

GOV. LANGLEIE WILL BE SPEAKER AT FORMAL DEDICATION OF NEW AIRPORT AT BOW LAKE, JULY 9

Governor Arthur B. Langlie has accepted an invitation extended by J. A. Earley, president of the Seattle Port Commission, to be the inaugural speaker at the formal dedication and opening ceremonies of the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport at Bow Lake on July 9.

The dedication ceremony formally opening the $11,000,000 air terminal is scheduled for 2:30 p.m., and will be attended by prominent government officials and leading figures from all branches of the aviation, shipping, railroad, trucking and allied industries.

Plans for the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport opening ceremony are being formulated to include a blanket invitation to the public. The hope is that, in this way, Pacific Northwest residents will become more intimately acquainted with the unique features which place this airport among the world's finest.

While owned and operated by the Port of Seattle, the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport is a product of cooperative effort. The site, chosen by the Civil Aeronautics Authority, was purchased in 1942-3 by the Port of Seattle with the help of a grant from the Port of Tacoma, the City of Tacoma, and Pierce County. Concrete runways were laid in 1942 by the CAA as a part of the overall program of national defense. The administration building, entirely designed by the Port of Seattle engineering staff, is an outstanding example of modern terminal architecture, serving the purposes both of beauty and of functional utility.

It is anticipated that every major air line serving the Puget Sound area will eventually operate from the Seattle-Tacoma International Airport.

FRONT VIEW — This is "Bumps" Blackwell's orchestra which will furnish the music at the Nisei Veterans Committee's annual Fourth of July baseball tournament dance on Monday, July 4, at Palladium ballroom. Dancing hours will be from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., according to Mack Shoji, dance chairman.

Park Department's Summer Plan Includes Music and More Music

Music will form a prominent part of the Seattle Park Department's summer recreation program; music for active participation as well as music for listening pleasure.

The eight-week Volunteer Park concert series will begin on Sunday, July 10, with the presentation of the light opera, "New Moon." Four opera and four orchestra concerts will be presented at Volunteer on alternate Sundays. Tentative starting times for all concerts have been set for 3:30 p.m. Gustave Stern will direct both types of concerts.

For those who wish to participate actively in their musical enjoyment, vocal choruses, rhythm bands and rhythm classes, and a full junior orchestra will be conducted.

The Fieldhouse Summer School orchestra will be conducted for the seventh season this year. The program under the direction of Edwin C. Knutzen will be presented at three fieldhouses this season. Green Lake and Collins will again participate and Hiawatha will join them for the first time.

The orchestra is open to all grade and junior high school students who have the use of an instrument and who have had some musical training and orchestral experience. Rehearsals for beginning groups will be held at the three centers as follows: Hiawatha, Tuesday and Thursday, 1 to 3 p.m.; Collins, Tuesday and Thursday 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; Green Lake Wednesday and Friday, 1 to 3 p.m.

One advanced group will meet at Green Lake on Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. All four groups will appear in a combined concert at Volunteer Park sometime in August to wind up their 9 to 10 week practice period.

Young musicians interested in this orchestra should sign up with the orchestra director at the school they attend before vacation begins. There will be no charge for participation in the program.

Singing and rhythm groups which have been conducted by the Park Department during the spring and winter months will be greatly enlarged during the summer vacation period.

This program includes vocal choruses for junior boys and girls and for senior women, as well as rhythm band work for youngsters under 10 years and basic drum instruction for older children.

Two new women's choruses have been formed for the summer, one at Rainier Fieldhouse, the other at Laurelhurst Fieldhouse. Several new groups offered exclusively for junior high school girls will be organized. Local junior high groups will be formed at Ballard and Hiawatha and a city-wide chorus for this age group will be formed at Green Lake Fieldhouse.

Information about these summer music programs may be had by contacting the staff at the centers listed in the following schedule. All these activities will be under the direction of Mrs. Joan Ingels Barry.

