RESTRICTIVE COVENANTS

When there's talk about prejudice or discrimination, one immediately thinks of the minority groups and how they are infringed upon. Actually, one should also be concerned about the majority group, that is, the discriminators, for their freedom is infringed upon just as much.

Take, for instance, the situation involved around restrictive covenants. When a member of the majority group moves into an area that is restricted, he signs a deed that binds him to maintain that restriction. And when he does that, he is no longer free to sell his house on the open market to any buyer; he is restricted to sell only to members within the restricted class.

The Supreme Court of the United States recently ruled that the courts cannot be used to enforce the restrictive covenants in the event of its violation because the covenant, when it is restrictive on the grounds of race, creed, religion, or national origin, deprives citizens of equal protection of the law as guaranteed by the constitution. However, members of the majority groups are still involved in a breach of contract suit if they sell a house outside of the restricted class, and consequently, may be subject to a damage suit. Therefore, friends of the minority groups are not as free as they would like to be if they live in a restricted area.

Let's take this a little further. Suppose a strong-minded citizen in a restricted area decides he will risk a breach of contract suit and sell to a minority group member. The man who lives next door may not like minorities, but he is stuck. He could sue, but other than that, he must accept the new neighbor, or sell to someone in the majority group who likes minority groups, or violate the restrictive covenant himself and sell to a member of the minority group. The restrictive covenants definitely restrict the freedom of the majority groups.

Many insurance companies either refuse to take certain minority groups, or take them at unfair discriminatory rates. The majority group is merely endangering its own security when, for instance, it deprives auto accident insurance to members of the minority groups who drive. What would happen in an accident if the fault lay with the minority group member who couldn't afford to pay for the damages and who was deprived of insurance because of restriction? The majority group member has to pay the cost of the discrimination policy.

Japanese Girl Is Crowned B. C. Stampede Queen

KAMLOOPS, B. C., July 16 (New Canadian Dispatch) —

This town whooped it up in traditional frontier style on Dominion Day as this was the day of the Kamloops Stampede. The Japanese community of Kamloops also joined in the whooping, and perhaps they were a little more jubilant than the others. They had every good reason, for their choice, sixteen-year-old Frances Kato, was crowned the Stampede Queen to reign over the colorful wild west pageant.

Before the milling crowd of 7,000 people, the pretty Nisei girl was crowned by Lon Chaney Jr., the movie actor, at the Kamloops fair grounds. She was then presented to Mayor Devin of Seattle, an honored guest of the Stampede. In the KAMLOOPS, B. C., July 16—Complete tabulation shows that Stampede Queen, Frances Kato, polled nearly twice as many votes as did her closest rival. She garnered a total of 142,300 votes while Gloria Wixel placed second with 74,800.

Other contestants were Norine Corea, 57,550; Lyla Butterworth, 32,600; Ruth Reed, 32,150; and Shirley Fields, 27,700.

Frances is a student at Kamloops High School. She formerly lived in Cumberland and in Tashme.

evening she attended the ball at the new Civic Arena where she was given a tremendous ovation when she was introduced.

As an award for her victory, Frances will be leaving shortly for a visit to Hollywood. The Stampede Committee is contacting Sessue Hayakawa, famed Japanese actor, presently in the American film capital in order that Frances will enjoy her stay there. This arrangement is being made upon the advice of Lon Chaney who knew him well and was for a time a neighbor of his.

This is the first time that a Canadian Nisei girl, in competition with Occidentals has won such an honor, and her sponsor, the Kamloops JCCA, is proud, to say the least, of the wonderful occasion.

With the opening of the new Seattle-Tacoma International air terminal, baggage-handling for NWA has been given a touch of Far East color with Northwest's new corps of alert, young Japanese-American Skycaps.

Most of the group are veterans of

Here're Questions Which You Must Answer When You File Claims

Pertinent questions which are contained in the evacuation claims application blank are listed today by THE NORTHWEST TIMES for our readers.

