

The Little Woman

By JACK NAKAMOTO

Gradually as the green mantle of spring is being superseded with one of a more yellow-green-of approaching summer, it's not illogical to consider clothes now for summertime wear for our little woman.

For her, the ever popular black dresses are back again, with white touches and accessories. They are washable and can be worn with elegance in a city.

For summer play clothes wardrobe, she may choose a sun dress with camisole top, and bolero, made of fine quality cotton broadcloth obtainable in sizes 12 to 20, 16 1/2 to 24 1/2. A bolero, especially a fitted one is always suitable as it provides an impression of more height to her stature. Not only that, it affords artistic proportion in accordance with the Greek principle of design: the ratio about 1 to 3. The division or spacing which defines one third or thereabouts of the length of a dress is more becoming and beautiful than one of the formal balance of 50:50. As a matter of fact, any costume the length of which is cut in half either by a jacket or a design will invariably appear awkward and top-heavy.

There's a 3-way sun-back jacket dress which our little woman with a firm developed bust can wear without shoulder straps—if she dares! Though the top is boned to stay up, if she's flat-chested it would be nevertheless advisable to wear it with shoulder straps. And for dignified daytime wear, she can add a bolero-length jacket which has simulated pearl buttons. It's hand-washable, and of sanforized broadcloth.

A challenge to our little woman with sewing skill is some of the 3 or 4-way interchangeable costumes designed for the sake of economy and variety. As contrasting fabrics are in fashion today, she can readily make-over old dresses into up-to-date separates. For instance, she may like the bodice of an old dress, but finds the skirt is a little too short. In such cases, she could add a contrasting band to the hem or even sew the bodice onto a longer skirt of present style.

Shorts are longer this summer, so our little woman might well choose one of the slimming, side-zip types and cut it short to about mid-thigh. Otherwise shorts reaching down to the knee are boyish and gruesome, to say the least! And what's more, why not give the boys an eye-filling treat with her shapely gams after having hidden them for the past 3 seasons!

Japan Thanks Contributors

A resolution recently adopted by the Japanese House of Representatives expressed its gratitude for the relief parcels and other aid given Japan by Japanese residing abroad, according to Max W. Bishop, chief of the division of Northeast Asian Affairs, Department of State, Washington, D. C.

Bishop enclosed a translation of the resolution to the Northwest Times.

The resolution follows: Resolution for Expressing Gratitude to the Japanese and Citizens of Japanese parentage in Hawaii and North and South America for their Aid to Japan adopted by the House of Representatives on 28th April, 1949.

Whereas the aid given by the Japanese and citizens of Japanese parentage in Hawaii and North and South America in the form of LARA and CARE goods, relief parcels and the like, since the surrender, amounts to a large sum and deserves our warmest gratitude.

Whereas it is needless to mention that how the kindness gives us consolation and encouragement.

Be it resolved by the House decision that the House expresses its heart-felt gratitude to the Japanese and citizens of Japanese parentage abroad.

FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Green Lake will again be the location of the gigantic fireworks display. Legion officials stated that the display would begin at 10 p.m. but cautioned that because of the crowds, numbering well over 100,000, early arrival at the lakeshore would be advisable.

SAFE AND SANE HOLIDAY

Commenting on the patriotic celebration, chairman Paul S. Friedlander stated, "Seattle Post No. 1 of the American Legion, in cooperation with civic-minded business leaders, has sponsored the July Fourth celebration for twenty-nine consecutive years. It now ranks as the greatest sponsored patriotic observance in the United States. We of the American Legion believe that the civic celebration not only adds true appreciation of our American independence, but affords a day of entertainment and pleasure within our own city. In a way this is our means of saying—have a safe and sane holiday."

Pvt. Masaoka Award Available To Any Nisei Prep Graduate

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 29—JACL National Headquarters announced today in behalf of Mrs. Haruye Masaoka of Los Angeles that the Pvt. Ben Frank Masaoka Memorial Scholarship is now open to any Nisei high school graduate of this year who is planning to go to college.

Heretofore, the scholarship has been confined to Nisei ex-G.I.'s, while last year the award went to the winner of the JACL National Oratorical Contest. In 1946, the memorial scholarship was divided between Harry Abe of New York and Toshiyuki Mimura of Chicago; the 1947 award was to Kaz Oshiki of Hawthorne, Calif., editor of Drake University's 1948 yearbook; and in 1948, Joe Tanaka of St. Louis won the award as winner of the JACL National Oratorical Contest.

Pvt. Ben Frank Masaoka was with Company E of the 442nd Regimental Combat Team. He was killed in action on October 30, 1944 during the rescue of the "Lost Battalion" in the Vosges Mountains of France. The Scholarship of $200 was established by his mother in his memory.

Under the new arrangement, JACL chapters will nominate candidates from among the top Nisei high school graduates in their localities. Achievements scholastically and in extra curricular activities should be listed in the applications. All correspondence should be addressed to the Pvt. Ben Frank Masaoka Memorial Scholarship Committee, 413 Beason Building, Salt Lake City, Utah. Final date for applications will be July 27, the birth date of the fallen Nisei soldier.