CANADIAN PASTOR IMPRESSED BY ECONOMIC RECOVERY OF JAPANESE ON WEST COAST

TORONTO, Ont., Canada, June 8.—"The most impressive thing during my three week's tour was the economic recovery that the Japanese have made after returning to their homes in California, Oregon and Washington," observed Rev. Takashi Tsuji who returned to Toronto last week.

"Unlike here, where we've had our farms and businesses taken away from us, the Japanese have regained their orange groves, their ranches, and their business firms and establishments and on the whole, they seem to be doing exceedingly well. A good indication of this is that all Buddhist Churches on the Pacific Coast have paid off their mortgages after the evacuation."

"It is unfortunate," he commented, "that Canada did not follow a similar policy in its evacuation." Rev. Tsuji left in late April for a lecture tour of the U. S. Intermountain area and the West Coast sponsored by the National Young Buddhist Coordinating Council. Traveling mainly by plane, he visited and spoke at such cities as Salt Lake

City, and Ogden, Utah; San Francisco, Oakland, Los Angeles, San Diego, Stockton and other centers in California; Portland, Seattle and Tacoma in the Northwest; and calling at Denver to visit the new $130,000 church there.

In Fresno, Calif., he was the keynote speaker at the Bussei Conference where he spoke before a thousand delegates.

The young minister spoke at the University of California in Berkeley and in Los Angeles, as well as at Christian churches.

During his visit in Los Angeles he was able to see the shooting of the coming film in which many Nisei are taking part, "Three Came Back", in the Twentieth Century-Fox lot.

"I'd like to mention," said the Nisei minister, "that we Nisei in Canada do not seem to have the push and drive that the American Nisei have. They are venturing into business, taking a chance. Recently, a group of Nisei in California organized an automobile insurance firm. I'd like to see the Canadian Nisei coming out on their own."

Japanese Land Official Stops In Canada En Route to Confab

TORONTO, Ont., Canada, June 8.—Kelki Owada, Deputy Chief in the Land Division of the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry in Japan, landed at Malton Airport on May 27 on his way to Guelph to attend the third annual conference of the International Agricultural Federation. He left Haneda Airport two days previous and flew by the northern route, stopping at Anchorage, Alaska, Minneapolis and Chicago.

He is the first official Japanese government representative to come to Canada since the end of the war. As Japan is not a member of the Agricultural Federation, Owada is attending the gathering as an observer. It is also the first time that a Japanese is attending this conference. The first two, held in 1947 and 1948, took place in London and Paris respectively. About 25 nations, chiefly from Europe are members of the federation.

The conference is being held at the Ontario Agricultural College in Guelph and is to be conducted until June 11 when the representatives will travel westward in a group across Canada to study the Dominion's farming methods and conditions. It is to be dissolved in Vancouver.

Speaking in good English with a remarkably good knowledge of grammar, though this is the first time he has been abroad other than China, he told The New Canadian of the reforms which are taking place, particularly in his field, land reform. The small land farmers, he said, were greatly aided by the abolishing of absentee ownership of agricultural land.

He said Japan's major problem was over-population which Japan could not support without assistance. There are two possible solutions, birth control and immigration. The latter depends on the immigration laws of such countries as Canada, United States and Australia, the Japanese official commented. He said that he was impressed by the wide expanse of the United States and Canada as he flew over.

When asked if he would ever consider immigrating to Canada if this were possible, Owada replied that he holds a very responsible position in Japan, but he certainly would encourage Japanese people to emigrate from their native land should such a possibility ever become a reality.

He remarked that the day he arrived in Toronto had another significance. It was his 36th birthday.

MEMORIAL DAY NOTES

We're back in print again after a one-week absence due to the Memorial Day holiday, and speaking of the Nisei Vet activities on that particular occasion, we found it a very satisfying and worthwhile experience to have participated in the big parade through downtown Seattle. It's an experience which we feel sure, all the marching veterans will recall with pleasure and pride in the months and years to come.