They are:

1. Were you detained or interned as an enemy alien? If answer is yes, state place, month-day-year, and other details.
2. Were you, after Dec. 7, 1941 voluntarily or involuntarily deported from the United States? Yes or no.
3. Residence on Dec. 7, 1941.
4. Were you evacuated, excluded, or did you voluntarily depart from a military area? From which military area? When?
5. Residence on date of evacuation, exclusion, or voluntary departure.
6. If your first or subsequent departure from a military area was voluntary, state in detail your reason or reasons therefor.
7. What were your addresses after departure from a military area?
8. What was your War Relocation Authority or Wartime Civil Control Authority identification number?
9. What was your occupation, if any, on Dec. 7, 1941?
10. What was your occupation, if any at the time of your voluntary departure, evacuation, or exclusion from a military area?
11. Have you received or are you entitled to receive compensation by insurance or otherwise for any of the damage or loss claimed? Yes or no. If "yes", explain.
12. Does any other person or persons own or claim any interest in the property involved in this claim? Yes or no. If "yes", give the name and address of all such persons and the extent of their ownership or interest. Has any claim been filed by the person or persons mentioned in the latter? (Joint claimants should execute separate claims and submit them attached together at the same time.)
13. Describe, but do not file with this claim, any documents you have which may prove your ownership of the property involved in this claim, its value, or the extent of damage or loss now claimed.
14. If you have authorized someone to act for you in all matters pertaining to this claim, give his name and address.

Interest in L. A. Nisei Festival Stretches Across Our Country

By HARRY K. HONDA
Nisei Week, Public Relations

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 16 (Special to Northwest Times) —Already, word is reaching here that friends from Chicago, Denver and San Francisco will be trekking into Los Angeles during Nisei Week, August 13 to 21.

While the weatherman doesn't admit officially what the climate will be, old timers here bet that summery week will be comfortable, mild and good for perfect sleepin'.

Gaety of prewar Festivals has been assured by Frank Okada, chairman of this spectacular program. While L.A. Tokyo is engrossed in selecting its queen, the true colors of the Festival will blossom during the first week of August after banners and decorations are hoisted.

The Pacific Southwest District JACL Council has arranged its forthcoming conference on August 13 and 14 with JACL delegates and boosters from Arizona, California and Nevada expected, adding to the festivity of Nisei Week.

The Queen Contest committee has issued its second release of tabulations as of Friday, July 8. Heavier and more frequent tabulations are now being awaited: (1) Margaret Kikuchi, 1979; (2) Yukie Sato, 1728; (3) Joan Ritchie, 1185; (4) Terri Hokoda, 382; (5) Fumi Iketani, 757; (6) Aiko Ota, 472; (7) Yo Okada, 439; (8) Janet Yamada, 305; (9) Susie Yamashita, 251; (10) Karie Shindo; (11) Susie Shinohara, 116.

Two additional entrants include Isabel Watanabe, 22-year-old cosmetologist, who is being sponsored by the West Los Angeles JACL chapter and the Windsor's, young women's service organization, and Tami Shimahara, former Seattle lass, who is being sponsored by the Los Angeles YBA.

George Inagaki, president-founder of the "1000" Club, has invited his membership to attend the Coronation Ball, August 13, here. The organization is sponsoring the grand affair where the Nisei Week Queen will be honored.

Invitation has been extended to the National JACL Council through the Nisei Week office to attend the week of festivities.

WILL ASSIST IN FILING OF WARTIME LOSS

CALIFORNIA QUARTERS WILL BE OPENED ABOUT JULY 25

Site Chosen

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 16—The first Department of Justice field office to aid in the processing of evacuation claims under Public Law 886 will be opened in Los Angeles on or about July 25, the Washington Office of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee was advised today.

Los Angeles was selected as the site of the first office because most of the claims thus far filed with the Department of Justice have been from Southern California. Mike Masaoka, national legislative director, was informed.

The field office will be located on the eighth floor of the Federal Post Office and Courthouse Building in the Civic Center.

Justice Department officials emphasized that the office will be opened on an experimental basis to expedite the processing of evacuation claims as informally as possible. It will serve as a pilot operation in establishing procedures for the handling of claims.

Claims will be processed on a "first filed, first served" basis, Masaoka said. Claimants in Southern California who have already filed their claims with the Department of Justice in Washington will be called in for interviews and discussions according to the filing numbers they have received. The lower the number, the earlier it will be called.