Little Woman

To maintain lovely limbs, she might first of all, defuzz her legs with a good depilatory wax. It's recommended because the wax pulls the hairs out by the roots so that it takes longer to grow in. Shaving is never advisable, particularly for our Niselette whose hair is usually thicker than her hakujin sister, as it only encourages stubby dark growth appearing in a day or so. The next step is to rub some medicated cream and then finish up by bathing with skin tonic or witch hazel. She might then apply sun tan lotion, or salad oil if she wishes, remembering that regular applications of oil will improve the skin texture of her legs.

Our little woman is now ready to step forth with best foot forward to find herself a place in the sun.

GI INSURANCE DIVIDENDS
Perhaps the best piece of news last week for most ex-servicemen was the long-awaited announcement that the VA would commence the payment of dividends on National Service Life Insurance in January, 1950. Approximately $2,800,000,000 will be disbursed as dividends, amounting to about $175 on the average.

The actual amount to be received by any policyholder will, of course, depend upon the amount of premiums paid and the length of time the policy has been kept in force. Insurance kept in force for at least three months will, it is understood, be eligible for dividends.

Insurance dividends will be paid in cash under present plans, and are expected to give the nation's business and industry a powerful financial boost. After the 1950 dividend, future dividend payments will be made on an annual basis.

Sometime during late summer or early fall, it is expected that a general public announcement will be made, informing veterans and others how to make application for dividends. In the meantime, the VA has requested that no inquiries be made at the present time, since such inquiries will only serve to delay actual payments.

ELKS TROUCE VETS, 8-7
In last Sunday's baseball encounter, the Vets dropped a tough one to the Elks, 8-7. As in the previous game against the Italian Club, the contest again ran only eight innings due to a time limit, only this time it worked against the Vets.

There'll be no City League baseball this weekend for the Vets, due to the Fourth of July Tournament. See the sports page for further details, please.

THE Sporting Thing

YOU CAN COME HOME NOW, GEORGE

Whether or no George Tanagi won the grand championship of the Seattle Milk Fund match-game bowling tournament, does not matter.

All we know is that George, a scrappy 24-year-old kegler, proved to the bowling enthusiasts at West Seattle that he still has the "Go for Broke" spirit of the famed 442nd Regimental Combat team of which he was a member in the final push of the Italian campaign.

A first-year man in league competition who finished with a fair 174 average, George entered the Milk Fund tournament with the odds against his advancing much farther than the second round.

But what George did, was positively a story-book thriller.

He opened his drive to the finals in the Class B division (166 to 179) by decisioning Ed O'Brien with a 505 series. Next, he rolled 536 to down Jack Lengenfelder.

After the Lengenfelder match, George reacted like a Florida hurricane out to dash everything in sight to the ground.

Dennis O'Donohue, an old-time pin setter who has seen many match games back East, was awed and received "the biggest thrill of my life". "You should have seen George. I saw George beat down and actually discourage men who were superior than he in ability. My, I don't think I'll ever live to see anything like it again!"

Such enthusiasm is no understatement for the pulse of George's record in the tourney beats wildly.

George walked all over Kenny Arita (no pushover) with smashing 613. Neal Banta, a well-known major leaguer, was George's next victim; George connected for a 602 in this one. Then George made Ray Jacobsen, Magnolia Bowling Alley operator, lose heart by driving relentlessly and unmercifully for a 590.

In the semi-finals last Saturday, George was pitted against the popular and heavily-favored Mel Fitzgerald who had cracked the woods for 584, 648, 627 and 612 up to this point and who earlier in the year had taken Empire Bowling Alleys tournament championship.

George was tied with Mel, 360 to 360, at the end of the second game. A string of tough breaks placed George 24 points behind Mel in the fourth frame of the final line. It was here that George caught his second wind, put on the pressure, and struck fiercely with strikes and spares to nose out Mel by two pins. The result: George 562, Mel 560.

The Nisei crushed Gordy Richardson, a 178 average trundler, for the Class B division title and then went on to annex the grand championship in which he faced such fine bowlers as Roy Williams (A), Gordy Johnson (C) and Dick Corning (D).

When we jokingly advised him not long ago not to come home with his little woman if he ever lost, little did we realize that George was such a determined battler.

George can come home now. He has shown others that the Nisei are great competitors.

SIDELINE TOPICS

... the next heavyweight boxing champion of the world may come from Seattle via Honolulu: Jack Flood, 23, a Negro boxer who has knocked out 40 men in 43 fights, is planning to head for the islands to gain experience under expert hands—maybe, "Sad Sam" Ichinose, popular Hawaiian Nisei fistieff manager ... if this unpredictable weather continues, the Nisei Veterans Committee should have its fingers crossed about Fourth of July baseball tournament time ... the golf bug has caught Jimmy Kurashiki and Herby Furuta; they were hammering the pill in the dark the other day ... Hank Matsubu will be missing but Sad Shiraishi of Ontario is expected to bring up a strong aggregation to the July ball tourney here ... the Western Giants are raffling off a '49 Chev two-door Fleetline, and the drawing will be at their Sept. 4 dance at Palladium ballroom ... T-4 George K. Sawada, who was killed in the European theatre during World War II, was an all-around athlete, specializing in swimming in which he earned a letter at UW, and Pete Fujino, another War Dead, was a star football player for our old alma mater, Broadway high ...