That old Army basic training really "came back" as the Nisei ex-GI's, without any practice whatever, swung into the parade routine. Keeping in step would have been a lot easier if the music of the bands could have been heard, but they were too far ahead to do any good. In place of a band, the staccato commands "Hut, two, three, four" kept the three platoons reasonably in step. We wouldn't know for sure, but people have been heard to say that it looked pretty good, which is good enough.

Regardless of how we looked, the main thing was to have as many Nisei veterans as possible come out in order that a representative showing might be made in honor of our 55 war dead and to participate at least once in a downtown parade. The big hand we received from the sideline observers, the down Second Avenue and up Third, was only incidental—but just the same, it was sweet music and very satisfying to our ears.

HERE AND THERE

The articles on "D-Day" — June 6, 1944 — remind us that on that day, the 442nd RCT left Naples on LST's and LCT's for Anzio, arriving there the following day . . . Shiro Kashino may now be addressed as a Deputy Sheriff, having been deputized by Sheriff Callahan's office . . . Heat Heyamoto, who finished up the season as the regular U. W. shortstop, wound up with a whopping .452 batting average, good for second place among the Husky regulars . . . Our congratulations and best wishes to the veterans who are graduating from school this week . . . Next event on the calendar for NVC men will be a beer party scheduled for Friday evening, June 24. This will be for members only; your membership card will be your admission . . . The annual NVC picnic will follow on Sunday, June 26. More on both the beer bust and picnic next time.

TEAMSTERS WIN OVER VETS

The victory famine of the Nisei Vets continued last Sunday, as the Vets dropped another City League baseball contest at Lower Woodland, this time by the score of 2-1 to the Seattle Teamsters.

It was an old-fashioned pitchers' duel between George Shimizu of the Vets and lanky Jim Ferguson, just out of a West Seattle high school uniform. Ferguson, who lost several games by one run during the prep season, finally emerged on top as the Teamsters pushed over a run in the last of the tenth to break a 1-1 deadlock. Both pitchers went all the way in the league's best hurling duel to date.

Next Sunday at 2 P.M. the Vets will start their second round of play against the Gibson Carpet Cleaners at Lower Woodland. On Friday, June 17, the Vets will journey to Bellingham for another night game.

SAVOYS MAINTAIN LEADERSHIP IN NORTHWEST TIMES LEAGUE; REPULSE JR. VETS, 7 TO 5

Youthful Savoys kept their slate clean in the Northwest Times Baseball league last Sunday by nosing out the Junior Vets, 7 to 5, at Garfield No. 2 field. The battery of Standen and Shibuya once again turning the winning feat, Shibuya contributing a no-count homer in the upper half of the sixth when the game was called on account of time limit.

"Tiger" Asaba, hard-hitting Savoy outfielder, blasted out another pair of singles. Ray Michihira of the losers pounded one of Standen's pitches for a homer in the second, driving in Mitsui ahead of him.

NISEI VETERANS LOSE IN TENTH TO TEAMSTER OUTFIT, 2 TO 1; BLOOPER HIT BEATS SHIMIZU

Joker Shimizu of the Nisei Vets and Jim Ferguson of the Teamsters hooked into a pitcher's duel which went an extra inning before the Nisei outfit bowed to the truckmen, 2 to 1, last Sunday at Lower Woodland in a City league contest.

Shimizu held the Teamsters scoreless until the sixth when a double by Pangallo and a single by Ogden brought over the first tally. Nisei Vets came back in the eighth to tie up the count with Chub Hori spiking the home plate on Ray Saito's single into left field.

With two outs in the tenth, Shimizu suddenly bumped into trouble. Pangallo singled and Ogden lined one into left field for another safety. Glassman then blooped one into short right field to bring over the winning tally for the Teamsters.

Nisei Vets gathered only six hits off Ferguson, all singles, with Heat Heyamoto pounding out three, Ray Saito hitting two, and Sam Sakai getting the other blow.

The box scores are as follows:

Ever Since Eve . . .