The Los Angeles office will not pay any of the claims.

At the outset, the field office will not be equipped to assist in filing claims. All claims must still be filed with the Washington Headquarters of the Justice Department in the same manner that claims have been filed up to this time.

Whether such assistance will be given later has not yet been determined.

Other field offices in localities where the need is demonstrated are contemplated.

Masaoka hailed the announcement of the opening of the Los Angeles field office as another concrete example of the desire of the government to speed up the processing and paying of evacuation claims.

"I feel that we can all be assured that the Justice Department is markedly cooperative in carrying out Congress' intent to compensate evacuees for losses suffered through no fault of their own," he said.

"Claimants, however, should not rush into the new offices expecting immediate payment," Masaoka added, for he explained that it was his understanding that the individual claimants will be notified directly by the Los Angeles office when to come in for their respective interviews. Any other method would result in confusion and delay.

"We must remember that the many problems of evacuation claims are new to this government. Working together in a cooperative spirit, we hope that procedures that will satisfy the claimant and at the same time be acceptable to the Attorney General and the Congress can be developed," Masaoka said.

HOW TO TRAP A HARE

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President of Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

Like the time-honored recipe for rabbit soup that begins "first snare the hare," all the modern attempts to achieve socialistic governments are based on deception. Socialism can make no headway until the people are first deceived. Then comes the final boiling broth of bureaucracy, where the government manages everything and nothing is left to the people, not even the freedoms they once possessed. But first, the people are ensnared.

Generally, there are two ways to catch your rabbit. You can bait your trap with a little ear-corn or something else that will appeal to the appetite of a hungry hare. He'll come your way. He'll see things just the way you do—until too late, for him. You can have your stew. Another way is to get him scared. Chase him a bit until he's excited. Wanting the security of a hollow log, he'll head right into your rabbit-gum. He's yours!

Politics and Promises

Now then. These are the same methods that have been used throughout history, all over the world, to achieve political power. Get the people scared or hungry; or both—then they are willing to let the fellow take over who promises the most. These "isms" of total political power, including communism, can never take the people in America for a ride provided we keep ourselves informed. We must know the methods. We must see through the trickery.

We have not always done so. I am aware that you cannot fool "all the people all the time." But I do say that entirely too many of us have unwisely accepted policies that lead directly to socialism. Your rabbit had no intention of participating in a stew, but hasty and ill-considered action got him there.

NWA's Travel Topics and Tips Refer to Things Japanese

(Editor's note: Following are "Travel Topics and Tips" released by the news bureau of Northwest Airlines. All "topics" and "tips" refer to Japan.)

Americans who study the growth of Christianity in Japan will be interested in the discovery of three tombs of early martyrs in the city of Oita, in Oita Prefecture, scene of the first persecutions in 1589. The tombs were found by Father Marega, pastor of the parish in Oita. They were located in a cemetery adjoining the ruins of Kosai Temple. During the period when Christians were being persecuted in Japan, names of the dead and the date of their demise were purposely withheld. As a result it has been impossible to identify those whose remains were found in the tombs.

Tourists who look forward to one of travel's major thrills, a climb to the top of Mt. Fuji in Japan, needn't be too alarmed that modern conveniences will balk that experience. A proposal to build a cable car line to the top of the mountain was recently revived by some enterprising Japanese promoters—only to run into a storm of protest. In fact, editorial writers in the newspapers have waxed quite eloquent in their disapproval.

"Half of the joy of climbing Fuji lies in the sense of achievement of a unique adventure, and in the pride of recounting the experience to envious inferiors who have not had the courage or opportunity to try it themselves," one of the scribes wrote.

Only those who have toiled step by step up Fuji's slopes through the long night can know the ecstasy of seeing the dawning sun break through the clouds at one's feet to reveal the tiny world far below. Only those who have jostled with the chanting, white-robed pilgrims on the dark narrow trails have tasted the full magic of Fuji's enchantment.

Though the cable car proposal has stirred up this opposition, there is quite an agreement, however, that certain improvements should be made for the benefit of the mountain-climbers. These include the improvement of trails and rest huts and the construction of more resort hotels in the area.

