• If We Were Sending a Team South

Before the war, it was the practice of local baseball moguls to send a crack Northwest all-star team on a barnstorming tour to California to face the sunkist state's best Nisei clubs.

If we were to pilot an all-star aggregation from this area today, we would pick up Heat Heyamoto. Ray Saito, Chub Hori, Ted Matsushita, Edo Sasaki, George Shimizu and Poison Kato from the Seattle Nisei Vets, Joe Kato. Roy Sumino and Tom Shiiki from the Portland Veterans, George Sakurai from the Portland Bussei, Kay Kiyokawa from Hood River, Hank Ito from Spokane, Sat Koyano from Ontario, and Shoichi and Blotz Suyama, Richard Tsuji and Taiji Takayoshi from Western Giants.

And Joe Kesamaru, Seattle Nisei Vets' cagey skipper, will be our right hand man.

The starting lineup for the opening game probably would run something like this:

- 1. Heat Heyamoto, 2b
- 2. Shoichi Suyama, If
- 3. Joe Kato, cf
- 4. Ray Saito, ss . 5. Chub Hori, rf
- 6. Blotz Suyama, 3b
- 7. Ted Matsushita, 1b
- 8. Roy Sumino, c

9. Edo Sasaki or Sat Koyano, p If Sasaki or Koyano is knocked out of the box, we'll throw in one of the following: Shimizu, Sakurai.

Kiyokawa, Ito, Tsuji or Takayoshi. Besides a strong backbone (pitching, pardon) staff, we'll have a group of fellows who can hit the distance, anyone of whom is likely to pound the cover off the ball.

Mind you, only a vicious, savage, hard-slugging outfit like the New York Yankees could whip our boys. And we don't think there are such nines down California way.

Yes, we'll have a wonderful team, if it ever materializes this season.

In another four years, according to Howard F. Lochrie of Birds Eye frosted foods, few women who want orange juice for drinking purposes will go to the trouble of carrying oranges home from the neighborhood store.

'Every day," explains Mr. Lochrie, "more women are learning the many advantages of the 6-ounce container of orange juice concentrate. They've learned, for example, that the concentrate eliminates the need for space to store a dozen oranges. It also does away with the time-consuming job of cutting and squeezing oranges. Eliminated, too, is the messy job of garbage disposal. In addition, the use of tree-ripened oranges in frozen concentrate assures the best in natural flavor."

mentators visited the Lake Wales, Florida plant where its quickfrozen concentrate is made. The experts were given a blind-fold test and asked to distinguish between a glass of freshly squeezed orange juice and one of the concentrate. Most of the experts not only couldn't tell the difference but actually preferred the concentrate.

"We have worked for 20 years to capture the elusive flavor and vitamins of fresh oranges in a convenient and easy-to-use form," stated Mr. Lochrie.