—ry

Women in Japan have taken a back seat in every phase of life — social, political, or economical, and were more or less contented to let the men excel in everything and gather all the glory. For one thing, they were never given the opportunity to do anything about it, so that they could acquire some achievements of their own. Since the war though, things have changed drastically and the Japanese women have come out of their shells to show the superior males that they too possess brains beneath their elaborate hairdos . . .

The Northwest-Orient Airlines news bulletin "Words on Wings for Women", gives an interesting outline on some of the things found in modern Japan. So, through the courtesy of the NWA News Bureau, let's look into the lives of the women over the fair land of cherry-blossoms today . . .

Japanese women have adopted a novel classification system to simplify and stabilize prices, and to designate fair and reputable retail stores with which they will trade. Housewives in Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya, Hamamatsu and Toyohashi chose as "Superior Shops" certain stores which were known to be outstanding for fairness and good service to customers. A five-color poster depicting the sale of goods at official prices are displayed in these superior stores. This naturally draws the Japanese people as well as the Americans living in Japan, and the tourists, who cannot stay long enough to know for sure themselves if they are trading at reputable stores. These stores must maintain their high standards to retain their ratings. American housewives might take a tip from these Japanese women . . .

The long and flowing and rather shapeless Japanese kimono, worn by Japanese women for centuries have finally given way to the more feminine mode of dress — the American "new look". The new look skirts, first popularized in the Far East by Japanese movie stars who adopted it a la Hollywood, is very becoming to the short-statured Japanese women. NW Airline stewardesses report. They also tell us that women in Japan are becoming more style conscious. Watching the clothing worn by tourists shopping along the Ginza, and by the wives of the occupation personnel, they will hurry home, if they see a dress they like and whip up a new frock patterned after the latest in Fifth Avenue ensembles . . .

Japanese women from all walks of life are showing great interest in government affairs. Recently they celebrated the third anniversary of their new-found "voice" (the right to vote) during a special Women's Week. A heavy schedule of lectures, meetings, displays and surveys were conducted by them. Meetings sponsored by the Women's and Juvenile Bureau of the Labor Ministry are held to promote the status of the Nipponese female through a more thorough understanding of the welfare, labor and education laws and their relation to women. According to Mr. R. J. Morgan, Northwest Airlines Orient traffic manager, there are now two and one-half times the number of women employed in Japanese government offices than there were in pre-war days. The women in Japan knew that by acquiring an equal voice in the affairs of the government, they could play an important part in policies as well as in the home, school and everyday life . . .

Many women in Japan who used to be content to run a household, are deserting their domestic chores to take their place alongside the men in the business world. They are so enthusiastic about becoming "women of industry" that they let nothing stand in their way; least of all families. In a recent poll taken among the housewives in Yamagata City, it showed that 80 percent of the women wanted to work if there

Cooking Classes Begin June 16

The St. Mary's Guild, the Nisei women of St. Peter's Mission, will sponsor a series of cooking classes featuring Japanese, Chinese and Italian dishes.

The first lesson will be held from 8 p.m. on Thursday, June 16, in St. Peter's mission. The art of preparing several varieties of Japanese osushi will be taught. A nominal fee of thirty-five cents will be charged per person. Mrs. Tsutsumoto will instruct the first session.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

was a place where their children could be cared for. So, not to be stymied by that problem, the Japanese mothers organized an association and raised 650,000 yen with which they built a day nursery.

Are you one of those petite girls whose envious eyes have followed the graceful, flowing lines of your taller sisters who naturally looks so much nicer in dresses, suits, bathing suits and everything and anything??? The other morning in E. V. Durling's column, this poem was used as a fore-piece and was written especially to boost the morale of the shorter girls, so may I pass this bit of cheer on to you . . .

In a little precious stone,
What splendor meets the eyes
In a little lump of sugar
How much of a sweetness lies.
And as within the little rose
You find the richest dyes
And in a little grain of gold
Much price and value lies.
As from a little balsam
Much odor doth arise
So in a little woman
There's a taste of paradise.