Japan's broad program of electrifying train service was given a boost recently when an express train between Tokyo and Osaka, on which many future tourists will ride, made the trip between the two cities in nine hours, thirty minutes. This was considerably faster than previous surface travel schedules.

Regular service on this run will start August 1. The special train on the trial run comprised 13 coaches, including an observation car and two first-class sleeping cars.

Meanwhile, service on two other electrified lines, those between Osaka and Kyoto, and between Fukushima and Yonezawa, has already been started.

Electrification of the lines, to speed up schedules and make travel more comfortable, is part of a program by Japan to attract tourists to that country.

Tourists who visit the newly built Honolulu zoo at Kapiolani Park will see a wide variety of birds—including peacocks that roam freely through the institution.

Outstanding among the birds, report pilots of Northwest Airlines who have spent much of their lay-over time at the park, are eight varieties of rare cranes, flamingos, ostriches, cassoways, birds of paradise, parrots and pheasants.

Other creatures at the zoo are elephants, camels, goats, chimpanzees, wallabies, spider monkeys, Gibbons monkeys, Galapagos tortoises, and deer that were brought years ago from Japan by the Japanese ambassador as a gift from Nippon royalty. The tortoises are believed to be more than three centuries old.

Fate of scientific researches which the Japanese conducted for six years in northern China, resulting in the discovery of 60,000 stone Buddhas—is now uncertain because of the civil war in China.

Site of the researches were the caves of Yun-kang near Tatung in Shansi province northwest of Peking.

Among the Buddhas, all of which were photographed, were at least half a dozen reported to be larger than the bronze Buddha in Nara, long regarded as the largest in the world.

The Buddhas, believed to have been carved during two periods, from 460 to 490 A. D. and from 495 to 535 A. D., were found in 40 large and small caves extending over a mile area.

The Japanese expedition, led by Professor Seichi Mizuno of Kyoto University and Professor Toshio Nagahiro of Tokyo University, was organized in 1938, work being continued until 1944. During part of the war, a Japanese regiment was assigned to assist the archeologists. Researches indicated that nomads from Mongolia built up a great cultural center at Tatung during the Northern Wei dynasty when Buddhism flourished in the Middle Kingdom.

When travel to all parts of China is resumed by tourists, many of them will be attracted to Tatung to learn what has befallen the stone Buddhas.

GI BURIALS

The fellow who works behind the scene in arranging for the Nisei GI burials here in Seattle is none other than "Lefty" Ichihara, acting chaplain of the Nisei Veterans Committee. It is he who contacts both the Army and the next of kin and arranges for a suitable date for the funeral.

At the present time, Lefty thinks that after the two pending funerals, much of his duties as acting chaplain will be over. When he was the chairman of the NVC last year, the Army reburial program got under way. The first Seattle Nisei burial under this program got off with an impressive joint funeral for eight war dead in the First Methodist Church on May 26, 1948. Since that time 35 Nisei in all, have been buried in Seattle, all with proper military rites and arranged by the NVC.

Those of us who have seen Lefty unselfishly put in his time and effort in the details can only admire his efficient and capable handling of the arrangements. There were times when Lefty would have to make trips to Tacoma or other outlying districts to contact the next of kin and give assistance in the funeral arrangements. Then the pallbearers and color guards have to be lined up, and there would be much phoning and waiting before each war dead can be properly accompanied by the eight "military" pallbearers.

Incidentally, we would like to mention here that Col. Calvin Butterworth and his son, Bert, of the Butterworth Mortuary, have gone out of their way to aid in the reburial program for the NVC. Wherever possible, Butterworth's has given Nisei GI war dead the best accommodations available.

ever possible. Butterworth's has given Nisei GI war dead the best accommodations available.

NO JULY MEETING

Chairman Dick Setsuda of the NVC announces that there will be no July meeting due to the fact that so many of the members are either out of town or should be out enjoying the fine warm weather that we're having. The August meeting will be announced in ample time and Dick is already making plans to line up a lively program, and a speaker.