GOLFER OF THE YEAR

At the halfway post for the Puget Sound Golf Club's "Golfer of the Year" award, it's Kaoru Hagimori by a narrow margin.

In six months of tournament play this year, Hagimori has piled up a total of 47 2-3 points, the points being based upon 10 for first place, 9 for second place and down the list to 1 for 10th place.

Hagimori, a one-time sumo-tori as well as a ball pitcher, has managed to finish among the prize winners in every tourney held by PSGC this year in spite of the steady cuts he has been taking in his handicap.

Right on Hagimori's heels is Iguchi with 46 points, followed by Art Yamada with 43 1-2 points, Jimmy Okimoto with 41 1-2 points and Min Yamaguchi with 37 1-2 points.

George Iwasaki started on the mound and toiled for four innings, allowing two runs on five hits. Vets Blow 7-3 Lead in Last Canto, Bow to Seattle Elks, 8 to 7

Seattle Nisei Vets almost had their second straight win chalked up in their scorebook, but blew their 7-3 lead in the last scheduled inning to drop another City league game, 8-7, to Seattle Elks last Sunday at Lower Woodland field.

Edo Sasaki, who started on the mound for the Vets, had the situation well at hand for seven innings by holding the opponents to five scattered hits. But the fatal eighth inning started with the Elks getting three straight singles, chasing Sasaki off the hill. Joke Shimizu was rushed into the fray and was promptly greeted with a double.

Then fate struck the death blow. A low fly ball into left field was caught by Fujiwara, Vet outfielder, but as he took a step to throw the ball to third, he dropped the ball. The umpires ruled it a safe hit, and the Vet defense crumbled after that. Elks pushed over the tying run with a neat squeeze play which caught the Vets napping, and the winning run came over on a walk with the bases bulging.

Vets got right to work in the second inning in an effort to win their second straight game by staging a six-run attack with Yamaguchi, Fujiwara, Funai, Sakai and Matsushita contributing with their singles. Another run was chalked up in the third on George Funai's single, scoring Yamaguchi. Thereafter, Vets were handcuffed by Elks' relief hurler, Lupin, who shut the door on the Nisei for the remainder of the game.

BAPTIST WEDDING

The altar of the Japanese Baptist Church was banked with white stocks and gladioli for the wedding of Miss Kazzie Suzuki, daughter of Mrs. Misao Suzuki, to Mr. David Miyachi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. Miyachi, on Friday, June 24. The Rev. Emery Andrews officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. H. Iwasaki, wore a lovely Victorian gown of imported silk eyelet. The low-cut neckline was trimmed with silk fichu and the bouffant skirt had three deep tucks ending at the sides, cascading to a train. Her veil of fingertip length was held with a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and gardenias centered with a white orchid.

Miss Naoko Anzai, maid of honor, was gowned in baby blue marquisette, lined with white taffeta. The gown had a drape neckline, and a full skirt with ruffles tiered in the back. Her bouquet was of red roses and she wore matching roses in her hair.

Little Marilyn Kashiwagi, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. She wore a white nylon net gown and had a basket of rose petals.

Mr. Keiji Sato was the best man and the Messrs. Tak Sakuma and Mits Takahashi were the ushers.

Miss Sachi Uyegaki sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Hideko Shimomura.

The reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlor. Mrs. Heat Heyamoto and Miss Susie Shimizu cut the cake; Mrs. Hiro Miyahara and Miss Grayce Gojio poured the tea; and Mrs. Frank Tsuji and Miss Yasuko Ota took care of the gifts and the guest book.

For going away, the bride chose a white suit, coat and hat with navy blue accessories.

After their honeymoon, the couple will reside in Hawaii.

WEDDING BELLS

With white gladioli and tapering candles in candelabras forming the altar, Miss Chizuko Okazaki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matsuro Okazaki, exchanged wedding vows Saturday afternoon with Dr. Nobuyuki Kawata of San Francisco, California, at a ceremony performed at the home of her parents in the presence of close friends and relatives. Baker's Cherry Pie

While we always seem to pair up George Washington and Cherry Pie, this traditional dessert dish is certainly one that is enjoyed most any time of the year.

A luscious cherry pie from the baker makes a fine topper for a particularly elegant dinner, and your kitchen remains cool these sweltering summer days. When you think that one with a flaky, tender crust and juicy red cherries in the center can be served by merely calling on your baker for the ready-made dessert, it becomes a double treat.

For an extra special treat, serve your baker's Cherry Pie with creamy scoops of vanilla ice cream. But, whether you enjoy your cherry pie a la mode or unadorned, you know you're getting a perfectly prepared dessert, one made with the same ingredients you'd use, when you buy it baked.
