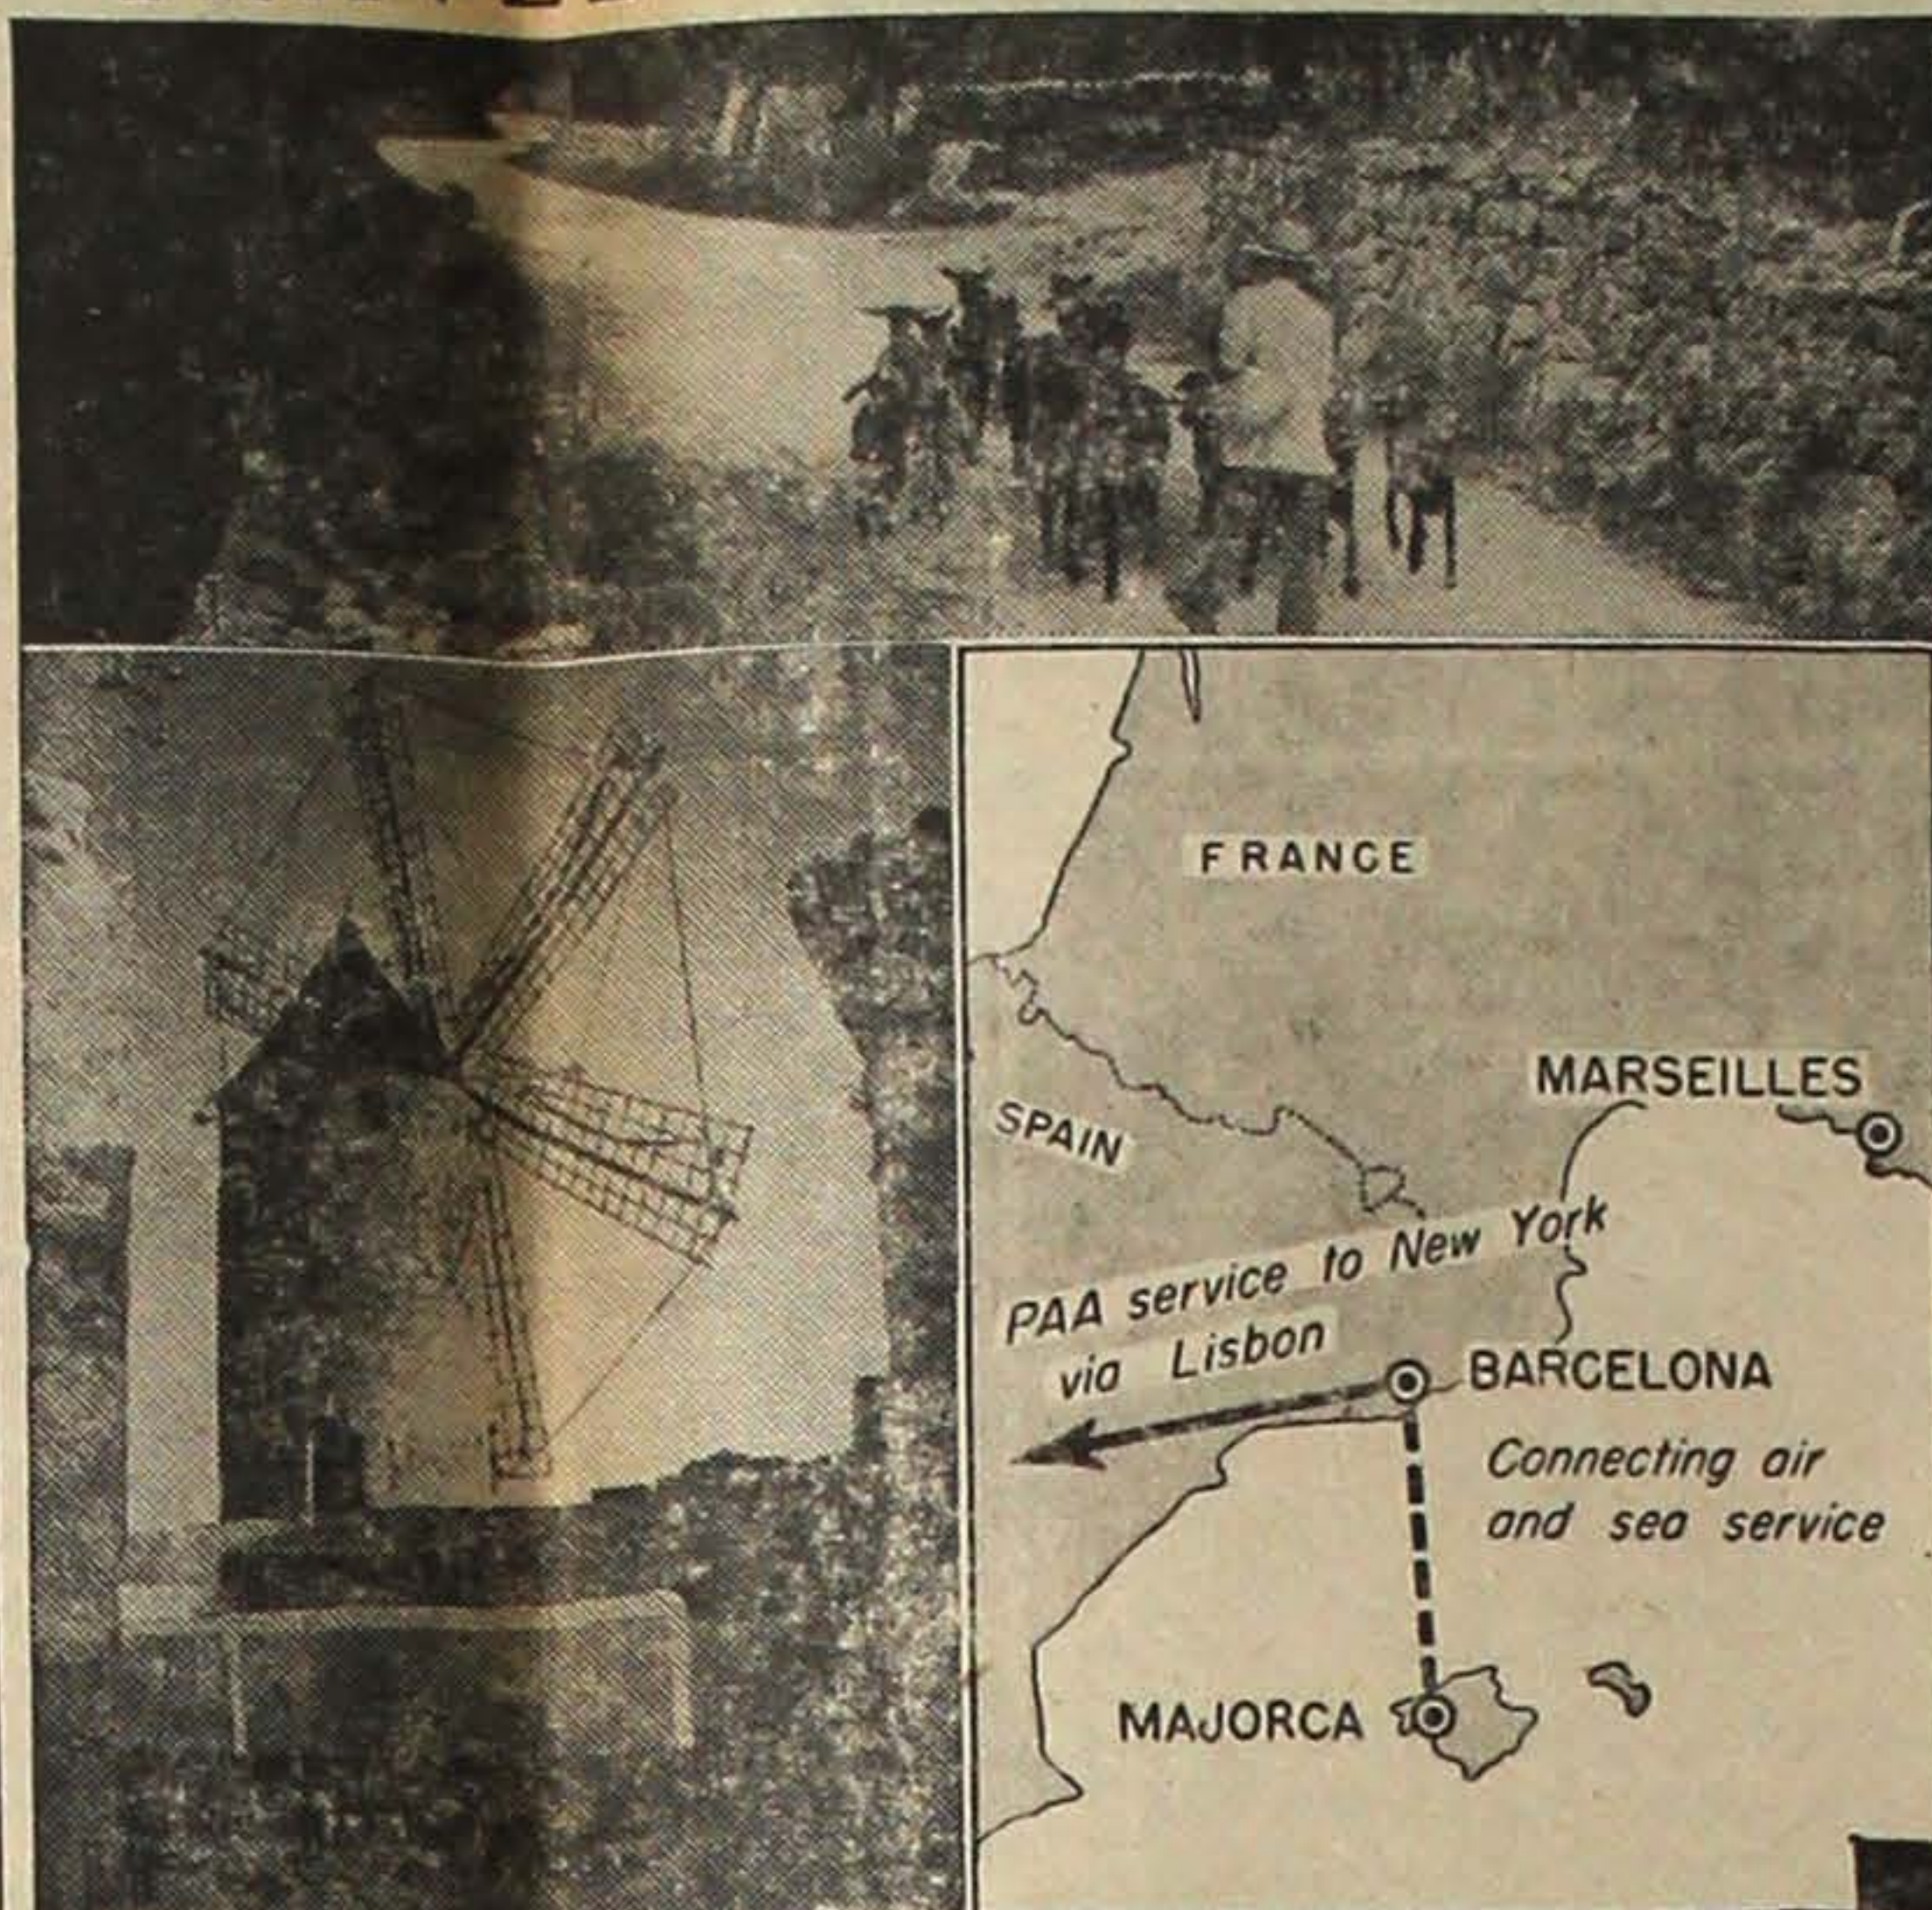

Do you know that the success of the paint-job on your house may rely on the way in which the surface is prepared before painting? That the surface must be clean, smooth and dry, and all nail holes, cracks and joints must be filled and smoothed with putty? If your house has not been painted for many years it may be necessary to completely remove old paint. That's why it is so important not to let your painter go. Experts at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company say that a good painting job will last about four years . . . and that poorly done work may look terrible in only a few months.

Two other factors in outdoor painting are also very important. The paint itself, of course, is something to consider carefully. The new paints made with titanium dioxide are best. A good quality paint also has plenty of oil, which is the life of the paint. In fact, Jim said without oil there is nothing to resist the elements except a thin coat of pigment. Then, too, the weather must be right for painting. Naturally, no one will paint in the rain . . . but it's important, too, that the wood be completely dry before painting after a rain. And freezing weather for painting is especially undesirable.