SHORT TAKES

A week after the Fourth of July tournament in which the NVC nine swept through its three-game schedule to retain the title, Joe Kesamaru's charges got right back where they were in the City League and dropped another tilt to Roslyn. This Sunday, the Nisei Vets will entertain Fort Lawton at Broadway field from 2 p.m. in what may prove to be the second win of the season for the cello-riding Vets. . . . You fishing enthusiasts better get your pole and line in order for the annual NVC salmon derby which will be held this fall. . . . Also planned for either September or October is the NVC bazaar with Sab Ogishima in charge. . . . The beer bust which was cancelled due to alterations in the Sick's brewery hall will go off sometime in August, Setsuda informs. . . . Sporting a new cream-colored Chevy is Hiro Nishimura. . . . Edward "Duffy" Kiyohara is now with Gene Fiedler Chevrolet Company in West Seattle and can seat you behind the wheel of a new or used car by calling him at East 8102 or Avalon 1400. . . . Art Susumi, now in Kentucky, will be back in Seattle in August to take over his post as NVC chaplain. . . . And now it's so long for a while. . . .

Don't Expect Too Much from Sponsors

Soon—very soon—the boys and girls in this community will be making their usual rounds of local businessmen and asking them to sponsor their bowling or basketball teams.

Of course, they will be sponsored—not because the businessmen believe the action would improve their trade but because they should like to see the youngsters enjoy sports activities.

The sponsors will purchase the uniforms. The cash sum will run up to more than fifty dollars which will include the cost of lettering.

The sponsors' help should end right there—but it doesn't in some cases.

For instance, many of the boys and girls have the peculiar notion that they are doing their sponsors a great favor by playing and wearing the outfits which their sponsors bought. In fact, some of them have the crust to ask their sponsors to pay for their entrance, special tournament and game expenses, too.

We can't see that!

No one group—and we mean, no one group—in this community can claim that it is so good in either bowling or basketball that a sponsor should dig deeper into his pocketbook to shell out for sundry other costs related to the group's play.

One bowling team sponsor, name withheld, pointed out dryly, "If the members of the team patronized my place once in a while, I would have been more than pleased". You can be certain he quit sponsoring a bowling squad.

If the boys and girls who are delegated to seek a sponsor would remember the sponsors' griefs, they would be wise not to expect too much. After all, the players themselves are the ones who benefit the most.

Water Safety Classes Inaugurated At Six Swimming Centers Here

This week marked the beginning of the annual water safety classes at six Park Department swimming centers. The program is being offered under the joint sponsorship of the Seattle Park Department, the Seattle-King County Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Dolores Weeks, Red Cross trained water safety instructor, will conduct the six-week course for junior and senior swimmers. The classes are open without charge to all who can fulfill the swimming ability and age requirements. At the end of the training period those who have successfully finished the course will be presented with Red Cross Lifesaving certificates.

Requirements for taking junior instruction are: Age, 12 through 16 years, command of basic swimming strokes, ability to swim a minimum of 220 yards. Senior requirements are: Age, 17 years and older, command of basic strokes and ability to swim a minimum of 440 yards.

It is essential that the full course be completed for certification, so interested persons are urged by the sponsoring organizations to register at their nearest beach immediately.

Following is a schedule of classes:

MONDAY AND THURSDAY
12 to 2 p.m.—Madison, Juniors and Seniors
3 to 5 p.m.—Seward, Juniors.
6 to 8 p.m.—Seward, Seniors

Boys and Girls, Including Those From Collins, Await Camping Fun

It was "Off for Camp Denny" for forty girls from High Point last Monday when the first group of children left for 24 hours of camping fun at the Seattle Park Department's overnight camp on the northeast shore of Lake Washington.

Between July 11 and August 30 hundreds of junior boys and girls from every section of the city will enjoy camping, swimming, hiking, riding, archery, nature study and outdoor sports at Camp Denny. Each day, Monday through Friday, 40 boys or girls will go to camp.

The children are picked up at their neighborhood playgrounds, taken to camp and returned the following day by a chartered bus. At camp they enjoy three hearty meals, sleep in an airy bunkhouse and are supervised by trained recreation leaders and lifeguards.

Any child 10 to 15 years of age may attend camp by registering at the nearest Park Department recreation center. The camp and its personnel are maintained by public funds and the only cost to children is a fee of $1.25 to cover the cost of their transportation and three meals while at camp. Children attending camp should bring their own bedding, their bathing suits, a towel and other personal equipment. As the children usually leave for camp before noon, most of them also carry a lunch to eat on their way to camp.