In addition to all these factors, is the necessity for a good, professional painter who will know how to prepare the surface, to mix the paint and correctly apply it . . . not just "slap" it on. Painting your house regularly is an investment, for a house without this protective coating is at the mercy of the elements . . . and other repairs caused by lack of paint protection may become very costly indeed!

TRAVEL CUES . . . SPAIN

Windmills of the sort Don Quixote tilted against the Majorcan landscape (above). Windmill shown has its cloth sails; in use the sails are unfurled across the arms to catch the wind. They are a much-used source of power to pump water to irrigate the rice fields and for other local uses. Top picture shows a Majorcan driving his herd of goats home for the night along a country road.

There's a lovely little island called Majorca lying between Spain and Italy on the blue of the Mediterranean. It has suddenly become another contender for the patronage of American tourists because of two recent events—the devaluation of the peseta by the Spanish government and the opening by Pan American World Airways of the first direct air service between the United States and Spain.

Clippers make the flight to Barcelona via the Azores and Lisbon in 19½ hours. Majorca is one hour away from Barcelona by plane, overnight by boat. Thirty-five miles long and equally wide, Majorca is threaded with mountains in the northwest and bounded from the sea by a wall of rock. The southeast is gently rolling with pastures and plains and white beaches fringed with huge umbrella pines.

Despite the pastoral quiet of the island, there is much there to occupy the tourist. Mountain climbers will find enough elevation for their sport, and there are tennis courts at some of the hotels and plenty of beaches for the swimmers. The capital has several theaters and one of the most magnificent bull rings in all of Spain.

Hotel costs run from $6 to $9 per day, including meals. Other prices on Majorca are always lower than those in Spain, and now that the tourist dollar buys even more pesetas, shopping has become doubly attractive to the visitors.

We sometimes meet an original gentleman, who, if manners had not existed, would have invented them. —Emerson.