A schedule of Camp Denny dates through the month of July follows. Remaining dates will soon be announced by the Park Department.

July 18, Madrona girls; July 19, Collins girls; July 21, Van Asselt boys; July 22, Alki girls; July 25, Ballard boys; July 25, Beacon Hill girls; July 27, Van Asselt girls; July 28, South Park girls; July 29, Hiawatha girls.

For full information about Camp Denny, parents and children may contact the playleader at their nearest Park Department center.

New Fieldhouse Will be Opened On Beacon Hill

Jefferson Park and Beacon Hill residents will realize a long sought for goal on Friday, July 22, when the new Jefferson Park Fieldhouse is formally opened.

Many community organizations, community leaders and city officials will join in the dedication program for the new recreation center which is located at 3577 Bacon Ave. on the playground directly across from Jefferson Park Golf Course.

The new structure of brick veneer will contain a social room, 33 feet by 66 feet, shower and locker rooms, a game room for ping pong and other table games and kitchen facilities.

The dedication program planned for July 22 will begin at 7:30 p.m. It will open with the presentation of the flag with a color guard representing Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cubs and Brownies.

This will be followed by the presentation of the fieldhouse key. Jack Mihok will act as master of ceremonies.

The formal program will be followed by entertainment by Paul Martin of Lincoln High School and by dancing from 9 o'clock to midnight. Refreshments will be served and balloons will be given to attending youngsters. All residents of the area served by the new fieldhouse are cordially invited to come and take part in the program.

Organizations active in promoting this community center through the years and in arranging the dedication program include the Beacon Hill Community Club, Beacon Hill Lions' Club, Jefferson Park Ladies Improvement Club and Beacon Hill PTA.

Our Little Woman

By JACK NAKAMOTO

Usually our little woman with olive skin is lucky because her skin isn't as sensitive to the sun as the one of her fair hakujin sister. It's hardly a problem for her to suntan—to a golden bronze. As matter of fact, her amber skin almost serves as a protection against sunburn, thereby equipping her for immediate suntanning.

Although there's an array of suntan lotions and creams for various stages of tanning provided for hakujin sister, our little woman need only to bother with one good sun lotion to keep her skin supple and satin-soft. Most good sun lotions protect sensitive as well as normal skins; they don't stain our Niseiette or her clothing, and are not greasy. They're compounded to screen out the sun's burning rays and yet admit the healthful tanning rays. The old stand-bys, such as vinegar, baking soda carron oil, or other oils and greases, are good. However, these tend to mix irritatingly with beach sand and leave their marks on robes or cushions, as well as an unattractive shiny skin.

For our little woman with fair sensitive skin, it is always advisable to begin the first day lying in the sun for only five minutes on each side of her body, then increasing ever gradually the length of time she remains in the sun each day. In this way, she's sure to obtain a beautiful coppery tan, instead of singed arms and lobster-colored legs. However, if her suntime is just a sometime thing—consisting only of a relatively brief vacation and occasional weekends, there are preparations that will give her a synthetic tan in a flattering finish. She can just sponge it on her face, neck, arms and legs—and presto! she's as good as a sun-bronzed beauty.

One of the greatest weaknesses of our little woman is her inclination to overdo tanning—yes, to such an extent that she can readily look like a "Luron-bo san". If she's a naturally dark-skinned type, it certainly would be advisable for her to be sensible about the number of hours she spends in the direct sunlight, especially when near the water, which intensifies its rays.

The ultraviolet rays of the sun are actually responsible for bringing about the so-called, sunshine vitamin, the vitamin D, the suntan, sunburn or freckles. The rays act on a substance, ergosterol, in the skin, changing it into the vitamin.

It's the shorter ultraviolet rays which cause sunburn, as they break down tiny blood vessels just beneath the skin, resulting in tight red skin or burn. Whereas, the longer ultraviolet rays don't cause any burn, since they penetrate deeper into the skin. There they act on a pigment, melanin, and bring it to the surface as tan. When the pigment isn't laid down evenly freckles will form.

As our little woman tans, her skin surface becomes thicker with a result that it protects from the burning of short rays. A burn on the other hand, makes it harder for the tanning rays to get through to the layer of pigment below. And the heat she feels while basking in the sun comes from the infra-red rays, which have nothing to do with either tanning or burning.

Bearing all this in mind, may our little woman make friends with old Sol this summer, so that she may eventually walk sun-crowned into the autumn.

—New Canadian

Nisei Member of Neighborhood To be Radio Program Speaker

Mrs. Toru Sakahara of 2203 Rainier Ave., a member of the board of directors of Neighborhood House, will be the feature speaker on a transcribed radio program to be broadcast from 6:45 p.m. on Saturday, July 16, over radio station KJR.

This program is one of the series of "Report to the Partners" sponsored by the Community Chest.

The theme of this week's program will be "Day Camp Operated by Neighborhood House". Twenty children from the day camp also will participate in the program. Among them are: Bobby Doi, Roger and Sunnie Harada, Billy, Dickie, Eddie, Freddie and Norma Hirota, Julian Kanno, Grace and Ben Kase, Paul Kimura, Toshio Naganawa, Edward and Mary Yakushijin, and Dickie Tanabe.

There is only one thing in the world worse than being talked about, and that is not being talked about.

Ice Cream — Homemade and Delicious

Drop a hint that dessert is pie a la mode and you'll see a sparkle in every pair of eyes. And if you add that the ice cream is homemade, food will disappear like a jet propelled plane passing a given point so as not to delay for one moment the ecstasy of eating homemade ice cream on pie.

Making ice cream is very simple. Just get a few five-ounce containers of ice cream powder mix at your grocer's. Sprinkle the contents of one container over cold water, mix and freeze in your refrigerator tray. Make more than one tray if you choose, and vary the flavors to suit your fancy. With the makings in these little containers on your pantry shelf, ice cream delights need never be farther away than your refrigerator.

Rules Pertaining to Contraband Disclosed by Justice Department

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 16—The Department of Justice today announced regulations for filing claims for loss or damage to contraband property deposited with the Justice Department or local police agencies by aliens and Nisei.

Claims are only for loss or damage to such items as radios, cameras, binoculars and weapons ordered deposited in the custody of the government at the outbreak of the war. Claims up to $1,000 will be paid on losses through no fault of those who deposited the articles. Claims in excess of this amount must be approved by Congress.

Payment is authorized by Public Law 17, 81st Congress, a law introduced at the request of the JACL Anti-Discrimination Committee by Sen. Pat McCarran, (D., Nev.), and passed early in the present session. Claims must be filed in duplicate on forms available through the Administrative Assistant to the Attorney General, Department of Justice, Washington, D. C.

Claims forms, with a description of the property, facts concerning its deposit and value, efforts made to recover it, and any other information necessary for the proper identification of the property, should be returned to the same office in the Department of Justice.

The following documents also must be filed with the claims form when it is returned to the Justice Department:

(1) A copy of the receipt showing the property was deposited in accordance with regulations by the Attorney General, or, if such receipt is not available, a statement establishing that it was so deposited.

(2) An affidavit by the claimant stating the property was not used for espionage or other illegal purposes.

If a claim is determined valid in whole or in part, a voucher, showing the amount due, if not in excess of $1,000, will be forwarded to the claimant for his signature. The voucher will show that the claimant accepts the amount as full settlement of his claim for loss. Signed and returned to the Attorney General's office, vouchers will be paid.

The Attorney General's office advised the JACL ADC that, in determining the amount of the claim, "The value of the property at the time of deposit shall be used as the basis of valuation."

If, in the opinion of the Attorney General, a claimant is entitled to more than $1,000, the claim will be referred to Congress for its consideration, and the claimant notified of the action.

If determined that no amount is due, the claimant also will be prom-ly notified.

All claims must be presented in writing on or before March 15, 1950, to come within the provision of Public Law 17.

Mike Masaoka, national JACL ADC legislative director, said he understood the Justice Department would act as promptly as possible on processing claims. However, it has not yet been learned when the department will be ready to pay claims. It is assumed every effort will be made to effect compensation claims within one year.

He also commented that Public Law 17 should not be confused with the Evacuation Claims Law. Each treats an entirely separate type of claim, he pointed out.
